AIDS Brochure Causes Brouhaha In Green Bay

(Compiled from the Press Gazette, and The Post Crescent) — The distribution of a Safe Sex brochure (designed to outline sexual practices that protect partners from AIDS) at Green Bay's newly opened Center Project, Inc., an HTLV-III Antibody testing clinic, has caused a flap.

One of the nurses, supplied by the Green Bay Health Department, told her supervisor she was "morally opposed" to providing homosexual counseling (of which the brochure is part of) at the clinic.

The Green Bay Protection and Welfare Committee harshly criticized the city's involvement in the clinic, and voted to recommend charging a fee for non-residents who use the facility. The Committee also recommended stopping distribution of the "sexually explicit" brochure at the clinic which is staffed by city and county public health nurses.

The nurses have provided counseling and taken blood samples at the recently opened clinic. The blood tested for the HTLV-III antibody that show exposure to AIDS. The City Health Commissioner - Peter Lemere, who was at the meeting, said the position of his department, "when dealing with such things as homosexuality or out-of-wedlock pregnancies is to deal with the health issues regardless of personal or religious convictions."

Most nurses who staff the Monday clinics are volunteers, but others may have to share the duty. A motion to recommend that no city nurses should be forced to engage in AIDS counseling was approved by the committee.

Instead of distributing the present brochure, the committee said the city should develop one that tells people how to keep from getting AIDS but does not instruct them, in the words of Alderman Gay Zima, "how to have risk-free deviant sex."

The vote to explore a user fee was prompted by concerns of receiving no reimbursement for its services, and that no record is being kept of where people being tested are from. However, confidentiality restrictions, set up by the state, don't allow the use of identification of the persons being tested.

The recommendations now go to the Common Council for consideration, as well as to Center Project, Inc.

A subcommittee of Center Project, Inc. met after the city meeting and decided "The brochure, distributed to Center Project by the state of Wisconsin Division of Health, is an accurate and valuable tool to describe the risks present in various sexual practices of both hetero and homosexual persons." The Center Projects news release continued; "The use of alternative materials is being investigated. It is the attempt of Center to identify a viable alternative counseling tool which is equally effective and potentially less offensive."

Wisconsin AIDS Toll Reaches 53

The latest quarterly update released by The Wisconsin Division of Health reports 53 confirmed cases of AIDS. Thirty two cases in Wisconsin residents, with 16 deaths, and 21 non-resident cases with 14 deaths.

Gay & bisexual men make up 87%, or 46 cases. Milwaukee county leads with 22 cases, 10 of whom have died and Dane County reports 7 cases with 6 deaths.

The quarterly report shows an increase of 6 cases over the last report.

Whitmire Re-elected In Houston

Houston (Via GNIC) — Kathy Whitmire, who easily won a third term as mayor in a divisive campaign that became a referendum on homosexuality and AIDS, says it's time "to put differences behind us and to move forward."

Mrs. Whitmire won another two-year term Nov. 5th, getting 200,788 votes, or 58.8 percent, to 138,552 votes for former long-time Mayor Louie Welch in a non-partisan field that included six candidates.

"We sent a message that Houston has made great progress, that we're working to make this city the best city to live, to work, to do business and to raise families," Mrs. Whitmire, 39, said in a victory speech.

Welch, 66, had insisted the acceptance of gay men and lesbians in the city and increased number of AIDS cases reported by the city health department dissuaded business and families from living in Houston.

In an incident that brought notoriety to his campaign, Welch said on live television two weeks ago that one way to curtail AIDS in Houston would be to "shoot the queers." A microphone he was wearing was still on at the time and the comment was broadcast on the air. He later apologized, saying it was a joke.

Mrs. Whitmire said her administration was following the advice of experts who urged public education programs about the dangers of AIDS.

Welch's candidacy, spurred by his effort leading to the defeat of a gay rights referendum in January, also prompted eight political newcomers calling themselves the "Straight Slate" to seek eight City Council seats. Their campaign was based solely on the issue that public health rules should be adopted to protect residents from AIDS.

Although none of the Straight Slate candidates won, they drew enough support to force two council races into runoffs because the leading vote-getters failed to attract more than 50 percent of the ballots.

Protections Urged For First Amendment Rights

Madison (Via GNIC) — News media are being urged by a group of Wisconsin print, broadcast and television journalists to publicize efforts to censure books in public schools.

The appeal is among nearly two dozen resolutions approved Oct. 25th by the Wisconsin First Amendment Congress, ranging from censorship to media access, fairness and accountability.

The group completed a two-day conference that is the first in a series of events leading up to Wisconsin's observance in 1987 of the U.S. Constitution's bicentennial.

The congress approved a resolution that urges Wisconsin news media "to continue publicizing" incidents in which "private pressure groups" coerce school boards into censoring books and reading material in school libraries.

The resolution urges "all Wisconsin school boards to recognize the letter and the spirit of state laws that school library collections and school curriculum represent the diversity and complexity of our multifaceted society."

An amendment to the resolution deleted a reference to "efforts to prevent gay organizations from providing information about prevention of AIDS."

David Offer, managing editor of the La Crosse Tribune, said the reference to information about AIDS was included because the "freedoms and expression" of some gay organizations have been threatened in trying to provide information about the spread and prevention of the disease.

The congress dealt with 22 resolutions that called on news media to be more alert in providing the public with adequate access and accountability.

Note: Milwaukee's Sue Burke, Editor of OUT!, and Marc Hauptert, President of CCBA, represented gay views at the Congress.

Supreme Court to hear Gay Issue

For the first time since 1967, the Supreme Court, setting the stage for a major rights ruling, will decide whether the sexual activities of consenting gay adults are constitutionally protected.

The case was brought by Michael Hardwick, a gay man arrested by Atlanta police in 1982 on charges of committing the crime of sodomy with another man, in his home.

A suit by Hardwick was thrown out of federal Court, but was reinstated by a federal Court of Appeals.

The court has not issued a detailed ruling on the rights of gays since 1967, when it said aliens found to be homosexual may be deported as "people afflicted with a psychopathic personality."

Man Killed For "Acting Like A Fag"

Rutland, Vt. (Via GNIC) — John Kugler told police that he killed a man he did not know for "acting like a fag."

Ronald Amadon, 22, was killed over the weekend by Kugler, 25, who said in a police affidavit, "I killed somebody last night. I stabbed him. He was walking by. He was walking like a fag."

Kugler was arrested Sunday afternoon, about 12 hours after the killing and charged with first-degree murder. He pleaded innocent and was held without bail.

According to court officials, Kugler had previously undergone treatment for mental problems in New York state, where he lived until very recently. He was ordered by Judge Francis McCaffrey to undergo a 30-day mental evaluation at the Vermont State Hospital in Waterbury.

The stabbing happened around 2:30 a.m. Sunday. Amadon died at 4:21 a.m. of one stab wound to the chest and one to the abdomen.

David Ryan, a member of Vermonters for Lesbian and Gay Rights, said of the killing, "I find it very, very upsetting. Once again, I think it shows the homophobia that certainly is there."

"We as gay people are told that we have the same rights and are protected and yet when something like this happens, I think it calls into question the whole attitude in this country about homosexuals and homosexuality and the whole attitude about diversity and live and let live," he added.

"The Best Of The Best"

New York (Via GNIC) — To show that "caring and concern are spreading faster than AIDS," dozens of stars sang, danced and joked in the Metropolitan Opera House to raise more than $1.3 million.

An audience of nearly 4,000 gathered in the hall Nov. 3rd for "The Best of the Best," a gala celebration which included a ragtime ballet with Mikhail Baryshnikov, songs by Marilyn Horne, Carol Burnett, Melissa Manchester, Peter Allen, Victor Borge, the Harlem Boys' Choir and the New York City Gay Men's Chorus, and the humor of Bette Midler and Lily Tomlin.

The most uproarious applause, and the most somber moment, came during a comedy and musical routine by Ms. Midler, who began her career singing before gay audiences.

Recalling those happy days, she said, she recently visited her former hangouts and found that the "mood wasn't quite the same. It's like a wartime."

"I remember all the friends I have lost in the war, and join my prayers with yours that it will be over soon," said Midler.

Money raised by the benefit will go to the AIDS Medical Foundation, the AIDS Resource Center, and the Gay Men's Health Crisis.

Also appearing in the show were Brooke Shields, the Count Basie Orchestra, Colleen Dewhurst, Robert LaFosse, Leslie Brown, other members of the American Ballet Theater, and the cast of "La Cage aux Folles."

GRNL & NGTF Agree To Merge

Gaylife & GCN — Negotiators of the two largest and most influential gay political organizations, The National Gay Task Force (NGTF) and the Gay Rights National Lobby (GRNL), tentatively agreed to a merger between the two groups after meeting in Annapolis, Md. last week. Both boards must "iron out the details" and then vote on the merger proposals.

Negotiators from the two groups said in a prepared statement: "Our mission is to represent the gay and lesbian community's interests in the public sector and to enhance the efforts of our community in meeting the challenges and addressing the issues important to gays and lesbians. It is for this reason that we join together in strongly urging the adoption of this merger proposal by both boards."

GRNL spokesman said that groups board has already voted to agree to the merger proposal, and NGTF was ready to consider it at its next board meeting.

More details as merger conditions are ironed out, and respective boards agree to the merger proposals.

Clavis Theatre to premiere "Execution of Justice"

Hailed by the New York Times as "...a shocking indictment of injustice in America." This play is based on the murder trial of the late, Dan White, for the murders of San Francisco mayor, George Moscone and city supervisor, Harvey Milk. This chilling and compelling offering opened at the Clavis Theatre, 900 South 5th Street, on Wednesday, November 13th.

In the past year, this work has been produced in Louisville, Baltimore, Washington D.C., Seattle, San Francisco, Houston, and currently is being presented at the prestigious Tyrone Guthrie Theatre in Minneapolis. The Milwaukee production will be among the final offerings before January rehearsals begin for a Broadway production to be directed by Douglas C. Wager.

The playwright, Emily Mann, says that, "going back to the Greeks, theatre offered tragedies, comedies, and satires that were for the community to get together and talk about serious issues." This trial and one community's reaction to this horrifying situation and the execution of justice is told both honestly and forthrightly. No holds barred in the retelling of this unfortunate tale. In an eerie fashion after glimpsing a bit of the rehearsal for the show one evening, I came home to find out that Dan White had taken his own life that day. Was justice finally served or not? You'll have to come to Clavis and answer that question for yourself. I know I have.

"The Times Of Harvey Milk" On Public TV

Milwaukee: One of the most celebrated documentaries in recent history, THE TIMES OF HARVEY MILK, premieres on WMTV Channel 36 Saturday, November 29 at 1:00 p.m. A "Non Fiction Television" presentation, the film traces the rise to power, political career, and assassination of one of the nation's first openly gay elected officials. (Milwaukee's CCBA presented "Times" November 12th at the Library's Centennial Hall. if you missed it then—catch it now!)

THE TIMES OF HARVEY MILK received the 1984 Academy Award for Best Feature Documentary and the New York Film Critics Circle Award for Best Documentary of 1984, and has been widely hailed. David Ansen of "Newsweek" called the film "as moving and dramatic a documentary as you will see." "The London Financial Times" described it as "a wholehearted bugle call for reason, compassion and tolerance." Sheila Bensen of the "Los Angeles Times" said it was "brilliant."

The documentary combines interviews with Milk's co-workers, friends, and political allies, with new footage to create a riveting account of the times of Harvey Milk: the mid-1970's, when the gay community of San Francisco, riding a wave of power and popularity, collided head-on with the first stirrings of the Moral Majority.

IN MEMORIAM

by Kevin Michael

In this November month of celebration and Thanksgiving, I am reminded of and thankful for my many dear friends. However, this year has been an extraordinary one in that I have lost some very close and special ones. Among the latest to bid me adieu was Bob Baker, a true gentleman. Yes, a very gentle man. A warm, sensitive, engaging fellow who truly made a relational difference to all those he met.

Neither my lover nor I had any inkling the night we three dined that Bob was terminally ill. He was suffering from back pains and was seeing a chiropractor and just had gotten over an awful cold but none of us had any clue that he'd be in intensive care at Good Samaritan within days.

Bob had been introduced to me by Guy Little, Producer at Melody Top and the late George Bunt. Both he and George had created some theatrical magic collaboratively and Bob had in fact, dedicated his work this season to the memory of our dear friend, George. Ironically, Bob died just some six months after George.

As well as directorial talents Bob also was a noted talent agent. He had an impressive list of clients. Among them, Hume Cronyn, Christopher Reeve, Kate Jackson, Jessica Tanft, Tovah Feldshuh, were some of the persons with whom Bob professionally related. Yet, he never boasted or bragged nor did he make you feel less than a star because you weren't one.

Bob had a wonderful sense of humor. He had just completed directing a delightful production of "The Wizard of Oz" and was in rehearsal for "The Desert Song" when he was felled by lung cancer and rushed to the hospital. In a subsequent letter to his cast, he could playfully mention that he wanted to get together with them for a drink and cigarette very soon. While under the stress of dealing with his illness in his hospital room with both his lover and mother trying to attend to his every need, and not being insensitive to either in any way he could playfully confide to me that it reminded him of "being in the third act of 'Torch Song'."

In close communication with him after George's passing, he wrote to me:

"I was blessed to know him all these years—to have worked in partnership with him—to have shared all aspects of his professional and personal life—that, indeed, I shall treasure always ... I pray for good health and happiness for myself and my loving friends. Please stay in touch—remember our dear George with kindness and love ..."

I stay in touch, Bob. I shall indeed treasure our times together. You, George, Guy, me—what times we had! I was blessed to have known you.

The Mr. and Miss Gay Wisconsin Pageant brought 30 contestants to the stage of the Marc Plazas Crystal Ballroom for the annual Pageant.

Steppin' Out

by Ron Geiman

Did you all make it through Halloween & The Pageant? I'm still recuperating from it all. I think half my friends OD'd on make-up this year. I was a little disappointed in the costumes this year... not as much creativity as usual within the community. Matter of fact, some of the best costumes showed up in the women's bars. I could go through bar by bar, but I won't waste the space, see for yourself by looking at the pictures. We had 8 rolls of Halloween contest photos!

The Mr. and Miss Gay Wisconsin Pageant, this year shortened to "The Pageant" was the smoothest ever. No sound or light system problems, no overly-long production numbers, no special guest performers, just a streamlined event featuring talent by every contestant (30 of them).

The 15 Male Contestants overwhelmed a lot of people. That was the most male contestants ever, and their entertainment was varied and well done. 4th runner up in the Mister category was Terry (Mr. Gay Madison), 3rd - Dave Rogers (Mr. S.E. Wisc.,

Mr. Strip Search, Mr. Body Beautiful/Great Lakes), Neal Schulz (Mr. Who's) was 2nd runner-up, Sal Mario - 1st runner-up, and Mr. Gay Wisconsin 85-86 is Robert Steinfort. Robert won with his response to the question, and his excellent performance of "Big in Japan" - hot talent!

In the Miss Category, Bouji (Miss Balgame & G.A.P.) was named 4th runner up, BJ Hudson (Miss $1.98) 3rd runner up, 2nd - Bianca DelRay, 1st runner up (in a very hotly disputed ruling) was Appleton's Larinda Kelly, and the new Miss Gay Wisconsin 85-86 is Nicole Saunders (1st runner-up Miss La Cage).

Many in the audience from out-of-town felt that the judging was "fixed" so that the title holder remains in Milwaukee. I have too much faith in the Pageant Committee to believe that they would allow that to happen. However, as a result, many of the out-of-town bars who sponsored contestants are not sponsoring them again next year.

Some of the bombs were accompanied by notes signed by a "Gay Strike Force." Spokesmen for gay groups denied ever hearing of the organization, and investigators say Karr apparently was acting independently.

Group Helps Prisoners Go Straight

New York — Females for Felon's is a four-year old "privately funded organization dedicated to the proposition that denying incarcerated men heterosexual gratification is cruel, barbaric and counterproductive toward rehabilitation." FFF president Dr. Ralph Sturges, a psychologist who once served two years in prison, says, "The nationwide increase in rape cases shows an alarming correlation with an attacker's celibate life in prison." FFF recruits "outstanding young women" for work as volunteer sexual partners for incarcerated heterosexuals. The women are paid an honorarium to cover expenses. The financial support for FFF comes primarily from unidentified corporate donors who are concerned about the traumatic experience of white collar criminals forced into prolonged abstinence and exposed to routine homosexual molestation. Mothers of prisoners also support the program, lamenting that their sons so often "went into prison straight and came out queer."

New York (Via GNIC) — A spokesperson for the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New York confirmed that the Archdiocese has been operating a shelter for PWAs for at least a month in an undisclosed location, the New York Times reported October 28. The Rev. Peter Finn said that the location of the shelter, which houses PWAs released from hospitals, has not been made public "in the interest of protecting the privacy of the patients and clients involved."

Finn also announced the establishment of a telephone number for referrals to "the appropriate medical authorities for screening and placement" of PWAs. The number is (800) 582-5165.

EOC Dismisses Lesbians' Suit

Madison (Wi. State Journal): The Madison Equal Opportunities Commission voted 5-1 Oct. 23rd to dismiss a discrimination case that two lesbians brought against the YMCA in 1983.

Alix Olson and Martha Popp charged the YMCA rejected their request for a family membership rate. The women and Ms. Popp's children were living together and wanted to save $200 by having one family membership, rather than an individual membership and a family membership.

The commission ruled that city law does not require public accommodations, such as the YMCA, to make family membership available to people who are living together unless it is a legally recognized relationship.

Alleged Pipe Bomber Withdraws Guilty Plea

Eau Claire (Milw Sentinel): A former mental patient accused of planting pipe bombs in several states withdrew his guilty plea Nov. 1st in connection with the planting of bombs at Eau Claire, La Crosse and Milwaukee.

The move was taken by Earl Steven Karr, 25, of Minneapolis, in the wake of Eau Claire County Circuit Judge Thomas Barlands refusal Sept. 5th to accept a plea bargain agreement. At that hearing, Barland said the proposed sentence did not appear strict enough and would not protect the public adequately.

Karr had pleaded guilty at the earlier hearing to possessing an explosive in connection with a bomb in a sack at Eau Claire and to four counts involving pipe bombs in La Crosse and Milwaukee.

The agreement called for Karr to serve 15 years in prison and then be placed on 10 years of probation, which could have included some time in a mental institution.

Karr's attorney, public defender Larry Ridgevay, said his client would enter a new plea to the charges in January and might use an insanity defense.

sounds far heavier than the album cut ... Isn't Steve Thompson's and Michael Barbiero's four-way remix of Aretha's "Who's Zoomin' Who" splendid? ... The same is true of Olivia Newton-John's "Soul Kiss" (MCA 12-inch); very classy, sexy technopop of whom Thompson and Barbiero did the remix ... and finally in the remix department "Do It For Love" (EMI 12-inch) by Sheena Easton produced by Mile Rodgers. The "Morning Train" girl is out to prove she has a lower range and can use it too—the 12-inch proves it; could repeat the pop-to-black crossover she achieved with "Sugar Walls".

On a closing note—Please pick up the forty-five of "That's What Friends Are For" by Dionne Warwick, Elton John, Gladys Knight and Stevie Wonder. All profits from the singers, writers and Arista Record company are being donated to the AIDS Project of Los Angeles. Just one more thing we can do to help raise money to fight this deadly disease!

Until next time ... Kim.

Dance Steps

GRACE IS BACK!

Grace Jones makes a return to the club scene this week with her new 12-inch single "Slave To The Rhythn" on Manhattan/Island Records. Pretty damm impressive, although you may have to hear it a couple of times. This piece is throughly integrating the go-go rhythm and the lush, big-sound production style of Trevor Horn. Brian Chin of Billboard says "For someone who records so infrequently, she sure makes it count". The flip side contains "Junk Yard" and "G.I. Blues" both instrumental... Grace said her next album would appeal to everyone... we shall see!?! Also look for a Grace Jones' Greatest Hits LP due before Christmas; both would make great gifts for friends who collect records.

One outstanding pop record that is a throwback to 70's disco but very continental-modern in Baltimore's "Tarzan Boy" (Manhattan 12-inch), charting pop as of last week, this has the novelty hook of the year as well as a classy, midtempo track. Look out for this one—a number one song for sure!

REMIXES: Prince's nest single "America" is now in a 21-minute remix which is rather lengthy for the dance floor but fun to listen too. Reminds me of "Baby I'm A Star" from the "Purple Rain" soundtrack and could become an anthem just like Bruce Springsteen's "Born In The U.S.A." ... Whitney Houston's "Thinking About You" (Arista 12-inch) gets put through all the paces in Bruce Forest's rebuilding and

by Ken Kurtz

Ron has asked me to take over the writing of this column for IN STEP, and I thank him for this opportunity. I would like to begin by thanking Tom Salszieder for all the work he has done in the past on this column. He's a hard act to follow! The contributions Tom has made toward Gay sports in this community are immeasurable. I have worked with Tom on the Board of Directors of the Holiday Invitational Tournament since it's inception over seven years ago; on the Wreck Room Classic Committee for the past three years; and on the Series 9 Committee. I can think of no other person whose opinions I value more, and look forward to continuing working with him in the future. Milwaukee and Wisconsin would not hold the reputation it does throughout the country as a leader in Gay sporting events if it were not for Tom. Thanks Tom for a job well done, enjoy your free time, you've earned it!

There was a time not too long ago when a Gay person here in Wisconsin had no other options for socializing than to patronize the bars. Now, often with the help of the bar owners, many alternatives have been created; Bowling, Softball, VolleyBall, Pool, Golf, and a host of social organizations. These alternatives have strengthened the Gay community here in Wisconsin; they have helped to destroy old stereotypes, and replaced them with positive images. Milwaukee was instrumental in the founding of such international organizations as NAGAAA (North American Gay Amateur Athletic

Juicy Bits

'Cruising Television Again'

As the fall television season swings into full gear, the major networks have once again largely ignored the gay audience. With a few exceptions, the major portion of programming is a vast waste land for the culture seeking gay viewer. Fortunately, that fledgling network, the Gay Television Network, has a full slate of shows aimed specifically for the homosexual television viewer. GTN has provided me with a list of upcoming programs, which can be seen locally on cable channel 69B:

SEXUAL QUIRKS OF THE RICH AND FAMOUS: Segments include an examination of the sex life of Liberace, who likes to take the young ones, dust their butt with flour and aim for the wet spot. Also, a look at the latest trends in designer condoms.

MAZOLA, SHE WROTE: A left-handed novelist and aging drag queen, Charles Nelson Reilly is called upon to solve the murder of a young man, Michael J. Fox, who was drowned in a large tub of margarine.

BUTCH-AID: A star-studded benefit concert to aid victims of the dreadful Nellie Syndrome or Flameritis. Performances by Divine, Richard Simmons, Barry Manilow, Ronald Reagan Jr. and others.

WHERE THE BOYS AREN'T (movie): A horny park queen discovers, much to his dismay, that once the weather turns cold no one cruises Juneau Park.

THE HUNG AND THE LISTLESS: A group of well-endowed college students discover why they've had no sex drive when they discover someone has been putting salt peter in the Fruit Loops.

S&M-TV: A music video program featuring the latest videos with heavy emphasis on sex, diesel vibrators, leather, pierced nipples, mood cock-rings, whips and other toys.

THE AFRICAN QUEEN (movie): A warm family fare about a drag queen, who looks strangely like Diana Ross and his drive to become Miss Gay-Wisconsin. Michael Jackson, Tab Hunter.

INCREDIBLE STORIES: The unusual tale of a man who falls in love with his proctologist and the strange place he keeps a dozen roses intended for the doctor.

ROCKY AND RAMBO, A LOVE STORY PART IX: Shy Stallone has a dual role in this violent story of a man who falls in love with himself.

WHEEL OF MISFORTUNE (game SHOW): Contestants vie for cash, prizes and sex and try to avoid social diseases in this variation of strip poker.

WOODY'S WOODEN PECKER (cartoon): The sad tales of a man who's got something that looks like a weiner only smaller and kinda funny looking.

For all of those shivering with anticipation, the winner of the 1985-86 Mr. Juicy Bits contest will be named in the next issue.

Association) and IGBO (International Gay Bowling Organization). These organizations are very successful and growing steadily each year; they provide the framework that allows for the forming of National and Regional tournaments. IGBO is the largest incorporated Gay organization in the world, with membership running into the thousands.

We have a war going on in the Gay community at this time, a war against AIDS. Battles are being fought in every major metropolitan area of the nation, and our very lives are at stake. Luckily, we have these networks that can help us wage the war. Sports organizations throughout the nation are raising hundreds of thousands of dollars to support the cause. A recent tournament I attended in Dallas raised $2,500 for their AIDS project; Chicago held a tournament this past spring that raised over $105,000 in one weekend; Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York, Louisville, Atlanta, the list goes on and on. We've made a start here in Wisconsin, but we definitely have a long way to go to catch up to the rest of the country in utilizing all the factors within the Gay community to fight this battle. I cannot emphasize enough the responsibility that the officers and membership of every organization have to commit to fighting the war to wipe out AIDS. No organization is exempt! If we are to conquer, it will take the combined efforts of all. Let's cut back for a while on the banquets, individual prize money, and some of the frills. We can still have the fun of competition, and yet know we are helping the cause.

Through this column, I hope to monitor our attack here in Wisconsin. (Sort of a war correspondent?). Keep us posted on what your sports organizations are doing in the way of raising funds for AIDS related causes. What worked? What didn't? Your information could be the ammunition some other organization can use to help stage their attack.

On behalf of this column, and the entire IN STEP staff, I would like to wish all the participants of H.I.T. a very successful bowling weekend. A special welcome to those out-of-towners returning from previous years, and the many new participants.

The competition will be high on both ends of the spectrum, but the friendships renewed and new ones formed will be the real awards. Enjoy the tournament one and all. Play good, play hard, but above all PLAY SAFE!

The GAMMA Volleyball League is now going into its third week of the season. The league competes on Saturday afternoons at UWM's Engleman Gym (Hartford Avenue across from the Columbia Hospital emergency room entrance) beginning at 2:30 PM. Although no new players can be added to the rosters any more this season, spectators are more than welcome. Social volleyball and practice was held on Thursday nights, but due to a scheduling problem with the gym, have now been changed to Sunday nights for the month of November at least (November 17th and 24th). Social play begins at 8:30 PM. Cost to GAMMA members is $1.50 and $2 for guests. Everyone is welcome! If you want more information on the volleyball program, feel free to call John C. at 962-7366.
