Astrologay

By Anthony Daniels

ARIES (Mar. 22-April 21)—Make sure others live up to their commitments, otherwise you could be out in the cold.

TAURUS (Apr. 22-May 21)—You're going to feel the pressures for a while, but then things will ease after a bit.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—You're going to have to make a decision soon on financial matters. Total the debits and credits, then decide.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Try to avoid bitter remarks. Others know you have been wronged. That should be enough to satisfy you.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Unbend a little and don't be hesitant about doing something on the spur of the moment. Take time to relax.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—You're going to have to decide rather quickly otherwise the situation could get a little uncomfortable.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 22)—New information can add to your optimism about the immediate future. Watch for the signals.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22)—Enrich your life with a few trivial, but vivid additions to it. Try to avoid such a somber attitude.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—You may feel a little self-conscious right now but you'll get used to it in a short while.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Romance proceeds at a stepped-up pace with you taking the reigns. Good days ahead.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—You're better off enduring the situation for the time being. Background changes are about to take place.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—New opportunities await you. The change should provide you with increased security.

of discrimination.

Sam Hart is a radio preacher from Philadelphia. Unlike so many others, Sam Hart can preach any way he wants because Sam Hart owns the radio station carrying his sermons.

Sam Hart is opposed to the Equal Rights Amendment... "I am all for equal rights, (but) I do not equate equal rights with the amendment."

Sam Hart is against busing... while he supports integration, he doesn't believe the government, "(should) force citizens to do anything they don't want to do."

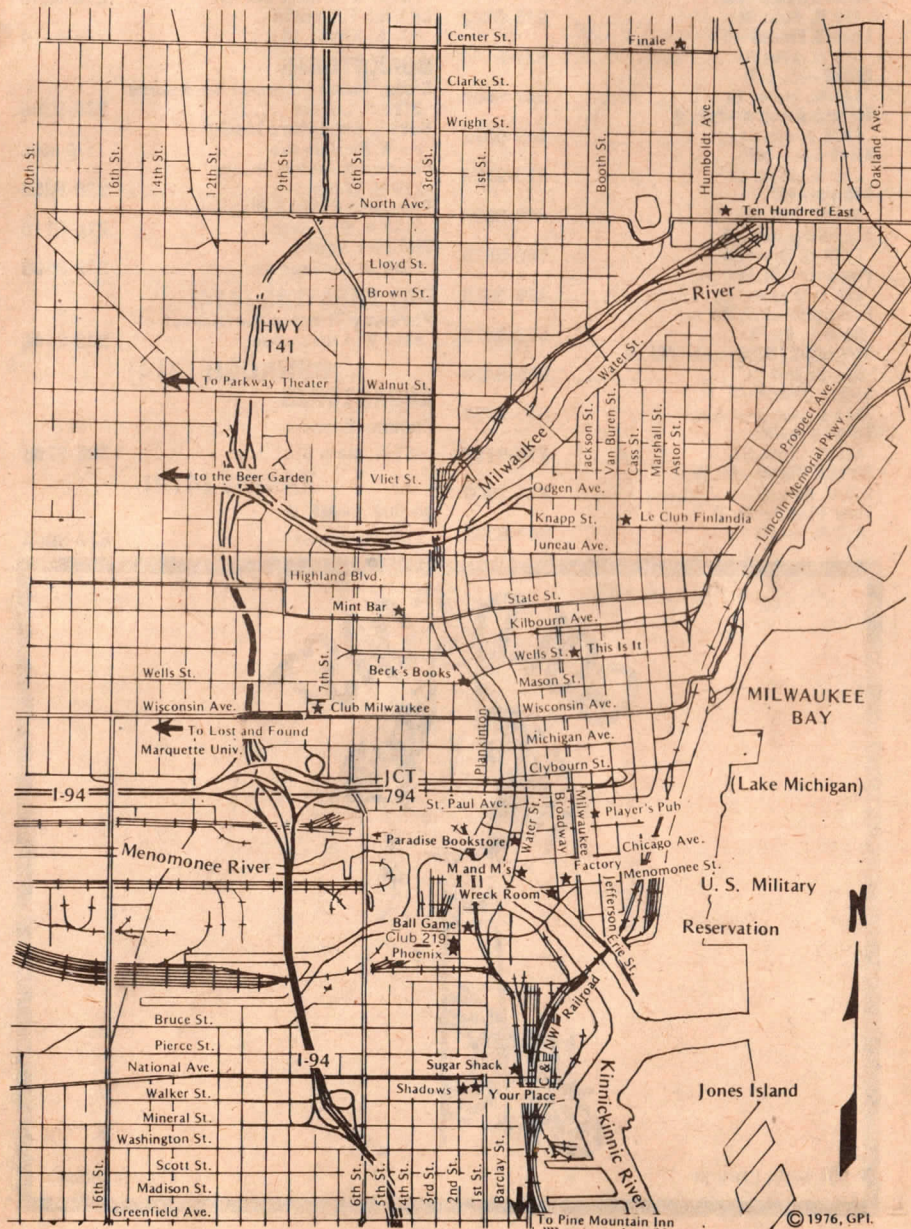

Now when it comes to basic American values, I've been called one of the straightest gay men in the Midwest. Boy Scouts of America, Sons of the American Legion, church youth groups and ROTC... these are my childhood memories. If my body would tolerate sugar, I'd be the first to order apple pie. So I really believe that Sam Hart has the absolute right to say anything he wants, just as I have the right to say how stupid what he says sounds.

In America there is no law against stupidity.

Sam Hart also has something to say about homosexuals (gasp)... "homosexuals are not born," Sam Hart says we are a product of environment, we've chosen a way of life," and "have to accept the consequences."

Now what Sam Hart says is not unusual for a radio preacher to say. He says homosexuals should be kept away from children in order not to expose them to environmental factors that might cause them to become homosexuals too.

What Sam Hart says is somewhat difficult to accept, coming as it does from a black man, a member of another minority group which has struggled for its own civil rights. Then again, Sam Hart has an explanation for that... "I am black; I cannot change that. That's a civil rights issue." He even concedes that women may have a civil rights cause because they did not choose their sex.

I have two problems swallowing what Sam Hart says. First, where do religious groups fit into civil rights by his terms? Are Jews made or born? My second problem is a bit more disconcerting to me, as it should be to you... President Reagan has nominated Sam Hart to the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

"I do not consider homosexuality a civil rights issue," says nominee Sam Hart. Does a homosexual have any rights, he was asked? "Yes, he has the right to live. He has the right to eat. The right to work. The right to live someplace."

Sam Hart didn't elaborate on what work we might have the right to, not where the "someplace" we might live could be. Then again, Sam Hart never explained how one can be in favor of equal rights but not the ERA. Or how we integrate without making citizens do anything they don't want to do.

President Reagan wants this man on the U.S. Civil Rights Commission... like I said, in America there is no law against stupidity.

Think Pieces

By Jon-Henri Damski

TWO FROM THE HEART

On the eve of St. Valentine's Day, my friend Omega and I were invited to participate in a Spanish wedding in a Unitarian Church.

Weddings, I know, are everyday affairs, not usually noteworthy, just something everyone does once in their life.

What made this wedding different, however, was that both the bride and the "groom" were female.

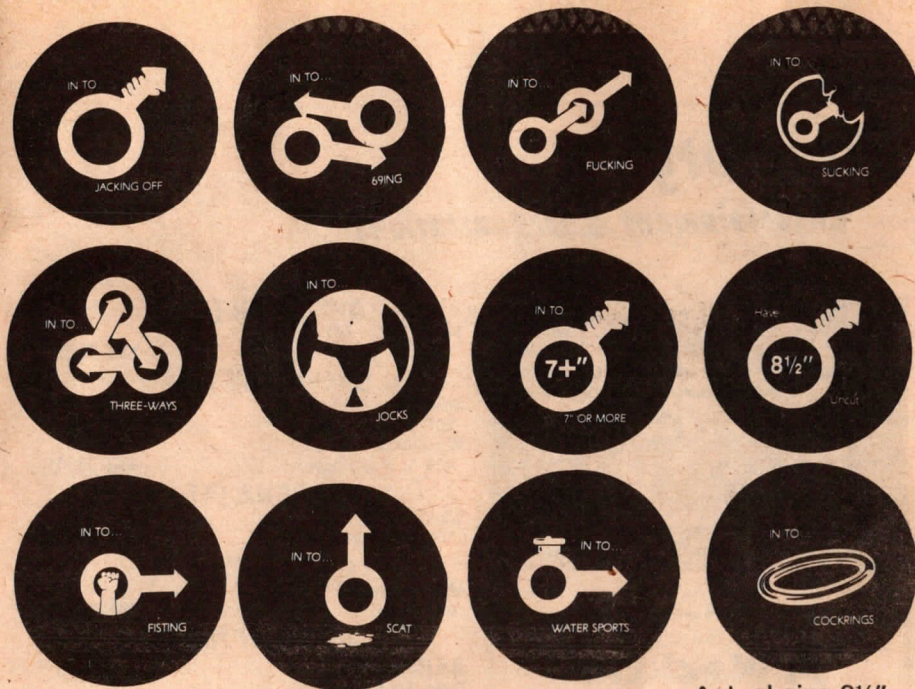

Carmen, the bride, and Angela, the "groom," are two young Puerto Rican girls, who took the private affair of their heart and turned it into an event of public courage.

Personally, I do not know either Carmen or Angela. Nor did I think it proper for me to shove a microphone in their face on their wedding day. Although I stayed on the circumference of their event, I, like everyone in the church, felt the love and triumph that came from the center of their hearts.

When their formal announcements were sent out, some people were overly puzzled and made silly jokes. "Why marry two women?" "Would Angela wear leather — she's into those things, you know?"

Every girl in America is bombarded with pictures and movies, and commercials for a traditional, picture-book wedding. Why should any girl be deprived of her dream ceremony, just because she is "joining in a last union" with another girl. Why should lesbians be deprived of expressing their love publically and formally? their love publically and formally?

All their relatives and many of their friends (and their friends) were formally invited. The crowd that actually showed, however, were mostly their younger friends and relatives. Most came in groups of twos and fours. Some looked like West Side Story, some like the Supremes, and others like Donnie and Marie Osmond. Most of the "audience" were Puerto Rican, black, or mixed Latinos.

As with all events, there was about a 35-minute wait for things to happen, and then the 12-minute ceremony.

Everyone knew they were going to see something a little different. While some joked, exchanged gum, whispered secrets, still the tone was of respect for Angela and Carmen.

O.K. Boys!
Are you ready for a Necktie Party?

At times, everyone smiled, but no one snickered.

There were so many incongruities, you would have to smile.

Most of the people were obviously Catholic, but the church was Unitarian.

The organist, warming up the crowd, played the piano.

The "groom" was female.

The bride's maids were probably all maids — but who knew for sure?

The piano player rumbled through Bach selection, listlessly, as though she were getting paid to practice for her next lesson.

The audience would have preferred music with more beat — but they sat, restless and polite, listening to poor Bach.

The minister popped in. He was not just white, but Albino White, looking like a cross between Andy Warhol and a Prudential Insurance man. Actually, this New England Wasp lent the proper balance to the whole affair, gave it legitimate authority, and kept the ceremony from becoming a camp joke. His approval by his presence, made up for some of society's obvious disapproval of their act of courage.

The bride wore the traditional long white dress; and the "groom" wore long white coat and tails, and looked extremely handsome.

The minister reminded us that the state of Illinois could not treat Angela and Carmen as bride and "groom." No priest, no rabbi, no minister in this state could marry them. But in a free and open ceremony they could join themselves and publically take vows of love for each other.

The minister went on with great warmth and dignity, to ask our support as their friends. He was sorry no, everyone found it in their heart to attend, and not everyone who attended had it in their heart to accept.

This smiling group of men obviously is practicing for a unique way to work the corners, ah—make that work the corners selling flowers—or at least that's what they told the photographer.

Angela and Carmen exchanged simple vows and solid gold rings. "As long as there's you, as long as there's me, there will be love."

At the moment the "just joined" bride and groom were about to embrace, one of the family cameramen dropped his camera and equipment on the altar. A human accident to remind us that this was a real event and not on television.

At the end of the ceremony the "audience" clapped. Their response was more political than the traditional silence at the end of a wedding ceremony.

Somehow everyone there had got the message: this was an act from the heart, an act of courage, both private and political.

Angela and Carmen had publicly proclaimed their love for each other.

Two girls, showing the strength of two women, had fought their traditions and defied their society — and went against the wishes of even some of their friends — and they took, for themselves and us, the traditional right any girl has for a picture-book wedding.

NEW SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS FOR PFOG

The speakers bureau of Parents and Friends of Gays-Milwaukee is getting new invitations all the time. In the recent past, they have addressed the student body at Ripon College, a class at UW-M School of Nursing, church groups, and counselors at Family Services of Milwaukee. Plans are being made to address the staff at Mt. Sinai Hospital, a workshop for the entire community sponsored in conjunction with Milwaukee Psychiatric Hospital, and a return invitation to Ripon College. PFOG maintains a moderate approach to the issues surrounding our gay sons and/or lesbian daughters and sometimes acts as a buffer between the cries of military gays and the more conservative elements of society. Additional information concerning the consciousness-raising aspects of Parents and Friends of Gays and/or its speaker's bureau can be obtained by calling Roger Beyers at 931-7727.

Expressing their true Valentine's Day mood this group of young men wore their hearts on their shirts during Valentine's Day festivities in Milwaukee.

a letter of support to the Lesbian & Gay Associated Engineers and Scientists (LGAES) concerning the rejection by Science News of LGAES ad. Carl Sagan said in his letter, "In my opinion you have a just grievance, particularly from an organization ostensibly devoted to scientific objectivity."

Science News is published by Science Service, Inc., a non-profit corporation. The ad was originally rejected by E.G. Scherburne the publisher. The rejection was backed up by Glenn T. Seaborg, Nobel prize winner professor at U.C.-Berkeley who is the President of the Board of Trustees of Science Service, Inc.

LGAES has launched a petition to prominent scientists and also prominent science fiction writers. The results of our recent petition drive to science fiction writers are being accumulated and will be released later. LGAES will then renew its petition drive to scientists.

Science News to date has refused to give any reasons for its rejection LGAES ad. LGAES plans to continue its campagne to the end.

For more information about the case feel free to write or call Edward H. Sebesta.

meet new friends, the partying afterwards — all play a part.

In the last few years, gay sports have gone beyond the local level. National organizations have been formed in softball and bowling to set guidelines for "World Series" competition. Tournaments have sprung up all over the country. Last year, softball tournaments were held in Milwaukee, Minneapolis-St. Paul, New York, and Toronto. Milwaukee hosted 22 softball teams, while Minneapolis and New York each had 16 teams in their tournaments. The Gay Softball World Series, featuring the 11 league champions of the members of the North American Gay Amateur Athletic Alliance, was held in Toronto. In bowling, tournaments were held in Atlanta, Houston, Seattle, and Milwaukee. Each city had a great turnout. Numerous inner-city volleyball tournaments were also held last year.

Gay participation is growing and growing. It's a great way to stay active, to meet new friends, and to have a good time. Try it. You'll like it.

YOUR HEALTH

By Chuck Poulson, R.N.

In my first column I would like to inform you of the status of the Gay VD Clinic temporarily located at 2578 N. Booth.

As administrative director I'm happy to say we're still going strong. The hours remain the same: Tues. 7pm-10pm; Sat. 1pm-3pm; no appointment necessary.

The varied services the clinic provides include a blood test for the detection of syphilis and we now offer hepatitis screening, cultures for the throat, urethra, rectum, and cervix for the detection of gonorrhea. The clinic doctors also provide treatment and counseling for those clients who have venereal warts and herpes.

The funding of the clinic is strictly by donation. The suggested donation is $10 for exam and $15 for MD and RN consultation or treatment.

In 1980, the VD clinic handled 19.6% of the syphilis reported in the state of Wisconsin. Also in 1980 we saw 16% of the reported cases of gonorrhea in the state.

As in the past the clinic personnel are made up of volunteers who deserve both your respect and continued support. After all, I am sure they could find something different to do with their Saturday and Tuesday evenings. If anyone has spare time you would like to share with your gay community please stop in and give us a look-see.

I would like to emphasize that all information obtained at the clinic is protected and held in strictest of confidence by both state law and our strong sense of ethics.

Future plans for the clinic include a move back to the east side of Milwaukee. We are in the stages of formalizing the purchase of a house. This should be completed in early March with a tentative move in April of '82. Be assured that I will keep you informed of any changes.

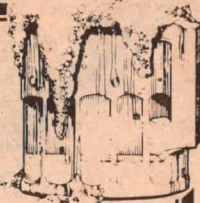

Lastly, I would like to share with all of you my personal goals for this health related column. I would like it to reflect the needs and concerns of our population, not just VD.

Secondly, to assist people to achieve a level of wellness and attempt to maintain that level. To facilitate this process we need a sharing of information. So, if you have a need or concern please write Escape, P.O. Box 92251, Milwaukee, WI 53202.

Thanx, Chuck

If you're inventive, argumentative, aggressive, and competitive, you're an Aries.

Taurus, you never bore us, you're all dimples with a lovely voice, beautiful, and charming, plus you've got lots of poise.

Two pies in the sky for flashy, flighty Gemini, always lots of fun, hard to pin down, and always on the run.

Nurturing the universe, with always a dollar in her purse, sensitive Cancer, caring mother, doctor, and nurse.

Leo, King of all he perceives, his heart takes him to where it leads, for love is all that he ever needs.

A worker both day and night, no detail gets past his sight, that's Virgo, listen to him, for he is usually right.

In love with love, Libra, to make you happy and to need you is what he always meant, with a smile straight from heaven sent.

Never let one truly know what lies hidden in your soul, that's only for you to know, magnetic, sexy Scorpio.

The gypsy that drives a bus, a philosophical free roaming cus, makes a perfect carefree Sagittarius.

You were ninety when you were born, you'll still be here when we're all gone. That's wealthy, successful Capricorn.

Truthfulness and friends, futuristic trends, for your freedom's a must, knowledge-seeking Aquarius.

Moods that change like the wind, and they cry at every lonely thing, that's Pisces the dreamer and Pisces the schemer.

Find out who you really are, believe in and follow your own lucky star.
