National Gay Support

At their annual national convention the American Federation of State County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) passed a resolution that stated:

WHEREAS, AFSCME has historically been the foremost leader among unions on issues of social and economic justice, and WHEREAS, at its last convention, AFSCME officially lent its support to measures at the federal, state, and local levels which would reduce barriers to employment and encourage full participation by minorities and women, and

WHEREAS, we as trade unionists, know how important our jobs are to our security and to our dignity, and WHEREAS, when a worker is denied a job for reasons having nothing to do with the person's ability to do the work, working people everywhere are threatened; their security is shaken, their dignity is cheapened, and WHEREAS, AFSCME's Bill of Rights prohibits discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation for union membership, and WHEREAS, lesbian and gay people should have the same rights to basic protection under the law as all other citizens, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that AFSCME endorses the passage of federal, state, and local legislation which extends basic civil rights in the areas of employment, housing, and, public accommodations to lesbian gay citizens.

This resolution was passed by a unanimous voice vote. Mainly due to the passage of this resolution 5 more congressmen agreed to co-sponsor the Nations Gay Rights Bill. One of the leading sponsors of the AFSCME resolution was District Council 24's of Wisconsin.

At District Council 24's annual meeting in Wisconsin this past June they amended their constitution to include the words "sexual orientation." This was done at the request of Local 82 from the UW-Milwaukee campus. An amendment to their constitution takes a 2/3 vote and it was reported that there was no problem getting the votes needed.

Supportive Women Legislators

There is an issue that is a concern of mine that I would like to address. The issue is the relatively high rate of antagonism in the gay male community towards women. I honestly have to admit that I find it ironic that a group of people who are trying to have their own rights recognized and respected would so openly be anti someone else's rights.

I would like to make known certain statistics. In the State Assembly when the Consenting Adults Bill was voted on 63.7% of the Democratic men voted for its passage whereas 81.8% of the Democratic women voted to pass the bill. On the Republican side 15.0% of the men voted to pass the Consenting Adults Bill, whereas 71.4% of the Republican women voted for passage.

When it came time for Assembly Bill #70 to be voted on 90.9% of the Democratic women voted for passage whereas 74.6% of the Democratic men supported it. For the Republican 42.8% of the women voted to pass the bill only 11.0% of the Republican men voted for approval.

When I lobbied for the passage of Assembly Bill #70 I found that the women in the State Legislature were not nearly as hostile as the men. Even the rudest female representative was not as condescending and obnoxious as the average male opponent of AB 70.

If you add up the final percentages as to men and women legislators, 77.7% of the women voted for our right to privacy and less than half, 43.7% of the men did. On our right to be free from discrimination on the job 72.2% of the women voted for us whereas only 47.4% of the men did, again less than half.

I would also like to add that out of all the legislators that received a large amount of constituency opposition to AB 70 most of the women voted their conscience, whereas a higher percentage of the men voted to keep their jobs.

In closing I feel that all members of the gay community, men and women, should be thankful to the women legislators in the State Assembly, because without their help we would not have our basic human rights respected under the law.

Speaking Of

By Ron Ehemann

The Freedom of Information Act allows private citizens access to government files which contain information on them. A standing joke says, if you don't already have a file with the FBI when you request information, they'll start one to find out why you think they have one.

According to the Advocate (Issue 346), The FBI has been spying on the gay community and individual gay people for years. As a result of various inquiries via the Freedom of Information Act, the Advocate reports that serious FBI investigations began as early as 1943 and continued at least into the late 1970's. To date, we know of 12 volumes of material (each about two inches thick) at the national FBI headquarters. There are 26 or 27 similar volumes in the New York field office and an unknown quantity across the nation in cities such as Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis and Milwaukee.

What's in those files? So far it has been confirmed that the information contains (at a minimum) the following:

- Collections of individual names and addresses of suspected homosexuals;
- Surveillance reports on gay bars and their patrons;
- Surveillance reports (gathered by infiltration and informants) on gay civil rights groups including Mattachine Society, Daughters of Bilitis, Society for Individual Rights and, the San Francisco Tavern Guild;
- Reports from intelligence operations in Great Britain which disclose gay people who have contact with British citizens;
- Arrest records and subsequent FBI investigations into the private lives of persons arrested on vice charges (or records on those arrested for any charge "in bars or restaurants frequented by sex deviates.")

How did the FBI secure all this information? Some came from arrest records, apparently including some illegally obtained in violation of local laws prohibiting the removal of such records without a judicially approved warrant. Some information was gathered by infiltrating gay organizations. Some came by way of "fugitive-style investigations" which involved prying into private mail and bank accounts.

The Advocate's investigation also discloses that the FBI actually set up houses of prostitution to lure gay people. Dr. Alfred Kinsey (Kinsey Institute) was enlisted to help establish the brothels... a fact confirmed by the current head of the Institute.

My father used to say things like, "If you haven't done anything wrong, why should you worry about an investigation?" My father was naive. Advocate obtained information indicates some arrests were made, some intimidation or coercion was used to force people to become informants, and many violations of personal privacy occurred. We may never know how many arrests were made, how many lives were ruined, or how many people's jobs were affected.

Government sources involved with the Advocates investigation indicated that one must keep in mind that the FBI surveillance, purportedly, is not continuing. (Current court cases and laws make much of their tactics and methods illegal). The heaviest investigations were conducted during the "McCarthy-Era."

That our government engaged in such activities does not surprise me. That the surveillance may have been discontinued is somewhat believable. Clearly the investigations began at a time when we, as a community, were not visible. Blackmail, extortion and national security concerns probably helped those involved to justify the methods used . . . and I doubt the FBI, or the emerging gay community for that matter, really understood how vast a gay population we had.

Today, it would require almost 100% of the energy and manpower of the bureau to continue such an extensive investigation. As more and more gay people become visible, the task would seem insurmountable. However, nothing indicates that the agencies involved couldn't or wouldn't continue to utilize the methods they've developed or the information they've gathered to discredit, attack or destroy individuals if they felt the need.

Last year, on the Ides of March, I received a card from Chicago Alderman Clifford Kelley with the inscription, "Just because you're paranoid doesn't mean they're not really out to get you." The now surfacing realization that our government has gone to great lengths to document and track us may well lead to some paranoia on our part. Given the publicity surrounding the present congressional investigation of homosexuality within its own ranks, some paranoia is probably understandable. But paranoia, in and of itself, does little to change the situation.

Again drawing from the Advocate, (Issue 347, "Opening Space"), there is something we can each do. Our government isn't really run by the people... it's run by elected officials. Those officials are elected through costly campaigns. The establishment of local and national political action committees is designed to pump money into those campaigns which can help us.

It is time we work toward electing gay politicians and pro-gay politicians who understand our rights to privacy and equal protections. It's time we worked to defeat those who would defeat us.

Only by ensuring that our government is run by people who will support us will we ensure that our government will never use that information it already has collected. Given the rise in conservatism and the "new right" mentality, we could easily enter into another "McCarthy Era."

The role of the gay community in our present political structure at all levels cannot be put on a back burner. None of us can expect someone else to do it, nor can we afford to wait.

Your monetary contributions to our political action committees are needed NOW! It is imperative that we make some impressive contributions for the upcoming elections. We must stop those who want to defeat us before they win any more victories and further their footholds.

If you're short on funds, volunteer your time to work at fundraising or on actual campaigns. Contributions (which allow you to take credits against your federal taxes) to help local and state efforts can be sent to:

A Pennant Winning Year

By Jon-Henri Damski

The Sox and Cubs probably will not win the pennant this year. Nor the Tigers. The Brewers still have a chance. But no matter, for Doug and Karl this is their pennant winning year.

They met a year ago during the baseball strike at Man's Country early one Sunday morning, and for the next 24 hours they played out their own doubleheader.

They met under circumstances not uncommon, but seldom talked about. Doug is black, 23, an art student and clerk at Walgreen's. Karl is white, 37, a claims adjuster for an insurance company. Doug is quite aware of the undercurrents of "white fright" that go on in a gay bath house. Lots of friendly smiles, lots of pleasant chit chat, and lots of subtle patronizing: "We can share a game of Pac Man together, but please don't come to my room." Then come the early morning hours, urges still being strong, a few slightly older whites realize that if they are going to get that young body they are after, they will have to temporarily swallow their prejudice. In a bath house in the early morning hours the chemistry of desire forces a more "open door" policy, and the transracial encounter, which is usually avoided, is permitted. After the Continental breakfast, guys break up again, things separate back to "normal," and each go their separate way.

It was different, however, for Doug and Karl. Yes, they had great sex together; they liquified, they bathed in each other's sweat. They got along and talked. They found out that they already shared a common love: baseball.

You have to be a baseball nut to appreciate their story. Karl was born 37 years ago, that was 1945, the last time the Cubs were in the World Series. Karl's neighbor was Bill Schuster, "Schuster the Rooster," the scrappy and gamie left fielder for the Cubs. Karl's mother had a crush on Schuster. Karl's folks used to play Canasta with the Schusters.

Growing up, Ron Santo was Karl's idol; he used to sleep with his Ron Santo mitt. Leo Durocher was Karl's god and mentor: they were both Leos together. July 24, 1972, is a day that will "live in infamy" for Karl, for it is the day Durocher was replaced by Whitey Lockman as "head coach" and manager. Curses on the short-sighted Wrigley family!

Doug also came from a baseball family, a South side baseball family: Sox fans. When he first met Doug in that room at Man's Country they laughed over the accidents of their birth. Doug's year is 1959, the last year the Sox were in the Series. Their lives came together like bubble gum and baseball cards.

Doug's father worshipped Minnie

Minoso. Doug, even as a child, admired Minoso's guts: here was a man-hero-baseball-jock so secure in his masculinity that he could carry a girl's first name "Minnie." And then there was "Jungle Jim" Rivera, who could walk around with curlers in his hair and no one would dare question his identity. Doug and his dad used to scream their lungs out every time "Jungle Jim" would slide head-first into second base. They also loved the stories about how "Jungle Jim" slid head-first into many a fair maiden's bedroom on the South side. What heros!

Doug's personal baseball god was Paul Richards—they were both left handed—the "Wizard of Waxahachie" and manager of the original Go-Go Sox. Doug once shocked his junior high English teacher by writing a term paper on "Paul Richards, The Platonist." He argued in the paper that if, as Plato says, "to know the good, is to do the good," then, Paul Richards is a "Platonist" because in baseball he both knows the good and does the good.

Soon after their first encounter at Man's Country, the baseball strike ended, and Doug and Karl started going steady together: Sox games, Cubs games, up to Milwaukee for Sox and Brewer games, and down St. Louis for the Cards and Cubs. Doug and Karl, Karl and Doug, you could see them at all the games, they themselves had become an inseparable team.

Karl respects Doug even though he wants to become an artist, he his willing to work and support himself. He does not want to live off Karl. And Doug likes their relationship because he gets to "manage" Karl, eventhough he is the younger guy. But Doug is actually more worldly than Karl, he knows French Impressionism, reggae music, where to get good ribs, and where to walk when you are high so you don't get hit in the ribs.

I asked Doug and Karl if they experienced much prejudice being a black and white man together.

As Doug told me, if they pushed it, they could find a lot of prejudice in the gay world, "from all directions." Some of Doug's friends don't like it that he has a "white lover." Karl's parents and sister have not yet recovered from the shock that their "little Ron Santo" turned out gay, and they try hard to overlook the fact that their son has a "black friend." Sometimes Doug has to have three more ID's than Karl to get into a gay bar.

IN Chicago, they go to the Gold Coast, Annex, and New Flight. They like the Flight, the atmosphere is mixed and mellow. Some of their friends say, "but the Flight is a hustler bar." Karl says, "it doesn't bother us, after all, the national pastime is watching young men get overpaid to play ball."

Doug and Karl would be upset and embarrassed if I made too much of their story. They love baseball, especially in Chicago, where you don't just watch baseball, but you sit so close to the action you can smell it happen. The erotic smell of leather in the air, Wrigley Field is just like the Pit at the Gold Coast. What can I say? They love baseball, sweat and sex together, the national pastimes—and neither of them drives a Chevrolet. They are just celebrating their first pennant winning year together.

thew, Redd co-wrote three of the songs and all of them are top-notch.

Burning up on my turntable this week is definitely going to be a hit, especially in gay clubs where some hits are a cult. This one surely has the right ingredients to make a hit. Brenda Jones' "My Heart's Not In It" (Wave 12-inch), takes a more straight-forward pop-soul approach but gets a great deal of impact from its strong story line. HOT! Starting with a drum intro and feeding into Jones' torchy, high-strung diva vocals, the kind delivered by Thelma Houston, Viola Wills and Candi Staton, but all in one. An instrumental break and return vocal ending make this polished production shine forth. An instrumental version is added on Side B, making this one a double-sided treat!

Remember "Hills Of Katmandu" and "Wishbone?" Well, Tantra's back! Tailored for strong retail impact, their new LP, "The Journey Continues" (Importe/12), contains a full length version of "Ma-Cum-Ba" and a new, equally complex rock-fusion, "A Place Called Tarat." This one, pressed on gold vinyl and visible through clear plastic packaging is definitely a must for your dance music collection.

The much demanded "D" Train 12-inch, "Keep On" has been released com-

Coming in strong at the top of this week's releases are apt illustrations of 1982-model East Coast dance music. Compelled by a hard, bright sound that's often spare to the point, but their spaces are compensated by lots of melodic and lyric content, as well as a host of sound, synthesizer and tape effects. Watch out for these, as they're bound to top the charts before long!

Largely written and produced by Eric Matthew and Darryl Payne (the Sinnamon "Thanks To You" production team), Sharon Redd's second album, "Redd Hot" (Prelude), hits on all bases and does it with pure funk to lucious ballads and does it with satisfying results! Uptempo numbers range from the sparse, jumping "Beat The Street" to a more relaxed "Never Give You Up" (my favorite) with "Send Your Love" coming in between. Along with Payne and Mat-

For the week of August 12th

ARIES (March 21-April 20)-Funny how these things boomerang. Last week's need for control turns around to become this week's discovery of someone who wants to control you. A new love might enter the picture, bringing exotic and delicious gifts.

TAURUS (April 21-May 20)-Think about it! You can't help but be successful at what you really put your mind to. What concerns you right now is self-respect and respectability. When you come on to someone, is all you're asking for "a little respect?"

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)-Let the moon be your guide this week. Take chances, trust your hunches, follow that dream! Enjoy the release that comes from laughter or tears. A time for partnerships to be fruitful. Can you taste it?

CANCER (June 21-July 22)-You'll feel needed, loved, cherished. You'll feel like number one, king of the mountain, top of the heap. This could lead to self-centeredness, couldn't it? Not if you return all those feelings to the right person.

LEO (July 23-August 22)-Last week's feeling of unreality and haunting dreams have sharpened into a keen sense of reality and how to make dreams work. Confusion's out, clarity's in. A new version of your old self is making you happy and attractive.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22)-You're able to take some very original ideas and use them wisely. Things that were hidden come to light. Old love and a new venture seem to go hand in hand this week. Pillow talk can be profitable.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22)-What happens when you combine passion with sincerity? You'll find out soon enough, since you'll be giving and taking plenty of each. It could turn out to be bigger than the both of you.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21)-You're an adventurer, an explorer, a searcher after truth. You're looking for something more than action. You want to know where you are, and what it's all about. Use those Scorpio talents! Look behind the scenes.

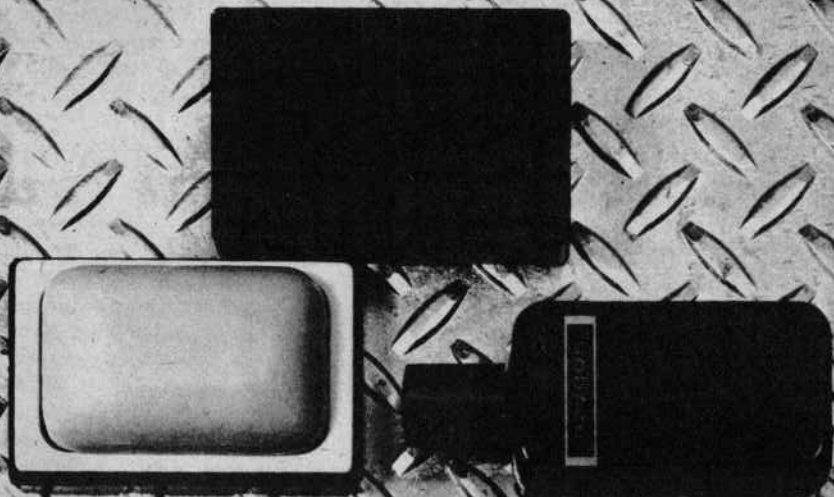

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21)-The things that ordinarily get you down don't faze you at all this week. There's an ease about your life, a natural flow of events that puts things in the proper perspective. You're enjoying all the games, of any kind.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19)-This week, you're the sleuth, looking for clues and reasons. Your mystery could lead you to some interesting and bizarre people and places. Things do get complicated sometimes, don't they?

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18)-Work takes on a new meaning and excitement this week. Since you've got the energy and drive, you can accomplish something important in that area. Meanwhile, back in the boudoir, a new friend could mean a lot of fun in off hours.

PISCES (February 19-March 20)-Aren't you getting friction burns yet? Tycho just keeps seeing sex, sex, sex in your stars, with no end - make that letup - in sight. It looks like things may take a more romantic turn this week, though. Keep, uh, plugging away.

mercially by Prelude and includes a brief acappella version on the flip. YaZoo's very popular "Situation" (Sire 12 inch) also sports an entirely new flip from the import version and a dub instrumental version mixed by Francois Kerkovian and an over-dubbed by John Robbie's keyboards.

And finally, a jazz-crossover by Eumir Deodato. "Happy Hour" (Warner Bros. LP) hits the target, sounding much like Koll & the Gang since Deodato is their producer. Deodato's formula is a familiar one, echoing disco's heyday in its sleek, funky rhytm sections and crisp horns, synthesizers and vocals, with the last element a first for this Brazilian veteran performer.

effectively on oral gonorrhea as does penicillin or tetracycline.

How about tetracycline, then, the "aspirin" of the Gay community? Unfortunately, tetracycline has a high failure rate with the resistant strains. It continues to work well for urethral and oral infections of non-resistant strains, but has never been the drug of choice for rectal gonorrhea, where it often fails.

Be assured that the number of resistant cases is rare in North America, and seldom appear overnight. There's no reason to panic; just be aware.

WHAT CAN YOU DO? For one thing, keep up the regular program of VD testing, especially for rectal gonorrhea, where symptoms frequently do not occur. Insist on a culture when you are treated for gonorrhea, and have follow-up cultures after treatment to make sure that you're cured. Be frank with your doctor about your lifestyle, so that he will realize the possibilities of the sites of infection.

The reason for this alert is not to frighten; knowledge is a good thing. When Los Angeles' Gay community was hot with resistant gonorrhea, the health department there wished that there had been awareness much sooner, so that it would have been easier to control. Other localities don't have to make that mistake. We'll keep you up-to-date on any outbreaks of penicillin-resistant gonorrhea in future columns.

If you have questions that you would like to ask Dr. Thompson, write to him c/o Stonewall Features Syndicate, P.O. Box 222976, Carmel, Ca., 93922, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Penicillin-Resistant Gonorrhea"

When penicillin first came out in 1943, the standard dosage for treating gonorrhea was 160,000 units, and it seemed so successful that doctors predicted gonorrhea would soon be eradicated. But with the worldwide epidemic in the '60's, along with the emergence of strains of Neisseria gonorrhoea less sensitive to penicillin, the treatment dose has had to be increased to the present 4.8 million units, about 30 times the original dose.

Why has this happened? Aside from the chromosomal mutation that can change the sensitivity of gonorrhea to penicillin, there's a second way for the bacteria to resist; the "R" factor. DNA particles mediate antibiotic resistance, and can attach themselves to bacteria. They had been seen lurking in the cell cytoplasm for years; so had other plasmids (as DNA particles are called) without the capacity to attach. Some far-sighted geneticists went so far as to predict that some day the feared "marriage" of the antibiotic affecting DNA particle and the bacteria's chromosome would occur.

They were right. In 1976, isolates of gonorrhea were found that were resistant to the penicillin antibiotic, and thus were born a new strain: penicillinase-producing gonorrhea. (The suffix "-ase" denotes a breakdown or destruction.) In short, penicillin could no longer destroy those bacteria.

Fortunately, the presence of the strain has never become the problem that was feared. Current public health department recommendations stick with penicillin, though tetracycline, spectinomycin and ampicillin have their individual applications. Penicillin remains, in most cases, the one medication that can cure gonorrhea at the site; not always a surety with the others.

The fear remains that penicillin-resistant organisms could become a problem. A substantial reservoir of resistant GC exists in the Far East, and enters the U.S. through West Coast ports. There were 87 cases, generally in the Western United States, in 1976, and 220 in 1977.

Penicillin-resistant gonorrhea probably causes the same symptoms as non-resistant strains. Neither doctor nor patient can tell which variety is present. But the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta and local, state, and military health clinics monitor recovered organisms for the presence of the substance that renders penicillin inactive, which is called beta-lactamase. Its presence is a giveaway that the resistant strain is involved.

When the resistant strain pops up, more effort is put into following up that case and its contacts. It's a necessary measure that keeps the resistant strain from spreading. Either drugs have been used to treat these cases: Trobicin (spectinomycin.)

You might ask, why not just use this drug for all cases, if it's the drug of choice for resistant gonorrhea? Well, Public Health departments deem it wise to save this medicine as a backup for such resistant cases. The worry is that, with overuse, spectinomycin-resistant strains will arise, just as has happened with penicillin. Not only that, but it costs more: my cost from a drug supply house is $6.25 per dose. Furthermore, it has the disadvantage of not curing incubating syphilis, as penicillin is known to do, and does not work as

Gayellow Pages Available To Blind On Tape

CHICAGO— Gayellow Pages #12, a directory of U.S. and Canadian gay/lesbian businesses and organizations, now is available for the blind and physically handicapped persons, according to Terry Gorman, Director, Lambda Resource Center for the Blind, 3225 N. Sheffield, Chicago, Il. 60657. LRC for the Blind provides access to the gay/lesbian print media through cassette recordings playable on talking book cassette machines.

Gayellow Pages #12 is available complete on 7 NLS standard cassettes, at cost, for $10.50 (labelled in braille or large print, upon request). Recording was done through permission of Frances Green, Editor, Gayellow Pages, N.Y.C. Persons ordering from LRC for the Blind should state that they are eligible to receive the special format edition; cassettes are not playable on commercial cassette machines.

A team of twenty Chicago sighted women and men spent 4 months reading the 256 double-column pages. The recording was master-taped reel-to-reel, then converted to cassette form for duplication and sale. ninety-three hours were spent just taping the directory.

The taped edition of Gayellow Pages #12 is "tone indexed," a feature that enables users to locate any state or city easily. "For the first time," says Director Gorman, "information on North American gay/lesbian businesses and organizations is accessible to the blind, at home or traveling."

For those who qualify, Gayellow Pages #12 is available on cassettes for $10.50 from LRC for the Blind, 3225 N. Sheffield, Chicago, Il. 60657.

51 golfers participated in the 7th Annual Ozabooboo Golf Tournament, held at Scenic View Golf Course on Sunday, July 18. Golfers from Chicago, Detroit, Minneapolis, and Milwaukee took part in the one day event. Jim Goggin shot an 81 gross and a 73 net to capture the tournament. Playing in the same foursome, Rick Englehart took second place with a 92 gross and 73 net. In 3rd place was defending champion Dick Nordgren from Minneapolis with an 86 gross and 75 net score. Carol Wegenhaupt led the women with 100. A welcome reception was held at the Ball Game on Saturday evening, and the awards dinner was also the Ball Game on Sunday following the golfing. Homer Bliss won the most congenial award and the most memorable event of the tournament was Bill Walters 125 yard chip shot into the hole for a birdie. Thanks to the people at the Ball Game and the tournament committee Tom Look, Glen Looker, George Lyons, and Mark Braverman for a great tournament.

Gay Guide Features Maps To Gay Olympic Games & Reno Gay Rodeo

This summer's Gay Olympic Games, to be held at multiple locations throughout San Francisco, and the Reno Gay Rodeo have been mapped out for gay travelers in the latest issue of Places of Interest, gay map guide USA/Canada 1983.

A special section for the Games lists each event and its map location, while the Reno, Nevada map shows all routes to the gay rodeo grounds.

These special event listings represent a new policy of Places of Interest to publicize the growing number of large-scale gay events now being held in many cities, making it possible for gay travelers to plan trips around the events they are most interested in.

Places of Interest offers this free service to the organizers of any gay event that would be of interest to gay travelers in the US and Canada.

Places of Interest ($7.25) and its companion Places of Interest to Women ($5.25) are available at many gay locations and by mail (add $1) from Ferrari Publications, P.O. Box 16325, Phoenix, Az. 85011.

Gay event organizers can contact Places of Interest by mail or telephone at (602) 264-5811.

citement! Tension! And then happiness for the Factory as Mike Lipke hit a 1-2 pitch well over the left centerfielder's head for the grand slam homer and a 9-6 victory for the Factory. In their second game against the YP, leading by two runs going into the 7th inning, more happiness for the Factory as Chuck Balistreri hit a grand slam to wrap up a 12-6 win.

Happiness for a team is not being shut out. The M&M Peanuts played 4 games on Saturday, making up two games that were previously rained out. As they have all year, the Peanuts managed to score in all 4 games. While they have been outscored in all their games this year, Ro and her Peanuts are certainly not outclassed. The Peanuts. A classy bunch.

Happiness for a manager is winning a doubleheader on the last day. Manager Jim La Feir of the Wreck Room Spurs is moving to Florida, but on his last day, the Spurs easily defeated Dawn's Chicklets and the M&M Peanuts to give Jim a happy send off.

For the second week in a row, the short-handed Wreck Room Chaps continued their winning ways with 2 victories, while the M&M Play'n won 3 games, including 2 make up games from an earlier date.

In the battle for the lead in Division 2 a week earlier, the YP had little difficulty with the Finale, winning by 23-5 and 19-9 scores.

Only one week remains on the regular season, with games on August 7. The YP and Factory teams will join 10 others down south in Atlanta for the Hotlanta Softball Classic on July 30 and 31. 2 teams from Chicago, 1 from New York and Washington D.C., and 6 from Atlanta are also participating in the tournament. Good luck to the Milwaukee teams. Bring home the trophy.

The Spring HIT Bowling League has just concluded with the team of 4 1/2 out of 5 finishing in first place. (The 4 1/2 must have something to do with the 80-20 Rule). Team members were Ken Kurtz, Bob Whalley, Dave Jensen, Bill Nackers, and Paul Haase with Uncle Al Sturdevant as super sub and scorekeeper. Following the last night of bowling, the bowlers were treated to a lunch at the bowling alleys prepared by Bill Belfanz, with the money for the food donated from the Secretary-Treasurers fees of David Theiss. Prize monies and awards were presented at that time. Gag-the-Captain won the high team series, Hot Shots the high team game, Ron MacDonald won the high series award with 570, and Mike Buchen with 266 had high game. The league raised over $650, which is being donated to HIT. For bowlers who want to get ready for the upcoming season, HIT is sponsoring a Scotch Doubles Tournament on Saturday, August 7 at 7:00 at Landmark Lanes. A pair of bowlers will alternate throwing the first and second ball for 4 games. Worst game is then thrown out. To make advance reservations, contact either Paul Haase or David Fre. You can also sign up at the alleys, but space is limited to 40 couples on a first come, first serve basis, so make your reservations early. Entry fee is $15

U.S. Gay Guide Translated For Foreign Visitors

Language is no longer a barrier to gay foreigners travelling in the US or in English-speaking Canada if they carry Places of Interest, the gay map guide USA/Canada 1983.

All the details about each location, even more specialized concepts like "fantasy" and "cruisy," are told in easily recognizable gay international symbols, which were designed specifically for use in Places of Interest.

Authentic gay expressions in English, French, Spanish, German and Dutch are given for each symbol in the key at the front of the book.

Also translated are the introduction, a description of how the book works and the lists of category names and abbreviations used in Places of Interest.

The combination of the translations and the maps showing the route to each gay location makes it possible for a gay person who speaks no English to travel with complete confidence throughout Gay America.

Places of Interest and its companion, Places of Interest To Women, are the first gay guides produced in the US to include translations for use by gays from other countries and the first gay guides ever to incorporate gay international symbols.

Places of Interest ($7.25) and Places of Interest To Women ($5.25) are available at many gay locations or by mail order (add $1) from Ferrari Publications, P.O. Box 16325, Phoenix, Az. 85011.

Speaking of Stars

by Tycho

For the week of August 5th

ARIES (March 21-April 20)-You want what you want, and that's all there is to it. With a little bit of imagination, you may get the material things. If you can control your need for control, you may have your emotional needs filled, too.

TAURUS (April 21-May 20)-Somebody's got you by the horns. Normally, you wouldn't mind that too much, but right now you have something important to prove. Show and tell what's in your mind and heart.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)-When an old love shows up out of nowhere, you'll know what to do and how to do it. You're sure enough of yourself to know the decisions you make will be the right ones.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)-Someone older, who could have a very powerful influence in your life, attracts you. There's a feeling of beginnings in the air. New things are within reach; reach out!

LEO (July 23-August 22)-Did you dream it, or did it really happen? Is it real, or an illusion? This could be a confusing time, except that you're enjoying it too much. Let your imagination run riot. Create reality out of fantasy.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22)-If you're a loner, forget it. If it's solitude you're looking for, there won't be much to be found. This is a time for being with others; the needs, pleasures, and responsibilities of friendship is what this time is about.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22)-You and your lover have things to work out, and this is the time to do. All parts of your relationship are open for examination. Lots of talking will go a long way toward making important decisions.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21)-Don't be so concerned about where you're going to miss out on where you are at. Take pleasure in simply doing what you're doing. The future is a fine place to visit, but the present is the place to be.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21)-Time to be a team player. You learn that in being part of the group; being able to work with others doesn't diminish your individuality. You're a star in the midst of other stars, shining your own special light.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19)-You've got something to explain to authority figures, and though you're pushed to do it, you're in no mood for compromise or denial. If you're firm, but not angry, you'll be heard. Try dignity—not denunciation.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18)-If you weren't so smart, you might be arrogant. In sex, it's nice to tell someone where to put it and how you want it done, but in other areas, being an example rather than a dictator works much better.

PISCES (February 19-March 20)-Sex of an intense and exciting kind combined with a playfulness and a need for simple pleasure can sharpen your sense of timing. The right touch at the right moment does wonders. Seeing the humor in a serious situation can add to the fun.

Sports Comment

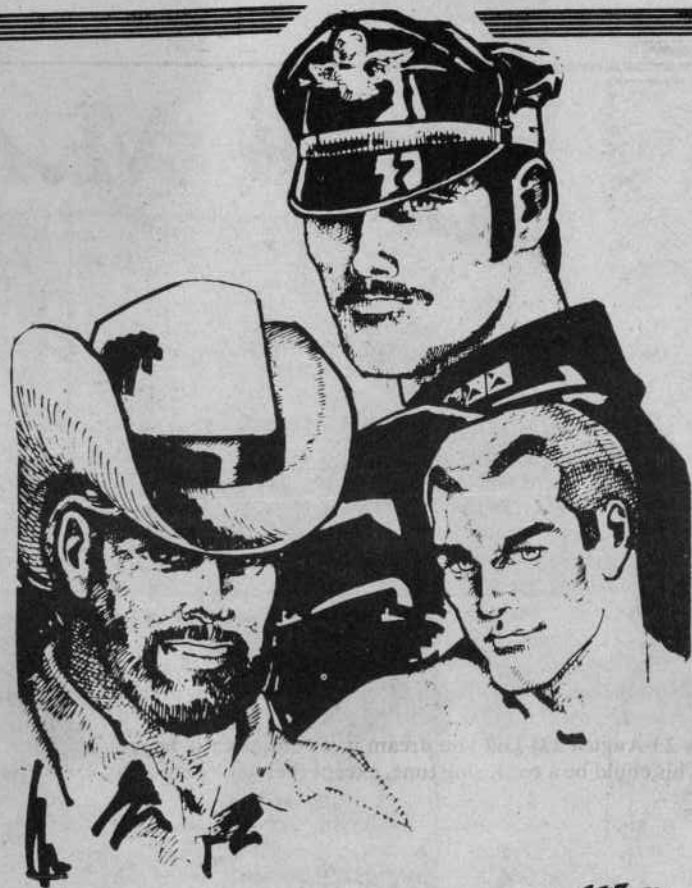

This column is generally not used for deitorial purposes, but an exception will be made at this time. In about a month, a softball team will be sent to San Francisco to represent Milwaukee in the Gay Softball World Series. 4 teams from the SSBL will participating in a play-off to determine which team will be eligible to go. The Factory, Finale, Wreck Room Chaps, and YP are in the running. Any of these fine teams would be a worthy representative, but the winning team will need your support. To date, nothing has been done to raise money to help finance the cost of sending the team. Obviously, it will be very expensive to send a team of 15 to 20 players to San Francisco, and raising money will not be easy. Many people in Milwaukee feel that the same team always goes, so why should they help. That may not be true this year. In addition, economic conditions at present are not very good. But the time has come for the gay community of Milwaukee, and especially the members and fans of the SSBL, to put aside their differences, change their attitudes, and get behind the winning team of Milwaukee to help support their efforts. Every other city that is sending a team to San Francisco is providing financial assistance. Should Milwaukee do anything less? A committee of Pat Prudlow of First St., Fred Stewart of M&M Play'n, Ron Burbey and Tom Salzsieder of WR Spurs, (all non-qualifying teams) have volunteered to come up with ideas to raise money. You will be informed of upcoming fund raising events. If anyone not involved in softball would like to support Milwaukee's effort to send our best team to San Francisco, you can send a check directly to SSBL treasurer Tom Salzsieder, 1129 N. Jackson St., Apt 1409, Milwaukee, Wi. 53202. Make checks payable to SSBL. All contributions will be used for this special World Series Fund only.

Grand Slams Lead Factory to Victories

Happiness is many things to many people. For a softball player, happiness is hitting a grand slam home run. Happiness came twice to the Factory Machine on Saturday. In the first game against the Finale, the Factory trailed 6-5 going into the top of the 7th inning. After the first batter was retired, the next two got hits, putting runners on second and third. An intentional walk followed. Drama! Ex-
