

THE TEST CAN BE ALMOST AS DEVASTATING AS THE DISEASE

The new test for antibodies to the "AIDS virus" doesn't tell you very much of anything. It only indicates that you have been exposed to the virus. What it can do is frightening.

Imagine, if your health insurance company found out that your test came back positive, they might cancel your policy. Even your job and home may be at risk.

Names might be reported to the government and find their way onto a master list.

In fact, desperately needed research is being hindered because the Federal government refuses to guarantee confidentiality. So, if you do take the test, make sure you get a guarantee in writing that your name and the results of your test won't ever be released to anyone.

Otherwise, our advice is, stay away from the test. It's bad news.

COVER STORY

Our cover artist for this issue would like to remain anonymous. Why? We're not really sure, we think the art is very well done. We've been urging artists to submit art for the cover, done in a style other than "line drawings" or "cartoon style," and now that we've finally got one, he wants to remain in hiding. He claims he's not really happy with the result and doesn't want to be embarrassed over it. We can tell you this though — he's a V.J. (video jock), and his talent for art is truly a talent, he has had no formal art education.

Attention to other artists: Give a call or stop in and show us some samples of your work. Women, too!

DANGERS OF AIDS BLOOD TEST

InStep, along with most Gay groups and Medical Advisors to the gay community, advise you NOT to take the now-available test that detects antibodies to HTLV-III/LAV, the virus believed to be associated with AIDS. The test, which is now available nationwide (Primarily blood banks for now), merely indicates the presence of antibodies to the HTLV-III virus. It is NOT 100% effective, in fact, it's not even close. It has the potential for incorrectly indicating that blood contains AIDS antibodies, as well as indicating that blood does not. When a group of AIDS patients was tested, 7 percent were not detected. Many gay activists, as well as medical advisors stress that this test is designed to keep the nation's blood supply as safe as possible. Those of us in at-risk groups concerned about AIDS will not find any useful answers in this test; it will not tell us if we have AIDS, if we are likely to get AIDS, or even definitely if we have been exposed to the HTLV-III virus. WE MUST CONTINUE TO REFRAIN FROM DONATING BLOOD, HOWEVER, USE ALTERNATIVE TEST SITES OTHER THAN BLOOD CENTERS IF YOU MUST TAKE THE TEST. If you donate blood, and the antibodies are found in your blood, your name goes on a nationwide computer list as having "unacceptable blood." That computer list could be accessed by insurance companies, or employers and you could lose your insurance, or even your job.

The federal government is well aware that the effectiveness of the test is dependent on those of us in the "at-risk" groups not using blood centers as means of getting the test. The federal government is convinced of the need to support establishment of alternative testing sites, however, they have not come forward with sufficient funding, and enough time must be given to put the locations in place. The alternative test sites must fulfill three basic requirements: they must be free, counseling must be available to explain the test results, and there must be informed consent and confidentiality.

Mark Behar, Brady East STD Clinic spokesman, (BEST is Milwaukee's gay/lesbian health clinic) said the BEST Clinic took up the issue of testing in a meeting March 13th. At the meeting, it was decided BEST would go ahead and "offer the test with great reluctance". Behar said, "we're offering it, but only as a service to our patients. It should be available at BEST by sometime in April." The BEST board will first work out details with their Medical Committee, Ethics and Grievance Committee, and their Program Committee. BEST urges people not to take the test, but if they feel they must, then take the test within "our own community" so results can be kept secret.

The Blood Center of Southeast Wisconsin is already using the test to screen all new blood donations. This effort started last week. Blood Center spokesman informed InStep that even if the blood tests Positive (after three retests), that the donor WILL NOT BE INFORMED. Their name will, however, go on the list of "unacceptable donors."

In Milwaukee, the Blood Center will provide BEST with all the necessary equipment, and test kits to provide the tests free of charge at BEST. They would rather that "at-risk" groups (us) get the test taken at BEST. They do not want to be inundated with people just wanting to find out if they have the AIDS antibodies present in their blood. That is the main reason they will not inform donors if they come up positive. BEST will counsel those with positive results given at the clinic.

Statewide, it is expected that STD (Sexually Transmitted Diseases) Clinics that are funded by the state will eventually become test sites. This all depends on how fast the federal government moves on funding alternative sites. Hopefully, it will come within the next month.

Milwaukee's Red Cross no longer handles blood donations, but nationwide Red Cross officials have said they would begin phasing in the test as soon as possible.

The National Gay Task Force (NGTF) and Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund received assurances from the Food and Drug Administration that the HTLV-III antibody test would be labeled with language intended to minimize civil rights abuses. The unprecedented labeling will read: "It is inappropriate to use this test as a screen for AIDS or as a screen for members of groups at increased risk for AIDS in the general population."

The test, abbreviated as ELISA, was licensed March 2nd, and is being produced by

ABBOTT Laboratories, just north of Chicago.

For local testing by alternative clinics, we'll just have to wait a month or so. Besides BEST in Milwaukee, other clinics most likely to offer the test will be: Blue Bus Medical Clinic (Madison), and Community Clinic (Green Bay). As the alternative test sites begin offering the test, InStep will try to keep you informed.

S.F. HEALTH BOARD*OUTLAWS BATH SPYING

SAN FRANCISCO GNIC — The Public Health Department will be able to continue monitoring bathhouses for safe sex practices, but they will not be able to use an outside detective agency, according to a story in the Bay Area Reporter. Future surveillance will be handled by health inspectors.

The health department had conducted surreptitious spying in the baths, using the Hal Lipset detective agency last year. The city's Board of Supervisors approved paying Lipset $50,000 for the effort, long after the spying was finished. Public Health had requested another $10,000 to pay Lipset for more of the spying, but the new seven member Health Commission nixed that effort, ordering the health department to withdraw its request.

"This will give us some time to evaluate all of this," said Commissioner Jim Foster, a long-time gay activist. "What the commission did is to agree unanimously that we should not go outside to hire independent investigators. We believe this should be a department function."

"You have demonstrated courage by your actions, considering the public pressure," said attorney Lohn Wahl, who represented the Committee for Sexual and Civil Liberties. "We are pleased with your vote to recall this extremely obnoxious and dangerous attempt to put secret police into the gay community. We have fought for years to keep undercover police from spying on our lives. Only since 1975 has it not been a felony to show affection toward another man. We do not want to go back to those days.

"The money spent by the city on this action could better be spent on educating gay and bisexual men on safe sex practices," suggested Wahl.

U.S. Civil Rights Commission & Anti-Gay / Lesbian Violence

New York NGTF — Responding to lobbying by the National Gay Task Force (NGTF), the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights has begun studying anti-gay / lesbian violence. At a Feb 11 meeting, the Commission agreed to encourage its State Advisory Committees to examine anti-gay / lesbian violence from an administration of justice standpoint. (The Commission maintains that its authority to deal with this issue is limited to administration of justice questions, i.e., the response to the problem by law enforcement officials and the criminal justice system.)

No action was taken at the national meeting on an NGTF-supported proposal for a national study of violence against individuals because of race, religion, ethnic origin or

Commenting on the Commission's response, NGTF Executive Director Virginia M. Apuzzo said, "Anti-gay / lesbian violence is a problem of epidemic proportions, deserving a full and immediate investigation by the national Commission. However, efforts by its state Advisory Committees will be a step forward and may lead to remedial action."

The decision to use the State Advisory Committees does not preclude a national Commission investigation of anti-gay / lesbian violence in the future. For its part, NGTF has agreed to identify for the Commission states where investigations of anti-gay / lesbian violence are particularly feasible and desirable. Findings and recommendations by the state committees will be reported to and reviewed by the national Commission, which will consider endorsing and publishing the results. The Commission also agreed to consider lesbians and gay men recommended by NGTF to serve on the state committees.

Governors Council Reports to Earl

Milwaukee (Milwaukee Journal) — The Governor's Council on Lesbian and Gay Issues gave its biennial report to Governor Earl recently with the two main points: Fear of Personal Safety and Harassment, along with a perceived anti-gay bias at the Department of Public Instruction. Eight council members met with Earl to discuss these and other points in their report.

Council members said gays and lesbians are "afraid for their physical safety if identified by attendance" at community meetings by council members in areas outside Madison and Milwaukee.

The report cited Eau Claire, where a "small, covert support group for gays was disbanded" when two gay men were beaten badly by men vocalizing "Homophobic epithets."

In Racine, a person who was to testify before the Council on sex curricula in local schools was threatened at gunpoint, the report continued.

In Milwaukee, "the police were identified as the source of much of the violence and harassment of lesbians and gays," the council said. Earl suggested the Milwaukee situation may be changing since Police Chief Robert J. Ziarnik took office. (In a recent meeting with the CCBA, Ziarnik said he would not allow discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation.)

The Department of Public Instruction is the state government's worst offender of gay rights according to the Council. However, the department claims they believe in and support the law of the state on employment.

Deputy Superintendent Dean Knowles said he was surprised by the council's comments and said he would encourage anyone who had been discriminated against to contact the departments affirmative action office or file an official complaint with the state.

Job Security is controlled by the local school boards, Council member Charlene McLaughlan said "excuses (for firing) can be and have been dreamed up.

CONSERVATIVE CALLS FOR GAY QUARANTINE

WASHINGTON (03-04-85)— When the nation's most conservative political organizations convened, Paul Cameron was there to urge a national quarantine of all homosexuals to combat the spread of AIDS.

Also on hand to ride the nation's resurgent wave of conservatism were pro-lifers, free marketers, anti-feminists, promoters of the new-fangled "Star Wars" space weaponry and the fellows who insist on the right to own old-fashioned hand guns.

Accuracy in Media sponsored a booth where a young woman hawked for $12 each some nifty navy-blue neckties with little red and white bullseyes. Casual browsers at the various booths may have been abruptly sobered by the message delivered at the one manned for the Foundation for Traditional Morality by Sue and Bert Hurlburt.

One of their pamphlets was entitled, "What Homosexuals Do (It's More Than Merely Disgusting)."

"You need to talk to Dr. Cameron," Hurlburt said.

Cameron, a psychologist from Lincoln, Neb., was anxious to talk.

"Unless we get medically lucky," he said, "in three or four years, one of the options discussed will be the extermination of homosexuals."

Cameron was lobbying in the corridors at the Conservative Political Action Conference to warn of the dangers of Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome.

Cameron, who heads the Institute for the Scientific Investigation of Sexuality, said homosexuality is curable.

"It's not a sickness," he said. "It's a bad habit. It's like smoking but it is a more powerful habit."

"AIDS was started and transmitted by homosexuals," said Cameron, who accuses the medical profession of "pussy-footing" on the issue and favoring gay rights. He said gays "posture as victims but they earn their AIDS."

To protect the rest of society, he said, all of them should be "confined to quarters."

"The ominous specter now is that it looks as if mosquitoes may be able to transmit AIDS," Cameron said.

"Normal people probably could take a hit or two from a mosquito carrying AIDS but a small child couldn't," he said. "If children start dying of AIDS, I don't think a homosexual's life will be worth a damn."

He acknowledged his proposal to quarantine homosexuals has not taken hold, even in most conservative circles.

"Many of the people right here at this conference are tolerant of homosexuality," he said. "That's a mistake."

Cameron said stemming the AIDS epidemic "involves quarantining gays, closing all gay bars and baths, criminalizing homosexual acts that involve exchange of bodily products and closing the borders to homosexual travel."

Damski Gone from GayLife

Jon Henri Damski, columnist for GayLife newspaper, and former writer for both Gay Chicago and Escape, has been "laid off" from the staff at GayLife.

Damski, often referred to as the "Mike Royko of Gay Chicago" says his proudest achievement of his gay life is to "have survived on the streets of Chicago as a word hustler for these past 8 years. I started out at GayChicago at $10 a trick, and now with GayLife these past three years I have been making enough money for rent and food." He has supplemented his income with lectures and free lance writing.

According to Damski, now that he is laid off, he will not "be laid off my life's course. These stories I have written over the last 8 years as journalism, were always designed to be recycled in a book as literature." "Now I have in hand, material in abundance for three books: The New Town Anthology, Essays in Drag, and Fourth World People.

Damski figures it will take 6 months to a year to get the books out with a major publishing house.

He is holding an Autograph Party and Fund Raiser at Paradise, Chicago, on Friday March 29, 8pm on. There will be a $5 donation at the door, and each person will receive an autographed copy, of one of the former columns going into the book. ●

In Memorium — David Cornel

(Milwaukee) — David Cornel, who died late February was Milwaukee's premier keyboardist from 1973 to 1981 when he moved to San Francisco.

Cornel returned to Milwaukee last summer, not long before he turned 37 on Sept. 19th. But he never returned to a life of making music. He died at Froedert Memorial Lutheran Hospital of a neurological infection said to be AIDS-related.

Cornel's hopes for greener pastures and more money were not met in San Francisco. Upon his return here he was disillusioned with SF, extremely ill, and supposedly came back to have the support of his friends in Milwaukee.

His skill on the keyboards made him invaluable to the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra where he was the primary keyboardist, and he was the first accompanist and diction coach of the Wisconsin Conservatory Symphony Chorus (now the Milwaukee Symphony Chorus) when it was founded in 1975. ●

Falwell in Milwaukee

(Milwaukee) — The Reverend Jerry Falwell, leader of the 'so called' Moral Majority, has been invited to attend the Annual Leadership Prayer Breakfast in Milwaukee Friday, April 26th, at the Marc Plaza Hotels' Crystal Ballroom from 7:45 to 9:15 AM.

The prayer breakfast is an annual event which used to be run by the JayCeas, but is now sponsored by the Christian Courier newspaper.

Roger Byers, a local gay activist, is willing to coordinate a protest or demonstration against Falwell's appearance here. Byers said: "I'm amazed to see who's attending this event — including Milwaukee County Sheriff Richard Artison, Milwaukee County Executive William O'Donnell and an expected crowd of up to 600 people." He continued, "We must make plans to make a response to his presence."

For information and to coordinate activities, contact Roger at (414)931-7727.

GAY PARENTS TO UNITE IN L.A.

LOS ANGELES GNIC — Gay men and women will have the opportunity to share ideas and exchange their experiences at the 6th Annual World Conference of the Gay Fathers Coalition International (GFCI), to be held in Los Angeles, May 31 through June 2.

Richard Warren, executive vice-president of the 2,000 member organization with 47 chapters in the United States, Canada, and overseas, based in Washington D.C., says that early returns of a pre-registration mail-out last month indicate that about 600 men and women will participate in more than 20 workshops being offered at the conference. "We have gotten commitments from some of our overseas chapters to send delegates, and we fully expect that every region of the U.S. will be represented as well."

Gay Fathers Coalition International embraces a diverse group of gay men and lesbians in parenting roles. While some chapters are devoted exclusively to gay married men, the majority of the membership is men who live an exclusively homosexual lifestyle.

A number of key experts in psychology, family counseling, and family law have already been set to appear at the summer conference. Among them is noted psychologist Brian Miller, an authority on the subject of gay parenting.

Workshops being offered will include general parenting subjects as well as panels on custody issues, single parent adoption, communication with teens and younger children, and relationships with former spouses.

The Conference Organizing Committee will work with registrants to provide housing and transportation while delegates are visiting Southern California. To receive a pre-registration package by mail, write to GFCL, 7985 Santa Monica Blvd., Suite 109-346, Los Angeles, CA 90046 or by calling (213) 871-1575.

MADISON AIDS SUPPORT NETWORK

The AIDS Support Network of Madison is seeking volunteers to be support managers and support counselors to provide emotional support to people with AIDS and or AIDS Related Complex (ARC).

A one year commitment is required. All interested persons should contact Will at (608) 256-5115 by April 10th.

The AIDS Support Network is sponsored by The United.

Support Group for Milwaukee Lesbians

The Women's Support Group Program has offered support groups for lesbians in the Milwaukee area for the last six years. The groups, held at the Counseling Center of Milwaukee, center on issues of affectional / sexual preference. The goals of the program include providing supportive, safe and nurturing environments for lesbians to share together their triumphs and struggles.

The affectional preference groups initially offered through WSGP were Free Space and More Space. The Free Space group provides a safe Place for women who are just beginning to question and explore their sexual / affectional preference. Women who are self-defined as lesbians and feel comfortable with their lifestyle choice, join the More Space group to gain support.

Over the last 4 years, groups for women dealing with affectional and sexual preference issues have multiplied and become more diverse. In '84 and '85, special interest groups have emerged: Free Space for women under age 25, Lesbian mothers, Lesbians letting go (relationship ending), Lesbians over 40, and a group for married women dealing with coming out.

Groups are made up of eight to ten women with two trained facilitators. At present time, groups generally meet once a week, Monday through Thursday evening, and a negotiable contribution of $2 per week is asked. For more information about the Women's Support Group Program, phone 271-2565.

THE TIMES OF HARVEY MILK Documentary

TC Films International recently announced that the critically acclaimed film "The Life and Times of Harvey Milk" is now available for showing by colleges, film societies and community groups.

"Times," winner of the 1984 New York Film Critics Award, is the powerful story of Milk, California's first openly gay elected official who, along with San Francisco Mayor George Moscone, was assassinated by fellow Supervisor Dan White.

The "Times" has received unqualified raves from the critics and has moved audiences across the country with its message of hope from a compassionate and committed gay activist whose life made a difference for many people. Harvey Milk's determination and spirit touched not only gay people, but also a coalition of blacks, latinos, senior citizens, and Asians, which proved that cooperation can change peoples lives.

The film can be used in many contexts and situations to educate the community while raising money and consciousness in a positive life affirming manner. The rental rates for the film vary depending upon the specific showing — from $500 against a percentage of the gross receipts for large entertainment bookings, to a flat fee of $200 for restricted classroom use. The company will be happy duo soon developed a following for their witty and insightful songs about the joys and absurdities of being gay.

Although once critic described them as the "darlings of the gay cabaret scene," Ron Romanovsky and Paul Phillips prefer to think of themselves as the oddballs of the cabaret scene. Instead of molding themselves after the average torch song entertainer, they have carved out their own territory by singing about their lives openly, honestly and with humor.

Stevens Point U.W. Women's Music

On March 28th, starting at 8pm on the Sentry Theatre Stage (Stevens Point), six outstanding performers of Women's Music will fuse their varied styles and talents into an evening of varied song.

Topping the list of six is Cris Williamson. The daughter of a forest ranger, Williamson was brought up in the wilderness of Colorado and Wyoming with a harmonic sense of life and nature. Also appearing will be a musical duo not unfamiliar to the Point area: Teresa Trull and Barbara Higbie combine powerful vocals and tight, energizing piano playing to bring genre music to a new level of excitement.

Along with Carrie Barton and Cam Davis, a non-traditionalist of Women's music and a pure-true rocker, Tret Fure will round out the six.

Tickets are available at the Stevens Point Area Co-Op, Campus Records and Tapes and the Women's Resource Center. Advanced tickets are $10, $13 at the door. For more ticket info and locations call 715-346-4851.

Robin Tyler at UW Milwaukee

On top of all the other events scheduled to hit Milwaukee's U.W. Lesbian and Gay Community during their Awareness week activities, Lesbian feminist comic Robin Tyler performs Saturday, March 30 at 7:30 pm in the U.W. Milwaukee Union's Wisconsin Room.

Since going on her own as a monologist in 1978, Tyler released her first solo album, "Always a Bridesmaid, Never a Groom," on Olivia Records. She appeared on television on "The First Annual Funny Women's Show" with Phyllis Diller. She continued to play colleges and concerts, and in 1985 released her 4th album, second solo one, titled "Just Kidding."

She is also the Producer of West Coast Women's Music and Comedy Festival, and The Southern Women's Music and Comedy Festival, which yearly attracts thousands of women to gather together. As well as being the keynote speaker at the San Francisco, New York and Dallas Parades, she was emcee for the National March on Washington.

The Politics of Women in Leather

So, what I want to know is . . . where ARE all the leatherwomen in this fair city of Milwaukee? Come now, ladies . . . I know you're out there. I even know who a few of you are! But I know that, in a city this size, there just have to be more of us!

Oh sure, I see little vestiges of the love of leather around town, pants here, a vest there, a jacket or two. But where are those women who have an on-going affair with that most aromatic and sensual of hides?

I mean, every time I'm out and about in my leather, I am the recipient of an endless stream of compliments, ranging from admiration to proposition.

I have formulated a few of my own theories through experience. One is the obvious obstacle of the prohibitive cost of leather that is of any real quality. It is expensive. I've seen many women obviously dressed well enough to make it apparent that money isn't the barrier.

My opinion is that a large part of what keeps people in general away from leather is the mystique surrounding it, and the image it projects. I have several reasons for believing this:

First, let's explore the nature of leather, itself. It has its own distinct aroma, and the feel of it as a snug-fitting second skin, the suggestive look of it. It is primal, therefore, capable of invading our secret fantasies, and playing havoc with our carefully created sense of what's proper and what's taboo.

Secondly, traditionally leather has been the chosen gear of cowboys, motorcycle cops and bikers, for its intrinsic value of affording protection against the elements, and in the case of an accident, protection from lacerations. Therefore leather has become associated with all these "roughneck" types who, in the eyes of our parents, were not exactly ideal role models for their growing children. Not to mention the fact that we all know leather is not very "ladylike." This latter idea is now rather out moded in view of the wide range of tailoring and styles available today.

Even though, due to the punk/new wave / breakdance fashion influence the availability and acceptability of leather has proliferated greatly. There is still one more rather significant attitude that exists towards leather, especially in the gay society. This is the idea and the implication that (yes, I'm really going to talk about this) anyone who is quite heavily into leather also engages in "leathersex" as it has come to be known. It is more commonly known, in its more complex, creative and experimental forms as Sadomasochism, or S&M.

This attitude was something I was familiar with but didn't actually have any direct experience with until just the other evening, and it amuses me to no end. My lover and I were out at a woman's bar talking with some women, when one of them, her confidence buoyed by a few cocktails, admitted that she had always been a bit uneasy around either of us, because of the way we dressed. It wasn't that she didn't like it — she was just afraid that because we were into leather, we must also be into other things that she considered "kinky."

She actually asked which one of us had the "whip marks." Amused, I asked her what she thought it was we did for kicks. Her thoughts were pretty much along this line: We went home to our penthouse apartment with some poor soul we picked up, and then proceeded to ingest large amounts of cocaine and hallucinogenic drugs, under the influence of which we'd bound and whipped this unfortunate person. At the peak of the frenzy, we then tossed this screaming heap of humanity out the penthouse window and proceeded to indulge in an orgy of wildly uncontrolled sex.

We were both highly amused. She seemed disappointed when we told her that our thoughts were tuned more to out-fitting the new canoe we just bought, and that we could hardly afford cocaine in any significant amounts since a good deal of our money went into the rent and upkeep of our lower East Side flat.

I am not implying here that no one that wears leather is into S&M, as I know many are, and that leather plays a large part in that whole scene. However, I would like to break the stereotype and stress the fact that taboos are what we allow them to become, an integral part of our lives as we are willing

Books Bros. is the best legitimate bookstore in town, while others, such as Caesar's, Centurian, and Speedway offer something more than just books and video. The aptly named Stables is supposed to be a bath, but sleazy describes it best.

Arizona's two publications, gay-oriented, are Western Express and The Observer, and are available at many of the bars.

I usually stay at the Sheraton Pueblo Inn, which is not particularly close to the bars, which are spread out over a large area, but has good rooms and a great swimming pool. Incidentally, a car is very necessary in rambling Tucson. For casual straight dining, Bobby McGee's Conglomeration, Carlos Murphy's, El Adobe, LaFuente and Palamino's are reasonably priced. For excellent and expensive dining, gourmet style, try Charles Restaurant, the Gold Room at the Westward Look Resort, or the Tack Room at Rancho Del Rio. Bentley's House of Coffee and Tea is a fun little mixed place where you can pig out on desserts.

Besides Mission San Xavier del Bac, visitors should be the Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum for living animals and plants, the Pima Air Museum, Colossal Cave, Fort Lowell Museum, Old Tucson, and cruise campus of the University of Arizona.

In addition to all the sports to be found in a desert resort area, Tucson offers horse racing, greyhound racing, and hot air balloon rides. Nearby are Sabino Canyon, Saguaro National Monument, Kitt Peak Observatory, Tomstone and Nogales...just across the border in Old Mexico.

So, if you're looking for a place in the sun, leave the wintry weather behind and try Tucson. Since it's "Cowtown days", Tucson has had a phenomenal growth rate and now boasts a metro population of over half a million. About this time of year, when much of the nation is blanketed with snow (or mired in mud), Tucson is usually basking in sunshine.

TUCSON, ARIZONA

Tucson (Too-Sawn) is a place, or so residents claim, "where the sun lives closer." It has an extraordinary setting, as its magnificent landscape clearly illustrates...all that sand and sun, with the rugged Santa Catalina Mountains glowing red beneath fantastic desert sunsets. Tucson is a city where the old mingles with the new. It is a modern metropolis, tourist mecca and college town. It combines posh resorts, rodeos, cowboys, sports, missiles, science, arts and quaint western crafts.

During the last century, mining camps sprung up with the discovery of gold, and today ghost towns dot the surrounding countryside. Just eighty miles south of here is historic Tombstone, where once Wyatt Earp, Doc Holiday and Bat Masterson fought it out with Cochise and his fierce warriors. Gunfire no longer blazes at the OK Corral, but memories will live forever.

Naturally, the bar scene is best on weekends, and don't forget Arizona bars close up tight at 1pm. The Joshua Tree has been a long time favorite. There is a disco in front, and the cruisy Back Pocket in the rear. The Fineline has three floors, including a street level disco, Dicks, a pseudo leather bar in the basement, and the B.F.R. (Big Fucking Room) for lounging and shows upstairs. Rita's Rendezvous has a disco and features a popular brunch on Sundays.

Colette's West is very popular with younger women, while Ruby's attracts more mature ladies. One of the oldest gay bars is the Graduate which does especially well during the cocktail hour. They get an interesting mix of Latinos, midnight cowboys and older guys. The new, and most promising bar in town is Tramps. One side has a disco, while the other is a cruise bar which attracts some hot-looking cowboy types. They plan to open a restaurant a couple of doors down in the future. The Congress, downtown, gets what ever is left over, but is not heartily recommended. Continued on page 35 ♦ to let them be. Opinions, attitudes, and especially, fears built on misinformation can not only be dangerous, but can also lead to embarrassing situations or needless anxiety.

Just as we do not want to be judged by non-gays in a stereotypical opinion of what "gays are supposed to be," so we should accord the same lenience of pre-judgement and ignorant bias toward those of us who choose to dress in leather (or whatever else strikes their fancy).

I hope that, for those "closet leather-lovers" who have fantasized about strutting their stuff in some tight-fittin' leather pants or for those who enjoy that slightly sweaty feeling a snug leather vest gives, but who have been too oppressed to do so, that these thoughts have expelled some of your fears. For those of you who love leather but whose only hangup is the cost, the best I can do is wish you fat piggy banks and a generous tax refund.

Come out of those leather closets, ladies, and put on those hot hides! They look great, and I'm bored with spandex! ●

Just a forewarning, nothing that occurred after March 13th is in this column, deadlines, — ya' know, so there wasn't really alot for me to do, or to write about for this issue. Not many pictures, either, but then there are always plenty that didn't get run in past issues that we can finally run.

The Danceteria, Milwaukee's new after hours juice club opened its doors Friday March 8th, to a nice "preview" crowd, but was slow on Saturday, and then picked up again on Sunday. Cover charges are out for card holders. Seems the ad that appeared in InStep last issue didn't state the cover was just for non-members. Nice place — big, and new lights are on their way, so after hours dancing will be even more enjoyable. I was there opening night, and I had just got done saying to a friend, "I wonder how much longer before the cops show up?" — when about 3:15, in walked two officers, who talked to the doorman and manager, and after a few questions, left. The static I used to feel when I'd see cops in the bars wasn't there. Was it just me, or are things changing?

I urge you to read the article in the Briefs Section on the AIDS Antibody Test that is now being used across the state, and nation. We urge you NOT TO TAKE THIS TEST, but if you insist on doing so, do it thru a gay clinic such as BEST in Milwaukee or the Blue Bus Program in Madison. If the testing is kept within our own community, and there are safeguards for your anonymity, then, you could THINK about having it done. No sense worrying yourself sick if the antibodies do show up in your tests, when health officials are saying that just because the antibody shows up, DOES NOT MEAN YOU WILL GET AIDS.

So, why bother?

TIDBITS: The Queen Mother of the "Jewel" of the Hotel Washington Complex (Rodney) is vacationing in Hawaii. I'm sure we can all expect a "Lei Party" once he returns.

GET READY MILWAUKEE

Over 600 gay men and women softball players will be coming to Milwaukee the last week of August as the Saturday Softball Beer League (SSBL) hosts the 9th Annual Gay Softball World Series. In addition, the 1st Gay Women's Softball World Series will be held in conjunction with the men's tournament.

Plans for the 2 tournaments were firmed up at the Spring meeting of the North American Gay Amateur Athletic Alliance (NAGAAA) the national gay softball organization, which was held in Milwaukee Feb. 28-March 2nd. Over 60 Softball commissioners and other league representatives attended the meetings. In the men's division, 2 new cities- Norfolk and San Diego, were admitted to the national alliance and will join the 17 prior member cities: Atlanta, Birmingham, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Houston, Kansas City, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, New York, Pittsburg, San Francisco, Seattle, Southern New England, Toronto and Twin Cities.

Meeting together for the first time, women representatives of member cities of NAGAAA elected to have the first Gay Women's Softball World Series in conjunction with the men's tourney in Milwaukee. Nine cities have made a firm commitment to send a women's team to Milwaukee while 5 other cities have indicated a likelihood of participating in the series.

The men's tournament will be held at Mitchell Park and will start on Wed., August 18 at 10:30 am with games between San Francisco and New York (the only two participating teams in the 1st Gay World Series) and Dallas and Long Beach. Games will continue throughout the day on both diamonds and the official opening ceremonies will be held on Wednesday evening at 7pm. The men's and women's teams will all participate in the opening ceremonies. Following the ceremonies, the Milwaukee team will play the featured game of the day against the Dallas-Long Beach winner. Games are scheduled through Sunday, Sept. 1, when the semi-final and final games will be played.

The women's tournament will start on Thursday, August 29. Games will be held at West Milwaukee Park from Thursday through Saturday and the women's semi final and final games will be played at Mitchell Park on Sunday, Sept. 1. The awards banquet and ceremonies will be held on Sunday evening following the final games in the Crystal Ball Room of the Marc Plaza Hotel.

A lot of money will have to be raised by Milwaukee's gay community between now and August to put on these tourneys. The next fund raiser for the Series will be at The Finale on Saturday, April 20 from 3-7pm. There will be food, raffles, auctions, and other surprises. Make your plans now to attend and show your support for Series IX. ●

Bobby Rivers, "Ex" Milwaukee TV Personality, well, not exactly Ex, but he doesn't have his own show "MORE" anymore, is going by the name of BOB Rivers now. He reports that Liz is still doing her hair.

Tina Turner on Entertainment Tonight said she's going for an Oscar next. She'll be co-starring with Mel Gibson in Mad Max at the Thunder Dome. During the interview she said, "I'll have one of them up there next . . ." (referring to an Oscar to sit next to her music awards.)

Brooks Almy, who played the role of Lady Blues from Torch Song Trilogy didn't make it to opening night cast party at the M&M after Torch Songs opening, but she did show up there before she left and brought the house down on Saturday night. After the scheduled performers took a break, Brooks and the piano player worked the crowd into a frenzy for an hour and a half. She later returned for duos with the scheduled performer. Needless to say, Pa Boo was ecstatic.

The North American Gay Volleyball Association is holding its 3rd annual International Tourney in Chicago this year on the Memorial Day Weekend. Any interested teams, and especially women's teams, should contact Arthur at (312) 477-9189 for more info.

What's coming up special? How about Gay and Lesbian Awareness Weeks at both UW Milwaukee and UW Stevens Point. Check the group notes section for more info, but both campuses will offer entertainers, and lecturers the week of March 25-30. Vito Russo, author of Celluloid Closet will talk on Gay Images in Television. Russo is an eloquent speaker (so I've heard) and his articles have been published in a wide array of national gay publications.

1101 in Appleton offers an entire list of events coming up: the play ONE on Friday the 22nd, Odessa Brown (the beast is back!) March 24 and the return of the $1.98 Drag Show on the 31st.

For all you fans of Sade's (SHAR-day) Hang On To Your Love, be sure to pick up the 12-inch remix of Smooth Operator (Epic). Extended from the album to 9 minutes, they give it a really HOT latin jazz ending that is incredible. Smooth Operator is the second single from the Diamond Life album. Unfortunately, Hang On To Your Love failed to break the ice on pop radio, but after Smooth Operator, you can bet that Epic records will try a re-issue. Only time and disc jockeys will tell . . .

Speaking of remixes: Arthur Baker has redone Bruce Springsteens' Born In The USA (Columbia 12-inch) and Paul McCartney's No More Lonely Nights (Columbia 12-inch) — very good and musts for 12-inch collectors. Also, The Time's The Bird (Warner Bros.) has been remixed to a 12-inch (finally) in a treble new version with some very unusual rhythmic edit effects borrowed from hip-hop. Interesting . . .

Burning up the table . . . Helen Terry of Culture Club fame has a great import 12-inch that's more enlivening than some of her last works. Now You're Mine (Virgin / U.K.) is the first of her solo records to have a real serious hook; it has a solid Maniac beat and a very '60s-ish vocal approach. Check out Alison Moyet's Invisible (Sire Records) . . . more on this next time.

And finally...one remix I overlooked and one you should run to your nearest record store to get is Julian Lennon's Too Late For Goodbyes. Mixed by Steve Thompson — incredible and must be heard to appreciate. (WLUM is already programming this gem.) See you . . .

Kane and Parker Return!

After not hearing from them for awhile, Madleen Kane and Paul Parker are back on the dance charts. Madleen is back on TSR Records this time with I'm No Angel and backed-with Ecstasy. Produced by Ian Anthony Stephens, all the emphasis is on the music rather than her voice. She really can't sing, but . . . it's O.K. Co-written by Stephens and Paul Parker, this one is straight out of the Megatone-style school of electronic dance music. Very hot hi-NRG that surely is Top 10 Dance material. The flip side Ec- stasy offers new dance material as well—give it a listen.

Well, you can see Paul Parker has been busy writing material for Madleen Kane, but has managed to release his own 12-inch. Don't Play With Fire and Without Your Love (Megatone 12-inch) puts Parker back in the spotlight. Don't Play With Fire is typical Megatone hi-NRG, but the flip Without Your Love is a terrific remake of the Cut Glass classic Without Your Love. Good overall production lends way for chart-topping success and in a way, the Cut Glass remake is very faithful and almost better than the original.
