Star Gayzing

SCORPIO — Oct. 23 - Nov. 21 (Pluto) If your family is pressuring you into spending more time with them and you don't want to, don't go. You will only make bad company and probably will resent them for it.

SAGITTARIUS — Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 (Jupiter) If people are coming down on you from all directions; put them in their place and let them know that you will do what you want, when you want.

CAPRICORN — Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 (Saturn) Someone close to you is able to look ahead and to see the whole picture. So if you have trouble in this area put your trust in them and see what happens.

AQUARIUS — Jan. 20 - Feb 18 (Uranus) Believing in others is as important as believing in yourself. If you find someone who needs support, give it to them. You may need the return favor sometime.

PISCES — Feb. 19 - March 20 (Neptune) If you feel that something special is missing in your relationship, take it upon yourself to find it. You may have been the one who misplaced it.

ARIES — March 21 - April 19 (Mars) Make the best of family gatherings, even if you aren't in the mood. If that's all that it takes to make them happy, don't you think that you should make a little effort?

TAURUS — April 20 - May 20 (Venus) If everyone around you is being supportive and cooperative, don't take advantage of the situation. They offered their help willingly. It would be a shame to abuse it now.

GEMINI — May 21 - June 20 (Mercury) Take better care of what you have and make it last longer. For one who is always trying to save money, you sure do spend it foolishly.

CANCER — June 21 - July 22 (Moon) Trust no one and be aware of "good deals" as a sucker is born every minute. Don't let the giving feeling that comes with this time of year carry you away.

LEO — July 23 - Aug. 22 (Sun) Neighbors can sometimes be bothersome, try and rise above the situation and make the best of them.

VIRGO — Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 (Mercury) Everything is ok in moderation. This may be hard to remember during the holiday season, but you will have just as much fun if you take it at a slower pace.

LIBRA — Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 (Venus) If you offer help to someone, make sure you know what you are talking about. You are not really helping them if you are giving them bad advice.

Servicemen Acquitted

London (GayLife) — Seven British servicemen were found not guilty of betraying state military secrets to avoid revelation of their homosexuality. The men had been accused of turning over classified materials after being blackmailed by a KGB officer and an Arab.

The Washington Post reported that the men were acquitted because they retracted confessions which they claim were given under duress. The men were coerced, they said, by Royal Air Force police who threatened them with imprisonment and abused them verbally.

Milwaukee City: Allow AIDS Pupils In Class

Milwaukee (Milw. Sentinel) — The city health commissioner said Dec. 3rd he will recommend that the Milwaukee school system allow children with AIDS to attend classes with healthy children.

"It's safe for those children (with acquired immune deficiency syndrome—to be in school and it's better to have them be in school," Health Commissioner Constantine Panagis said.

"In fact, the children with AIDS are more at risk of catching illnesses from other children because their immune systems are so suppressed."

Panagis said the basic philosophy of the guidelines he was recommending was that most children with AIDS should be permitted in the classroom except "where there might be some danger because of behavior, or open sores or brain injuries."

"Then special decisions would have to be made on those kinds of children," he said, adding that each case would be reviewed individually.

The key to the guidelines, Panagis said, was the schools' ability to maintain strict hygienic standards when dealing with the AIDS students.

Precautions must be taken to avoid direct contact with body fluids of children with AIDS, he said.

Panagis said he expects to meet with Milwaukee Public Schools Superintendent Lee R. McMurrin in the next few weeks and have the guidelines ready for implementation shortly after the first of the year.

The school system had asked the Health Department early this fall to draft guidelines on AIDS.

McMurrin said Tuesday that school officials have been working closely with department personnel and others in developing a policy on AIDS.

"The Health Department is our guide in health matters," he said, "though we may not always agree with them." •

Fund Receives Crisisline Grant From AT&T

New York (NGTF) — The NGTF Fund for Human Dignity, has received a grant of $10,000 from the AT&T Foundation in support of the Crisisline project. The grant, which was announced less than a week after the Fund Board of Directors voted to adopt the national toll-free gay/lesbian community line as a direct Fund project, marks the first grant by a major corporation to the Fund, the oldest national foundation serving the gay and lesbian community.

"We value both the vital role the Fund plays in fostering public understanding of gay people, and the important service Crisisline provides in connection with the AIDS epidemic," Charles E. Evans, Vice President of Health & Social Action Programs for the AT&T Foundation, said in awarding the grant. The AT&T Foundation is the principal source of philanthropy for American Telephone & Telegraph, one of the nation's largest corporations.

Fund Executive Director Lance Ringel emphasized the significance of corporate support for a Fund program, adding that while corporate support comprises a significant part of the budgets of many non-profits, until now the Fund had received no major corporate support, despite a number of foundation grants and strong support from private individuals.

"We are very pleased that AT&T has contributed support to this project," said Fund Board Co-Chairs Catherine Maiorisi and Bruce Voeller. "In assuming responsibility for the Crisisline, the Fund Board made clear its belief that it is important to provide a service like the Crisisline to the gay and lesbian community nationwide." •

The City Hall rally, sponsored by the Coalition for Lesbian and Gay Rights (CLGR), with much support from the newly-founded Lesbian and Gay Anti-Defamation League (LGADL), coincided with hearings before the public health committee regarding two resolutions. One would have expelled from the school system all teachers and students with AIDS or who were "carriers of AIDS." The other resolution called for the closing of all sex establishments and bathhouses.

When Paul Cameron, well-known for his homophobia, approached City Hall, the protest escalated. As the press surrounded Cameron, activists attempted to disrupt interview proceedings, yelling "biggot!" While Cameron was the center of attention, David Summers, the only person with AIDS scheduled to testify before the committee, was blocked entry by the police.

The resolutions were sent up for a vote on November 18th, at which time councillors voted down the proposal to ban all people with AIDS or who are deemed "AIDS carriers" from the school system. However, in a move which angered many lesbians and gay men, the council also passed the resolution to close down all sex establishments and bathhouses.

US Freezes Funding For AIDS Education

Washington, D.C. (Milw. Sentinel) — Federal health officials, fearing a "backlash" from both the public and the White House, have instituted a freeze on AIDS educational grants nationwide until they can decide "what level of explicitness ... is acceptable for US Public Health Service-funded projects."

Officials at the federal Centers for Disease Control confirmed Dec. 3rd that they have placed "on hold" eight AIDS "innovative risk reduction" proposals whose funding requests totaled more than $1.6 million.

The materials, both written and audio-visual, presumably would instruct gay men and bisexuals, on "safe" sexual practices.

"There was some concern that there would be a backlash against the federal government funding 'pornography,'" said Donald Berreth, a CDC spokesman.

Anti-gay Bill Adopted

Queensland (GayLife) — A bill adopted by the legislative government of Queensland, Australia is considered to be an outright attack on gay civil rights. The measure would prohibit publicans (pub owners) from serving drug users, child molesters, sexual deviants and others in their establishments. The promoter of the bill had formerly urged that all homosexuals be tattooed, and told detractors that he expected that publicans should be aware enough to recognize those prohibited under the bill's stipulations.

March Remembers Harvey Milk

San Francisco (GNIC) — A peaceful crowd far exceeding police predictions marched with candles aloft to commemorate the deaths seven years ago of Harvey Milk and George Moscone.

The 2-mile march by more than 1,000 people came one month after the pair's assassin, former Supervisor Dan White, killed himself. White had been free less than two years after serving five years for the slayings.

On the march from the Castro to City Hall, hundreds carried candles, part of a long, rainbow-colored flag, and signs bearing the names of San Franciscans who have died from AIDS.

Police had said they anticipated a crowd of about 200 to take part in the march to remember Milk and Moscone.

The march is held every year on the anniversary of the murders. But closer to 2,000 gathered for the start of the march at Castro Street, where a plaque was unveiled at a trolley station honoring Milk. About 1,000 finished the march.

"I expected it," said march coordinator Cleve Jones of the crowd. "People still care very much about Harvey Milk and George Moscone."

"White's death may have been the close of a chapter, but there are lots of chapters in a book said Scott Smith, Milk's former lover.

Jones, the only speaker at the march, called for increased federal funding for AIDS research.

The march ended at a grassy area near City Hall where about two dozen people have been sleeping outdoors in makeshift tents for a month to call attention to the need for increased AIDS research. •

State Sodomy Statute Challenged

Minneapolis (GNIC) — A suit challenging Minnesota's sodomy statute has been filed in U.S. District Court in Minneapolis, the executive director of the Minnesota Civil Liberties Union says.

Matthew Stark said the MCLU, acting on behalf of six people, asked the court Nov. 26th to declare the law unconstitutional and to issue an injunction prohibiting enforcement of the law.

Minnesota statute defines sodomy as "carnally knowing any person by the anus or by or with the mouth." Stark said the maximum sentence for conviction of violating the sodomy law is one year in prison and a fine of $3,000.

He described the plaintiffs as a non-gay couple in which the man is physically handicapped, a gay man, a non-gay couple in which the husband is a licensed professional sex therapist and a lesbian.

"The plaintiffs have not been arrested, but they want to engage in these activities and not be liable for criminal prosecution," Stark said. "We're concerned about all adult Minnesotans not having to have to worry that their private, consensual sexual activity may be violating a state law and having them think what they're doing is a crime." •

West Hollywood Conference

West Hollywood, Calif. (GNIC) — Scientific findings that AIDS probably isn't spread by casual contact have hampered efforts of lawmakers who want to restrict activities of PWAs, says Rep. Barney Frank, D-Mass.

Proposals to cut federal funding for schools and other agencies that allow PWAs to mix with the general population have drawn very little support since a report from the federal Centers for Disease Control, Frank said Saturday before he addressed a gathering of gay government officials.

The report recommended few restraints on PWAs in the workplace and in schools.

"Some members of Congress were being demagogues about this," he said. But "the CDC has said, 'you don't necessarily have to kick kids out of school,' or out of most other public places, he said.

Frank said a proposed $234 million appropriation for AIDS research appears to have considerable support from lawmakers.

Frank was among those leading workshops at the conference for lesbian and gay government officials and potential candidates. About 150 attended the weekend long event, hosted by the city of West Hollywood, where 35 percent of the population and the majority of City Council members are openly gay.

Another participant in the conference said PWAs who worry they'll lose their jobs and medical benefits have the backing of civil rights laws in most states and don't need AIDS anti-discrimination ordinances like those in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

"In most jurisdiction that kind of measure is not needed," said Jeff Levi, political director of the National Gay Task Force in Washington, D.C.

"Almost every state in the country has laws against discrimination based on disability, and AIDS is a disability," said Levi, who took part in a workshop for gay government officials.

Those laws can be used to fight plans by employers and insurance companies to require blood tests for AIDS, he said. And they can be used to head off efforts to bar PWAs or gay men or lesbians from private or public housing or other services.

The conference was sponsored by the National Association of Gay and Lesbian Democratic Clubs and the Municipal Elections Committee of Los Angeles. •

Streisand To Donate Proceeds Of "Somewhere"

Los Angeles (GNIC) — Barbra Streisand will donate the proceeds from new single, "Somewhere" from "West Side Story," to a group seeking global nuclear disarmament and a foundation that funds AIDS research.

The organization, PRO-Peace, which is sponsoring an anti-nuclear march from Los Angeles to Washington D.C. next spring, and the American Foundation for AIDS Research, AMFAR, will share equally in the earnings.

"The song's lyric's reflect the life-affirming attitude we must have in order to prevent a nuclear war as well as the destruction of human life from AIDS," Streisand said in a Wednesday release.

"Somewhere," written by Stephen Sondheim and Leonard Bernstein, is included on Streisand's recently released "The Broadway Album."

"In the final words of the song," Streisand said, "we truly have no choice but to find a way to live together 'Somehow, someday, somewhere.'"

Heterosexual Alliance At Utah State

Logan, Utah (GNIC) — A new "Heterosexual Alliance" has petitioned for official status at Utah State University following the recent creation of a gay group.

Niles Stoddard, president of the Heterosexual Alliance, acknowledged his group was formed in response to the Gay-Lesbian Alliance. Both clubs are seeking registration with the USU Council of Student Clubs and Organizations.

Stoddard was one of several students who wrote critical letters to the campus newspaper, The Statesman, after it ran a three-part series on lesbians and gay men in October.

"Our club's goals are mainly to discourage publicity about homosexuality," Stoddard said.

He referred to the GLA as a "sexually oriented club that meets to find people of their own persuasion or perversion."

All Saint's Cathedral to Host Ecumenical Conference on AIDS

Milwaukee (CGOK) — On Saturday, December 14th, from 9:00 A.M. to 3:30 P.M. All Saint's Cathedral will be the location for a very important conference centered upon the AIDS crisis. Because this disease, or the fear of this disease, is having a significant effect upon members of all religious denominations and parish families an ecumenical conference has been set up to present the latest and most accurate information about the disease, and the ways in which clergy and parish families can be pastorally involved in the lives of those affected by this disease.

The conference which is being sponsored by the Episcopal Diocese of Milwaukee and All Saint's Cathedral with the assistance of the Milwaukee AIDS Project and Christian Gay O.K., Inc., has been endorsed by The Greater Milwaukee Conference on Religion and Urban Affairs.

This conference, entitled AIDS: Confronting The Beast will serve to answer many questions about the disease, and will help participants to understand the depth of the personal crisis which this disease brings to the lives of people. In order to provide this information, the conference has been divided into four segments, with time allowed for individual questions from those in attendance: I AIDS: The Disease; II AIDS: A Personal Crisis; III AIDS: A Community's Response to Crisis; IV AIDS: A Pastoral Response—Opportunity/Imperative.

The principal guest speaker for the conference is the Rev. William A. Doubleday, coordinator of the AIDS Hospice Program at St. Luke's/Roosevelt Medical Center in New York City. He will share his experiences regarding the personal tragedy resulting from this disease. He will be joined by local experts in the areas of health and human services, in providing a clearer understanding about all aspects of this disease.

Because the AIDS crisis affects the lives of all in society, this conference has been designed to allow participation by lay as well as clerical leaders of the religious community. In addition the sponsors of the conference invite the participation of any other interested persons, since it is through this process of community education that a response to the needs of persons affected by this disease, either on a personal basis, or as a religious community, is possible.

Additional information or pre-registrations may be obtained from the General Coordinator, Harry Vedder (289-0801) or Fr. Michael Stolpman, Episcopala Diocese of Milwaukee (272-3028). A donation of $45.00 is suggested to cover conference costs, but is not required.

Governors Liason Seeks Gays & Lesbians To Serve On Committees & Councils

Now that the Governor's Council on Lesbian and Gay Issues is fully staffed, the Governors Liason to the Gay community — Earl Bricker, would like to nominate individuals to serve on other state councils and commissions.

The Governor appoints nominees to dozens of boards, commissions, committees and councils, and his office is seeking nominees from our community to fill those positions.

Appointees are not usually salaried, but usually are reimbursed for travel expenses. Some of the committees are: Affirmative Action Council, Aging and Long-term care, Air Pollution Control Board, Alcohol and Drug Abuse, Arts Board, Cosmetology Examining Board, Dentistry Examining, Equal Rights Council, Health Policy, Board of Nursing, Tourism, Veterans Advisory, and Women's Council. (This is just a smattering of the groups available, so if interested, please write or call Earl Bricker at the address/phone below.)

To apply for a nomination, and to help Earl fill out a file of potential candidates, compose a Resume, and a Cover Letter stating the board, etc. to which you seek appointment. A person is free to list more than one of their interests, but you should limit it to three.

National Association of People With AIDS

Washington (GayLife) — With a $10,000 start up grant from the Chicago Resource Center, the National Association of People with AIDS has opened an office, printed the first edition of its newsletter, and undertaken fundraising to hire a staff person to coordinate development.

In addition to serving as a contact organization for PWAs nationwide, NAPWA will gather and disseminate information on different treatment protocols and alternative treatments for AIDS and AIDS related illnesses.

The NAPWA contact person in Chicago is Rusty Russel, (312-975-1305). For more information write NAPWA, P.O. Box 65472, Washington, D.C. 20035 or call (202) 483-7979.

Parents Lose On Contest Of Will

New York (GNIC) — An attempt by the parents of a PWA to contest his will was denied by a Manhattan judge, who ruled that the deceased was "of sound mind and memory" when the will was executed. Charles and Ernestine Thaler had tried to contest the will of their son, Richard, 36, who left most of his estate to George Shetla, 44, his lover of twelve years. Shetla was quoted as saying, "I had no idea they were going to do anything like that. Their basic reaction was that he was dead and I was the queer," GayLife reports.

"Jagged Edge"

The mystery has returned with enormous popularity. The gifted Angela Lansbury has a super hit with "Murder She Wrote". The recent "Perry Mason Returns" with Raymond Burr defending Della Street was well produced and executed given many of the current television offerings.

If you're an Agatha Christie aficionado or even if you're not—the best "who-done-it" movie I've seen in ages is "Jagged Edge."

Actress Glenn Close, formerly of our own Milwaukee Rep is terrific. She obviously shows the talent that won her a Tony Award for "The Real Thing". Her portrayal of a former District Attorney, returning to practice law to defend a man charged with the murder of his wife, builds to one of the finest cinematic endings of recent vintage.

I shan't spoil the finish for anyone but I must say that when you view the closing scenes of the film, pay special attention, otherwise you'll find yourself unable to answer who-did-in-fact-do-it. The camera angles are not always straight on shots so be especially keen in your observations.

Jeff Bridges as the accused is adequate to the task. However, his performance is shaded uniquely and the nuances honed specifically to the challenge offered him.

Consider Holiday Sharing With The Milwaukee Repertory Theatre

The Milwaukee Repertory Theatre will sponsor a "Quality of Life Food Campaign" to generate contributions of both canned food and funds in cooperation with Second Harvesters, a local food bank. The campaign will coincide with the run of two plays presented by the Rep during the Holiday season. Food will be collected at the Pabst Theater during the run of A CHRISTMAS CAROL, December 5 - December 29, and at the Todd Wehr Theater of the Performing Arts Center, THE ART OF DINING, December 6 - January 12. Theater patrons are asked to bring both food donations and money to both theaters through the run of both shows.

The purpose of the drive is to collect non-perishable food, specifically canned meat and canned fish, for distribution to Milwaukee's needy. Funds are also requested because each dollar can pay for up to 10-15 pounds of food! Thus, cash is an important commodity.

Second Harvesters distributes approximately 20,000 pounds of food daily to 411 member agencies and churches. The members and churches, in turn, directly serve the hungry through meal programs and food pantries.

Won't you consider sharing with those less fortunate than yourself during this holiday season? For just $1.00, less than the cost of one drink, you could purchase 10 pounds of food for those in need. Should you be unable to attend either production of the Rep, send your contributions to INSTEP via Kevin Michael of the Arts column made out to Second Harvesters of Wisconsin, and I will personally make sure that your gift is given. Won't you please respond? •

Gay Marine Honorably Discharged

Los Angeles (GNIC) — Averting a court martial, a gay Marine has been honorably discharged from the service after a five-month fight over whether he was homosexual.

"Sgt. Rolf T. Lindblom, whose initial request for discharge for homosexuality was disapproved on Sept. 10 due to inadequate justification, will be released from the Marine Corps," Major Bill Wood said.

Wood, director of public affairs for the 4th Marine division, said: Lindblom's second request met all requirements for an honorable discharge according to the Marine Corps Separation and Retirement Manual."

Lindblom, 25, was an administrative clerk at the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center in Los Angeles.

In October, when Lindblom appealed the September ruling, he said he had been asked to provide proof of his homosexuality, but feared that could lead to court martial.

"What they're asking is for me to make official statements that I have practiced homosexuality and committed sodomy. If I were to make those statements, they could court martial me and destroy the character of my discharge," he said then.

Homosexual activity at a federal installation or homosexual activity with another service member on civilian turf are violations of the Uniform Code of Military Justice and anyone found guilty of such infractions could be court martialled.

"All we're trying to do is make sure the homosexual issue doesn't become an easy way to get a discharge," Wood explained at the time.

International Directory To Be Published

H. Robert Malinowsky has signed a contract with Oryx Press of Phoenix, AZ, to compile and publish an International Directory of Gay and Lesbian Periodicals. The idea of the publication began in 1984 with a hoped-for publication date of 1985 by Mr. Malinowsky. However, upon hearing of the project, Oryx Press became interested and negotiated to publish the Directory as an International Directory with a delayed publication date of late Spring, 1986.

The Directory will include currently available magazines, journals, annuals, irregular reports, newspapers, guides, and newsletters pertaining wholly or in part to gays and lesbians with no title too unknown, too small, too explicit, or too controversial. A list of gay and lesbian archives will be included. In addition to aiding the gay and lesbian community in documenting published materials, this Directory will serve as a collection development tool for libraries, a buying guide for bookstores, an informational reference source for gays and lesbians, and a marketing tool for retailers.

Over 450 entries have been received to date with another 800 still to be identified, worldwide.

Individuals who publish a periodical and have not heard from Mr. Malinowsky or are interested in purchasing a periodical and have not heard from Mr. Malinowsky or are interested in purchasing the Directory should contact H. Robert Malinowsky at 211 E. Ohio, #2303, Chicago, IL 60611.

over. Condoms also age quickly from heat, strong light and rough treatment. Don't leave them in the sun, or keep them in the glove compartment or billfolds for long periods.

What about different shapes?

Condoms with receptacle tips to catch the cum are recommended over rounded ends, but both are O.K.

Rubbers which have a mushroom top provide more sensation to the cock head by allowing it freedom of movement. For larger glans, they are also more comfortable.

Ribbed condoms have little nubbies on the outside which provide added sensation to the person receiving. Some people like this; other find it irritating. Try switching from ribbed to unribbed if your partner has had enough extra stimulation.

between the five of them. Milwaukee took the next two to the bottom positions though (we can't all be on top), and since my team was one of them, their names will go unmentioned. (I don't want to lose Clay's as a sponsor, and everyone knows a tuna can't bowl with a damaged flipper). Someone please tell Chris (Ernie La Tuna) to stop stealing my act. She did her impression of a bowling ball and sent herself down the alley, she didn't knock down all the pins either, and now is crying cripple for the rest of the season.

Steppin' Out

by Ron Geiman

Thanksgiving seems so long ago, but the last issue came out Thanksgiving Eve, so we have to skip back in time to highlight all the events that transpired since. The Ball-games Turkey give-away brought a 'brood' into the bar for a real 'gobbler' of an evening. Over 10 turkeys were given away to the lucky winners.

Back East in Madison raised $850.00 for the AIDS "Cookie Jar Fund" at their Nov. 24th AIDS Benefit Show. The money for the cookie jar fund goes to persons with AIDS who need financial help. The "cookie jar fund" covers those areas where other funding sources aren't available and help make their PWA's lives a little bit easier. PWA's can get money to make a trip home, or to help buy food... whatever their wants might be. Good idea.

The La Cage "Strut Your Stuff" finals packed the house. Their weekly Wednesday night contest came to an end Nov. 27th, when those who had won at least two weekly contests vied for $500 1st Place Prize money. The show was hosted by Patti Kakes with special guest performances by Nichole Saunders, Candi Stratton, and Ron Marx. Make sure to check out the photos this issue.

Of course H.I.T. rolled into town for a 4 day run, but I won't go into that here. See the Jock Shorts sports column for all the details, photos are also in this issue.

1101 West in Appleton celebrated their 5th Anniversary with shows, specials and festivities. Their much-ballyhooded show "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas (in Appleton)" had to be cancelled and rescheduled for later in December or possibly January, due to that small matter of 17" of snow that fell on Appleton and the rest of the state (that Milwaukee only got 3" of). Sunday afternoon the staff borrowed a pick up truck and traveled around Appleton picking up friends, and all the performers for the show—just to be prepared. Well, by that night, the snow had clogged things up even worse, and only two or three walk-in customers showed up. Alas, you can't fight Mother Nature. Congrats on 5 years to Andy, Ed and their friendly staff. Maybe you should've called the show "Best Little Igloo in Appleton".

Milwaukee artist Wayne Hochstaetter brought a show of his works to the M&M Club to a good reception. Nice turn out—for the mostly landscaped-themed, paintings. And just in time for Holiday Shopping.

The Danceteria postponed P & L Productions show of "Milwaukee's Best" due to the snow and icy conditions, and, the show was rescheduled to the following week, but the audience that showed up got a free mini show. Watch for Tiger Roses Christmas Show there on Dec. 18th.

The Ballgame premiered their celebrity roast by "digging" into B.J. Daniels, and raising $326 for the Milwaukee AIDS Project. This "roast" idea is really something different, and you can "buy" a chance to be 'Evil' to the roastee. The weekly roasts take a breather over the holidays and resumes Tuesday, January 7th. The last one for this year will be Dec. 17th when La Cage owner George Prentice gets burned.

And speaking of George—or rather "Georgette", he was an absolute Hit at La aren't, the $25 investment for printing shows your support, and Milwaukee's commitment to being a great host city. They will look at those coupons when they get home and brag about the fact that they were 15 different bars that gave free drinks every night of the tournament. This will serve as ammunition for coming back again next year and bringing more friends back with them. So, don't be discouraged, your support is appreciated and very much needed.

I heard a little chant at M & M's on the day of the farewell brunch; "Here's to Madison home of the pigs... Their pins were small ... But, their balls were big!" Maybe someone could clarify this for me....Alfia! I also hear their might be some plans underway for a mini-tournament between Milwaukee and Madison as a fund raiser for AIDS. More details will be announced in future issues.

Congratulations to all the winners! Especially those Milwaukee ones; Mr. J's Cheesecake House (Bev, Wally, Charles and George) took 2nd place team with a score of 2941 (1st place went to the Twin Cities with a score of 2973), and Jim Caldwell and Maude Myers took 2nd Place Doubles with a score of 1265 (Twin Cities Gene Aschenbrenner and Tio LaBudd rolled a 1270 to take first). High Game with Handicap in the Doubles Event went to Dick F. for a 273 game. Oh, and I can't forget two more Wisconsin winners that took third place doubles with a score of 1258; Al (Alfia Effleston and Frank Wegner from our sister city of Madison. (Al is a transplant from Atlanta that was instrumental in forming their league in Madison last year.)

Being the good hosts we are here in Dairyland, we graciously allowed out-of-staters not only the coveted first place trophies, but also allowed them the last place awards. The last place team was comprised of 4 Detroit bowlers and 1 from Toronto, they knocked down only 2,630 pins in three games

Cage's 2nd Annual Turnabout Show. This benefit for the Milwaukee AIDS Project raised $417 which George then matched—enabling La Cage to donate a total of $834.00 to the MAP. In a Turnabout show—all the regular bartenders for the show in drag, and the regular performers tend the bar. You don't always get the drink you want, but it's surely alot of fun! It was the 1st time George has shaved off his beard in nearly 20 years, and his rendition of "I Am Woman" brought down the house.

The Seventh Annual Holiday Invitational Tournament (H.I.T.) is now history, and Milwaukee's Gay Community can be proud of another successful year. Although the tournament this year was comprised of only 200 bowlers (down about 100 from the previous year), it was probably what they had hoped it to be, "Their Best Tournament Ever".

The past three years H.I.T. hosted the semi-annual meeting of the International Gay Bowling Organization (I.G.B.O.), this year that meeting was hosted by Dallas over Columbus Day. That fact alone accounts for 75-100 less bowlers, since the host city of the semi-annual meeting is assured at least 1 or 2 representatives from each of the 76 member cities. Other factors that may have influenced the turn out this year were; the increase in the number of tournaments and participants that had attended H.I.T. many years in a row decided to try a different one for a change, the lateness in the month of Thanksgiving this year bringing it closer to the Holidays, and the old standby a poor economic condition.

With all these factors working against it H.I.T. still attracted a good crowd, and was fortunate to have some new cities, and many new bowlers attending. Some of the new cities represented were Pittsburgh, Omaha, and Madison. I'm sure they all had a great time, and that they will be back with even more teams next year. H.I.T. Officials are already mounthing their campaign to have the I.G.B.O. Mid-year meeting return to Milwaukee again next year, and should have no trouble succeeding. Next year, "Eight Ain't Enough!"

One of the comments I heard most frequently from out-of-towners, is something we have a tendency to take for granted, "All of your bars and businesses are so supportive." I know that some bar owners and businesses were dissapointed that they didn't receive many of the drink coupons back from the bowlers that they had printed up for us. Remember, many times they just aren't used, even though you are being patronized by the bowlers. But, even if they

Our next issue will be out on Dec. 19th, and remember—there won't be another issue until Jan. 23rd. This is our annual "Slack" season, and that means on thing—vacation! And believe me when I say "I need it!"

Until next week, in-between all your holiday shopping and partying, stop in at the Mitchell Park Domes for their Christmas Show, and take the time to drive around and look at the lights. Whether celebrating Christmas or Chanukah—remember—"Tis the season to be jolly", so go make 'Snow Angels'.

Nureyev Denies AIDS

(GNIC) — Saying, "A ballet dancer is like an athlete, and couldn't possibly perform if he has AIDS," Rudolph Nureyev's manager denied that his client has the disease. A rumor to the effect that the dancer had AIDS began after fans noticed during his performance in the Paris Opera's production of Washington Square that he had lost a considerable amount of weight. His manager, Sander Gorlinsky, said that it was the result of a minor bout of pneumonia, and added that it's nobody's business, anyway. ♦

London's "Gay News" Bankrupt

London (GNIC) — Britain's leading gay paper, Gay News, has gone bankrupt after thirteen years of publication. Citing monetary and organizational problems, and following a change of ownership, staff problems and an unsuccessful attempt by the staff to purchase the paper, it has been bought by Millisures, Ltd., a rival gay publisher, GayLife reports. ♦ cant. Important consideration in choosing such condoms are:

(a) They may provide local protection against AIDS in case the condom breaks, leaks or spills; however,

(b) Nonoxynol-9 condoms have only been tested for vaginal intercourse. Accordingly, some using them for anal intercourse may wish to wipe off the outside so as to have added protection on the inside of the rubber without subjecting it upon anal tissue; and,

(c) Some people find Nonoxynol-9 mildly irritating. It should be tried first using low risk activities before taking a chance on becoming chapped and creating a possible route for infection. The problem is usually solved by simply changing spermicidal brands.

Should they fit like a glove?

With condoms, exact size isn't everything. Rubber hugs and stretches to fit many sizes. If you pick a rubber which fits snugly at the bottom, you will find it acts much like a cock ring, perhaps making erections harder and orgasms more intense. If you pick one with more room at the top, it moves and feels like a foreskin. Length is not critical so long as the rubber goes all the way to the base of the penis. Shop around with fun in mind as well as safety.

Is thicker stronger?

Some rubbers are thicker than others but modern production techniques have led to condoms of reduced thickness without sacrificing essential strengths as required by federal standards.

More important than thickness for strength is the age of the condom and the way you treat it before and during use. Condoms have a shelf life of 5 years under optimal conditions. However, they begin to deteriorate slowly after two and a half years. Buy from a distributor who has a good turn-

CONDOM SENSE

by Clark L. Taylor, PhD, EdD

Part two in a three part series.

Picking The Condom
That Is Right For You

What to wear? What to wear?

When looking for the "right" condom for yourself or possible sex partners, the main thing to do is experiment! Try out lots of different kinds using low risk activities such as masturbation and rubbing between thighs as test runs. Be sure to break some so that you know how much stress they can take and what it feels like when one is torn.

Latex or natural condoms?

Some users prefer condoms made from the appendix of sheep even though latex offers better protection. Both types are highly impermeable, but the animal fiber condoms have walls of unequal thickness and thus may leak more easily. They are recommended for those who are allergic to rubber or who have an aversion to latex. They may also work better for those who are hung extra thick and/or long.

Wet or dry?

Lubricated condoms do not break as easily as do unlubricated ones. They also give a moist, natural sexual feeling to the skin in contrast to the dry powdered ones. This creates enhanced sensation for the wearer.

Rubbers are lubricated with gels or silicone based products. Gels coat the rubber unevenly inside the package while silicone products lubricate all parts of the condom equally. The silicone coating is less gooey when you open the package. Also, the thorough wetness means that they are less likely to break from grabbing or dry spots during use.

Some condoms are lubricated with Nonoxonyl-9, a substance which kills AIDS virus in test tube studies. These are advertised as having a spermicidal lubri-

Juicy Bits "Binky Dearest" by W.W. Wells III

The following is an excerpt from my soon to be published book; Binky Dearest, which chronicals my somtimes stormy relationship with my hairdresser, Binky.

Chapter V

The Lean Years

"My girl, you look like someone just set your microwave on defrost and threw the cat in." said Binky as I prepared to put my wrap on a coat hanger and sit down for my usual Tuesday afternoon appointment.

"It's awful, just awful" I replied. "You know that waterbed I bought, hoping it would perk-up my love life?"

"Of course" he said "I picked out those leather sheets for it."

"Well it might as well be called the Dead Sea." I moaned.

"That bad, huh? And who would think it, you with those bedroom lips and all. But, look at the bright side, after six months, your virginity grows back."

"Look, this is serious. It's been so long, I think I've forgotten how. I've worn out six dirty magazines in the last month." I said, fighting back tears.

"Calm down", Binky said as he prepared to manicure my nails, "What'll it be today, the usual?"

"Goodness no" I shrieked, "Why don't you give me one of those crunchy peanut butter facials? Maybe that will work."

"Gee, you are desperate, but that's a pretty drastic step. Maybe there's something wrong with your approach. Didn't I see you talking with that cute boy your loins have been stirring for, Saturday night?"

"Yeah, but it didn't work out. He said he'd feel guilty if he went home with me."

"What did you say to that?" asked Binky.

"I told him he wouldn't feel very guilty, I wasn't very good, anyway."

"Well, there you go" scolded Binky, "You need some better lines."

"And let's face it," he continued "that out-fit you were wearing didn't do any good either. I know you're trying to create a butcher image for yourself but, you just don't make it in a Rambo costume. I mean, Smurfette would look better in it than you did!"

"What if I bought a chest hair toupe?"

"Oh please!"

"Well, Fernando says, "It's not how you feel, it's how you look."

"If you want to talk about looks, it looks as though you could lose a few pounds," chided Binky. "I mean you really don't look like you were raised in Bangladesh or something."

"You're no skinny minny yourself" I retorted. "Remember the time we went to the State Fair and you went on one of those scales and the ticket came out and said One At A Time, One At A Time!"?

"Okay, Okay! Maybe I have put down a few too may bon-bons. And if you want the truth my sex life hasn't been that great either. I'm actually kinda afraid to start going blind."

"Well, well, the truth finally comes out." I said.

"There your nails are done" said Binky, changing the subject, "I guess I'll go home alone again and eat bon-bons."

"I've got chocolate chip cookies."

"Have you got any Mazola?"

"Yeah, can you find your handcuffs?"

"Sure, don't forget the cothes hangers, and get the wire kind not those crummy plastic ones like last time."

A Formal Apology: To the winner of the 1985-86 Mr. Juicy Bits Contest, Tracy. Who was incorrectly indentified as Terry. I'm sorry, Okay? Gee, get off my back already!

La Cage's "Strut Your Stuff" finals wrapped up months of weekly contests to find the best amateur male dancer in the area. Terry Eisenhart won the $500. cash 1st place award.

The Ballgames HIT/Thanksgiving Show brought Peter (Mr Ballgame), Vanessa, Miss M, Steve, Dan, Bouji (Miss Ballgame), Mike & Goldie to the stage for an evening of entertainment.

Club 219's weekly Wednesday night "Star Light" lip sync contest will continue to captivate the audiences thru Winter. Always wanted to be Star? Here's your chance.

"Safe Sex is Great Sex... Talk to me dirty!" is the phone sex photo for the month of August in Gay Chicago Magazine's 1986 "Safe Sex" Calendar. The calendar is an erotic collection of photos by Chicagoan Glenn Mansfield. All proceeds for the calendar got to benefit AIDS funds.

"We Can Still Play, Just Play Safe..."

"On June 18th, 1985, I received a shock I thought only happened to other people. I had AIDS."

A few weeks later Glenn Mansfield, model, photographer and businessman embarked on his project of selecting models for a 1986 "Safe Sex" Calendar.

The idea to present a photo essay on safe sex was enthusiastically received by Ralph Paul Gernhardt and Dan Di Leo, publishers of Gay Chicago Magazine. The calendar photos can be described as erotic, sensual, artistic and hopefully educational.

All of Glenn's time and talent plus that of the models, along with the typesetting, graphic design and layout have been donated to turn this project into reality.

All proceeds from the sale of the calendars will be donated to Chicago's Howard Brown Memorial Clinic (HBMC) and its AIDS Action Project. HBMC, the largest gay clinic in the nation, is a national leader in education, treatment and research of sexually transmitted diseases.

Mansfield said, "I don't give up easily. I am continuing to fight. The idea to do this calendar came to me in the hopes that I can bring a message to the community that each of us can do something to help curb the spread of AIDS."

"Safe sex not only can be great sex, it also is our best line of defense. We can still play — just play safe."

"My attempt in this photo essay on safe sex is to try to offer a good balance between education, eroticism and artistry. I want to be honest about the subject, and I hope that no one is offended by this honesty."

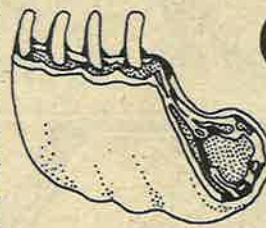

The 1986 "Safe Sex Calendar" is available by mail order from Gay Chicago Magazine, 1527 N. Wells St., Chicago, IL 60610. Cost of the calendar is $8.00 plus $1.25 for first class postage and handling for each calendar ordered. The calendars will be mailed in a plain brown envelope with a return address of Ultra Ink, Inc. Allow 7 days for shipping. Quantity discounts are available to bookstores and distributors.

(EDITORS NOTE) At deadline Gay Chicago Magazine Co-Publisher Ralph Paul contacted our office to inform us that if any Wisconsin organizations or businesses would like to sell the Safe Sex Calendars, the $8 purchase price, which normally goes to the Howard Brown Memorial Clinic in Chicago, would be split with the Wisconsin seller. Another words, if any groups, bars, or other businesses would like to sell the Calendars, they would then contribute their $4 share to their local AIDS Project. For more info contact Ralph Paul at 312-751-0130.
