Former D.J. Charged in Dallas Murder

Dallas, Tx- Former Milwaukee and Appleton gay club disc jockey, Raymond Messick, was charged in Dallas Texas with murder earlier this month in the stabbing death of his roommate, former Milwaukeean Thomas E. Myers, 23, according to The Milwaukee Sentinel. According to In Step sources, the two men were lovers, and had moved to Dallas from Milwaukee two months ago.

Messick, known to many as "Ray-Girl," had spun records at Club 219, 1101 West, and at Rod's. He moved to Milwaukee in '81 from Baltimore, where he also worked as a D.J. Dallas police charged him with Myers' murder after neighbors complained to the building maintenance man about foul odors coming from the apartment. According to The Sentinel, police found the younger man's body in the bathroom of the apartment. He had been stabbed to death and Messick was charged with murder after making a statement to police. Dallas officials estimated that Myers was killed about April 18, meaning Messick lived with the body for approximately 16 days.

According to sources, Messick and Myers moved to Dallas for its warmer climate and a "new start." The two had reportedly been working as decorators for various events since moving to the city in March.

According to The Sentinel, Myers' mother was used to talking to her son by phone at least once a week. But in April, the telephone calls stopped. When she called, Messick once answered the phone and told her that her son was working. A second time she said Messick told her Tom didn't come home that night. On a third call she was again told that Tom was at work.

After leaving Club 219 in April of last year, Messick worked as 'Guest DJ' at a number of clubs in the Midwest, before going to work at Club Milwaukee as an attendant. According to sources there,

Messick met Myers a few months before leaving town, and the two developed a relationship. Co-workers there said the two "fought like cats and dogs."

A memorial service for Myers was held May 17th at the Wisconsin Memorial Park Chapel of the Chimes in Milwaukee.

Further information was not available at presstime.

Keep AIDS at Forefront of Campaign Issues

Washington, D.C.] HRCF]- The executive director of the nation's ninth largest political action committee — the Human Rights Campaign Fund — called upon the Democratic Party to take a more aggressive stand on AIDS issues in its 1988 party platform.

In addition, the Party was exhorted to reaffirm its commitment to the civil rights of minority groups, including the nation's gays and lesbians.

The Campaign Fund's Vic Basile, in testimony before the Democratic Platform Committee May 10th, linked the issues of AIDS and gay and lesbian civil rights. He said bias and prejudice toward gays and lesbians in the Reagan Administration has created a danger to the health and welfare of American society.

The result, testified Basile, has been hundreds of thousands of people needlessly infected with AIDS because of the administration's failure to accept responsibility.

The hearings marked the first public forum in the Democratic Party's process to define its positions on key issues. The Campaign Fund will testify before the Republican Party in upcoming weeks.

"The next administration will be saddled with the consequences of the Reagan Administration's failings" with respect to AIDS, Basile said, adding that "the American people must know that a Democratic administration will be committed to responding to those consequences with courage, compassion, and resolve."

Basile singled out discrimination associated with AIDS as particularly offensive to civil rights. "As the effects of AIDS begin to be felt in every corner of our society," said Basile, "more and more people begin to know the consequences of discrimination. People who viewed discrimination as someone else's problem now recognize it as everyone's problem."

Basile also complimented the many Democratic candidates and elected officials for paying the gay community the "highest possible tribute" during the campaign — "that of including us, as opposed to singling us out."

"Gays and lesbians do not wish to be singled out," he said. "We simply wish to be included in the vast quilt of American society."

The Campaign Fund is the country's largest organization representing lesbians and gays in the nation's capitol. It is a bi-partisan organization founded in 1980. The Campaign Fund has contributed more than $600,000 to candidates running for Senate and House of Representatives in the past eight years.

Dukakis Hissed in L.A.

Democratic presidential front-runner Michael Dukakis was heckled May 14th by gay political activists at an appearance in Los Angeles for refusing to support allowing gay couples to take on foster children. On the campaign trail prior to the June 7th California primary, Dukakis told gay activists "there's no civil right to be a foster parent." A man in the crowd shouted, "You're anti-gay. Why don't you say it?"

Some political analysts say loss of gay support in the primary could hurt Dukakis' chances because gays are so politically active in the state. But Dukakis, speaking to several dozen gay activists at a political action committee meeting promised, "You're going to be deeply involved in what we do." The Massachusetts governor was booed and hissed when he reiterated support for a policy in his state giving low priority to gay couples who want to be foster parents.

Meanwhile, Jesse Jackson, who's been drawing huge crowds in the West, is heavily courting the gay vote.

AMTRAK Allows Reduced Family Fares

Same-sex couples and gay/lesbian families are eligible for reduced fares on AMTRAK under the Family Plan according to John Jacobsen, Director of Community Affairs. Apparently not all ticket agents understand the corporate policy.

On May 10, Walter Wheeler, President of Couples Inc. was not permitted to buy a Family Plan Ticket for himself and Carey Junkin, his partner for over five years.

"This is just another example of the day to day discrimination that costs our families more money for the same service," said Wheeler.

In a telephone conversation with Mr. John Jacobsen, Director of Community Affairs for the National Railroad Passenger Corporation (AMTRAK), the official policy was clarified. AMTRAK issues Family Plan tickets without regard to the sex of the family members.

In another telephone call to Mr. Jacobsen, Wheeler was assured that ticket agents and supervisors that refuse to issue Family Plan tickets to same-sex couples and gay/lesbian families will "be properly educated."

"While it is true that we only saved $17 on this ticket, it is only one example of the extra money we constantly pay because individuals tells us that our families are not recognized," said Wheeler.

If you feel that you have been, or are subjected to similar treatment by AMTRAK employees, contact Charmaine Freeman, Director of Fares and Tariffs at 1-800-426-6397 or notify Couples, Inc., P.O. Box 13323, Los Angeles, CA 90013-0323.

Court Dismisses Federal Suit Against FDA, NIH

San Francisco [Windy City Times]- A lawsuit "filed on behalf of all Americans who have the HIV virus" by the National Gay Rights Advocates last June against the U.S. Health and Human Services has been dismissed by a U.S. District Court judge, NGRA reports.

In its lawsuit NGRA charged that the Food and Drug Administration and the National Institutes of Health were guilty of "excessive delays" in developing, testing, and licensing new medications for AIDS and related illnesses.

"The judge's decision is just plain wrong," claimed Leonard Graff, NGRA legal director. "We presented evidence of unethical and illegal conduct resulting in serious delays of promising new drugs. Now the Court is going to let the FDA and NIH off the hook."

Jean O'Leary, NGRA executive director, noted that since the suit was filed much more attention is being paid to FDA and NIH activities. She observed, "The Presidential AIDS Commission has been critical of FDA delays and the FDA itself has now reorganized its 'New Drugs and Biologics' operations, placing all AIDS drugs on the highest priority, an experimental drug called Ribavirin has been taken off 'clinical hold' and is being tested again, and California has adopted legislation proposed by Attorney General John Van de Kamp to expedite the testing and sale of new AIDS medications in the state."

5th Congressional forum A Gathering of Friends?

By Ralph Navarro

[In Step]- Candidates for the U.S. 5th Congressional District of Wisconsin gathered May 9 at the Foundation Community Center to openly discuss with the Milwaukee area lesbian/gay community, their views on issues. All 6 candidates attended including Helen Barnhill, Republican; Charlie Dee, Matt Flynn, Fred Kessler, Terry Pitts and Don Sykes, all Democrats.

A light attendance of 40 people was augmented by filming by a staff from Tri-Cable Tonight. The program is currently being edited for showing in the Milwaukee area this summer.

Sponsored by Lambda Rights Network [LRN], Black and White Men Together [BWMT] and Cream City Business Association [CCBA], all candidates stated clearly that they would either co-sponsor or at least actively support legislation important to the lesbian/gay community.

Key issues and candidate responses were:

1) Support for legislation mandating the Department of Justice to keep statistics on crimes motivated by prejudice based on race, religion, and sexual orientation, etc.

Will cosponsor: Dee, Flynn, Kessler, Pitts.

Will support: Barnhill, Sykes.

2) Amending of 1964 Civil Rights Act to include non-discrimination based on sexual orientation.

Will cosponsor: Barnhill, Dee, Flynn, Kessler.

Will support: Pitts, Sykes.

3) Overhaul of legislation which presently excludes lesbians and gays from immigrating to the U.S.

Will cosponsor: Dee, Flynn, Kessler, Pitts.

Will support: Barnhill, Sykes.

4) Will work to secure recommended levels of AIDS Funding. Only choices: will support or will not support.

Will support: Barnhill, Dee, Flynn, Kessler, Pitts, Sykes.

5) Oppose attempts to mandate HIV antibody testing? Only choices: oppose testing or support testing.

Will Oppose: Barnhill, Dee, Flynn, Kessler, Pitts, Sykes.

6) Support of legislation prohibiting discrimination against those who test positive or are perceived to be? Only choices: will support or will not support.

Will support: Barnhill, Dee, Flynn, Kessler, Pitts, Sykes.

a claim against his employer, who had contended that his appearance was costing the company business.

J. Scott Maxwell, 38, accepted the settlement with Union Cab of Madison, agreeing to refrain from wearing eye shadow, lipstick, nail polish and earrings on the job.

Maxwell had filed a claim with the Madison Equal Opportunities Commission. In it, he said Union Cab had discriminated against him because of his appearance, his sex and his sexual orientation. On Dec. 7, the commission found probable cause that Union Cab had discriminated against Maxwell on all three charges.

Maxwell said that he was unhappy with the settlement, but that he had no choice because pursuing the matter would have been too expensive.

"I've lost my right to wear makeup," he said, "But I won three out of three probable causes at the fact-finding conference.

"I think I should have won all attorney's fees and keep-the-makeup rights."

NGLTF Testifies on AIDS Discrimination

The National Gay and Lesbian Task Force [NGLTF] announced plans for a third National Lobby Days for Lesbian and Gay Rights recently after delivering testimony on AIDS discrimination to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

In sharply worded testimony delivered May 16 by Jeffrey Levi, Executive Director of the NGLTF, accused the commission of overt hostility towards gay and lesbian rights and questioned their ability to study a medical issue when they are an organization concerned with civil rights.

In his testimony Levi made a number of recommendations including urging that the commission endorse civil rights protections for gays and lesbians, repealing sodomy laws, and to broaden a section of the Rehabilitation Act to cover private discrimination based on handicap or HIV status.

In another area the NGLTF announced plans to organize two days of Congressional lobbying in support of gay and lesbian rights. The lobbying days are scheduled to take place October 6-7, 1988. They are a followup to Congressional lobbying that occurred during last year's March on Washington.

For more information on NGLTF contact them at: NGLTF, 1517 U Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20009. Or call (202) 332-6483.

Bell Users Won't Pay for Blocking of Calls

Madison, [Sentinel]- The Public Service Commission decided to make sure Wisconsin Bell customers will not be forced to subsidize the cost of installing a system that blocks 1-900 calls.

The three-member commission decided Bell would have to pay for the cost of the system, which the Citizens' Utility Board has estimated will be $1.9 to $4 million.

The system is designed to be used by parents and businesses that want to block certain "objectionable" phone calls.

Memorial Day AIDS Service

The Milwaukee AIDS Project, in cooperation with International Mobilization Against AIDS, is sponsoring a AIDS Candlelight Memorial on Memorial Day Monday. This fifth annual International Memorial Service is interdenominational in nature to honor those who have died of AIDS and to support the living. The Milwaukee service will be held at the Kenwood United Methodist Church, 2319 East Kenwood Blvd., at 7:30 p.m.

Your support and attendance is greatly encouraged. According to a representative of Green Bay's Center Project, Inc. (CPI), a service is not scheduled in that city, because one was held there just a few months ago in cooperation with several religious groups.

The Madison AIDS Support Network [MASN] when contacted by In Step also had no plans to join in this international effort. Maybe next year, Madison?

The Names Project Quilt

[MAP]- There has been an increase in interest in The Names Project Quilt recently. It now appears as though there is enough interest in the community to begin assembling individual panels, to represent those individuals whom we have lost to AIDS.

The Names Project Quilt is a handcrafted memorial to those individuals nationwide which have been lost to AIDS. It will tour various cities. This quilt was first displayed at the October 11, 1987, March on Washington for Lesbian and Gay Rights. It was estimated that by the month of April, the quilt would commemorate more than 4,000 persons. It is certainly time that Milwaukee came together and commemorated those individuals that we have loved and lost.

The Quilt will be in these Midwest cities the following dates:

- |             |         |
|-------------|---------|
| Detroit     | July 5  |
| Chicago     | July 8  |
| Minneapolis | July 13 |

The tour has three purposes: to illustrate the enormity of the AIDS epidemic by personalizing the statistics; to provide a creative expression for those whose lives have been touched by AIDS; and to encourage support and to raise funds for Persons with AIDS and their loved ones.

Some individuals may choose to create their panel privately as a personal memorial to someone they loved. However, with the increase in interest MAP representative Cheryl Vaughn would like to see a group formed where everyone could make their special contribution. Individuals are needed to design, create, quilt, sew and write narratives to accompany each panel.

If you are interested in this project on a local level, please contact Cheryl at the MAP office (273-2437) as soon as possible so we can get the group working.

Twin Ports Gay/Lesbian Pride '88

The twin ports of Superior, Wisconsin and Duluth, Minnesota will sponsor a series of events from June 16-27th in the two cities to celebrate Gay/Lesbian Pride. Events range from a picnic, to seminars, films, bonfires, fishing, and a balloon launch.

A fundraiser to help cover costs associated with the pride events will be held Saturday, June 4th at the Main Club in Superior from 7-10 p.m. The benefit will include a "Barbarian B.B.Q." and tickets are available for $4 for the event at the bar.

For more information on the fundraiser or the pride events, contact Scott at (715) 392-1756. For a complete listing of the events, see the Calendar in this and the next issue of In Step.

MNDC Plus Picnic May 30th Memorial Day

On Monday, May 30th, M.N.D.C. Plus will hold its annual Memorial Day picnic from noon until 7:00 p.m. The party will then move to The Flame. Free tunes, games, food, beer, and pop. Locale was unavailable at presstime, so contact The Flame or The Platwood Club for more info.

Beginning June 19th the management of The Platwood Club, Stevens Point, begins opening on Sundays at 3:00 p.m. for the summer. (They are already open on Thursdays.) Sunday afternoons will offer you a choice of volleyball, dancing, drinking and socializing.

Madison Community Art & Athletics Organization

Madison Community Art & Athletics, a newly formed organization dedicated to promoting and planning social activities for lesbians and gays, is now offering its services.

The organization will sponsor activities by and/or for gays and lesbians that are of a social nature and that encourage unity within the Community. These activities shall range from a Games Palyng Group, to a Running Group, to an Art Discussion Group, to a Tennis Meet; in other words, anything of a safe, social nature.

The organization also extends a special welcome to womyn, young gays/lesbians, persons of color and the differently abled. It does not prohibit heterosexuals from joining, but does instead encourage their unification with the Community.

Those interested in becoming members/participants or in planning an event of their own may contact the organization at: P.O. Box 2564, Madison, Wisconsin 53701-2564.

G/L Agenda for Milw.

[In Step]- "Now that we have helped to elect a Milwaukee Mayor and Milwaukee County Executive, who are open to the concerns of our community, where do we go from there? asked Lambda Rights Network's (LRN) Board of Directors.

According to LRN's Chair Ralph F. Navarro, "we are moving into a slightly different era in the Milwaukee area. While we must be vigilant, especially in light of our loss on the Rawhide Amendment, we must begin to change our approach from acitvely oppressed minority with little voice, to full participant at the tables of power and decision making."

The four part Agenda Setting process is open for participation by all lesbians and gay men who desire to be creative in dealing with our own futures. Over 25 topics of general interest were identified at the first session.

During the second session, people will break up into smaller groups to brainstorm specific goals and some objectives in each area of interest.

Tuesday, May 31, at 6:00 p.m. at the Foundation Community Center, 225 S. 2nd St., will be the second session. All are invited. The meeting will end, as the first one did, promptly at 8:00 p.m. For further information call: 445-5552.

Group Training Offered

Volunteer gay facilitators are needed at The Counseling Center of Milwaukee. In 20 hours of instruction and experience, learn the fundamentals of fostering self-awareness, relationship skills and growth. Training is open to men with group or counselling experience and good communication skills. Begins mid-June. Call Kilian at 271-2565.

Lesbian/Gay Youth Need Jobs, Too...

With summer quickly approaching, many of our young gay/lesbian people are eager to find summer work, or for that matter, any work.

What better way to help our gay/lesbian young adults than to provide them with decent and fair employment, even if only on a part-time or temporary basis.

Not only can you provide work for them as a gay/lesbian employer, but you can also serve as a positive role model. For many, any interaction with gay/lesbian adults is minimal.

Gay Youth Milwaukee doesn't expect any special treatment because they are lesbian or gay — only the opportunity to prove themselves as conscientious workers. At least give them the opportunity for an interview, even if you cannot hire them after consideration.

Agenda Announced

[CCF]- With the goal of achieving total acceptance of Gays/Lesbians in Milwaukee's civic and social affairs, The Cream City Foundation announced "Agenda 2000!"

Through community interaction, goals will be developed for 1990, 1995, and 2000 A.D. in order to form stepping stones along the way.

At the community calendaring session on May 10th the first input was received from organizational leadership with more to come. Individuals will next be encouraged to participate and to articulate where we should be going as a community.

To assure attention of these goals, the Foundation will, through monetary grants, fund programs that will lead to these goals. "We're putting our money where it will do the most good," said Bob Melig in announcing the program.

Ideas & suggestions received will be published in various newsletters that the CCF publishes and makes available to the Gay/Lesbian community in order to stimulate the thoughts of others and to get more input so basic ideas can be fine-tuned.

"We have always thought of the Foundation as 'Interactive,'" said Melig. "By providing a forum and a place where this community can set its goals and further providing funds to bring about action — we feel we are fulfilling our purposes in the best possible manner."

The Foundation invites any individual, gay or straight, relative, or Milwaukee citizen to write to CCF at 225 S. 2nd St., Milwaukee, WI 53204, and express what needs to be done. At the monthly Calendaring and Forum all input will be discussed and an Agenda 2000 developed.

The Cream City Foundation (CCF) raises funds from the community to support new and out-reach programs, and grants these funds to recognized Gay/Lesbian organizations in order to develop a healthier and better life for the Community.

Businesses and organizations that have not officially registered are encouraged to do so as soon as possible. Floats, decorated vehicles, cars, marching units, and individual marchers are all welcome.

Following the parade this year will be a rally in Lincoln Park. Milwaukee's own Miriam Ben-Shalom and Lee Bush, who are two nationally known gay activists, will address the crowd. Musical entertainment will be provided by "Women of Different Sexes" a group made up of three lesbians and one gay man who will sing their own music as well as tunes from the 50's and 60's.

Groups interested in participating in this years parade should contact the Chicago

Planning Committee at P.O. Box 14121, Chicago, IL 60614 or you can call them at (312) 348-8243.

The theme for this years parade is "Rightfully Proud" and gets underway at 2p.m. Sunday June 26. Line-up is at Halsted and Grace. An added note - get there early, there is a Cubs game that same afternoon which will make the area more congested than usual.

Herpes and AIDS

Miami Beach, Fla. [Milw. Journal]- A biologist said earlier this month that a newly discovered herpes virus may work together with the AIDS virus to wipe out the immune system of AIDS victims.

The biologist, Robert Gallo, the National Cancer Institute's chief of tumor-cell biology, said preliminary evidence also suggested a relationship between the highly contagious Herpes 6, or human B-lymphocyte virus, and certain types of cancers.

Gallo spoke at the annual meeting of the American Society for Microbiology.

Researchers have found high counts of Herpes 6 virus antibodies in people with these cancers: Hodgkin's disease, Burkitt's lymphoma, non-Hodgkin's lymphoma and childhood acute leukemia, Gallo said.

"One could argue the virus must be playing a role to be detected so readily in those tumors," Gallo said.

The Herpes 6 virus also have been found alongside the AIDS virus in T-4 cells, which control the immune system and are the prime target of the HIV virus, Gallo said.

Since the AIDS virus kills only a small percentage of T-4 cells at a time, Gallo said, the new herpes virus could explain the total annihilation of T-4 cells in AIDS patients.

Tests to detect Herpes 6 have differed widely on its prevalence in the United States. One test indicated its presence in from 5% to 30% of the population. Another indicated its presence in from 70% to 90% of the population.

Madison HIV Support

Madison- A new support group for those who test HIV Positive has been formed in the Madison area. The group meets every other Tuesday and is sponsored by University Hospital in Madison. It is led by two psychiatrists — Dr.'s Keith Cockel and Don Meland. There is no charge to belong to the group, those with questions or needing more information should contact either Dr. Gockel or Dr. Meland at (608) 263-6100.

What Activates AIDS Virus?

North Chicago, Ill. [Sentinel]- Stress, sunlight and other viral infections may cause the AIDS virus to reproduce after it has invaded a person's body, scientists said May 12th.

Scientists are trying to learn what turns the latent virus on and off after it has infected a person, said Flossie Wong-Staal, a leading AIDS researcher.

From an evolutionary standpoint, the virus does not want to kill its host too soon, and that is the reason it has developed on-and-off genes, she said.

The genes prevent the virus from reproducing rapidly and continually after the initial infection, she said.

Once the virus has infected a patient, a "burst of viral activity" occurs — but soon the virus enters certain cells of the immune system where it can remain quiet for years, she said.

Then something happens to cause the virus to replicate itself, eventually leading to the death of the patient, she said.

Wong-Staal, who does research at the National Cancer Institute, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., said unraveling the genes of the AIDS virus could lead to learning how to block reproduction of the virus after the latent period.

Sunlight has been shown in laboratory dishes to stimulate the reproduction of HIV, Wong-Staal said at a scientific gathering in Abbott Laboratories.

She said stress, other viral infections and environmental factors may trigger the reproductive genes, too.

"Understanding the control of HIV replication is central to an understanding of AIDS pathogenesis (how it makes people sick)," she said.

Anthony S. Fauci, director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infection Diseases at the National Institute of Health, said it has been learned that some people infected with the virus do not have antibodies to it because the virus has become latent while it inhabits cells of the immune system.

Fauci also has learned the virus can live inside immune system cells other than the T-4 cells that are the usual targets for HIV.

Care Homes Told to Plan for AIDS

Madison, Wis. [Milw. Journal]- Administrators of nursing homes in Wisconsin were advised recently to prepare themselves to admit patients with AIDS.

Timothy Cullen, the secretary of health and social services, said a recent nursing home survey found many homes unprepared for the admission of patients with acquired immune deficiency syndrome or

HIV infection. HIV is the virus that causes AIDS.

"Nursing homes in Wisconsin must face the reality of their inevitable responsibility for providing care for persons with AIDS or HIV infection," Cullen said.

"Persons with AIDS need access to all levels of health care. Nursing homes must take leadership in AIDS education and training, not only with their own staff but also with the community."

Cullen said the recent survey of Wisconsin's 472 licensed nursing homes drew responses from 277 homes. Only 36 of the 277 reported having been approached to admit any AIDS or HIV infection cases, he said. "Two reported admitting persons with either condition," he said.

Cullen said 136 homes, or 39% of responding homes, reported no approaches about AIDS or HIV infection admissions.

As factors in the lack of readiness to deal with AIDS and HIV infection cases, Cullen mentioned insufficient training of nursing home staff, fear of negative reactions from staff and residents and insufficient reim-

Some Reflections- The First Season of the PM Ballet

In an earlier column this year, I wondered whether or not the merger of the Milwaukee Ballet with the Pennsylvania Ballet was in fact a wise decision. Let me say at the outset of this column that I'm still not exactly sure of the answer but that at the close of this the first season I've seen a definite improvement. Therefore, I'd like to discuss the last two ballet programs of this premiere season by the PM Ballet. The programs contained "Western Symphony",

"La Sylphide", and "Swan Lake."

Recently I've been made aware of some programming and scheduling elements which may have contributed to the uneven season. First, I did not know that in this first important season of a combined company (though all principals save one came from the Pennsylvania Ballet) different programs were performed in both cities. Why? Especially if one was trying to fuse from distinct parts a brand new entity, would this not only complicate matters from the outset? Also, the scheduling of these last two programs came within one week of each other. Can one company, especially one that is just beginning successfully prepare "Swan Lake" for performance in one week's time?

I think not. "Swan Lake" though hailed by some as a triumph was not. It was uneven at best. Though there was a particularly delightful performance by the Pas de Trois in Act I and some superb moments between Tamara Hadley and William DeGregory in the Black Swan Pas de Deux in Act III, they did not counterbalance some of the evident problems of the corps.

The corps has improved significantly since the opening of the season. They are much more polished, more confident, and work more effectively as a unit. However, unfortunately this does not happen at all times.

Robert Weiss, artistic director, has been criticized extensively for this major flaw in the new company. Weiss contends that if one wants just dancing robots one should visit Radio City Music Hall. It seems that in presentation of his position, Weiss is looking more for individual personality and expression rather than mere uniformity.

Little Jim's

OF THE HALSTED STRIP!

Weiss is correct but I do not see precision as an antithesis of individual expression. Is it not precision in dance which in fact makes the corps the corps? It is more the role of the featured performer to bring individual expression and personality forward but in supporting such a performance the corps should be as one.

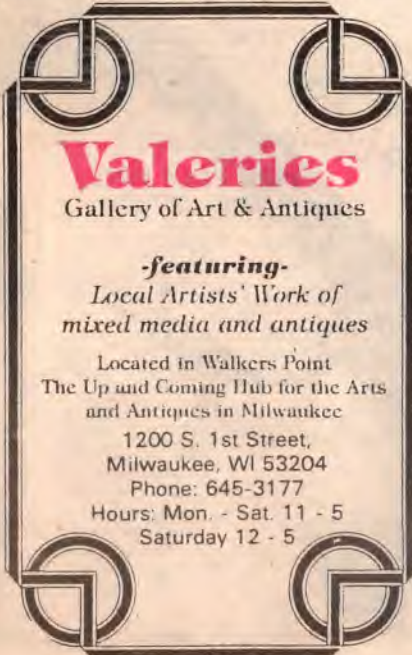

It seems somewhat ironic but it is just on this very issue that Tamara Hadley as Odette-Odile fell short. Her dance steps are without question good and she is technically proficient for the solo spot. But in light of the acting ability which she should portray in this lead role, I found her noticeably lacking. Her range of acting seemed severely limited to variations of the frantic swan only. Little else seemed forthcoming.

The last presentation of "Swan Lake" by the Milwaukee Ballet in 1986 with Michelle Lucci in the lead role offered just this depth of character. Lucci gave it much more depth and variety in presentation. This was prior to the merger.

If individual personality and expression are Weiss' hallmark, why weren't they clearly in evidence in this production of "Swan Lake" as they had been in the past?

In all fairness, the presentation the week previous was much more even in presentation. "Western Symphony" was enjoyable especially the pair of Roseanne Germer and David Krensing in the Second Movement. "La Sylphide" too was even in presentation by both the soloists and the corps. Marin Boieru, who danced James, was magnificent. His familiarity with the piece was evident.

This particular evening gave me hope for the PM Ballet. Let's try to attribute the season's problems to a neophyte company coming of age. And, let's also hope for much better and more even ballet by all in 1988-89!

horoscope

by R.D. Thompson

ARIES: March 21 to April 20

If your thinking of a career change during this time, choose your wording very carefully during any interviews or correspondence. The social scene looks promising but with lots of mixed messages. Pardon the pun, but don't believe everything you hear. A surprise gift has hidden meaning.

TAURUS: April 21 to May 21

Any change in your appearance should be met with open arms, just make sure it doesn't cost more than you can afford. Double check everything concerning your finances right down to counting your change. Joining the right group or club should be to your advantage.

GEMINI: May 22 to June 21

Partnerships may really be causing a strain on you now, and watch for them to be teaching you something. It's that time of year again and others have difficulty keeping up with you. Slow down to at least a fast walk and pay attention to what's going on around you. The next couple of weeks might find you spending more time on yourself than you probably should.

CANCER: June 22 to July 22

This long period of reassessment is almost over. Just a few more weeks and the cocoon will open, out will come a new and better you. The changes you are making now are going to affect you and others for a long time so make sure its what you want. Write things down, and remember where you put them. It'll come in handy later.

LEO: July 23 to August 23

Things appear to be so confusing now. A new job will come with a new schedule change as well so keep in mind what that's going to do with friends and loved ones. During this time it seems like everybody needs something from you and you'll feel like there's not enough of you to go around.

VIRGO: August 24 to September 23

All those things going on at work and at home are leaving you with very little time on your hands. Take everything one step at a time and don't overdue things that could affect your health. A change in residence now might be an alternative to your time problem, but just keep in mind that there are only twenty-four hours in the day.

LIBRA: September 24 to October 23

Education and communications are accented during this time and your wondering how many times its going to take you to learn those lessons. Be patient and take everything one step at a time. Others will try to rush you into things you not sure of and until you're sure it's right for you, hold off. Spent all that bonus money yet?

SCORPIO: October 24 to November 22

Didn't know you owed so many people money did you? Seems like everybody has their hand held out waiting for payment and you're still just a few dollars short. Don't get too upset with yourself, for this is one of those times when you must learn how to handle it better. Think of this as a learning experience that is not to be repeated again.

SAGITTARIUS: November 23 to December 21

Trying to be the perfect spouse could prove to be real frustrating during this time, and if it seems like they're trying to hold you back, it may be for your own good. A good time to take a second look at yourself and see if your going in the direction you had planned to go. If your going to ask yourself why not, be sure and listen for the answers.

CAPRICORN: December 21 to January 20

This period finds you spending more time and energy at work and on others than on yourself. This is fine if your setting examples, but it sure isn't helping your health much. By looking at yourself through the eyes of others, you should find some startling revelations about yourself that could change your life in the long run.

intimacy, bide your time during the recovery phase, and turn a platonic relationship into a passionate one.

Third, meet new people. Start talking to that person sitting next to you at the bar. Why? The act of seeing and being seen in different groups gives others the impression you are popular.

Use Flattery

Flattery is to flirting what a match is to dynamite: explosive. Be sincere and follow this formula. First figure out what strikes you about the person (this is the obvious) avoid it... instead look for something that isn't noticed by others. Once you've determined that trait, use it. Flattery is best when it's unexpected. Telling a baseball player he played a good game is nice, but telling him he looks hot in his uniform is much more unexpected and surprising.

Learn to Dance

Do it. Dancing has many advantages. People look sexy when dancing, it also brings out your creativity. And the great thing about dancing, it can serve a dual purpose for serious flirts. While you are dancing with one person, the way you move is a signal to potential flirting partners who are watching. A flirtatious glance to someone watching you dance can be a potent signal.

Whisper

Once you have started a conversation with your intended, use this potent force. When talking, whisper. Now, try whispering (it doesn't matter what) in his ear. This has a very potent sexual overtones. So don't do it unless you're sure you like them.

Say Hello With Energy

When you say hello, pretend there's an electrical current running through your body. It is brief-like turning on a lightbulb for a second. Remember that what follows an introduction or meeting depends on how your new acquaintance perceives your hello. Practice it. Make sure you sound like you are happy to see them, not bored, uninterested or distracted. Put a little sparkle and excitement in your voice.

Make Eye Contact

This is the most effective and direct flirting technique. Eye contact establishes intimacy. The power in which you lock eyes will set the tone for your conversation, but be careful — overly sexual or inviting eyes are often a cause of misinterpretation of motives between people. So when using thunderbolt eye contact, make sure you're ready for an electric evening.

Leave Them Wanting More

When you flirt you are giving someone your undivided attention. However, people want what it appears they cannot have. An expert flirt will back-up a little when someone they are trying to attract responds. So leave the second you know you are hitting if off, and you are sure that you'll see or hear from them again. Don't let them move on to new conquests before you do. Don't try to improve the situation, save that for next time.

There — you have the knowledge to be a good flirt, so get out and use it! Don't be inhibited by past rejections, have a carefree heart and begin with modest expectations and you will succeed. If you still need a little boost, go down to the Place. My new photographer Doug & his lover David were caught in a musical swoon & nearly forgot their other photo assignment that night.

I travelled the short distance to Racine along with nearly a dozen other friends to join in Our Place's grand opening festivities. The place was packed, & our group alone kept both the waitperson's busy throughout the evening. My head hurts just thinking about it.

Chicago's Open Road Riders cycled to Milwaukee on Mother's Day for brunch at M&M's Glass Menagerie. Do Mother's Day brunches & leather go together?

Attendance at the 5th Congressional District Forum was a bit of a disappointment for the organizers. Only 20 people or so showed up, and even the moderator neglected to make an appearance. Could it be it was held far too early? People are just coming down from the Presidential primary & the intense Mayoral & Co. Executive race. Maybe people weren't ready to get involved in the next election this far ahead of time.

The Milw. AIDS Project's "Make A Promise" fundraising dinner was the highlight of the month. Milwaukee's gay glitterati joined some of Milwaukee's "money crowd" at the Wisconsin Club for the 2nd annual event. I was recovering from a wicked cold & sent my Editorial Assistant Tim & his friend Steve to represent In Step. His report follows this column.

There's been lots of Softball team & S.S.B.L. fundraisers & there will be plenty more coming up. Due to the large number of them, you won't see them mentioned here, or any photo coverage, either. Why? We wouldn't be able to cover them all, & to cover just a few would be unfair to everyone. We hope you understand.

The 'Flaming Queens' were out in force for the 'Outrageous Party' at The Flame in Steven's Point. Would you expect less with a "Tackiest D.Q. Contest" & "Worst Lip Sync" contest?

The Perfect Flirt

Everyone has the ability to flirt. As little children we do it naturally. Unfortunately, all that charm, grace and whimsy usually gets lost somewhere along the path to adulthood. We forget that flirting is as simple as getting along with others. Being a good flirt is as easy as following one simple rule: 'Do unto potential flirting partners as you would have them do unto you.' Keeping this in mind and following the tips we're about to impart, you'll receive more Valentine cards than any of the other girls on the block!

Be Smart

Flirts must act intelligently. Know when flirting is appropriate. Know ahead of time what you want to accomplish. Observe others. Listen. Exchange information with others. Realize too that one rejection won't end your social life. Don't expect miracles and act in accordance with your morals.

Smart flirts don't hate themselves in the morning! Most important — smart flirts are socially comfortable and don't rely on alcohol or chemicals to make them sparkle. They keep control over their actions, which is what make them so successful.

Be Popular

Popularity is to flirting what protein is to food. It is the element of regeneration & rejuvenation... it is the brainfood of flirting. But if your fairy godmother didn't make you queen of the prom you don't have to be a wallflower forever. You can learn to be popular.

First, be the bearer of good news. People love to hear about other people, don't be a gossip though. Share good news, like if a friend gets a new job or a promotion at work.

Second, be a good listener. You need not offer advice, but learn to listen to a friend's blow-by-blow account of a romantic problem. This is a perfect way to develop

View From Dubuque

By Ralph F. Navarro

Is it much ado about nothing or a significant statement, that Lesbian/Gay March in Dubuque, Iowa on April 30? And, WHY?

For those who don't know much about this fairly quiet blue collar town along the Mississippi River, the city famed for ham and other pork products, a city of about 65,000, Dubuque is not unlike Cicero, Ill., or Selma or Forsythe County, Ga.

I lived and worked in Dubuque for nearly 6 years. I attended college and some of my grad school there. I worked at the Boy's Club as a counselor and was a Big Brother. I marched for Peace and against war. I was chosen by the membrs of the Black Student Union on the Loras College Campus to be their primary negotiator with college administrators after they had taken over a campus building.

The stories and examples could go on during those years of 1967-72. I recall seeing a sign still hanging on the train depot in East Dubuque, Ill, stating, "NO NEGROS AFTER DARK". The colleges at the time were trying to bring blacks on to the campuses to help with expanding educational opportunities. I remember watching in horror as some local residents drove their cars up on to side walks and tried to run some of the black students over, broad daylight. Epithets were hurled regularly.

Even in 1988, according to my most recent visit with college friends and faculty members, there are few people of color on campus or in town.

So, the G/L March in Dubuque was significant. Just last September eggs and rocks and horrible meannesses were hurled at the brave few. It was true, as commentary illustrated in Wisconsin Light, that there were many hateful and angry people were milling close to us during the March and speeches. It is also clear to me, as a former resident of Dubuque, that without the very clear and significant presence of the Dubuque Police, violence would have erupted.

Dubuque was significant because it represents our liberty being taken beyond major metro areas into small cities and large towns. What was saddest about 'The March' is that less than a handful of Dubuque's own lesbian and gay population dared to show up. As a matter of fact, according to Ginny Linns, co-coordinator, they worked hard to ensure that The March wouldn't happen.

large crowd for the $500 cash 1st prize. Congrats to the winner — Charles, whose vocal powers are sure to bring him his share of fame. 1st runner up Mary Richards & 2nd R.U. Diane both received bar tabs. After the contest D.J. Tonya announced that Belinda Carlisle was in the bar and pandemonium struck as everyone surged to the La Cage half in pursuit of "star gazing". Ms. Carlisle had been in the bar for over a half an hour without too much commotion & ado, but had to be hustled out the side door when her bodyguards became concerned over the mob of people descending upon her. Poor girl can't even go out & relax after a grueling concert!

Get Well Wishes to Andy at 1101 West, who was 'fag-bashed' outside his bar May 14th. According to Andy, when he went to lock up the bar at closing time, he noticed a van parked outside with a number of guys in it. When he told them to move on, he was attacked, and suffered a cracked/separated shoulder, other injuries requiring stitches, and partial paralyzation of one side of his face. Andy said the doctors weren't sure if the paralysis was temporary or permanent.

That brings us up to deadline & a reminder to carefully pursue The Calendar for all upcoming events.

I'd like to welcome our new Horoscope columnist — Madison's R.D. Thompson, & Inkling's columnist Tim Hensiak to our expanding stable of writers. Anything to keep our reader's happy & informed.

Make a Promise Dinner

By Tim Hensiak

This year's Make A Promise-A Year of Hope fundraising dinner was held on Sunday, May 15 at the Wisconsin Club. By the size and mood of the crowd it would seem the event was a big success.

The evening began with cocktails and piano music by Wynne Hackett. Following at 6:30, was a sitdown dinner in the ballroom. Dinner consisted of tossed salad followed by a generous portion of prime rib. The highlight for me however, were the handmade chocolate truffles prepared by Mike Vaughn.

The after-dinner entertainment was hosted by WOKY's Debbie Young who did an excellent job despite recurring problems with the sound system. The show began with two generous bequests to M.A.P. which received thunderous applause and a standing ovation from the crowd. Following were Scott Stowles and Miss M., Mr. and Miss Gay Wisconsin, who each performed a number. The Cream City Chorus and Fest City Singers performed individually first, and then joined forces for a tribute to Walt Disney. Following them were Kathy O'Hara and Dina Laffey, adding their talents to the evening. The last number was a "Hello Dolly Review" staged by Pageant Productions. The finale of the show was all the evenings performers gathering on stage to sing along with the audience to the song "That's What Friends Are For". A very emotional and appropriate ending to the evening.

In addition to money raised from donations and tickets sales, a Silent Auction was held during the course of the night, and winning bids were announced during the show.

Facts and figures in relation to the number of people attending and money raised was not available at presstime.

Attention Eau Claire

To the boys in Eau Claire who are trying to keep up to the men in Mad City. Don't try — stop while you can.

Anyway, a group of Eau Claire guys ventured down to visit a former Eau Clairian. After getting into Mad City and having a few drinks at their friend's apartment, they all went down to the Mifflin Street block party. Well, one thing led to another, and before long, people were jumping off of balconies! Needless to say, one of the Eau Claire boys broke his heel; only after being in Mad City for less than 2 hours. What a way to spend a weekend in Mad City. See yah Scott when you get your cast off — in 6 weeks.

P.S. We all had fun cruising the hospital staff.

Loves Me. Loves Me Not.

It's springtime and along with the birds, bees and pollen, love is in the air. It's the time of year when a tawdry one night stand can often bloom into that beautiful flower we call love. Or, as sometimes happens, we go to smell that fragrant love blossom and a bee flies up our nose.

So, by using the theory that what a man says is as good an indicator as any in determining his true feelings. I present the following in an attempt to answer that pressing question, asked by millions, including Whitney Houston, namely: "How will I know if he really loves me?"

He loves me: If he says, "Of course, my little honey dumpling, you can wear my new shirt. Anything that's mine, is yours."

He loves me not: If he says, "Hell, no! You're not gonna wear my new $85 Calvin Klien shirt and stretch it all out of shape. Lose fifteen or twenty pounds and then I'll think about it."

He loves me: "Yes, I know my phone was busy. My mother called and I was telling her all about you."

He loves me not: "Yeah, I know my line was busy. I was talking on that Dial-A-Boner sex-line again. And boy, is my phone bill gonna be high this month."

He loves me: "Oh, it's not the size that matters, it's how you use it. And you're very talented."

Milwaukee Welcomes Classic IX

By Tom Salszeider

The 9th Annual Milwaukee Classic Softball Tournament will be held over the Memorial Day weekend, with games scheduled for Friday May 25 thru Sunday May 27.

Again this year, there will be a recreational tournament and a competitive tournament. Last years defending recreational champions, 1270 of Boston will be back to defend their title against 10 other teams- In Exile and Oldetymers of Chicago, Buddies and Ty's Chelsea Transfer of New York, and Beer Garden, Flaming-o's, Station II, La Cage, M&M and Wreck Room of Milwaukee. A new competitive champion will be crowned this year, as the winner of the last 2 classics, Cloud 9 Americans of the Twin Cities will not be back. Going for the competitive title are Impact and Sidetrack of Chicago, Rumours and Twin Cities Storm of the Twin Cities, and Ballgame, Raiders and Your Place of Milwaukee.

Games will begin at 12:00 Noon on Friday at Mitchell Park (behind The Domes) and will conclude at 5:00 on Friday. Following the games at 6:00 the players will head over to La Cage for "A Taste of Milwaukee." Milwaukee teams will bring ethnic food for the players, and a show will be presented at 8:30. Players will be given free tickets to this event, while the general public may purchase tickets for $5. Admission includes food and the show.

Play will resume on Saturday at 10:00 at Mitchell Park and West Milwaukee Park (52nd & Burnham). At 2:00 all the teams will meet at Mitchell Park for the traditional opening ceremonies. Games will resume at Mitchell Park until 6:00.

The final games are scheduled for Sunday, beginning at 10:00 at Mitchell Park. The championship game for the recreational tournament will be at 1:30, and for the competitive tournament at 3:00. If an additional game is necessary for either tournament, it will be played at 4:30.

The awards banquet and ceremonies will be held this year at the Top of the Marine, at Wisconsin Avenue and Water. Free parking is available at the Marine Bank building parking structure on Water Street, between Clybourn and Michigan. Cocktails will be available at 5:30, and dinner is at 7:00. Award ceremonies will start at 8:30. Players will receive complimentary tickets, and a limited number will be available to the public for $20. (See SSBL Representatives at the Ball Parks for your ticket.)

Most players will head for home on Monday, Memorial Day.

Drama Volunteer Opportunity

[MAP]- Family Service of Milwaukee is developing an educational program on AIDS. The program involves volunteers in a 45-minute dramatic performance on the effect of AIDS on family relationships and is followed by audience discussion.

Family Service of Milwaukee is seeking volunteer play directors, actors and actresses to assist in the production of this play. The cast includes five people ranging in age from 13 to late 30's - Sybil, a woman in her late 30's; David, who is married to Sybil; Allison, their daughter; Vincent, Sybil's brother; and Rachel, a friend of the family. Other volunteers are needed to serve as discussion facilitators and to assist in coordinating various aspects of the program.

Interviews and auditions for volunteer actors will begin June 1st. There will be a short orientation for all volunteers involved, as well as training in group process for all discussion facilitators. Two copies of the play are available for review in the MAP offices by contacting Pat Paulow at 273-2437. The play is titled "When A Hand Is Laid In Yours."

Members of the MAP staff have reviewed the play and found it to be extremely moving. This program affords another education medium dealing with the psychosocial issues of AIDS. MAP is excited by the additional opportunity for volunteers to express their talents in the education of Milwaukee.

Physique '88 Sets Date

The Arcadia Bodybuilding Society announces that the tradition continues. The second annual National Gay and Lesbian Bodybuilding Championships — Physique '88 will be held in San Francisco on Saturday, June 25, 1988. This competition is a culmination of a year long programming of classes and seminars.

The schedule is as follows: 9:00 a.m. Prejudging Competition, 7:00 p.m. Finals.

All activities will take place at Mission High School located on 18th Street at Dolores. The high school is a 4 block walk from Castro Street. The cost is $5.00 — Prejudging and $10.00, $12.00, and $15.00 evening show.

In addition to the men's, women's and master's competition a new "pairs" category has been added. This event is open to mixed pairs and for the first time ever, same sex pairs.

Last years Physique '87 won the 1987 Cable Car Award for Outstanding Competition Event. The organizers project that the year will be a sell out. If you would like additional information or would like to reserve your tickets contact George Birimisa at: Arcadia Bodybuilding Society, 1455A Market Street, Suite 221, San Francisco, CA 94103, or phone: (415) 431-6254.
