Cover Story

Welcome to first time In Step cover artist Peg Ducommun, 25, from the Kenosha area. Peg says she has been working with many different forms of art since she was a little girl. We're honored to run this chalk drawing specially designed for the Autumn months, which reflects both masculine and feminine qualities. "By pairing the two I please both male and female admirers," said Peg. She continued "the tree shows strong and sturdy lines — yet has movement that's much like a woman." She's titled the work "The Trees Are Changing."

WI. AIDS Walk Surpasses Goal

Milwaukee — Nearly 2,000 participants helped to raise more than $182,000 at the first Wisconsin AIDS Walk, held Sunday, Sept. 30 on Milwaukee's lakefront.

Milwaukee Mayor John Norquist and Susan Mudd, Honorary Co-Chairs of the Walk, led the 10 kilometer procession along the beautiful Lake Michigan shoreline.

"The Wisconsin AIDS Walk is truly a celebration of life," Doug Nelson, executive director of the Milwaukee AIDS Project. "The outpouring of support from all segments of our state-wide community is over-whelming. What happened on Milwaukee's lakefront on Sept. 30 will certainly pave the way for the community's response to AIDS care and education in Wisconsin for the next five to ten years."

"More than 200 volunteers, who cumulatively donated thousands of hours, helped to make the Walk a reality and a success," said Louise Searing, Walk coordinator.

The Wisconsin AIDS Walk was produced by the Milwaukee AIDS Project, a non-profit organization dedicated to stopping the spread of AIDS and making high-quality services available to people affected by HIV disease.

PRIZES AWARDED

Individual prize winners were as follows:

• Third Prize — Larry Hrdlicka, who brought in $1,169.50 in pledges, won two round-trip tickets on Midwest Express Airlines.

• Second Prize — Mike Eagle, who brought in $1,230.00 in pledges, won two round-trip tickets on Northwest Airlines to anywhere in the continental United States.

• First Prize — Mary Busalacchi, who brought in $1,485.00 in pledges, won two round-trip tickets to Montego Bay Jamaica on Funway Holidays Funjet.

Housing Bill Vote Rescheduled

Milwaukee — The Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors September 27 delayed acting on a fair housing law for the County that would mirror state law, including protections against sexual orientation bias. The vote has been rescheduled for November 8.

Supervisor Dorothy Dean (13th District) has sought such an ordinance for years, and was encouraged by a 4-3 vote by the board's Housing and Development Committee on Sept. 12 which sent the ordinance to the full board with a recommendation for adoption. Co. Bd. Chair F. Thomas Ament had cast the key vote for passage. Supervisors who sided with Ament on the committee vote included: Bernice K. Rose (Dist. 1); Elizabeth Coggins Jones (Dist. 10); and T. Anthony Zielinski (Dist. 12). Voting against passage in committee were Supervisors Fred Tabak (Dist. 18); John St. John (Dist. 19); and Daniel Casey (Dist. 23).

According to Dean, Tabak's opposition to the ordinance "borders on the irrational." Dean said even the Milwaukee Board of Realtors came out in favor of the bill when it was in committee.

Dean urged calls from constituents to their Supervisors prior to the November 8 vote in favor of passage of the fair housing

'Coming Out Day' Could Bolster G/L Clout

By Cliff O'Neill

Washington — When it comes to affecting matters on Capitol Hill, anything is possible for Gay and Lesbian Americans if only they'd all "come out of the closet."

That's the message staffers for two national Lesbian and Gay organizations put out Sept. 26 in announcing plans to tie together the third National Coming Out Day (Thurs. October 11) and a sophisticated system by which Gay and Gay-supportive individuals can lobby Congress on AIDS and Gay-related law, especially to suburban supervisors. Dean said "many of the suburban supervisors will vote by the number of phone calls they get."

issues.

"This is no longer about quality of life," said Lynn Sheppard, executive director of the National Coming Out Day, "this is about survival."

The National Coming Out Day, conceived at a 1988 conference of Gay activists, calls on all Gay men and Lesbians to take their "next step" in acknowledging their sexual orientations to themselves and others each Oct. 11 in commemoration of the 1987 National March on Washington for Lesbian and Gay Rights.

This year, in addition to the myriad of small-scale Coming Out Day activities planned in dozens of cities and towns across the U.S. and Canada (See In Step's last issue for details on Milwaukee's Lavender Lunch), gay activists plan to tap the power of the mass revelation to influence the political process as well.

Campaign Fund, the nation's largest Gay and Lesbian political action committee, this year will be using the day to encourage Gay men and Lesbians to have their voices heard in the halls of Congress as another "step" in their coming out process.

To do that, the group will be signing people — Gay and non-Gay alike — onto their "Speak Out" program by which the Fund sends pre-approved constituent messages to Congress on Gay and AIDS issues when they come up. Fund canvassers will be targeting a number of local Coming Out Day functions across the country as part of the effort.

The Fund, which through "Speak Out" has sent out 170,000 messages to Congress in the last 18 months, now boasts 45,000 participants on the program so far this year. Nearly a 300 percent increase over last year's numbers, the program now has participants in all 50 states and 402 of the U.S.'s 435 congressional districts.

Seeking to further ravage the stereotype that Gay men and Lesbians only live in "traditionally" Gay-supportive areas or run in certain circles is Marvin Liebman. A long-time conservative movement standard bearer and a founder of the right wing Young Americans for Freedom, Liebman publicly "came out of the closet" as a Gay man this spring in a letter to the National Review.

Now, the 66-year-old Republican says that coming out is the "most exhilarating feeling in the world" and is calling on all others to do their part for the movement from which he used to stand apart.

If even a fraction of the estimated 25 million Lesbian and Gay Americans took the 'step' of joining the organized lobbying program, organizers noted, many negative AIDS and anti-Gay initiatives faced by Congress could be easily overcome.

The AIDS funding problem appears difficult. For, despite landslide votes on the AIDS care package in the House and Senate, with pressing financial matters abounding and November elections looming, legislators appear ready to suck AIDS lobbyists into a turf battle with supporters of other vital social service programs for smaller slices of a shrinking financial pie.

The issues are myriad and there are an equal number of ways to face them, the activists suggested. But all involve coming out, either quietly to one's parents or loudly in civil disobedience actions in the street.

"In any movement you need... gentlemen and you need terrorists," said Liebman of the varying tactics of achieving Gay and Lesbian equality. "The center is always the winner (when) you have a strong right and a strong left. that's just me. More power to them."

Nationwide Fund Drive To Unseat Helms

Washington, D.C. — In an unprecedented effort in American political history, a national Lesbian and Gay political organization is urging all of its members to donate money to a political candidate, in this case the Democratic nominee facing Jesse Helms in this November's North Carolina Senate race.

The Human Rights Campaign Fund is orchestrating a massive, nation-wide fundraising effort among its members to give urgently needed campaign funds to Harvey Gantt in his battle against Helms, the Senate's most virulent homophobe.

In a letter sent to Campaign Fund members throughout the United States, Executive Director Tim McFeeley explains that the unprecedented opportunity to defeat Jesse Helms requires Campaign Fund members to take an aggressive approach to the campaign. "This race is so important that we are taking the unusual step of asking all of our members to write personal checks. Nothing is more important that defeating Jesse Helms and electing Harvey Gantt," McFeeley's letter states.

The Campaign Fund's political action committee, which according to a Federal Gay Bashing By WI GOP?

"Anti-Gay rhetoric has no place in this year's election campaigns," State Representative David Clarenbach (D-Madison) said recently regarding homophobic elements of a Republican Party brochure that highlights the differences between the Democratic and Republican platforms.

Elections Commission report earlier this month soared in size to become the fourth largest independent political action committee in the United States, has already contributed the maximum legal amount, $15,000, to the Gantt campaign.

"Harvey Gantt can beat Jesse Helms in November," McFeeley states. And North Carolina polls back up that point. The race is now seen as neck and neck, with Gantt given a slight lead in recent surveys. "The next few weeks will be tough as Helms attacks Gantt for being an 'ultra-liberal' and 'un-American,'" McFeeley warns Campaign Fund members.

HRCF is urging people to send checks directly to: Harvey Gantt for United States Senate, P.O. Box 32726, Charlotte, North Carolina 28232.

A direct contribution — up to $1,000 — "will help to ensure that he has the resources necessary to reach the voters of North Carolina with the facts."

The Republican Party brochure entitled, "Know the Difference," asserts that the Republicans "believe the family is the foundation of social order" while the Democrats have "recognized Lesbians and Gays as a legitimate group in our society" and "repealed anti-sodomy laws through the Consenting Adults Act."

"As far as I'm concerned, the Republican Party is endorsing anti-Gay tactics," Clarenbach said, adding that "Gay rights has always been a bi-partisan issue in Wisconsin and we should keep it that way."

"Gay rights advocacy and a pro-family stance are not mutually exclusive and are by no means incompatible," Clarenbach said, "and it is time the Republicans acknowledge this."

Clarenbach noted that the Wisconsin governor who signed the nation's first Gay rights law was Republican Lee Dreyfus, and the margin of victory for passage of that bill were provided by Republican votes in both houses of the legislature.

"Today, instead of bi-partisan progress toward a notion of 'family' that speaks to all families, we've got Republican Party propaganda that only fans the flames of bigotry" Clarenbach said.

Lima Law Struck Down

In its first victory, the newly formed Gay/Lesbian Rights Project of the American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio has won dismissal of all charges filed against 41 people arrested during a June raid on a Gay bar in Lima.

On June 10, Lima police raided The Office Bar, arresting 41 patrons, the manager and the bartender on charges of "visiting a disorderly house." Police wore latex gloves during the raid and one of the officers called the bar an "AIDS place."

In a ruling handed down on September 19, Judge William B. Lauber of the Lima Municipal Court said the city's law against visiting a "disorderly house," defined as a place operated for the purpose of "lewdness," was unconstitutionally vague. He also ruled that the charges against the patrons violated the due process clauses of both the United States and Ohio constitutions.

"This will help insure that Gay men and Lesbians are not harassed simply because the police do not like what they do," said Jerry Bunge, the chair of the ACLU's Gay/Lesbian Rights Project in Ohio, which represented the 41 patrons.

Fundies Boycott K-Mart Over 'Porn'

by Rex Wockner

The American Family Association called for a boycott of K-Mart stores in the September issue of its newsletter, AFA Journal. Approximately 435,000 copies of the newsletter are printed monthly, a spokeswoman said.

K-Mart owns the Waldenbooks chain, which the AFA says recently added "homosexual porn" to its sales stock.

"The bottom line of this case is that the police apparently thought a Gay bar was a lewd place," Bunge said, "and this ruling will help to make sure that does not happen again."

In its successful motion to dismiss, the ACLU argued that patrons of Gay bars are engaged in a form of expressive activity protected by the first amendment. Establishments where Gay men and Lesbians congregate represent much more than bars, the motion said, because Gay persons rarely have had the opportunity to gather as a group in a political or social meeting place.

"All around the country Lesbians and Gay men are increasingly the victims of government harassment," said William B. Rubenstein, the director of the national ACLU Lesbian and Gay Rights Project, which joined the Ohio case. "Just in the past few months, ACLU affiliates have handled situations as diverse as police officials in South Carolina filming the state's Gay pride parade and a police raid on the Iowa Men's Festival.

According to the Journal, "Waldenbooks carries cartoon books showing men engaging in perverted sexual activities. Also stocked are a series of books with titles such as Meat, Wad, and Raunch.

"These books," the newsletter continued, "are billed as a collection of real-life Gay sexual experiences, and they recount such stories as multiple anal rape and consumption of feces."

The September AFA newsletter also called for boycotts of scores of advertisers whose commercials have run on TV programs the AFA considers offensive.

Both Gay and Christian activists have previously credited the AFA with successful manipulation of TV advertisers and, in one instance, with the cancellation of a re-run of an episode of "thirtysomething" that showed two Gay men in bed together.

Other highlights of the September AFA Journal included:

- Lengthy attacks on President George Bush for inviting Gays to the White House when he signed the Hate Crimes Statistics Act and the Americans With Disabilities Act;
- Denunciations of Bush's administration for firing Doug Wead, Bush's special liaison to the religious community, because "militant homosexuals" opposed Wead;
- Assertions that the government is vastly overfunding AIDS programs;
- Attacks on the National Endowment for the Arts for funding pornography and

GLAAD Responds

Commenting on the September issue of the AFA Journal, Craig Davidson, executive director of the New York-based Gay and Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation, said: "In a sense, the AFA and GLAAD engage in the same tactics. Of course, we completely disagree with their goals."

"Given their list of targets," Davidson continued, "you might say that what they are trying to do is repeal the 20th century. Everything offends them and they just want to stop history. GLAAD, on the other hand, is trying to get more access for more information in more media — especially Gay and Lesbian TV characters."

Men Jailed For Sex In Remote Park

by Rex Wockner

Five men from Adrian, Michigan have been sentenced to between three months and five years in prison for having sex in a remote section of a public park. Twelve more men await sentencing.

Adrian city police — wearing camouflage and hiding in fox holes — spent two months video-taping the sex acts before beginning the arrests in June.

The men were charged with gross indecency, which Michigan law defines as "the ultimate sex act committed in a public place."

The isolated location in Island park is not a cruising area, but rather a place where couples — homosexual and heterosexual — go to make out.

The first two prison sentences in the roundup were handed down by Lenawee County Circuit Court Judge Kenneth Glaser, who has since disqualified himself from the remaining park-arrest cases.

Glaser stepped down after protests surrounding anti-Gay remarks he made from the bench.

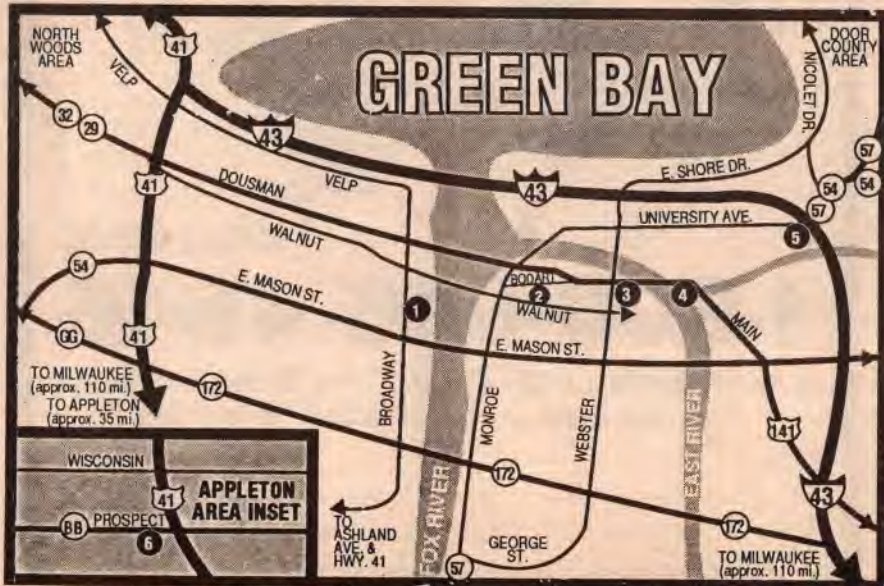

"I'm not a guy that believes homosexuality is an acceptable alternative lifestyle," Glaser said, according to court transcripts. "I think it is a serious sickness... It is definitely not a lifestyle that I can tolerate."

During sentencing of one of the defendants, Glaser added: "It's time... to burn it into your soul and brain. When you get these urges, see your counselor."

On Sept. 22, 200 protestors from ACT UP chapters and several Gay and pro-choice organizations marched from Island Park to the Court House. They were met by an equal number of Christian counterdemonstrators.

Some of the Christians wore gloves and masks. They carried signs reading, "Keep AIDS Out Of Our Parks" and "No Toleration For Abomination."

But many Adrian residents interviewed by reporters said that while they disapprove of Gay sex, they feel the 17 men are being treated unfairly because of their sexual orientations.

National G/L Confab In Twin Cities

Washington — Noted speakers, leaders and activists in the national Lesbian and Gay movement are slated to make presentations and spark debate at the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force (NGLTF) 3rd Annual Creating Change Conference in Minneapolis, Minn., November 10-12. The conference will feature more than 40 skill-building workshops, provocative plenary speakers, parties and an unprecedented opportunity for networking in the Gay and Lesbian movement.

Panelists and speakers will present workshops on a variety of subjects including hate crimes, anti-homophobia education, media advocacy, political organizing, discrimination, sexuality, civil rights ordinances, leadership development, boards of directors, lobbying, legislation and much more.

Plenary speakers at the conference are Dr. C.T. Vivian, chairman of the Center for Democratic Renewal and leader in the Black civil rights movement; Barbara Smith, renowned writer, speaker, activist and cofounder, "Kitchen Table: Women of Color Press;" and Kate Clinton, popular feminist humorist and articulate, insightful Lesbian and Gay movement spokesperson. A special 'Midwest Activists Panel' will present a dramatic and stimulating discussion of Gay men and women building a liberation movement in the Heartland.

During the Conference weekend, NGLTF will host "Honoring Our Allies, Forging Our Future," a reception featuring Lesbian performance artist, playwright, arts activist and National Endowment for the Arts rejectee Holly Hughes, plus Twin Cities openly Gay and Lesbian elected officials. The reception is scheduled for Sunday, November 11.

Confab To Help Fight ROTC

The Lesbian and Gay Rights Project of the American Civil Liberties Union will host a one-day nationwide conference for campus organizers fighting ROTC's anti-Gay policy. The conference will be held on Friday, November 9, 1990, in Minneapolis, in conjunction with the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force's annual Creating Change conference. (See separate article).

The Lesbian and Gay Rights project is organizing the conference along with the Gay and Lesbian Military Freedom Project, a coalition of groups united to fight the military's discriminatory policy.

"Nearly 50 campuses around the country are fighting the military's discrimination by challenging the presence of ROTC on their campuses," said William B. Rubenstein, Director of the Lesbian and Gay Rights Project.

The United States Department of Defense maintains regulations which prohibit Lesbians and Gay men from serving in the armed forces. Much of the current activity to combat the military's anti-Gay policy is focused on the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) programs which exist on most university campuses in the United States. Most ROTC classes are technically open to all university students, but Lesbians and Gay men cannot be enrolled in ROTC and are not eligible for ROTC scholarships.

Because of this blatant prejudice, a number of universities — after pressure from Lesbian and Gay and sympathetic student and faculty groups — have begun to consider severing their ties with the ROTC. Other schools have pledged to use their voice to lobby against the military's policy. These actions represent a critical development in the fight against Defense Department regulations.

Persons interested in attending the conference or, further information should contact: Sofia Gruskin, ACLU Lesbian and Gay Rights Project, 132 W. 43rd Street, New York, New York 10036, or call (212) 944-9800, Ext. 706.

Bowlers: Hit Against AIDS!

The Holiday Invitational Tournament, in cooperation with the Milwaukee Aids Project, is hosting a bowling fundraiser on October 20, at 1pm at Red Carpet Regency (76th & Florist). As the sole sponsor of this event, H.I.T. has designated that fifty percent of all proceeds will be donated to M.A.P.

H.I.T. is proud to announce that over 50 bowlers have signed up to bowl and well over 150 pledges have been received with three weeks to go!

However, further participation is vital to make this event a success. Informational packets have been distributed to all the Milwaukee area bars as well as the MAP offices. To sign up, simply stop in your favorite establishment and ask the bartender for a pledge sheet. If you are unable to bowl, make a pledge by contacting Cindy (871-4735) or Dean (482-1700) or the MAP offices.

The bowler rolls three games, the highest game to be used as the basis for your donation. The bowler or sponsor obtaining the most pledges per pin will receive a special award!

Bricker Departs Madison Aids Net

Madison — Earl Bricker, Executive Director of the Madison AIDS Support Network (MASN) for just over one year, has taken a position with the University of Wisconsin as the AIDS Project Director for the CHES Project. MASN spokespersons said many fine applicants have already responded to advertisements and announcements, and a new Executive Director should be named later in October.

Bricker, in an article in the MASN News, said "I leave with decidedly mixed emotions. It's important to know that I was not looking to leave MASN for at least one or two years from now. CHES is an exciting project, one which will allow me to acquire new knowledge and skills, and I'm looking forward to the challenges."

Bricker continued "MASN continues to be both viable and vital, and I'm proud to have been a part of its maturing process. This is a fine time for a new person with new skills and vision to come on board, and I will be available to provide any assistance I can to my successor."

Bricker, who had been a MASN volunteer since '85, will now revert to volunteer status with the organization.

The CHES Project is a computer-based decision support system with the goals of improving access to health and human services for people who would otherwise face psychological, social, economic or geographic barriers.

Renewal grants continue backing for the Gay and Lesbian phone line and AIDS prevention. Problems of the young are addressed in funding for programs dealing with teen-age sexuality and alcohol and drug abuse.

New Harvest grants are made for the advancement of the Gay and Lesbian community in Dane County through promotion of health, social services, public education, the arts and culture. Since its creation in 1984, the foundation has given 50 different causes $83,500. The specific programs receiving grants for the second half of 1990 are:

In the words of the Presiding Bishop, the Most Reverend Edmond L. Browning, "Many persons have already died of this disease or are living with it now. Thus, we must continue our life and work in communion and fellowship with one another, listening to one another, embracing and loving one another. I am convinced that prayer is our first initiative in the midst of this pandemic and our sure source of strength for our various HIV/AIDS ministries. Pray for health, pray for guidance and courage, pray for a cure, and pray for faithfulness to Gospel compassion and the well-being and dignity of every human being."

Study To Focus On Risky Behavior

Milwaukee — A nationally-recognized psychologist specializing in AIDS high-risk behavior intervention has been recruited by the Medical College of Wisconsin. T. Michael Bolger, president & CEO, announced that Jeffrey A. Kelly, Ph.D., joined the faculty Sept. 1, as professor of psychiatry and mental health sciences.

Bolger said that Dr. Kelly brings with him $3.5 million in grants from the National Institute of Mental Health. One significant purpose of the grants is to evaluate the impact of community behavior intervention programs in reducing those activities which pose a risk of acquiring the HIV infection.

"I'm aware that Milwaukee has many ongoing programs dedicated to AIDS prevention," Dr. Kelly said. "It is my hope that we can develop cooperative programs with their agencies in response to community needs. I would also like to support and assist existing urban AIDS prevention and urban health programs."

"The appointment of Dr. Kelly is one more step that the department of psychiatry is taking to address some of the major community health issues in Milwaukee," said Harry Prosen, M.D., professor and chairman of the department of psychiatry.

Dr. Kelly's Community Health

Behavior program will be housed in offices leased by the Medical College at 1863 N. Farwell Avenue. It provides the program with an administrative base that is in close proximity and has easy access to urban centers in Milwaukee. The program staff will see clients in community settings throughout the area.

In addition to programs in the Milwaukee area, Dr. Kelly will coordinate a large-scale field study to evaluate similar AIDS prevention efforts in 16 small cities in Wisconsin and throughout the country.

Relocating with Dr. Kelly are six health care professionals from his research team who represent clinical psychologists, counselors, and staff experienced in the development and education of applied health research programs. Additional staff including nurses, social workers and support personnel from Milwaukee are also joining the research team.

Dr. Kelly comes to the Medical College from the University of Mississippi Medical Center, where he was professor of psychology and chief of the division of psychology. Dr. Kelly has gained substantial experience in exploring approaches to prevent AIDS among high-risk groups, such as Gay men, IV drug users, and urban and minority women, in both the inner city and in smaller communities.

"Our whole approach to the problem is to look at the behavior and not so called 'risk groups.' We want to help people learn the skills that will prevent them from being exposed to the HIV virus," he said. "We would also like an opportunity to work with community groups and add our

Dear Ron:

This is a love letter to an entire community — the Gay and Lesbian community.

As I stood on the stage at the Wisconsin AIDS Walk and looked out over the crowd, I saw the faces of many of you who have walked other roads that led us to Sunday's Celebration of Life with the Milwaukee AIDS Project. But I wasn't a bit surprised. There was never a doubt in our minds, as we planned this challenging undertaking, that the Gay and Lesbian community would form the core of volunteers and walkers for this momentous event.

You have my deepest appreciation and respect.

— Sincerely,
Sharon Otto,
Pres., ARCW Bd. of Dir.

Dear, Dear Friends:

We have received many requests for information on the status of The Rodney Scheel House for PWA's fund. We are proud to let you know that as of this date, we have raised over $30,000.00.

Thank you for your continued support and interest.

Dear Governor...

EDITORS NOTE: The following letter, dated Sept. 24, was sent to Wisconsin gubernatorial candidates Tommy Thompson (Repub.) & Tom Loftus (Dem.) by ACT UP and a copy was supplied to us.

Dear Loftus/Thompson:

As registered voters in the state of Wisconsin we are concerned that the issues surrounding the AIDS pandemic have not been addressed in this year's gubernatorial campaign. We strongly request that you publicly release a policy statement dealing with the following issues by the first of October.

Do you support active enforcement of current laws banning discrimination against people with AIDS (PWAs) and people who test positive for the Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV)? Will you support legislation strengthening these anti-discrimination codes?

Are you aware of the lack of treatment available for PWAs and those who test positive for HIV in Wisconsin? A disproportionate number of people dealing with HIV-related illnesses are poor and must use public health facilities where the care offered is quite often inferior to prohibitively expensive private care. Even in cases where private care is affordable there is still only limited access to drug trials and even less access to experimental drugs through a parallel track program. The parallel track program has strong public support here: over 700 letters were sent from Wisconsin in a recent letter campaign to the FDA in support of parallel track drug release. In addition, dental care is lacking for those infected with HIV. What would you do as governor to change this situation?

Ten years into the AIDS pandemic there is still widespread ignorance and disinformation in both the medical profession and the public at large. Will you support an AIDS education program that will reach all segments of each community in the state? Will you support education that points out the necessity of clean, unshared needles if IV-drugs are used? Will you support safer-sex education including the proper use of condoms at all levels including mandatory AIDS education in the school systems?

AIDS is an expensive disease to treat and PWAs often become homeless when they are forced to sell their homes or vacate their apartments. Many are shunned by their families and are left to survive in the streets. PWAs who live in the overcrowded shelters currently available or on the streets are subject to many more opportunistic infections and have a lower survival rate. Wisconsin has only one home for PWAs which is run by the Milwaukee AIDS Project. The Madison AIDS Support Network is working on a second. With the continuing alarming rise in HIV-infection this will not be sufficient. What will you do as governor to provide proper housing for PWAs?

Finally, under your leadership, will the state of Wisconsin distinguish itself in the research for new treatments, a cure and a vaccine for AIDS?

All of these issues are important to the health and welfare of the state of Wisconsin and must be dealt with directly. We await your response.

—Sincerely,
Timothy J. Nowak, ACT UP Milw.

More on Anheuser-Busch

Dear Editor:

In a recent article in In Step Magazine, entitled "Viewpoint," by Don Schwamb published in your August 30-September 12th, edition there is what I believe to be an inaccurate statement. Mr. Schwamb states that Anheuser-Busch is not a supporter of the Gay and Lesbian community.

Anheuser-Busch is not only a friend, but a long time supporter of our community. Anheuser-Busch is an advertiser in Gay Chicago Magazine, and has for the last several years sponsored the Strike Against AIDS Committee fundraising events which have raised hundreds of thousands of dollars for AIDS service providers. Because of their support of Chicago's Lesbian and Gay community, Anheuser-Busch was awarded Gay Chicago Magazine's "Friend of the Community Award" at the annual Gay Chicago Magazine Awards.

As a matter of fact, several years ago several Chicago bar owners had complaints about the attitudes of some of Anheuser-Busch's truck drivers. When these complaints were taken to Anheuser-Busch they were handled immediately and satisfactorily by the company.

In this day of boycotts being fed by some mis-information and twisted fact we must be very careful to correct false information that could be damaging to our friends.

Ralph Paul Gernhardt,

AIDS Bashing...

Editors Note: The following letter was sent to WISN-AM Radio's program director. A copy was supplied to In Step by ACT UP.

Mr. Halcomb:

On September 20, 1990, WISN-AM allowed Mark Belling, an "on-air personality," to spread dangerous misinformation about AIDS to the public. ACT UP Milwaukee finds this decision to be grossly irresponsible and demands that WISN-AM make an on air apology and correction regarding this misinformation. The rights protected under the umbrella of "talk radio," do not include the right to spread ignorance about a fatal, communicable and epidemic disease.

During a discussion of ACT UP Milwaukee's informational action at a dental clinic the previous day, Mr. Belling expressed his ignorance of the subject matter in several ways:

• Mr. Belling's discussion centered around an irrelevant question. If Mr. Belling had done any research or called ACT UP Milwaukee before his program aired, he would have learned that the question, "should dentists be required to treat AIDS patients?," was an ignorant one. With 6,000 HIV+ people in Milwaukee, the average dentist sees 6 infected people whether he/she knows it or not. This means that dentists must use full precautions with every patient, every time. When full precautions are employed regularly, the HIV status of both dentists and patients becomes irrelevant. This was the point of ACT UP Milwaukee's action the previous day. Mr. Belling obviously had no knowledge of this.

• Mr. Belling incorrectly used the terms "AIDS activists" and "Gay activists" interchangeably. AIDS activists include straights, Gays, men, women, Blacks, Hispanics, Whites or, in short, anyone dedicated to bringing about an end to the AIDS crisis.

• Mr. Belling repeatedly stated that the majority of AIDS victims are responsible for their condition. At one point, he estimates that 95% of people infected with HIV are personally responsible for their infection and, therefore, should not complain about it. Besides being a horrifically callous example of blaming victims, this statement, again, implies that most people do not need to worry about AIDS.

• Mr. Belling's most dangerous statements were his apparently self-created 'facts' about the transmission of the AIDS virus. In an attempt to support his belief that the majority of people are not at risk for HIV infection, Mr. Belling claimed that the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) had estimated the risk of HIV transmission during vaginal sex to be 1/10,000. However, the CDC informed ACT UP Milwaukee that no statistics regarding the likelihood of HIV transmission during vaginal sex had ever been released by their organization due to a lack of reliable data. Also, Mr. Belling repeatedly suggested to his listeners that a person who does not have anal sex with Gay males (why not anal sex with women too?) and does not use IV drugs is not at risk for HIV infection. This is completely untrue. HIV infection is currently spreading among the straight teen-age population faster than anywhere else. Mr. Belling and WISN-AM are encouraging that spread by broadcasting blatant misinformation about AIDS.

As stated above, AIDS is a fatal, communicable and epidemic disease. Mr. Belling, in direct opposition with all current scientific knowledge of this disease, repeatedly assured his listeners on September 20, 1990 in a variety of ways that AIDS is not everyone's concern. By doing so, he actually increased the chances that his listeners will engage in risky behaviors that can lead to HIV infection and death.

WISN-AM acted irresponsibly by allowing this dangerous ignorance to be aired as though it were fact. WISN-AM has provided a forum for an ignorant man to spread AIDS misinformation at any cost to the community.

ACT UP Milwaukee views WISN-AM's actions as a serious threat to public health. We demand that an on air apology and correction be made regarding this dangerous misinformation. This is not a matter of disagreeing with an opinion. We hope WISN-AM does not try to frame it as such.

A copy of this letter and a copy of the broadcast as issue have been sent to the F.C.C. ACT UP Milwaukee intends to follow-up on this issue.

—Sincerely,
Daniel Fons, ACT UP Milwaukee

The 'Big Top' In Chicago

On Sunday, October 14th, the Strike Against AIDS Committee and Circus Vargas will present the 3rd annual "Big Top, an evening of circus magic," a Chicago AIDS benefit at DeVry Institute, 3300 N. Campbell (2500 W), Chicago. The performance will begin at 8pm.

Circus Vargas, the largest traveling circus under canvas in the world today featuring over 400 performers and animals under a tent the size of a football field, is donating all 5,000 seats for the evening's performance. This special presentation is sure to please everyone young and old.

In addition to the $2 million bejeweled wardrobe, spectators will witness three rings of flying trapeze (the only display of it's kind in North America), the Living Statues, Colonel Joe (the largest tusked elephant traveling today)-and of course, the Circus Vargas Clowns. Plus, many special guest celebrities will join the regular cast this night to guarantee an evening of traditional circus spectacle.

For this special occasion, general admission "super saver" tickets are $5.00 and preferred seats are $15.00. Box seats are available for $25, and VIP box seats are $50.

All promotion and production costs are underwritten by Circus Vargas and a grant from Anheuser-Busch. Other sponsors include Gay Chicago Magazine and Marigold Arcade Bowl. General admission "super saver" and preferred seat tickets are available by calling Back Door Promotions at (312)787-5357. Book On PWA Legal Rights

Madison — Legal problems can present overwhelming difficulties for people with AIDS. Can an employer or insurance company require an individual to take an HIV test? Can an employer fire a person with AIDS? Will someone with AIDS lose custody of a child? Can a child with AIDS still go to the same school? Can a person be refused medical treatment if he or she is HIV positive? What happens when a person with AIDS can't work because of illness?

AIDS: The Law, published by the Center for Public Representation, answers many of these and other legal questions people might have about AIDS. It discusses legal protections and rights regarding confidentiality, public benefits, estate planning, insurance, medical treatment, housing and employment.

Written for people who are HIV+ or who have AIDS, the book is also useful to families and friends of people with HIV illnesses, health and social service professionals, attorneys and advocates. Steppin' Out

by Ron Geiman

I don't want to 'egg' you on, BUT, I do have a report from a reader that those responsible for the egg-tossing incidents outside many of our bars in recent weeks are three younger white males. The reader informed me he saw the three, driving around in a very old orange beat up Pinto hatchback tossing eggs at people standing outside of and at the buildings that house several of our bars in the Walkers Point area. The left rear area of the car is all smashed in, so it should be very recognizable. Keep your eye out for the car, and try to jot down the license plate number, then either call the police, tell the bar owners, or call our local Gay Bash Hotline (444-7331).

The comedy singing duo of Neil and Adam had such a smash run at M&M Club that Mr. Schmidt has booked them for a return engagement during Christmas week.

Sunday September 23 was a very busy day around town with four busses up from Chicago for a bar crawl that started at 2 and lasted until the evening hours. That was also the afternoon of the 'Entertainers Against AIDS' annual street show outside of Fannies for the benefit of the Milwaukee AIDS Project. Co-sponsored by Partner's, the event drew hundreds for a nippy afternoon and evening of entertainment featuring female illusionists, live acts, and comedy just too numerous to mention. To complete the afternoon plenty of food and drink were available, plus lots of raffles for some great prizes. Of course, the ubiquitous Ronnie Marx was there with his basket of condoms...

A heart-felt thanks to all the entertainers, and to the audience who braved crisp fall weather for this annual outdoor show. You helped raise much needed $$$ for MAP!

Weekly Sunday afternoon (2pm) touch football games are in full swing again thanks to GAMMA. They play on the

2. DO frequently remark that your three favorite U.S. Presidents were Martin Van Buren (LOVED to wear the first ladies clothes) Chester Arthur (REFUSED to move in until they redecorated the White House), James Buchanan (never married and had the most ADORABLE lisp).

3. DO vocally reiterate your strong vocational calling to be religious in your youth. (Boys remember the long flowing robes. Girls remember the low comfortable shoes nuns got to wear).

And finally, ALWAYS, ALWAYS comment on the ass of every tennis player on the professional circuit. (OBVIOUSLY, if you're a Gay woman you already have a picture of Gabriella Sabatini on your refrigerator). P.S. It doesn't hurt to mention that Andre Agassi's drop earring at the U.S. Open was simply FAAAABULOUS...

resources to their efforts to help AIDS patients cope with the disease."

Through extensive surveys around the country, Dr. Kelly and other researchers have found that, in the last several years, groups at high risk have increased their knowledge immeasurably. The next step, however, is applying the science of behavior change to help people more fully translate knowledge to action.

While working with people at high risk, Dr. Kelly found role playing and other group techniques produced a marked reduction in high risk behavior. He has also published and lectured extensively on high risk behavior modification programs.

CMV Retinitis Study

The National Institutes of Health (NIH) is seeking patients for a study to evaluate treatments for cytomegalovirus (CMV) retinitis. Approximately 10-20% of persons with AIDS will develop CMV retinitis. Presently Ganciclovir (Cytovene) is the only approved treatment for CMV retinitis and its use is often limited by its toxicities.

The success of clinical research at the NIH is dependent on the support they receive from the community for referrals and from volunteers who participate in the various clinical trials.

NIH recently presented data from a study of foscarnet for CMV retinitis, and have shown it is effective in delaying progression of CMV retinitis. As a follow-up study NIH is recruiting patients for a randomized four arm protocol comparing DDI and Foscarnet with DDI and Ganciclovir for initial therapy and standard maintenance therapy with laser photocoagulation in lieu of maintenance therapy.

The Brady Street Sexually Transmitted Diseases Clinic (BESTD) is busy with its outreach testing schedule. They take their free and anonymous HIV testing clinics to you in some of your favorite clubs and bars. Just too busy to get tested during regular clinic hours? Watch In Step's calendar and get tested while you're out partying!

The infamous French Canadian dancers made another appearance at Club 219 on Monday the 24th. Who said Mondays had to be boring? If you present the right kind of attraction, the dancers prove people will be out in drooling droves!

Tabitha and her Gang presented a Pre-Walk show for the benefit of MAP at Jet's Place on the 28th. Too bad the person who was to provide the shows sound system didn't show up... but the audience enjoyed the show none-the-less.

Lots of Leather men and women converged from throughout the Midwest. I hear the show was a scream.

The Wreck Room's monthly party night on the 29th had lots of great prizes, with a Peugeot racing bike as grand prize. Owner Bill tells me that right before the drawing a customer was telling him how he once won a bike from Wayne during the WR's 'Wheel of Fortune'. Wouldn't you know it... the ticket Bill pulled happened to belong to the man who had just recited the story of winning a bike years ago.

Sunday September 30th dawned crisp and cool for the AIDS Walk Community Leadership Breakfast. Approximately 300 supporters attended the brunch at $50 per person, to kick off the AIDS Walk. Held in the back garden of the beautiful Professional Marketing Services offices on Summit avenue, it was a big success. (If not rather chilly)

The very successful 1st annual Wisconsin AIDS Walk was held later that morning, with kick off at 12:30. Nearly 2,000 participants raised almost $182,000 for Wisconsin AIDS Service Organizations! A very successful first time effort. MAP had set a goal of $175,000 and beat that soundly. Congratulations to all involved. It was nice to see the rest of the community involved in this AIDS effort, but the Gay and Lesbian community still made up about 25% of the walkers according to my estimate.

The comedy singing duo of Neil and Adam were a big hit at M&M. They'll be back Christmas week.

The legendary Rudy de la Mor ravished the crowd at M&M's that night. I saw many MAP and Walk workers and volunteers in the crowd enjoying Rudy's one-of-a-kind show. If you missed him, and are planning a trip to Chicago before the end of October, Rudy has extended his stay at Chicago's Gentry until the end of the month.

Texas Two-stepping is all the rage at Jet's on Tuesday nights, with lessons beginning at 8pm, and dancing until 11pm. Get out those high-heeled boots and clog on down to Jet's!

That brings us up to my deadline of October 3rd, so I've got to go... besides, "I'VE FALLEN AND I CAN'T GET UP!"

Lose the Fear... Come Out!

Okay. For the third time. Coming out CAN be fun. Almost as much fun as finding out that Tipper Gore is REALLY Michael Gore in drag...almost as much fun as listening to Newt Gingrich lip sync to old Jerry Falwell videos... ALMOST as much fun as watching Andrew Dice Clay CRYING on the Arsenio Hall show!

STILL have a problem with it? Oh, alright. JUST to show you how EASY it really is, here's another guaranteed "do's and don'ts" list. And if ANY of you pick up some repeats from a couple of years ago, just remember that Anita Bryant is STILL performing somewhere. And if that tired act can keep repeating itself, well you know...

If you're a Gay man:

1. DO tell a 'Guns and Roses' groupie that you're a dyke as you follow her into the ladies room. Then stick her used bubble gum in her hair so that she has to stay in there with you as long as possible. As you both leave together say 'Thank You, Babe' in a really deep voice in front of any band member in the area.

2. DO announce your homosexuality to the proverbial Mr. Macho you used to date in front of all his friends. Make sure to explain to everyone that your sexual orientation was only ONE of many reasons you'd didn't sleep with him. (This can cause a general assertion that all of the notches he so frequently boasts of are really only holes to keep his pants up.)

3. DON'T try to tell anyone you're Gay while wearing a dress and fixing your nail polish (remember, this section is ONLY for Gay women).

4. DON'T tell Cher or Roseanne Barr that you're a Lesbian unless you are prepared to back it up by falling in love with Cher's daughter Chastity or, God help you, with Roseanne (I ain't gonna apologize for nothin' cause I'm a star who's a role model for all them literate women who read the National Enquirer'). This is to be used only if you

DESPERATELY want Roseanne to sing the national anthem at your upcoming softball game or if you REALLY want tickets to the Oprah Winfrey show.

5. DON'T bother explaining to a nerd that you won't go out with him because you REALLY are a Lesbian. No matter what you say, he won't believe you. He's heard it from every woman he's asked in the last six years.

If you're a Gay man:

1. DO remark that the new justice to the Supreme Court must be Gay because he's never been married and spent WAY too many years living with his mother. Then remark he REALLY should do SOMETHING with his hair and they you hope he takes full advantage of the muscle building machines at the Congressional gym.

2. DO start a discussion about the merits of the NFL hiring Calvin Klein to design their uniforms, this works especially well at a small neighborhood bar, your old frat house, or when your father has some of his business cronies over for Sunday afternoon football.

3. DO rearrange any floral arrangements when you visit your relative's home. If that has no immediate effect, begin moving the furniture around. Keep your wrist limp and flirt as much as possible.

4. DO whistle old Broadway show tunes while working for political candidates (if you don't know any, try bursting into a few bars of 'The Man I Love'). Also inquire as to whether Jack Kemp was a tight end when he played in the NFL. (This is, of course, most effective at Republican headquarters on an election day).

5. DO remark that you find nothing whatsoever sexy about Dan Quayle but that you saw a picture of William Dannemeyer in a hard-hat and cutoffs that was to die for.

And for general use by all of us:

1. DO ask any conservative co-workers if they think William Buckley is now going

Juicy Bits

Fall TV Preview

Since the major networks are no longer winning the big Neilson jackpots, they are trying many new innovative and daring programming strategies. One of these strategies is an appeal to Gay and Lesbian audiences. So, for television connoisseurs everywhere, here is a breakdown of major changes and new shows scheduled to appear in your living room this fall.

This Old House The This Old House crew renovates the home of cooking goddess Julia Child. In the first episode, Julia is rushed to the emergency room after Norm, the ace carpenter, plays a practical joke, replacing her cream cheese with Glazing Compound. Julia spreads some on a bagel and gets sick all over a soufflé.
China Beach An entire revamp and recasting is set for this hour long drama as the show leaves Vietnam and heads for the beaches of sunny Florida, where young, cute Asian men sunbathe naked on sandy beaches for 60 minutes. In the first episode, Hung Well applies a #15 sunblock very slowly to every part of his body.

Star Trek: The Next Generation Captain Picard seduces Data, the ship's android. As they shower together and are just about to complete especially electric oral sex, Data blows a fuse, and propels Picard through the Enterprise's hull at warp speed. Later, Worf the Klingon, converts that part of Data's anatomy into a powerful new weapon, which he uses to defeat the Romulans.

Doogie Howser M.D. Child doctor Doogie is sued for malpractice after he unsuccessfully treats a Gay man suffering from impotence with an Erector Set.

Roseanne Roseanne strikes it rich with her very own weight loss video. The five minute film is a big, big success because it guarantees anyone watching will lose their appetite immediately and features a completely naked Roseanne grabbing her crotch, while singing the National Anthem.

Perfect Strangers (Documentary) An in-depth look at anonymous sexual encounters.

Thirtysomething The trials and tribulations of a group of thirty year old Gay men who realize they are no longer chicken and now focus their energies on decorating their apartments, whining about their receding hairline, matching their natural hair color with colors offered by Miss Clairol and trying to figure out a way to lose that cute, little pot belly.

Married... With Children The story of slightly eccentric Lesbian lovers and their 57 ill-mannered cats.

The Simpsons Marge's towering blue bouffant becomes all the rage for drag queens and she opens a hairstyling salon for female illusionists. Later, a nasty riot erupts at the Miss Gay Universe Pageant as all the contestants arrive with big blue hair and Bart wins the Miss Congeniality Award.

Twin Peaks In a bizarre dream sequence, Agent Cooper mistakes a sugar doughnut for a cock ring and then wakes up to find an empty Dunkin' Doughnuts box in his underpants.

Candid Camera Lost footage and dramatic re-enactments are featured in this series focused on the life of controversial Gay photographer, Robert Mapplethorpe. Guest stars, Richard Simmons, Mapplethorpe's whip.

Rescue 911 Paramedics use the "jaws of life" to separate two horny teen-age Lesbians when their braces become hopelessly tangled after an especially passionate french kiss. Also, rescuers are summoned to straighten out William Shatner's toupee which nearly fell off during all the excitement.
