You will be pleased to learn that one of "our" bartenders was selected as the most UGLY bartender in Milwaukee County. Now that is a very special distinction!

And it is special. Dennis Engeldinger, who tends bar at the Beer Garden, entered Wisconsin's "Ugly Bartender" Contest. This annual event is a benefit for the Special Olympics which promotes athletic activity programs for the mentally handicapped people of Wisconsin.

It is a sad commentary, however, to note that these good things happening within the Gay Community are not publicized so well.

Hats off to you, Dennis, and the rest of the gang at the Beer Garden. You can be proud of your support in this, and we are proud of you. Now, who are you entering in next year's contest?

Madison Benefit...

On Saturday, June 24th, the Madison Gay Bars are jointly sponsoring a community picnic in support of Gay Rights. It will be a noon to 7pm affair at Brittingham Park on the corner of W. Washington and South Park Street. Five Dollars ($5.00) brings you food, beer, and games all day long.

All money goes into The Madison Area Gay Interim Coalition Fund. For more information contact Rodney at 608-256-3302, or contact any of the Madison Gay Bars.

DOING AMERICA WITH BOB DAMRON

DENVER, COLORADO

Most of us have experienced various 'highs', but a Rocky Mountain 'High' is something special! Denver is the "Mile High" city, and if you aren't used to the altitude, be careful how much you drink the first few days. Beautiful in summer, the city is, however, subject to long, cold winters. Unless you have someone warm to cuddle up to, you may want to head right for the Steam baths, and they are hot!

The Ball Park, with its swim-thru waterfall, balconies, cave-like steam maze and other innovations is one of America's most spectacular baths. It is located at 107 So Broadway, but enter thru the parking lot in back of Bayaud. Catching on real well is the small but intimate Gentlemen's Quarters at 1359 Court Place. Zuni Club Baths at 2935 Zuni has been around for quite awhile, but has many long standing (or whatever) advocates. In spite of a nice sun patio, the Empire Baths, way out on East Colfax, is much in need of a good clean-up.

The Triangle at 2036 Broadway is the top (or Bottom if you prefer) S&M bar between Chicago and San Francisco. The "John" is very active, and they have just added a cruisy new downstairs bar. The Den at 5110 W Colfax gets a similar, but slightly older crowd. "Hottest" new men's cruise bar in town is South Town Lumber Company at 255 S Broadway, loaded with humpy jocks! This and the Fox Hole are especially good on Sunday Afternoons. The Fox Hole is hard to find at first, but take the 20th St. Viaduct leading northwest of downtown to the first signal, make a right and follow around for a couple of blocks.

The 1942 Club on Broadway is probably Denver's most popular spot. The front room gets many of the guys who go to the aforementioned bars, and the back has disco dancing. Otherwise, Denver's disco scene is currently somewhat 'screwed up.' Broadway Cabaret at 1260 Broadway and Pearl Street Disco at 1308 Pearl Street have recently changed hands, and it is anyone's guess which will have the strongest comeback. Bob's 4444 Club on Leetsdale is the largest and nicest, but besides being hard to find, it may prove to be simply too large for Denver. By the time you read this, a new levi disco should have opened called the South Town Cattle Co., at 105 Broadway.

The Door at 1512 Broadway has a small dance floor and attracts some 'drags', hustlers, and other downtown types. The Three Sisters (locally called the Six Tits) at 3358 Mariposa is a disco which gets the foxy ladies. Denver's oldest bar, the Court Jester, at 1617 Court Place has dropped their 'upstairs disco,' but still gets a loyal, 'but mixed bag' of customers. The Apartment's a 'Twinkie' disco, but not popular as it used to be. This only has beer and closes at 8pm on Sundays and midnight other nights. All the other bars have liquor and are open six nights a week until 2am, but close at midnight on Sundays.

The sights to see include Larimer Square, Molly Browns' House, US Mint, nearby Ski resorts and the State Capitol grounds. This was once a great cruising area known as 'Sodomy Circle', but now it so heavily patrolled that it might better be termed Suicide Circle. One of the songs from the Broadway show and movie "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" is "Beautiful People of Denver." How True! Here's hoping you'll meet Mr (or Ms) Right, as the case may be, and experience a real "Rocky Mountain High".

NOTICE TO ALL BARON CUSTOMERS

Because of the 12 day run of Summerfest from June 28 through July 9, the Baron Nite—Club has postponed all 4th of July celebrations. The huge crowds that attend Summerfest make it an inconvenience for our patrons to park near the Baron Nite Club. Because of this, we have decided that in your best interests and comfort, we will have a belated 4th of July celebration. Watch this Milwaukee Calendar for exact dates. We will have a big dance contest, free champagne and a buffet to help our nation celebrate its birthday. So don't miss the belated 4th of July celebration here at the Baron Nite—Club. Both the upstairs disco bar and the lower level Pub lounge will be open for this fun filled celebration.
