IGreetings Gossip Mongers! I'm back for the time being. Thank you to all my loyal readers and everyone who has voiced their concerns about the article. They haven't fallen on deaf ears. Hopefully I will be more diligent in the future with this column. So lets get to the gossip and happenings of late.

To begin with I would like to announce that Boo-Boo and Greg from Harbor Room are going to switch bartenders for one night. On Thursday Nov. 10th Bobby and Jerry from Harbor Room and Ce Ce and Chi Chi from M&M Club will be switching venues for one night. I hope everyone comes out to see us at both places to see how the melee turns out.

Wigstock was another success despite Mother Nature trying to do her best to rain on our parade. This annual benefit for H.I.T. and the victims of Hurricane Katrina and to celebrate Rita's 40th ish birthday. Over $1000 was donated. Among the participants was my gal pals Ruthie and M.C. Karen Valentine; Miss Alexis Winters, Tatiana and Charlotte Lorraine, Veleeta Head Cheese and Moi, and Milwaukee's very own Wynonna Judd Miss Rita. Other helpers behind the curtain included Stu on music David and Ashley at the door as well as the other committee members from H.I.T. Good job you guys! Special mention goes out to Miss Goldi Adams who painted most of our pusses upstairs. If you ever think of trying to do drag, give her a ring. She'll make you look flawless.

I must have had too much make-up in my pores, because I decided to make it an all nighter that night. So to the cute bartender that had to put up with me at Triangle and Gay Bob over at Harbor Room. My heartfelt apologies. After a mandatory vacation, I had learned my lesson, that drag one night and bartender the next morning does not work out so well. I think that it is Miss Rhonda that brings out the devil in us all since, Boo-Boo repeated my fiasco very shortly after.

Speaking of Goldi, she celebrated her 40th at Woody's on the Oct. 4th. A huge crowd was out to help celebrate the big 40. Kudos go out to my favorite bartenders Kurt and Dan who also had a milestone of turning 30 this month. To Dan, thanks for putting up with my histrionics when I come over there on Wednesdays. I hope there are no hard feelings.

To all the loyal patrons of M&M Club, parking has become an issue in the Third Ward with yet another condo going up and renovations going on next door. The parking structure on Water and Chicago is usually free after 7 p.m. however if you bring in your parking stub that you paid, Boo-Boo will take $4 off any food purchase at M&M. Thanks again for everyone that makes the extra effort to see us down at M's.

There are some advantages to the construction work, with some very beefy guys meandering around the bar. I can speak firsthand on this respect. Unfortunately privacy can be an issue sometimes with everybody washing their hands all at the same time. If you know what I mean.

American Drag Idol had their second installment over at Switch with Jeremy taking top honors to go on to the finals. I guess that Craig must have stole him from Boom/Room since he's bartending there now. I hear from a very reliable source, that a certain business owner likes to do a little bit of auditioning himself for certain patrons. From what I hear, you do not get a crown afterward but you may want a cigarette.

I had a chance to stop at a couple of my favorite gal joints recently. First Walkers Pint who will be hosting a Scorpio party on Nov. 18th. Betsy and Sheena and staff will be hosting all you Scorpio's as well as everyone else, so look out. My other favorite fem stop is over at Out-n-About. I was there recently with my tennis bud Marcia and Pam and Bev couldn't have been nicer. With Pam's brother at the door and Thomas behind the bar I still got my share of eye candy. There was one hot Latino cruising the bar, however Marcia and I could not figure out which one he wanted. Me being the shy type could not get enough liquid courage to find out. Oh well! My favorite co-hort in crime Velveeta a.k.a. Brian is now behind the bar at Mona's on Wednesdays cocktail hour. So check him out, I know everyone else in Milwaukee has.

Well one bar has closed, hopefully temporarily and another new one has opened. 219 has closed its doors with rumor has it that owner Chuck is looking for a new location.

City Lights has opened near the corner of Howell and Howard with owner Smiley behind the bar. It has the distinction of being Bay View's first official gay bar. Good luck to both of you.

Peter Loomans, the current reigning Mr. Northwoods is holding a fundraiser at City Lights the Saturday before Thanksgiving from 10 p.m. to close. Proceeds go to benefit for the I.M.L. contest in Chicago. So let's show our support since last year the previous Mr. Northwoods Stephen Seefeldt finished a respectable 14th overall.

It seems that Milwaukee has their own version of Citizen Kane. This publishing giant has been pushing his weight and opinions around on mostly deaf ears. I guess he hasn't learned the lesson from Teddy Roosevelt that you should speak softly and carry a big stick. My own confrontation with the person in question, had him trying to silence my voice in print. As anyone who knows me, I do not back down from a challenge. Hopefully he will learn his lesson before he gets asked to leave from any future bars.

Speaking of being asked to leave bars, a very prominent at least to her, celebrity has been banned after making off with some posies that were not hers. This queen of the damned now has to relinquish her throne at said bar. I hope those flowers were worth it.

Another hurricane is upon us as I write this. Hurricane Wilma sounds like she is going to be the mother of them all even surpassing Hurricane Rita. I wonder if this will be a drink special at Fluid to come. I have to give a big shot out to B.J. over at Fluid who joins the regular cast of characters over there with Bill, De, Brian, and one of my special boys Drew who works everyother Saturday.

Yes, the city streets are safe yet another year. The Kleba's Sandy and Tom have left for sunny Arizona. I guess I will have to wait until May for another tonque swallowing from Sandy. Sorry Debi, I didn't mean to make you ill!

Happy birthdays to two of my favorite people; Noah the always dapper gentleman and always my arm candy, and Miss Carol who missed her celebrations with us down at M's but is feeling much better. I have a feeling that Humboldt Blvd. is Milwaukee's own Wisteria Lane with Ratso moving in next door to Carol and Olga. Sorry I didn't mow your lawns this summer. Then again you probably wouldn't have been interested in my extra talents besides clipping the hedges.

I made my annual pilgrimage to Boot Camp with Brian and his boyfriend Jim. I love the lighting in this place, but can someone tell me why everyone is so quiet in the back area. I thought I was walking into a Christian Science reading room. I guess I was just out of my element. Before I close I want to wish Jim congratulations on becoming bar manager over at Miller Tap at the Hilton. Hilton's gain is Miller Brewery's loss. Good luck.

Well that's all for now, I hope I see everyone over Halloween! So keep the talk cheap and the liquor flowing!

Love, Chi-Chi

earlier in the year as being THE OLDEST SINGLE LESBIAN in Madison is still around. In one of my most recent stops @ Ray's Bar I ran into her. Rumor has it with all her COBB Webs she may be used in one of The halloween props. While @ Ray's, I checked out his new space which is next door. Not to my surprise, he has done a wonderful job decorating and remodeling an old space into new. Ray, good Luck on your even newer addition which will be opening soon. I ran into Alan AKA (GRANNY) had a couple shots and talked about old times OMG my parents do this now I am. Then we were off to "The Portal" this is a new bar for The Gay Community in Madison off Willy St.

Our very own Bobby & Jazz seem to have worked there magic and with a few brush strokes and hard work converted this to beautiful space to visit have a cocktail and meet new friends, for directions please check out www.justterry.com

A couple weeks back one Saturday afternoon crazy Terry came up with this idea: let's go visit our friend Travis @ WilliamJohn Salon on the Square. So, six of us went in for Cut and Color. Well, ok, most chickened out. Two of us had color. After a wonderful color was chosen and an hour later... Poof! Orange Hair.

If you could of saw the look on receptionist's face when we go in 5 minutes to close and she says, "can we help you?" "Yes," was our reply we are Travis's 2 o'clock.

Dear Ruthie

Gobble-gobble to all of you turkeys out there. Yep, it's that time of year again--time to get off your Plymouth Rock and invite the relatives for Thanksgiving dinner (whether you want to see them or not).

Halloween has come and gone, and Thanksgiving has perched its feathered keester on the calendar. The holiday marks a particularly special time of year for me. It gives me the chance to get together with my cheap ex-husbands, my evil twin sister (Poinsettia), and her obnoxious little brats. It's the only day I'm sure to say a heart-felt prayer of thanks. . .once they leave.

I also invite the girls, Pearl and Harriet, as well as a few of the guys from the trailer park. (Actually, I only invite Chester, but between his girth and various drinking personas, it's like inviting four different people.)

I include Mr. Kim who, every Thanksgiving, paints the nails on my left hand to depict the voyage of the Mayflower, and uses the nails on my right hand to document the history of poultry packing plants. He's a peach of a fella.

Once all of the relatives leave, my friends and I have a helluva time, drinking Wild Turkey, eating rice crispy squares and seeing who has the ugliest feet. God bless us, everyone.

In fact, I was just working on my Thanksgiving to-do list a few moments ago. Now, where was I? Let's see...replace scotch with watered-down tea; rent Pilgrim costume; make appointment with Soaring Eagle for his autumn special on deep-tissue massage; check if Popeye's delivers on Thanksgiving; and stand in enough food lines to collect 20 slices of pumpkin pie.

Dear Ruthie

I seem to be missing something. Hmmmm. Oh, yes: Stomp on cranberries and mandarin oranges for relish. There, now. I think that should do it.

Oh, I know what you're thinking. You're thinking, "Ruthie, you make your own cranberry relish? I'm impressed!" Yes, it's true. I'm quite a gourmet cook. I also try to make my own eggnog, but this year I'm giving up because I never get very far with the recipe. Sure, I know where to buy the eggs, but where the hell do I pick up the nog? (Ba-dum-bum!)

Okay, okay. Don't get your sweet potatoes in a bind. I know when it's time to read a few letters (or e-mails as the kids call'em). But before I leave, I just want to wish you all a wonderful autumn and a blessed, happy Thanksgiving. Be sure to spend it with those you cherish most.

Dear Ruthie,

I recently moved to Fort Myers, Florida from South Milwaukee, Wisconsin. I am a HUGE fan of yours. I am very good looking, and I want you. My mother is very nice, and she can make all of your favorite outfits for you. What can I do to make you mine?

Dear Lonely,

P.S. Does your mother sew pilgrim costumes?

Dear Ruthie,

Do you answer all of the questions you get? What are the dumbest questions you've ever received?

(Signed)

A Friend

Dear Friend,

Thanks for your interest, amigo. To answer your first question, no. I don't publish an answer to every message I receive, but I do publish the majority of them.

Readers often write with the question, "How can I meet someone?," No matter who sends that question, the answer is pretty much the same, so I publish it only once (maybe twice) a year.

With all of the electronic greetings cards on the Interweb-thingy these days, I find a decent number of well-wishes in my in-box, too. I love, love, love it when readers send me warm wishes for various holidays! I don't publish the personal notes they include, however.

If an e-mail asks for physical or emotional medical advice that's clearly out of my league (I ain't no doctor!), I'll usually reply privately to that person, suggesting they see a professional physician.

Okay now, on to answering the question you really want to know:

Ruthie's Top 5 Dumbest Questions

5. "What does it mean when you find your best friend in bed with your lover?," (It means you're a boring friend and a bad lay.)
4. "Does your carpet match your curtains?," (At my age, I've got hardwood floors!)
3. "What do they call a French kiss in France?," (Lucky.)

2. "What's your e-mail address?," (This question was actually sent to my e-mail address.)

1. "What should I do if my breasts itch?," (Scratch'em!)

If you have a question for Ruthie, drop her a line at ruthie@dearruthie.com. Or stop by www.dearruthie.com.

Ruthie will be performing at the M&M Club on Saturday, Nov. 19 in a benefit for Chicago's Gay Games. On Thanksgiving night, you can catch her at Club 219, welcoming bowlers to the Holiday Invitational Tournament.

DAVID HOWSER'S FABULOUS PUMPKINS AT M&M

Cruisin' at the Beach—

Cont.

By Cruisin' Carl

So there I was, naked in the woods, pressed up against a tree with my beach hunk pressing up behind me ready to skewer me with his hard man tool.

I grabbed the tree tightly and braced for his passionate onslaught. As he filled me up my own throbbing member started to drool onto the sandy ground. I relaxed and began to move with his gyrations. This hot conjunction was starting to scratch the itch I'd had for weeks. My bottom was beginning to heat up from the friction and I felt several drops of sweat hitting my spine. Just as my lust was beginning to be quenched, he retreated suddenly. I looked over my shoulder to see what was happening and I saw him running down the path back toward the beach. As I was about to call after him I turned and saw what made him take off. Heading toward me from the other direction was a man in a dark uniform and I knew immediately it was the DNR warden.

Instinctively, I reached down to pull up my pants and realized I was stark naked with nothing to cover myself with. I barely had time to decide if I should try to run before the warden was upon me. "Hold it right there," he said in a deep voice with just a hint of drawl in it. "Don't even think about going anywhere." My mouth went dry and my brain was frantically trying to come up with some excuse that would keep me from getting arrested. I looked up and got a good look at the warden noticing how his broad shoulders and chest filled out his uniform shirt to bulging proportions. His eyes were hidden behind dark glasses, but his basket was a most impressive site atop tree-trunk thighs that stretched his uniform pants. When he had stopped in front of me I had put my hands in front of my package wishing my pointer would go down, and quickly. But seeing this prime specimen of a man, AND in a uniform, there was no way my member was going to get soft anytime soon.

"Please," I started, "I don't know what came over me. I was just taking a hike and this guy grabbed me..." I rambled on. "Save your lies," the warden said, silencing me immediately. "I know what you perverts do here in the woods."

I was starting to shake, fearing that I would end up in jail, and still my piece wouldn't behave and shrink down.

"You're coming with me," he said, as he grabbed my arm and started pulling me back the way he came which was deeper into the woods. He was moving rather fast and I was trying not to step on any rocks or twigs since I was still barefoot. In no time, we exited the woods into a clearing and I saw his truck. I decided to try to reason with him. "Please, sir, I'll do anything you say if you'll let me go this time."

He stopped next to the truck and let go of my arm. "Save your breath, I'm just doing my job, keeping the area safe from lollipop lickers like you." With that, he pushed me up against his Ford truck placing my hands on the roof and telling me to spread 'em. I was crazily asking myself what was the point of frisking me since it was obvious I was naked as a jaybird and not likely to be hiding anything.

"You better hope I don't find any drugs on you," he said as he spit on his finger. My brain barely had time to register what he was implying when I felt his finger push roughly inside me. It stung a bit at first, but my back end already had been stretched only a few minutes earlier and soon his probing began to feel good. The warden was doing a thorough search and I wondered if he was trying to find my tonsils. A soft sigh escaped my lips and the warden must have heard because he shoved his finger in even deeper and said, "I figured you'd like this."

I repeated my earlier offer to do whatever he said. He abruptly pulled out his finger and turned me around. He took off his sunglasses and looked at me intensely with his dark blue eyes. "I don't normally do this," he started, "but I haven't had my crank worked on in a long time."

As he pushed me to my knees, I noticed a definite swelling in his pants. "I can take care of that problem for you," I said trying hard not to sound too excited about the prospect of wrapping my lips around this stud's private weapon. He only grunted as he started rubbing his basket. The package grew to an impressive size and I could see the zipper actually start to bulge! I put my hands on the backs of his muscular thighs, deciding to let him drive. He obliged by slowly sliding down his zipper. My eyes were transfixed as a jockstrap came into view. Little did he know that jocks are a big turn on for me. He put his hand on the back of my head and pulled my face right into his crotch. I got a good whiff of his manscent-covered jock and it sent a burst of electricity through my whole body. He rubbed my face into the lump pressing against the fabric of his jock. His whole package was now completely pushed out from his pants and I was faced with a very impressive tool set.

He took his hand away from the back of my head but I kept my face pressed against that massive bulge anyway and began to lick the slightly sweaty material. As I continued to work my tongue on his package, the warden moaned and spread his legs a little which caused one of his nuts to fall out of the jock. It was full and lightly covered with hair. I immediately took it into my mouth and gave it a good spit-shine. By now his man weapon was so hard it was pushing the jock out. My gentle tugging on his man jewel was enough to cause its twin to pop out as well. I quickly lapped up the other orb as the warden released his spear from its confinement.

The hunky warden's mantool stood out straight and proud and almost reached to my ear as I continued my ministrations to his jewels. Finally he grabbed me by the hair pulling my head away from his crotch and then suddenly pulling my mouth onto his pulsing weapon. It went down my throat fast and easy and I held it there until I needed to come up for air. He began pulling my head off and back on his tool in rapid succession. I would have thought about choking but I was enjoying being used like this. He pulled me off for a second and held my head, like he was deciding what to do next. I was surprised when he slapped me across the face with his meaty weapon. I loved it and said, "Thank you, Sir." He slapped me again and again and finally shoved the whole thing back down my throat.

While I continued bobbing up and down on his rod, he undid his pants and slid them and his jock down to his ankles. By now he was really getting into it. "Yeah, come on. Show me how much you like this," he moaned. Suddenly, he picked me up and led me around to the back of the truck. He bent me over the lowered tailgate and once more used a finger to loosen up my caboose. I wiggled my tail to let him know I was ready for his assault weapon. After slipping on a condom, he slowly pushed into me and I was surprised by his sudden gentleness. This studly warden was definitely in the driver's seat. It felt like I was a sports car and he was about to take me for a test drive. I hoped he would start out slow and then pour it on racing to the finish line. I felt the fullness of his manhood as he leaned forward and pushed the stick all the way to the floor. His increasing breath and moans sounded like an engine roaring to life and I was ready to be driven long and hard.

someone make up their mind is to tell them the facts, or at least very carefully selected facts. Or, if you want, kidnap him and bring him into a piercing shop. Usually once people are there they don't want to leave with out getting something done.

Brent, this is going to sound like a really bad, and possibly, stupid question. My boyfriend has a P.A. and I love the way it feels but I have one small problem with it. IT IS TOO BIG! He has a 00ga ring in it and the problem is that when I am giving him head the ring hits my teeth and it hurts. Will I chip my teeth if I keep sucking him off? How do I make him get a smaller one? He can't take it out on his own either. Jason

Well Jason, it seems you have a small problem. Well not really small, but I can say that, I'm the writer. Anyway, we have an obvious choice to solve your problem. Stop sucking him off and just jerk him off down your throat. Another solution is to maybe, I don't know, ask him to take it out or shrink it down so you don't hit your teeth. And finally you could just by him a piece of jewelry that he can take out on his own. Also, to answer you question on if you will chip your teeth, the answer is yes. If you are not careful you can chip your teeth on the jewelry. So make sure your gag reflex is gleefully numbed away and shove the jewelry way back there away from your teeth and you shouldn't have a problem.

Well it seems I am out of space again. I hope you have enjoyed this column and please don't forget to e-mail me at Brent@outboundwi.com. Until next month have a great month of November and have fun on Turkey day! Don't eat too much though, not many of us can handle it come spring when you take your shirt off.

My member was being pressed between my stomach and the hot metal of the tailgate. The sun was beating down on us and I could almost feel the steam starting to rise from our hot bodies. He quickly shucked off his shirt and lifted me up enough so that he could reach my nipples. He manipulated my dials like he was going to cruise this back highway for awhile. My sweaty nips slipped and slid easily under his prying fingers. My knobs quickly rose to hard points as he pulled and twisted them. I relaxed a bit and leaned back into his chest and felt a full thicket of hair. It felt soft and damp against my back and incredibly sexy. I left out a long since as he wrapped his arms around my chest in a tight embrace. Since he was a few inches taller than me, I was practically on my tip toes and still impaled on his pulsing stick.

He put his hands on my hips and slowly withdrew. Once again I was pushed against the tailgate as he reached in the bed of the truck for a bottle of water. He took a drink and then offered it to me. I sat on the tailgate and drank. The water tasted good. I hoped this was just a pit stop and that there would be several more laps to come. He took the bottle and started to pour it over his head and chest. This was just like some porn film and I started to laugh until he poured the rest of the cold water on my head. After the initial shock it felt good on my sweaty body.

I laid back in the bed of the truck and rubbed the water all over my chest and stomach.

"I didn't want my ride to get overheated," he said with a sly grin. I returned his smile and sat up. "Nothing wrong with a pit stop to water up."

"You're not going anywhere," the warden said sexily. "I've got some more driving to do." I looked down at his member which was once more standing at attention completely filling out the new rubber he managed to slip on while I wasn't watching. The man looked very hot standing there with the water dripping off his hairy chest and muscular thighs and his piece bobbing in anticipation of round two. My entrance was feeling way too empty and craved another spin.

He grabbed my legs and pulled me toward him so that I was just balanced on the edge of the tailgate and he lifted my legs to his shoulders. I opened up fully to him as he settled back into the driver's seat. Once he got a steady rhythm going again, his hands once again found my knobs and began working them. My overheated body immediately responded to his hands and the pounding force of his drive shaft. I shuddered and started saying, "Yeah, stud. Drive me to the finish line."

My hairy hunk shifted into high gear and I responded, "Open 'er up, man." He drove like a fugitive fleeing the state trooper. My heart was racing and my only thought was the intense pleasure we were giving each other. I began working myself to meet him at the finish as the warden slowed and with the roar of an engine coming out of his mouth, he pushed ahead one final time to reach the line. All I could do was shout out as I emptied my engine fluid all over my chest and abs. He was shoved all the way in and his whole body shuddered as he spilled his lube inside me, filling up that rubber.

I opened my eyes to the bright sunshine and felt my chest burning. I had trouble focusing and brought my hands up to my searing chest. As my head cleared, I sat up and realized that I was back on my towel on the beach. By the angle of the sun, I figured it must be around 4:00. I looked at my chest and was dismayed by the shade of red my skin had taken on. At first I was disappointed that my romp with the warden had only been a dream, but the sticky pool on my stomach made me think maybe it was better, not to mention, safer, this way.

Skin and Steel

By Brent

Well, here we are again enjoying the wonderful month of November. And this month I have had so many E-mails that I figured I would do a column just answering some of the questions that I get E-mailed to me. So without any further babbling here we go.

Brent, I have never gotten pierced and know very little about piercing. I want to get a genital piercing but I don't know which one is the best. What do you think is a good piercing for a person to start off with? Greg Well Greg, there are lots of different piercings for genitals and they all provide different sensations. A good piercing to start off with for a newbie to piercings would probably be a P.A. or a Frenum. These two piercings hurt the least and also provide good sexual sensations for almost everybody.

Brent, I have had my nipples pierced for a year and they have never healed. What's wrong with them? Jim

Well Jim there are a lot of things that can cause a piercing not to heal. Sometimes sleeping on them is what will cause them to not heal, other times it is because you or someone else played with them a little too much. (You nasty pig you!) Whatever is causing it, you should probably talk to your piercer so he/she can determine what is causing the problems. Also sometimes it is better to get a second opinion from another piercer. The problem is that a lot of piercers have a difficult time admitting when they screwed up a piercing. Your problems could be stemming from a piercing that was done incorrectly. In either case your best bet would be have a piercer look at your piercing.

Brent, I have heard so many different ways to take care of my piercings. I have heard sea salt, soap, and water. What is the best way to clean my piercings? John D.

Well John, piercers all over the world have different aftercare. Here is what I think of the ones that you asked about. Water doesn't clean anything so, obviously, I don't think we have to go any further than that. Sea salt is a little more difficult; sea salt has some good qualities to it that aid in the healing process. However sea salt does NOT clean anything. It will help but it should not be relied on solely for cleaning. Antibacterial soap is the best way to clean and heal your piercings. Soap has all the right ingredients to heal your piercing as well as it is very easy to use. And in my experience the "Keep It Simple Stupid" strategy applies very well.

Brent, I want my boyfriend to get a P.A. but he says that he will never go for it. How do I convince him to do it! Rich

Well Rich, I have never really been one to force people into piercings. However in my experience the best way to help
