Welcome to Ruthie's Bitchin' Kitchen

Ruthie's Bitchin' Kitchen

It's September, and with that comes a little nip in the air...and who doesn't like a little nip now and then? I certainly do, damnit! I'm thankful that summer is over (it's been a hot one), and that fall is slowly edging its way into the Rusty Nail Trailer Park. As autumn arrives I like to kick off my flip-flops and settle my keester in the kitchen! And why not? It's a great time to get cooking and start savoring all of those comfort foods we've sacrificed for bikini season. After all, we've been denying our appetites all season just to appease the two most hated words in the English language... "Pool Party."

Well, it's time to toss the Speedos aside (something I recommend all boys do upon entering my trailer), and start sucking down casseroles, creamy soups and more. That's why I wanted to take a break from answering reader mail for a month, and focus on sharing some yummy recipes perfect to say "adios summer" and "hello fall!"

Before we do that, however, I just want to thank the gang at the Milwaukee Art Museum for inviting me to participate in the Moulin MAM event last month! An insanely hot group of gals (Your Brew City Bombshells) entertained the crowd with bumps and grinds, boobies and garters. Next up, a drag pageant to name the MAM Queen of the night. Congratulations to Shawna Love for nabbing the top spot! I adored judging the pageant which was emceed to perfection by Ted Perry of FOX 6. What a night!

Well, enough about me! Let's consider a few recipes sent in by readers just like you! (In other words, they're not professional cooks...or least, not that I know of!) These no-fuss bites are perfect for fall. You'll love 'em. Trust me! Now...eat good and shut up!

WISCONSIN BEER SOUP

Mike of Shorewood sent this recipe a while back, but I've been saving it for fall. Thanks Mike! This thick and yummy soup has been a favorite of mine since you shared with me! Your free Bitchin' Kitchen T-shirt is on its way!

- 1 teaspoon butter
- 1 small onion, very finely chopped
- 1 cup beer
- 1 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- Dash garlic powder
- 2 cans (10-3/4 oz each) condensed cream of celery soup
- 3/4 pound Velveeta cubed

Melt the butter over low heat in a large saucepan. Add the onion and saute until tender. Add the remaining ingredients. Stir until the cheese is melted. Do not let the mixture come to a boil.

Ruthie's Culinary Clues

Add a dash of paprika and/or chopped parsley if you want to impress. For variety, stir in a tablespoon of salsa, a dash of hot sauce or even a handful of cooked and cubed chicken. Serve with dollops of sour cream or croutons if you'd like.

CHEESEBURGER CASSEROLE

Here's a real artery-clogger, that's sure to become a hit in your house. Thanks to Stacey for sending this meal-in-one my way. It combines the flavor of a cheeseburger with French fries...and who the hell doesn't like that combo!

- 2 pounds ground beef
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 can (4 oz) mushroom stems and pieces
- 1 can (10-3/4 oz) condensed cheddar cheese soup, undiluted
- 1 can (10-3/4 oz) condensed golden mushroom soup, undiluted
- 1 tablespoon ketchup
- 1 tablespoon mustard
- 1 package (20 oz) frozen French fries

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Meanwhile, cook the beef, onion and mushrooms in a large skillet over medium heat until meat is no longer pink. Drain. Stir in the soups, ketchup and mustard. Pour into a greased 13x9-inch baking dish that's been spritzed with cooking spray.

Set frozen fries on top of beef mixture. Bake, uncovered, for 50-60 minutes or until the fries are golden brown and the mixture is bubbling.

Ruthie's Culinary Clues

Don't like mushrooms? Leave 'em out of the recipe! Like extra cheese on your burger? Toss in a handful of shredded cheddar into the beef/soup mixture. Watching your weight? Replace the beef with ground turkey or even meat-free veggie crumbles. You can also try this hearty dish with Tater Tots...you may need to cook the casserole a bit longer, however.

Got a recipe for Ruthie? Send it to her at dearmsruthie@yahoo.com. If she publishes your dish, you'll get a free Bitchin' Kitchen T-shirt.

Cordially Yours by Michael Johnston

How did the summer of 2010 fly by so fast? Doesn't it seem like we should just be wishing our fair country a Happy Birthday? Well time does fly and here we are once again going back to the regular regime. As autumn quickly approaches, it's back to school as either teacher or pupil, or just hunkering down and letting reality slowly seep in.

With September always comes the Wisconsin AIDS Walk. This year it's set for Sunday, September 19. To get up-to-the-minute info, please go on-line: www.aidswalkwis.org or call 1-800-348-WALK. This walk raises necessary funds and awareness for the AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin (ARCW). It's never too early to sign up, form a team, or start soliciting gifts.

Once again, the Johnson and Pabst LGBT Humanity Fund will offer up a $5,000 challenge grant with the uber popular Raising the Bar, statewide Fundraiser. This "challenge" goes out to the bars – gay and/or gay-friendly to raise as much money as possible. Through the Walk and their team, or through fundraising, whichever establishment wins, with the highest amount raised, gets the additional 5 K from the uber generous Johnson and Pabst Humanity Fund.

I had a ball at the Witches Night Off Cabaret performed by the talented cast of "Wicked" proceeds going to benefit ARCW. What a great theater Cardinal Stritch has. Go figure, Cardinal Stritch's niece is Broadway legend Elaine Stritch currently wowing them in "A Little Night Music". Besides the funds gathered for the reasonable fee of $25, there was a Silent Auction of signed posters and gift baskets, etc... there were two Live Auctions and I literally had to sit on my hands for these treasures.

One was a VIP Tour, watching Elphaba be transformed green, be photographed with the Wicked Witch, as well as the entire Cast, and two tickets! So popular was this package, the powers that be decided to award it to the two top bidders at $1,000 a piece. I'm sure the two winners had a most memorable evening. I only wish my personal budget allowed!

The other major prize went for 4 K - A Walk On Role! What I wouldn't have done! But with my luck, I would have been a flying monkey and I'm terrified of heights! A lovely lady was the lucky winner and her gentleman escort very generously bid and awarded her the opportunity to be apart of the show. The auctioneer Mark David Kaplan from Chicago was flawless in getting everyone into the spirit of the auction, and putting their money where their mouth was.

A post party with cast was open for an additional $25 – at Bay Shore's Coa. Enrique and Crew made us all feel so welcome and it was great fun rubbing elbows with this high energy, fun, vibrant cast. "Wicked" is now in Minneapolis, and will return to Wisconsin, (Madison) the end of September, so if you didn't have a chance to see it here, it was sold-out most nights drive to our state capitol, you will not be disappointed.

Friday, September 24 George Watts & Son, Inc. turns 140 years old! Don't miss the Birthday Celebration at 761 North Jefferson Street, drop in and wish all the best to: Sam, Lance, Lee, Sister CashBox, and Debbie, while you select your pattern!

The Saturday Softball Beer League (SSBL) has announced their inductees for the 2010 SSBL Hall of Fame, these dedicated Wiconsinites have been elected in: Marshall Eheler, Mark Hagen, Dear Ruthie, Erika Mixdorf, Teddie Quartuch, the late Jack Schulz, Bob Walley, and Pam Woythal. These sterling citizens join a most impressive roster of Hall of Fame-rs: Suzy Arnold, Kurt Baldwin, Steve Behl, Chuck Brotz, Ron Burbey, Chuck Ciciello, Shirley Fitzpatrick, David Fre, Arnie Garcia, Mona Garcia,

Not that I usually get into the political world, but I do enjoy shopping and a very important item has been brought to my attention from Jay Reinke. Target, where all of us go to do numerous purchases has done something as of late, you may not be aware of – I know I wasn't. It seems that the Target Corporation has made a very large contribution (over $150,000.) to a very large anti-Gay, anti-progressive candidate for the Governor of Minnesota – State Rep. Tom Emmer – a far right Republican. While I'll defend anyone's personal right to make any personal contribution to any thing they believe in - - it's hard to believe a business, which makes a fortune from a very diverse population can put their resources behind any particular political candidate at all. Because when you boil it down, it is our money that has helped make Target the powerhouse it is today. Target's Board of Directors should be made aware that all of America would not be behind this candidate. Gregg Steinhafel is the CEO, let him know what you think... and think twice before shopping at Target, unless you don't mind making indirect political contributions. Here is a link: <http://pol.moveon.org/state/target/?id=22226-14523298-cY8WXwx&t=2>

I received the very fun Boulevard Theatre Newsletter and Mark Bucher has some great escape on the boards for us this month - - "Four Play" – Four Comedies of Seduction: John Patrick Shanley's "The Red Coat", "Dead Right" by Elaine Jarvik, "Sure Thing" written by: David Ives, and a Pinter play – "The Lover" by Harold Pinter. Running now through Sunday, September 5.

Besides my usual Victor's on Van Buren, which is always delicious – I got the chance to sup at Triskele's finally! Yes I know you've all been raving about this little bistro and after dining there I know why! First off they have three different selections – Vegetarian, Sea Food, and Traditional. I sampled all three and was immensely pleased!

Triskele's is a hop and a skip from the bars, located at 1801 South Third Street, a charming old tavern – which was reminiscent of the original M&M Club, prior to their 1985 facelift. Jolinda Klopp is the Chef/Co-Owner and you got give it a try! Call 414-837-5950/414-763-2843 www.triskelerestaurant.com, or e-mail: info@triskelerestaurant.com.

Rio West Cantina is another nu-find for me, even though Roland and everyone has been raving about Frank Sanchez' new emporium of fine Mexican cuisine forever it seems. Never bother with the menu, look at the daily specials and you will not be disappointed! Everyone remembers Frank was the genius behind Tacquera Azteca on the South side, now you must venture North to: 2730 North Humboldt Boulevard www.riowestcantina.com 414-562-5540. Lots of handsome, friendly, familiar faces too!

The Cream City Foundation (CCF) truly knows how to host a sensational summer soiree – "My Best Friend is Straight Party" included music, sculptures, gardens, and great people – a recipe for a wonderful time! This year's locale was the newly christened Lynden Sculpture Garden, nee Bradley Sculpture Garden. Kudos to Honorary Event Chair: Chuck Grosz and Localicious Catering and their Celebrity Servers! Enjoying the festivities were: Roger, Jason, Ron – you flatter me, by wanting to be photographed with me, Tim Clark, Joe Pabst, Jody Armata – fabu garden hat,

Dr. Beto & Tim, Gina Graham of G.E. and her daughter, beautiful Bethany, Aurora Health Care's Jerry Janis, PrideFest's very own Kate Sherry, Patrick Farrell & Jim Schroeder, Fluid's Damian & Michael, Dawn & Craig of Club Charlie's along with Chef Gabe, Rick, Tony Rhodes, Dr. Robert Starshak & Ross Draegert, Rochelle, Jeff Schmidt, DJ A, Jim Ollrogge & Cory Haywood, the Milwaukee Gay Arts Center's Paul Masterson, Film-dom's Carl Bogner, Jerry Johnson, Vala Mohr, Kathy Papineau, Susan Paynter, of course Executive Director of CCF, Maria Cadenas and Jennifer and their adorable little tot, and in spite of the mosquitoes, and humidity we persevered and had a great evening of it. Post party was at Club Charlie's and if those walls could talk!

Walter & Jon and Don and Joseph threw a most fetching Garden Party as well – in fact North Jackson Street will never be the same! Nothing could keep us from this extravaganza – be it oral surgery, falls from ladders, and stitches needing to be seen to – this party came first, and what a time...

Maybe Brady Street only got one day, this year to celebrate, but it made no matter...we had three days of fun in one! The talents of Lady Gia, Christina Chase, Randy Thompson all the way from Key West, Shauna Love and Others proved ever so glamorously that Brady Street is "For All Walks of Life" – and then some!

We started at Bosley's on Brady for real cocktails and toured, enjoying everything and everyone in sight! We ended at the Hybrid Lounge, taking in camels, paintings, drag, drinks, and again some of the most attractive faces – Collin, Matt, Jerry, Roland, Jim, Jeff, Roger, Jamie Gays... Nothing like it, anywhere ...

So glad the new places are doing so well, besides the Hybrid Lounge, there is Tempt next door to Karl Ratzsch's, here you'll find Steve, Nick, Eric, Jason, and a bevy of beautiful bartenders. Recently I was sipping there and the ever-dashing Scott, Eric, Mark & Co came in from a fundraiser at Discovery World decked out in all their collective finery.

D.I.X. (featured on our cover) is quite the place holding up First Street and National Avenue. Known still as Timers, for a short bit The General, now D.I.X. – which I have been informed stands for whatever you want it to stand for! Ask a stupid question... Cory and Elizabeth the first brother and sister team to take on Bar-dom are having fun with Raymond who is on Thursdays and Sundays, Candy, doing Saturday night prime time is Jim or as I call him for no reason at all Dan – Alzheimer's?

New Orleans Day was sure something – red beans and rice, jambalaya, wild videos of Southern Decadence and Mardi Gras, great music, Hurricanes (in the glass), shirtless, dancing on top of the bar, bartenders, and a raffle - with all the proceeds going to the struggling fisheries of New Orleans. You never know what is going to happen there... Matt Pamperin won the main raffle prize a trip for two to "The Big Easy", while Jerry Warzyn, Andy Cicero, Charlie, The Ball Game's Greg AKA Myrna, and many others were being beaded and treated!

Please patronize the bars enduring the construction obstruction –

The Ball Game and Boom/The Room greatly appreciate your patronage and your continuing support. Rumor has it that the west side of the street should be completed right after Labor Day or as you are reading this very column... we shall see.

Boom did host the debut of Falcon Exclusive SuperStar Landon Conrad quite the performer... Speaking of performers, please come see Brad the new bartender in Boom on Sundays and Mondays You won't be disappointed!

Steve Gustafson the vision and spatula behind The Pasta Tree is back on the eastside once again and looking as dazzling as ever! Everyone in the pool!

The marvelous Miss Maple whom I've had quite a time with in raising funds and fun, doing Holiday Shows, and BINGO! Among other special projects has been formally christened by Carl T. no she is not a Syrup, Leaf, Tree, or Streisand, per Godfather Carl T. – Miss Maple Veneer, she does love wood, I'm just saying...

GermanFest sure made for a fun summer festival no fear of a drought there between the two floods and the beer!

Lady Samantha rang in her regal sixth decade, touring the clubs with her man-in-waiting sharing cup cakes and fabulous stories of yesteryear. Samantha is credited with being the first Show Director at Club 219 and then La Cage!

And before that, 1000 East and J.J. Garlic's with the "Whose No Lady Review" which also featured the M&M Club's DeDe! The stories Samantha has to share – mercy! A kin to "Priscilla Queen of the Desert" meets "To Wong Foo Julie Newmar"!

That's it for this time out, remember it's the glamour, not the grammar as I remain STILL Cordially yours..

Well, here we are in September back in school and all that jazz. But there is a bonus to the summer taking its leave of Wisconsin. Fall and winter are the best times to get pierced and tattooed! So let's get to it cause I know all you filthy little bastards out there want to me to get into some down and dirty nitty gritty that will leave you wanting to use your own homemade "glue" to stick the pages of your favorite rag together. But this time I don't know if I should go that direction or take the high road. And speak about this from a purely objective and almost medical point of view. Course then I remembered who I am writing this for and was forced to drink a few shots of Jaegermeister just to get through it and not feel dirty about myself. There I feel better about venting, so let's talk about uhmm, uhmmm, hmmm. Holy shit I don't have any ideas! Guess we will just have to do another reader mail column! Besides there is nothing more I like than answering hate mail with a buzz! And now onto the first reader!

Brent,

I have been getting pierced for a long time now but every so often my piercings start to hurt again. Some of these I have had for over ten years, is it possible that they aren't healed yet?

~Steve

Well Steve what you are experiencing is actually pretty normal. It happens to me about once a month. It is usually caused by the way you sleep. While you are sleeping you are undoubtedly rolling around and laying on your piercings. The piercing really doesn't like this and thus it ends up getting a little pissy (yes that is a technical term) and then it hurts for a few days to remind you that it's pissy. The best advice I have for you is to try to tape down your piercings when you go to bed to help protect them. Thanks for the letter.

Brent,

I want to get my navel pierced but I have a history of passing out. Should I still go through with it?

~Sharon

Sharon, having a nack for passing out is never a good thing, and you can still go through with getting pierced but I would recommend that you take the following steps to help your body deal with the piercing and hopefully not pass out on you. First I would suggest that you eat a medium to large meal about 1 to 2 hours before you come in and get pierced, this will give your body the energy to deal with the piercing process. Also I would bring a soda, or other drink high in sugar, with you so that if you do feel light headed then you can drink it and it will give your body a boost of energy. And finally when you come in stay relaxed. The more stressed out you get the worse the piercing experience will be as well as the more stress you will place on your body which can make you more likely to pass out. Thanks for writing in.

Brent,

I have a slight problem with my tongue piercing. I didn't get it done by you and I am starting to wish that I did. I got it pierced about a week ago and it is crooked! It doesn't sit straight up and down in my mouth and it leans really far over to the right side of my mouth. How can I fix this?

~Not Quite Straight

Wow, NQS first and foremost I always tell people to check out their piercer thoroughly, remember to ask questions and talk to people who have had work done there. NQS part of me wants to tell you to go back to that shop and get their advice because I kind of feel like I get stuck fixing everyone else's work in this city but I won't. (Because then I would have to take a few more shots so that my conscience will shut up!) First there is nothing that you can do about a crooked piercing stay for one thing. Take it out and start over again. Sorry but there is no fix, you are going to have to take it out, wait about a week or so and then get it re-pierced.

Well, it seems that I have once again run out of time and space in this month's column. Guess we will have to wait to see that wonderful hate mail until next time. What a waste of a good buzz! And just in time, my cocktail is empty. Until next time get pierced and tattooed and don't forget to show it off! Also don't forget to register to Vote in the upcoming election(s)! I say we pick whoever has the biggest bulge and the most scandalous webpage! (Now I really do need another cocktail I think I just made myself sick!) If you have any questions or want to see a specific topic talked about, send in your grievances and bitchy hate mail to avantgarde@voyager.net just put Skin and Steel in the subject line.

ICON, Kenosha "Coming Out" ICON Photos by Paul Carbonneau

Colt Studio's stable of the hottest, most muscular men in the business is complimented by their Buckshot offshoot which offers equally gorgeous collegiate lads. In the newest Buckshot release, Rumper Room, the theme is, as ever, "boys at play."

Mario Costa and Damon Audigier are hanging out watching Brandon Lewis and Jake Lyons battling on the big screen, each with a Nintendo's Wii joystick in hand. Mario has a better idea about how to pass the time. Once Mario brings out his colossal hooded monster, it is clear no one's joystick is bigger. Mario toys with it enticingly and Damon is entirely enthralled. He quickly hops down onto his knees to pay homage. Game lad that he is, Damon downs inch after inch, then eagerly spreads his curvaceous butt cheeks. Damon's hardon is indefatigable as Mario pile-drives into him relentlessly until Damon finally erupts, tagging at his balls as shot after shot of cum coats his abdomen.

Then it is back to Brandon and Jake. The onscreen game on they are playing doesn't look all that sexy but the two can't keep their hands off their other, stiffening joystick. Here is a pairing off opposites. Brandon is the proverbial All-American frat boy: tall, good-looking, solidly built with a light dusting of hair on his chest. Jake is slight and smooth, has dark hair and a perky hooded shaft that is soon poking out of the longjohns he's wearing.

Then it is back to the game room and since Jake is losing anyways, he decides to exchange one joystick for another. Jake pulls down Brandon's shorts and engulfs his opponent's primed piston. Brandon makes a show of continuing the game but Jake's lips on his stiffie prove too distracting. A long, slow sensual body hug allows both Brandon to start fingering Jake's hole and the cameramen to capture that Jake is literally dripping with excitement. Brandon thrusts first fingers, then tongue and finally his sheathed manmeat into Jake's bowels, all the while keeping Jake positively panting. Their final position however is awkward and despite flailing away manfully, all Jake can generate is a dribble or two.

The third scene, boasting the pairing of John

Magnum and Benjamin Bradley, continues the theme of game playing but lacks the playfulness of previous scenes. One problem is that neither Bradley nor Magnum is exactly a fresh face. Bradley, one of the handsomest men in the business, has exchanged boyish charm for added muscle. A real pro, in no time he's torn off Magnum's shorts and swallowed whole the substantial truncheon which is laid out before him. Magnum in turn offers a bit of head polishing before he bends Bradley over and sinks in deep into his bottom boy's meaty flanks.

Rob Ryder and David Stone, both blond and gorgeous, have now taken over in the game room. Again, the tone is playful. David is clearly fascinated with Rob's butt, pulling down his opponent's shorts time and again under the guise of distracting him. Why wouldn't he? Rob's bubble butt perfectly framed by the red jock he's wearing under his shorts. Once the game is over, Rob wastes no time pulling down David's shorts revealing his erect ivory column refreshingly free of excessive manscaping. Rob is selfless; he strokes, caresses, tongues and swallows David's steely shaft down to the pubes mercilessly. David lavishes nearly as much attention on Rob's furry pucker, priming him for a right, proper anal assault. The pair starts doggy fashion, David sliding his long, hard cock in slow and easy. Then a switch has Rob setting down a spell, fully impaled on David's rock hard ramrod, his own erection bobbing stiffly at attention. Rob rides him like a pro, clearly not his first time at the rodeo. Rob's release is exhausting even to watch while David in turn fires off a right impressive gusher.

Other than the routine pairing of John Magnum and Benjamin Bradley, Rumper Room director Kristofer Weston has sought and for the most part found an approach that's both playful and dead sexy. In Rumper Room, Weston has proved extremely successful in bringing together performers who generate some real heat. This chemistry especially shines through in scene two as Brandon Lewis and Jake Lyons look to continue even after the camera stops rolling. Rating 1/2 of *******

Skin on Skin, Bel Ami

"No inhibitions... no condoms." So boasts this latest Bel Ami foray into bareback entertainment. Although nominally released by Lukas Ridgston, the four bareback scenes contained in Skin on Skin originated as online content on Bel Ami's highly successful website. Despite the boast of "no inhibitions" Ridgston provides relatively few surprises. As usual there are handsome boys possessing some very substantial endowments. The sex in Skin on Skin is much as fans have come to expect from Bel Ami with one exception: the young men fuck sans condom. Although lacking any stellar names, there are plenty of familiar faces here including horse-hung Trevor Yates, Manuel Rios and one of the now infamous Peters brothers: Milo. Milo's scene with Ennio Guardi possesses surprising energy and passion as well as being exceptionally well filmed. A playful ménage à trois featuring Trevor Yates, Henri Gaudin and Manuel Rios cements Rios's claim as Bel Ami's best bottom boy. all in all, Skin on Skin is another Bel Ami winner.

On the Cover....D.I.X.

D.I.X, formerly The General's, recently opened during pride weekend of 2010. The building was constructed in 1880 and has a beautiful 1904 Tigerwood Brunswick bar. Owner Cory Bartel moved back to Milwaukee from New Orleans to assist his sister Elizabeth Kujawa in operating the establishment. Hence, the tag line "Where North Meets South" and "Home of the Hurricane". The bar strives to be energetic while still maintaining a neighborhood vibe. On the weekends you can find people dancing in the back bar room while in the front patrons can mingle and watch videos. D.I.X. is the place to be for homemade bloody mary's every Sunday at 11 am. Cory and Elizabeth are avid packer fans and will be showing every game on the huge back bar video screen and catering to the patrons with free food that correlates to the city that the packers play.'
