Was Susan B. Anthony Queer as a One-Dollar Coin?

March 13, 1906 (92 years ago this month): Feminist reformer Susan B. Anthony dies in Rochester, NY

Was Susan B. Anthony a lesbian?

Susan B. Anthony, the most famous American feminist, never married, dedicated her life to women's causes, surrounded herself with female friends, and had an intense romantic friendship with Anna Dickinson, one of her colleagues. Ninety-two years ago, Anthony died holding the hand of Anna Howard Shaw, another unmarried feminist, who lived for many years with Anthony's niece. Whether Anthony was a sexless career woman or as queer as a one-dollar coin is a question that has confounded lesbian and gay historians.

Mainstream historians have amply chronicled the facts of Anthony's life. She was born in western Massachusetts in 1820 and moved as a young child with her family to upstate New York. Her Quaker parents instilled in her their beliefs in peace, social justice, and equality for all. Like many Quakers, Anthony's father and brothers were active in the anti-slavery movement. Her father owned a series of cotton mills and always refused to purchase cotton from slave plantations.

Anthony's parents also believed in education for their daughters, at a time when few girls learned to read or write. Anthony attended a Quaker academy in Philadelphia but had to leave when the Panic of 1837 bankrupted her father. She came home and at age 17 became a teacher to help support the family.

She began her activist career in the 1840s, when she started volunteering her time for the Daughters of Temperance, trying to bring public attention to the effects of male drunkenness on women and children. Though she was interested in feminism, Anthony did not attend the famous women's rights convention in Seneca Falls, New York, in 1848. It wasn't until a few years later, when she read a newspaper account of a fiery speech by suffragist Lucy Stone, that Anthony began to make the transition from temperance work to women's rights. Without the vote, she realized, women would never be able to influence public policy on other important issues, such as temperance and abolition.

For the next 50 years, Anthony worked tirelessly for the women's rights movement, crisscrossing the country on speaking engagements and appearing before Congress every year from 1869 to 1906 to lobby for a woman suffrage amendment. In addition to public speaking, she wrote extensively on women's rights and published a feminist newspaper called The Revolution with Elizabeth Cady Stanton. She and Stanton also co-authored a multi-volume work, History of Woman Suffrage, which they self-published in installments from 1881 to 1902.

Perhaps Anthony's finest hour came in 1872, in a protest that queer activists a century later might call a "zap." Attempting to test the Fourteenth Amendment, which gave suffrage to black men but not to women, Anthony, three of her sisters, and several supporters marched to the polls in Rochester, New York, and demanded ballots. They were successful (Anthony cast her vote for a straight Republican ticket), but two weeks later, Anthony was arrested and forced to stand trial. The court found her guilty and imposed a $100 fine - a huge sum in those days, when a woman's annual teaching salary was not much higher than that.

Anthony died 14 years before women achieved the vote. Ridiculed in her own time, she is today recognized as an important historical figure. A statue of her and other feminist pioneers was recently moved from the basement to the rotunda in U.S. Capitol, and she is the only woman to have her image on a U.S. coin (at least for now - the U.S. Treasury recently announced plans for a new, redesigned dollar coin). But while mainstream historians have extolled her political contributions, they have generally ignored her personal life, assuming that she had none because she never married. Queer historians, however, have uncovered the romantic friendships of Anthony and other feminists and speculated on these women as proto-lesbians.

Gay historian Jonathan Ned Katz studied Anthony's unpublished letters to Anna Dickinson, a feminist orator. "My dear Chicky Dicky Darling," Anthony wrote to Dickinson in 1868. "Now when are you coming to New York. . . I have plain quarters - at 44 Bond Street - double bed - and big enough to take you in. . . ." In another letter, Anthony encouraged Dickinson "not to marry a man" and spoke of wanting to hold her in her arms again. Were Anthony's intimate words merely the way women addressed each other at the time, or are they clues to her sexuality? Some queer historians warn against reading letters like these with twentieth-century eyes, while others maintain that any woman who makes a life with other women was a lesbian. There are lively arguments on both sides.

We'll never know what Susan and "Dicky" did in their big double bed. What is clear is that Anthony's ties with her many female friends and companions were central to her emotional life - much as they would be for a lesbian today. She was an independent woman who eschewed marriage and children, sought out and treasured the company of women, and devoted herself to pursuing a feminist social revolution. And that's about as "queer" as a nineteenth-century woman could get.

ON OUR COVER! The BESTD Story!

By Teddy

The BESTD Story is a long history of volunteers providing health care services to greater Milwaukee. In the early 70s, a group of concerned and caring people responded to the rising incidence of sexually transmitted diseases in Milwaukee and the lack of sensitive, accessible resources. Their discussions and encouragement from the Milwaukee Health Department and the Wisconsin Division of Health resulted in the founding of the BESTD Clinic in October, 1974.

Locally initially in rented quarters on east St. Paul in what is now the Third Ward Cafe and then on Farwell Avenue, the Brady East STD Clinic, Inc., moved to its present facility in 1982. The first floor rented space was modestly adapted several times and while inadequate, was fully used by willing volunteers and an increasing number of clients. In 1990, Dr. Roger Gremminger, a physician volunteer, board member and building owner, gifted his property equity to BESTD. In the years since, the assumed mortgage was paid and a systematic process of building restoration and renovation was undertaken as funds became available in the Clinic's modest budget.

Erv Uecker, obviously a key man, gave us a nickel tour. We discovered private counseling rooms, examination areas, a waiting room, reception area, etc., all sparkling clean and 'showing efficiency'. A group of ten or twelve men was meeting upstairs, all HIV positive fellas sharing concerns.

Over dinner at Mimma's, a great Italian restaurant across the street, (thanks, guys, for your hospitality) Erv and his partner of 40 years, Ross Walker, we learned BESTD Clinic is an all volunteer organization which serves 10,000 needs a year...that's 200 people a week who come to BESTD for help...and get it! Together, Erv and Ross give 100 hours per week to BESTD (they are angels!)

"We do not solicit for volunteers, they simply call and offer to help. There's a special aura about BESTD," say Erv and Ross. Doctors, nurses, lab techs, pharmacists, counselors, reception folks, housekeeping and maintenance personnel, office help -- no paychecks or perks. "The satisfaction and joy of joining with others to provide quality and professional services to all who come - without question, judgement, hesitation or charge - is simply great!"

"We are grateful to Milwaukee for providing the roots of our birth and for the nurturing and responding people who, without hesitation, offered their help in founding this unique and nationally almost one-of-a-kind health care Agency. The Volunteers, who are BESTD Clinic, pledge their continuing professional, sensitive and caring service to ALL who come to us for help and it is done willingly and without charge."

Do you need an HIV test? Do you need someone to talk with about your HIV status or sexually transmitted disease problem?

Call BESTD (414) 272-2144 and be assured of help!

Psychic Thoughts by Susan Reed

The ability to see into the future has been in existence since the beginning of time.
The prophets or seers guided people throughout history. This talent or ability is inherited from one generation to another.
(My mother is also psychic.) To a degree,
we all have this ability but often this ability is undeveloped. This is due to the fact that we fear it, or perhaps are too skeptic to work at it.

My abilities became apparent when, at age five, I had a near death, out-of-body experience. I was in a serious accident and was unconscious for six days. During that time, I found myself floating over my body. The pain from the injuries was gone.
The

bright light was around me, but my purpose on earth wasn't yet completed. I went back into my body, and a day later, my sixth birthday, I opened my eyes to see a huge birthday cake, of which could have none.

From that time on I could see things, thus I was clairvoyant. This is defined in Webster's Dictionary as "the supposed ability to perceive things not in sight." This perception is either through actually seeing events through visions or dreams. Intuition is also a strong part of clairvoyance.

We all have been in the position where we said, "I knew that was going to happen!" This is coming from dormant clair-voyance. Your intuition was active but we all tend to dismiss those feelings as an "Oh, well situation."

There have been several instances throughout my career where my clairvoyance has been beneficial to those close to me. I saw a car accident coming for someone close to me. I warned him, but he didn't believe it could or would happen to him.
Well, four cars later, he now listens to me.

My parents were selling a home and I saw trouble with the water that would hinder the sale. My mother didn't pick up on this but had the water tested. A new well had to be installed before the closing could take place.

This may instill fear in some individuals
when it should be the contrary. Forewarned is forearmed. Steps can be taken to enhance the positive and eliminate the negative.

I received a phone call from a gal who was AWOL from the Navy. She couldn't tolerate what was going on and she asked for a reading.
She fled from Virginia to Florida. I saw that she had to return to Virginia, contact the congressman from the area and all would be cleared up. She followed my advice.
There was no court martial. She received an honorable discharge, went to college on the GI Bill and will be graduating in May as a Special Ed teacher. Had she kept running, she would have lost it all. She now has a new lease on life. All of this came as a relief to her and that she was able to connect with a psychic who was also gay.

QUEST Welcomes New Gay Owned/Operated
Business to Green Bay
"Pop" in at Memories By Mickeal

Right down the street from Napalese on South Broadway in Green Bay (actually, 3 blocks north at 211 So. Broadway), there's a new little gay-owned & operated shop called Memories By Mickeal.....and it's literally filled with just that - memories!

Mick Becker, the owner, showed us around; it's a great place to shop for you or your special someone! Stuffed balloons, live & silk flowers, crafts, gifts & gift baskets, balloons for all occasions, stained glass, ceramics, party supplies! We suggest you pop in, too!

Mick's business delivers and like several other shops in the area, you'll find his people walking through the bars selling roses and carnations to bar patrons happy to grab a flower to give the special someone they are with.

They are currently open Mon. thru Sat. 8-6. Mick also noted he is looking for additional staff.

We've said it before and we'll repeat it now, we believe it makes good sense to choose to support gay owned and gay friendly businesses. Quest (this magazine) is an example of what can be done with a little ambition and alot of determination.

In the past we noted little stores opened in Eau Clair and other places, but alas, many are short lived due to lack of support from the community.

Recently there has been a spurt of new little businesses in several of Wisconsin's smaller communities. Memories By Mickeal is the latest.

NAP's Sales next door to Napalese Lounge is another business that opened several months ago. Ann and Nancy who also own Napalese feature new and previously owned items for sale in the shop. A few weeks ago Back In Black, a Minneapolis based chain of shops located inside gay bars opened up in Diversions and is looking to open in other places in Wisconsin later this year. They feature leather goods and gifts.

Gay & Lesbian Wedding Expo in Chicago!

"Birds do it, bees do it" and gays and lesbians are beginning to ask "Why don't we do it?" Many gays & lesbians are deciding to hold formal ceremonies to celebrate the union of their lives. So many, in fact, that companies involved in weddings and all that they entail are eyeing the market.

FOCUS On A Future Without AIDS (AIDS Benefit Calendar) Contributes $1000.00 to ARCW

*For the past three years, Quest has featured photography from the AIDS Benefit Calendar on many of our covers during the winter months as a way to promote the sale of the calendar.
We are thrilled to learn many Wisconsin
people purchased
these calendars and now $1000.00 has been sent to ARCW in Quest's name as a donation to be used
for direct client services.*

Four more AIDS
/HIV agencies received contributions from the proceeds of the sale of the 1998 AIDS
Benefit Calendar recently: Pacto Latino AIDS Organization, which serves the needs of Spanish speaking residents in San Diego; the food bank of the Philadelphia
Community Health Alternatives AIDS

Task Force; client service programs of the AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin, and Food and Friends, a food bank and meal delivery program in Washington, D.C.

More than $400,000
has been contributed since the first calendar in 1990.

The 11 x 22 month-at-
a-glance calendar features
thirteen black and white photographic images including powerful and beautiful images of men
alone and men with men - sensual and erotic, but non-sexual -- all celebrating the beauty of men and men together.

PrideFest News!

Tongue Tingles Needed to Tempt the Toughest of Tastebuds

In response to the community's request for more variety of good, PrideFest is seeking food vendors who are able to fill the food orders. Requests have been made for Thai, Indian, Asian, Cajun, Soul Food, Greek, deli sandwiches, fresh bread and pastries, as well as standard festival type food. The greatest request to date has been for more vegetarian items on the menu.

"We have come to realize that PrideFest-managed food booths can supply only a limited menu," said Del Slowik, food coordinator. "As we've grown, so has the demand for greater variety and this year we hope to attract different food vendors to fill in some of the existing menu gaps."

FMI (414) 272-3378.

On the Lookout for Entertainers, Too!

Musicians, comedians, magicians, singers, dancers, and all other entertainers are encouraged to submit their promotional materials for consideration for this year's PrideFest celebration.

Entertainment coordinators Jill Clark and Charles Daniels are seeking new and past performers to bring hours of variety to the annual festival, scheduled for August 28-30 at the Henry W. Maier Festival Park (Summerfest grounds) along Milwaukee's lakefront.

Entertainers are asked to submit promotional materials a.s.a.p. to PrideFest Entertainment, PO Box 93852, Milwaukee, WI 53203. FMI (414) 272-3378.

Green Bay---AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin (ARCW) is excited to announce the results of its 7th Annual Have A Heart dinner and silent auction. More than $22,000 was raised to help with AIDS education, free anonymous testing and direct client services.

Items that drew the most interest included two first-class round trip tickets to anywhere in the contiguous 48 states from United Airlines, an autographed picture from Muhammad Ali, "Heart Art" donated by Maya Angelou and an autographed Green Bay Packers football.

"This event serves two important purposes," said Stan Kocos, ARCW Regional Director. "It raises much needed funds to a club. Bars, unlike the clubs, are in the business to make money. It would be nice if they share the clubs' goals of comradery & brotherhood, but it's not a requirement.

from Green Bay/Argonauts Someone had fun at Buddies this past week. Chili, a stuffed panda bear owned by Rick L (Mr. Northwoods) was kidnapped and held for ransom. The kidnapers wanted $100 in ransom money to be given to Argonauts Charities. The note read "Be a Buddy, Bartenders and..." At this point I think they have raised the ransom, plus more than they expected. Will keep you posted as Rick has threatened to call in the FBI—The Federal Bear Investigation. --AOW/US

Milwaukee/no longer rumor

Sat., May 23, a bus trip to Chicago for International Mr. Leather parties - - Leaving noonish from The 1100 Club. Beside the leather mart at the Congress Hotel, the bus will make the rounds between the popular bars before returning to Milwaukee in the wee hours of Sunday - -The usual refreshments, etc. - - Expect the price to be about $20-$25. -- TFG about Men of Rubber (MR) club nite - - The party will be over by the time you read this and I feel a bit remiss for not letting you know last issue. Sorry about that.

The first I knew of this event was about a week prior to the last issue's dead line. At that time it was nothing more than a letter by Rich Brooks (owner of MR) asking if there was enough interest in doing one. My notes to MR members, R.B. and the Milwaukee Eagle asking for confirmation went unanswered until just this week.

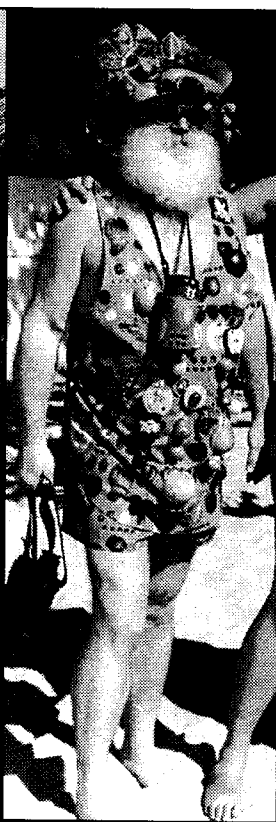

I didn't pursue it for what appeared to be lack of interest. In retrospect, I should have at least given you a heads up on it. Maybe next time.

Put this on your must list and spread the word, Gus of the Milwaukee Eagle has open "Gus' Mexican Cantina" in the Third Street Pier building (corner of Old World 3rd and Highland Aves). You know, the place were you catch the Edelweiss dinner cruises and sorta kitty-corner (SE) from the Eagle.

Anyway the food and service is great, prices right and there is valet parking in the lot just north of the building. A few of our brothers also work there. BTY - unless you have reservations, don't go just before a Bucks - Lakers game.

LEATHER/FETISH

by Papa Joe

I'm getting back in the swing of things. The holidays are over, Lee is in London, Argentina in two weeks and in April, Taiwan (I think). Looking for a boy type Daddy sitter which means I am out a little later than usual. Any volunteers, just give a call and I will interview.

Had a fun time at the Firebirds and Oberons Leather Pride joint club nite. It always brings out a nice crowd when two clubs do an event together. Clubs included Rodeo Riders of Chicago, Black Guard of Minneapolis as well as the Castaways of Milwaukee who moved to a bit. For you guys who go back that far, you know Carl did drag as Allison Brooks. His funniest stuff was when he did Ernestine (phone operator) take-offs.

Sunday afternoons, it is the M & M club, where Rita has resumed assisting the one and only Eminence Boo Boo at the high service. It is always a good time, but with Rita back, it is great. Welcome back girl, we missed you.

From Milwaukee/Oberons Mar. 21, beer bust, raffle and lot of fun at the club night with Knights of Leather at The 1100 Club 10 till 1 AM.

Apr. 4, Bar Crawl and joint club night with ONYX at the Cell Block. The bus leaves from The 1100 Club at 7: 30 PM & returns at 5:30 AM. While in Chicago, the bus will drop off and pick up at Touche'. Tickets are $25 and available from any OBERON

Remember, Dress code at Cell Block is enforced -- Jerry/Oberons from Milwaukee/1100 Club Mar. 17, Tue., St. Patrick's Day, 12 Noon until after later. Free Irish dinner featuring corned beef with cabbage. Donations accepted and will be given to Camp Heartland, a camp for Children with AIDS.

Apr. 12., Easter Sunday. Free Dinner fea- turing ham, leg of lamb, beef with all the trimmings. Again, all donations go to Camp Heartland

Jun. 21., Mike's birthday as well as Mike and Gamma's 25th anniversary.

From: Madison/Unicorns The Unicorns of Madison march into MARCH with their first 1998 RUT PARTY, to be held at The MAD BAR, 150 S. Blair St., Madison. So, all you enlisted and enlightened men, fall in line at 10 PM, Sat., Mar 7, a $5 admission will get you beer for the evening, a chance to party with hot men and to enjoy the frolics. A dress code will be in effect -- so gentlemen -- put on your leathers, army fatigues, uniforms (any kind, any type), or just take off your shirt. This is a fund raiser to benefit the AIDS Support Network--Emergency Fund. --Gus/UOM

Milwaukee/Castaways MC The Wisconsin Mr. Daddy/Boy contest will be held 9:30 PM Sat., June 6 at the Milwaukee Eagle. A cocktail party at S.W.S. Docks from 5:30-8 with a spaghetti dinner. The Firebirds and Oberons will do the after hours party.

Sunday 2 PM, the Argonauts of WI., and Castaways M.C. hold a charity auction at The 1100 Club Sat., July 18. Castaways bar crawl to Chicago. --Bob/CMC

Leather Fest '98, Cell Block The 3rd Annual Leather Fest Weekend took place in Chicago on February 20-22. The weekend was well attended from leather enthusiasts all across the U.S. I spied several title holders including Joe Morris, Mr. MidAtlantic Leather 1995 and Tony Mills, Mr. MidAtlantic Leather 1998. I'm surprised I can give any report of the weekend, because I was so preoccupied drooling over those guys!

The competition was close, but leather-clad Chicago, Wayne Hussey nabbed the title. "I'd like to thank all my supporters in Chicago and throughout the Midwest. I'm looking forward to the 'Big 20,'" the new Mr. Cell Block said. The "Big 20" Wayne refers to is the International Mr. Leather Contest which will be celebrating its 20th Anniversary in May in Chicago.

Lets wish Wayne the best on his trek for the title! -- Randy/TFG

From Chicago/Rodeo Riders Mr. Rodeo Rider Leatherman Contest, Saturday, March 14t, 1998 10 PM @ TouchE. 1st prize $200.00 and entry to the Mr. IML contest and hotel fees, 2d $100.00, 3d $50.00. Anyone can enter, no charge for entry. Applications available at TouchE, from any Rodeo Rider or E mail rodeoman@earthlink.net. --Jim/RR

Jim sent a follow up note saying the contest is open to all Leather Men --meaning not just cowboy/rodeo types that some seem to think. But believe me, I like cowboy and bull rider types.

If you haven't heard, they honored me by inviting me to Emcee the event -- I accepted with two conditions. The first being that Joseph (Chuck R's cute blond polish boy) holds my cue cards and 2nd, Papa Smurf doesn't sit under any lights unless his hat is on.

from Chicago/ONYX Mid-American Leatherman & Leatherwoman contest 1998 Sat., March 14, 9pm at the Cell Block. The contest open to gay & lesbian men & women sponsored by ONYX & CLAW (Chicago leather alliance of women). Winners will be sent to American leatherman & leatherwoman contest '98 in Washington, DC in April.

Sun, 5-9pm. by a Victory Beer Bust a benefit for the winners will be at The Cell Block --Mufasa/ONYX

You will note that the above two Chicago clubs are each hosting a contest on the same night at a different venue.

I had a problem with this, but as it turns out, both clubs locked in the dates last fall and moving turned out to be just too much hassle.

I have no problem when bars compete with each other, unless said competition fucks over
