PAST/OUT

BY DAVID BIANCO

The heyday of lesbian pulp novels.

Though a time of great repression for lesbians and gay men, the 1950s and early 1960s were actually a heyday for lesbian novels in the United States. Pulp fiction - cheap paperbacks printed on coarse paper - proved to be what one historian has called the "survival literature" of lesbians during that era.

After World War II, the rapid development of the technology for producing mass-market paperbacks led to a blossoming of lesbian-themed fiction. It started in 1950, when Fawcett Books made the move to paperback publishing with its imprint, Gold Medal Books. The imprint included many genres of fiction, such as mysteries and westerns, which were sold in bus stations, drugstores, and even supermarkets for a quarter or slightly more. The common denominator of all the Gold Medal titles was sex, sex, and more sex - including lesbian sex.

The decision to produce lesbian pulps was fueled first and foremost by marketing concerns, not as a service to lesbians. In fact, many publishers didn't think of lesbians as the market for these books; they assumed straight men would buy them for titillation. Consequently, many of the lesbian pulps published during that era were soft-core porn written by men for men (sometimes pseudonymously), though lesbians avidly read them, too. However, the pulp novels that lesbians cherished most tended to be those actually written by lesbians.

In 1950, Gold Medal's first lesbian title, Women's Barracks, appeared, written by a lesbian using the name Tereska Torres. A front-cover blurb pronounced it "the frank autobiography of a French soldier girl." The cover art was a lurid tease, with three young servicewomen lounging on their bunks in various states of undress. Women's Barracks was specifically condemned by the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1952. Though congressmen had read it privately, none of them would quote from it publicly, because it was too "pornographic." Of course, the sexual content of most of these novels was quite muted.

Sexy covers and suggestive tag lines like those on Torres's novel quickly became the trademark of lesbian pulp fiction. "A story once told in whispers now frankly, honestly written," read the teaser of Spring Fire (1952), a pulp written by lesbian Vin Packer. The covers may have been designed to lure male readers, but they also signaled "lesbian" to many young women who felt isolated and alone, unable to claim their lesbianism openly for fear of reprisal.

Though the cover art of pulp novels always depicted ultra-feminine women, the "real" lesbians in the stories were often tomboys or "bad girls" who seduced innocent straight women. Reflecting psychological theories of the time, lesbian pulp writers often presented lesbianism as the result of a trauma, such as rape or incest. At the end, the innocent straight woman almost always returned to a "normal" life with a man. If the lesbian protagonist wasn't herself converted to heterosexuality, she usually became an alcoholic, lost her job, or committed suicide. Publishers insisted on these kinds of "moral" endings, condemning lesbian sexuality even while exploiting it. In this regard, lesbian pulps followed the formula of torment and sacrifice that Radclyffe Hall established in The Well of Loneliness in 1928.

In contrast, The Price of Salt was unusual among lesbian pulps. Authored by acclaimed suspense writer Patricia Highsmith (Strangers on a Train) under the pseudonym Claire Morgan, it is commonly believed to be the first lesbian novel with a happy ending. As Highsmith, herself a lesbian, put it 30 years later, the lovers "came out alive at the end and with a fair amount of hope for a happy future." Highsmith's novel sold an incredible 1 million copies in the United States during the single year of 1953, the same year the Kinsey report on women's sexuality appeared. "Claire Morgan" was inundated with fan letters from lesbians and gay men, thanking her for the book's positive ending.

Like Highsmith, other lesbian pulp fiction writers used pseudonyms to protect their identities. Ann Bannon, creator of the Beebo Brinker series, was really Ann Thayer, a married woman and college professor. Thayer, like many of her characters, led a double life, leaving her husband and children on the weekend to frequent lesbian bars in Greenwich Village. In the early 1980s, when Naiad Press republished the entire Beebo series, its creator finally came out as the author of the novels.

For millions of lesbians in the 1950s, buying a pulp novel could be a courageous public act, one that expressed a desire to explore or claim a lesbian identity in a time of repression. Lesbians hid the books under their mattresses or stashed them in closets, but they also circulated them and discussed them, creating an underground community of lesbian readers. Though the themes were dark and the outlook bleak, lesbian pulp novels played a vital role in the development of lesbian identity before Stonewall.

Gay Gala Guernsey Contest Picks a Winner

Saturday, August 7 nearly the same time Possum Queen is decided in Milwaukee, Green Bay will decide who is the next Guernsey winner. The event will take place at Buddies in Green Bay. ## Rainbow Over Wisconsin Picnic A Success!

This year's Rainbow Over Wisconsin Pride picnic was a resounding success again this year. This was definitely the best year for vendor turnout. More booths were set up than in the past giving people more choices to shop or obtain community information. The local entertainers provided their musical talents and some new games were added to entertain.

Estimated attendance based on distribution of writs bands for minors and adults was over 521 people. For the first time in years, Tap Beer was served which cost less and saved money for the picnic goer. The only downside seemed to be the construction on highway 57 which obviously didn't keep many people away from this annual event in Northeastern Wisconsin.

Each year the members of ROW present awards to community members. This year Glenn Paschen and Todd West from Rascals received a community leadership award. Ken Kujava and Dean Dayton received a community service award for their participation in AIDS Charities over the past years. Finally, Ken Sann (Katrina K) and Jeff Jennings each received an award for their involvement in the community as entertainers, specifically including their efforts involving Entertainers Against AIDS which they are members of.

While Northeast Wisconsin does not have a parade of its own as does PrideFest and Madison's Pride Weekend, we do show our pride in other ways. Rainbow Over Wisconsin is dedicated to making money available to groups and organizations who need funds for the good work they do for our community. ROW has no other purpose than this, but it is a very important one and the group is always in need of help especially in manpower. If you would like to become involved with ROW, please contact the organization by writing to Rainbow Over Wisconsin, 702 E. Wisconsin Avenue, Appleton, Wisconsin 54911.

Milwaukee Common Council OKs Registry for Same-Sex Couples; Mayor Norquist Signed

By a 10-7 vote last week, Milwaukee's Common Council agreed to create a voluntary registry for same-sex couples; Mayor Norquist signed it almost immediately. It is a local milestone in gay rights!

The new law takes effect Sept. 1.

The measure, sponsored by Ald. Mike D'Amato, will be administered by the City Clerk. Couples would pay a $30 fee to be registered and must show some form of financial unity, such as a joint bank account.

PrideFest Shuttle Bus Info!

For the third consecutive year, PrideFest shuttle busses will be in operation; this year from noon to 'til 2:00 am, and on Sunday from noon to 11 pm.

Bus sponsors (pick-up/drop off locations) are listed: Dish, 235 S. 2nd St.; Kathy's Nut Hut, 1500 W. Scott; M&M Club, 124 N. Water; Switch, 124 W. National; Ballgame, 196 S. 2nd St.; This Is It, 418 E. Wells; Triangle, 135 E. National and Woody's, 1579 S. 2nd St.

Of particular interest to out-of-towners,

the bus shuttles are ideal for impromptu bar crawls. Says PrideFest operations manager Suzaan Krueger, "It's a great way to get around to some of our local businesses without worrying about getting lost or finding parking!"

PrideFest Visitors Have A $1.3 Million Impact on Milwaukee Economy

A survey by INFO SERVE Information and Research at last year's PrideFest, which was attended by nearly 15,000 people, indicates the fest goers spent $629,000 on the festival grounds alone, and another $260,000 outside the gates, while the indirect impact is calculated at $754,000.

So, the message is clear....tell the cashiers that "PrideFest sent us."

Switch (Milw.) Grand Opening Party to be Cream City Foundation Fundraiser

Saluting the Mix Mechanic of Paradise Garage

With the dance scene as hot as the weather these days, West End Records has come up with a perfect summer gift: a CD with nine remastered classics from the legendary Paradise Garage.

In the late 70s and into the 80s, The Garage down at 84 King St. was one of the city's dance magnets, much of the musical credit belonged to its resident deejay, Larry Levan. It's Levan's mixes that defined the scene, and that give this CD its punch.

Tracks include the classic "Don't Wait Me Wait" by Levan's own group, the New York Citi Peech Boys. There's "Is It All Over My Face" by Loose Joints, which Frankie Crocker picked up for WBLS, and four Taana Gardner Tunes, including "Heartbeat" and "When You Touch Me."

The music is remastered beautifully and the notes give a nice track-by-track commentary including, for instance, the night Gardner knocked the place out by doing "Heartbeat" live in a $1,500 sequined red chiffon dress.

The funny thing about dance music is that some people think it began and ended with the short-lived 'disco era.' In fact, people have always danced to popular music. The Garage was open from 1976 to 1987, and Levan was the deejay to the end, a peer of such hip-hop pioneers as Grandmaster Flash and Kool Herc and an influence on countless deejays who followed.

A RUN - - A Biker Run Laconia, New Hampshire, Biker Rally: This rally like the ones in Sturgis and Daytona, gathers a lot of guys on bikes who are into bikes (and bikers) and all that goes with the smell of gas and exhaust fumes, spark plugs, grease and the roar of engines. Rallies tend to attract a select breed of biker and the majority of the bikes are Harleys. The trip to and from the host city is always an important part of the adventure and, like their str8 counterparts, Gay bikers also experience the joy of biking and the comradery that goes with the ride and the gathering.

But to the Gay Biker, it can be frustrating, for many think they are the only Gay biker and have to walk the str8 walk. That is, until they learn of The Great Lakes Harley Riders. It is an international network of Gay Harley Men www.fp.premier1.net/hdrider, who do nothing more than allow Gay Harley owners to contact each other.

At long last, these major rallies can become a gathering and meeting spot for the Gay Bikers from all over the world. To give you a feel of how it works, I am reproducing a letter from a WI GLHRider to a NH GLHRider

From: Jack/Great Lakes Harley Riders
Hi, Jim.

It was great meeting you and Steve in Manchester (NH). Maybe next time we can do some riding. Will spread the word about Riders MC (a Gay bike club in MA) to anyone I run into from your area.

Attached are some photos of us and also my NH group. It was a real good trip for me. Unfortunately, two of my group (Bill and the other Jack) were struck by an auto on their way home in the St. Louis area. They had just dropped Bill's bike off at his home shop for service and were both on Jack's bike. Bike is drivable. Jack spent two days in the hospital and was released this morning. Bill is roughed up with plenty of road rash. An elderly woman ran a stop sign complete with flashing lights. What a lousy way to end an otherwise fine trip.

Keep up the good work in maintaining your group. And keep in touch with the rest of us on the GLHR roster. It's nice to know there are some really fine men out there to meet when we travel to different parts of the country.

--Jack/GLHR

HAPPY HAPPY JOI JOI: AN INTERVIEW WITH OUT LESBIAN DIVA JOI CARDWELL BY JESS LITTLEMAN

It's official—summer's in full swing. Skip the fact the calendar and weather confirm this simple observation, I'm talking about the wave of summer dance music we're enjoying right now. Riding the crest this year is Logic Record's sec-the nation's dance clubs with performance dates. Locally, you might have caught Cardwell at her Milwaukee Pridefest appearance last year. Feeling it was "...important to get in control of [her] career..." she started No-Mad, and has contributed to a single to each volume of Logic Pride.

When I asked her how she got involved in this project, she mentioned she had worked with Logic Record's Jimmy Smith previously ("It's such a small community in New York!" Joi exclaimed) and when asked for a contribution to the first volume, she presented them with "A n y w a y ."

ond compilation of club tracks, Logic Pride Vol. 2, and smack dab in the middle of it all is New York artist Joi Cardwell. Her contribution to the CD, "Last Chance for Love" is also her first single release for her upcoming album No-Mad Industries label release Deliverance. I'm not the only one who's taken notice: "Last Chance..." has just debuted on Billboard's Dance Charts with a bullet.

Who is Joi Cardwell? I recently talked to her on the phone from her office at No-Mad—the label she created for herself and other artists—and discovered she is no Janet-Come-Lately. Cardwell started in the early nineties a number of projects before recording her debut solo album entitled Live, recorded at the famous House of Music. Full of soulful, acid jazz-inspired music, the single "The World is Full of Trouble" was remixed and became a danceclub hit. Working with Eight Ball Records, she followed up with a collection of more dance-oriented tracks, and toured Extremely happy with the results, Logic and Cardwell continued the association her current single release on Volume Two.

What can we expect from Joi Cardwell in the near future? With the official release of the "Last Chance..." single and the companion album Deliverance, Cardwell wants to tour again, this time performing in larger venues with a live band. "There's nothing like it," Joi said, "It's a unique experience every night performing with a band." Look for a music video right before September release of the album, and her website joicardwell.com coming online sometime in August. In the meantime, make sure to request Joi Cardwell and the other artists on Logic Pride Volume Two the next time you're Out and About.

—Joi Cardwell can be contacted directly by email: no-mad@worldnet.att.net, and Jess Littleman can be contacted online through his email address jess\_littleman@hotmail.com.

LEATHER/FETISH

by Papa Joe

The Joint Run at the farm in Hilbert - Aug. 20-22 - The Argonauts of Wisconsin and The Castaways M.C. It is not too late to get your applications in. I am not sure you know this, but you can run for Mr. North Woods. This contest goes back quite a ways, probably 15 years; some hot men vie for the title.

overnight, call Cha Cha to get a reduced rate at the hotel across the street.

Put this high on your must do list. For those of you who are new to the "leather" scene, here is a great opportunity to meet a lot on nice people.

This is the same weekend the Windy City Rodeo is being held at The Lake County Fairgrounds, which is something like two exits south of the WI/IL border (and a little W). So no matter which event is highest on your list, you can easily do both.

In the 'I got mail' dep't: A Leather Club Run
Dear Papa Joe,

My partner and I are new to the leather scene, and I am wondering about this weekend (The Oberons Anniversary Run). Could you please explain about it?

--Anonymous

Dear _____:

Where do I start??. The word RUN is associated with motorcycle groups, where it means a ride. It came about long ago when the bikers would "run" to one place or another for a party or event. Like "Let's run out to the Laconia Rally". Since M.C. clubs are the forefathers of Gay Leather Clubs, it was only natural that the word stuck and became a noun

"Wisconsin United" - "Leather Fetish" event Saturday afternoon, August 28, at the Clubhouse Filling Station, Kenosha, located just E of I 94 and north of Exit 144, which is just north of the WI/IL border. Can't miss it, it is the house with the mouse on the top.

The original party is an idea of Joe, Wisconsin's Boy 1997 who, with Andrew, our current Wisconsin Mr. Leatherman, have developed it into a full afternoon with lots to do. The official name of this event has not reached me yet, but United and Leather Fetish sorta tells it all. It is hoped to be the first of many annual get-togethers for the "Leather Fetish Community". They are very successful in other parts of the country.

It is my understanding that groups (clubs, associations), bars and others relating to the community, will be invited to get in on the action. If you want to make contact with Joe, contact him at your favorite watering hole or at Bootboy2U@aol.com.

Based on the messages I recieved, there will be a beer and soda bust, raffles, grilled food and full bar available, games, demos (Joe has his eye on a tree limb) and nature hikes along the stream in the woods. The several acre park-like site lends itself well for a picnic type event. Cha Cha and staff are going out of their way to make sure your every need is anticipated. If you want to stay rather than a verb. There are anniversary runs, outdoor runs, in-town runs, joint runs. Leather club runs implies the event is the major gathering of that group.

What happens at a leather run? It is a party where the host club does its best to show you a good time, treat you to good food and usually show off their city or countryside. You go to them to meet folks who share similar interests and to catch up with folks you met on previous runs.

What about "Hanky Panky"? At most of these run, there usually are discreet accommodations for those who want to "mess" around. If there is hanky panky, it will be by mutual consent. You needn't worry that you will be attacked by men with whips and chains waiting there to prey on you. It just ain't gonna happen -- Damn it!

The use of recreational drugs and the like are usually frowned upon; so if you are into same, find your own discreet accommodations.

What should I worry about and will I be out of place if I am not a club member?? Nothing, and, No, you will not. Nothing will happen to you that you don't want to happen -- With luck and some effort on your part, that which you want to happen will.

Clubs are always looking for new members and friends. They want and thrive on new support. Therefore, you are an important part of the gathering. I can't think of a club or club member who would not welcome you and
