New CD Releases Reviewed

Lookin' 4 Love CD-Maxi, by Lucrezia (Five Tracks, Logic Records, www.LOGIC3000.com)

Two new releases for all you GLF's (Good Little Fairies) to peruse:

First, we have the Italian Diva (no, not Za!) Lucrezia with her song Lookin' 4 Love. It's already getting a ton of club play--DJ Tony at MadTown's Club 5 has it in his playlists--and some radio cover, so by the time we go to press, I'm sure you've already heard it once or twice. It's definitely dance, with heavy trance and atmosphere influences. The production quality on all of the remixes are first rate, and worth the purchase price. But deejays beware: This CD-Maxi will be in high demand for personal mixes for the queens in the upcoming pageants.

Mighty Real: A Tribute to Sylvester by Djoza Branner (Twelve Tracks, American Composers Forum, Innova 530)

Next, we've got Mighty Real: A Tribute to Sylvester. Gender Provocateur Djoza Branner has brought together eleven of the late disco diva's tracks plus one original into a compilation album. Branner has taken some liberties with the covers--a much more nineties/eclectic feel, more mellow than Sylvester, but most tracks still have a hard seventies disco beat. Pluses: "I Tried to Forget You" and "Here Is My Love" made the front of my pants sticky. Minuses: Even though Branner makes a valiant effort, only Sylvester could ever own "You Make Me Feel (Mighty Real)" and "Do You Wanna Funk". Purists may disagree, but this comp could easily find a way into your "Tribute" section.

ZA's VideoBar--Green Bay, WI VJ's Carl, Sean & Za

1. Alice DeeJay....."Better Off Alone"

Tell Trinity!

Quote du Jour:

Life's a Banquet and Some poor Son of Bitches are Starving to Death. Aunti Mame

Hello Trinity,
I'm writing to you because I'm eighteen years old, gay and live in a small town. So, there's not a lot for me to do in the gay world. It seems that if you're gay, not of drinking age or live in a big city then you're considered a freak of nature. Sometimes, I think there's no place for me! What would you do in my shoes?
Yours, Under Age

Hello Under Age,
I haven't been under age in... ages. However, I can tell you what I did (legally) when I was your age to meet people. Especially today you can; 1. Get on the internet. 2. Throw parties and invite other gay people. 3. Get a job at a place where gay people frequently go. 4. Find a gay youth group in your community or even better, 5. Call 1-800-96-YOUTH. They're a national gay youth hotline. They'll absolutely help you find stuff in your area. Doing some of these things will definitely help you meet others like yourself. Being young and gay has great value! Now get to work!
Big, big hugs, Trinity

Hi there Miss Trinity,
Before I start I have to tell you that I love seeing you sing on stage. You inspire me! I would love to sing too, but I'm dreadfully afraid of being on stage. Do you have any advise to help me get on stage.
Yours, Introverted Singer

Hi there Introverted Singer,
Believe it or not many performers including Stiesand and Garland had an awful time being on stage. I myself used to have that problem. But one night, three years ago I was hired to do a show for a hundred people, in a hall. When I arrived, wearing a dress fit for the Grammy's, it ended up being at a private house party for an audience of eleven stoned naked hippies. Needless to say I was outraged, livid, fit to be tied! But the show had to go on. I was so upset that I sang, totally forgetting that I was always afraid to sing. And three years later, I am singing at a pride festival in R.I. for five thousand people. Anyway, keep singing in front of people until it hurts and eventually the pain will get numb.
Kisses, Trinity

Dear Trinity,
Finally, I'm thinking of coming out as a gay man to my family, whom I live with in a very homophobic town. Before I do, have you got any supportive words of wisdom?
Yours, Coming Out

Dear Coming Out,
Walk towards the light Carol Ann. Congratulations! Coming out usually is a shocker at first but years later they always say, "I never had a problem with it. You're crazy!" So prepare with:

TRINITY'S TOP TEN TIPS FOR COMING OUT

1. Have a support system before you say the holy words!
2. Tell them you have cancer then say, "Just kidding I'm gay."
3. Get them to visit gay places.
4. Feel pride in knowing that it only gets better, after it gets worse!
5. Make sure no one is standing near a cliff when you tell them.
6. Leave a few hints prior to the big surprise. Like this article!
7. Get them to watch Will and Grace.
8. Leave yourself a little financial independence before you tell them.
9. Be understanding towards their new situation!
10. And lastly, hold your ground!

Dearest Trinity,
My best girlfriend just started dating this great girl. She's so great that I'm falling in love with her. I dream about being with her all the time. How do I stop myself?
Best Friend Troubles

Dearest Best Friend Troubles,
Danger! Danger! You can't go there! You can't let these feelings manifest! You will lose your best girlfriend and possibly your self respect. But you can't shut out your feeling either. What you CAN do is dream, but no obsessing. For now, you must make yourself busy by dating, meeting other women and acting cool around this new couple. If I could grab you and say, "Snap out of it!" I would. These two may not date forever and at that point you can start shooting cupid's arrow. So, if they stop dating I give you the right to ask her out. But first let a twelfth night pass. Please!

Kisses, Trinity

Drag It Out Of Me!

By Miss Lilly White

Grrrrrrr! Can you believe it... the national Miss USofA pageant is complete, and we all made it back without killing each other! Of course, there is always lots of drama to dish about. When you throw 500 drag queens and their dancers and hairdressers into one hotel; so hold on to your eyelashes, girls!

I would like to start out by acknowledging Ken from Za's/Java's, and just say that we girls will surely miss him. He always greeted us with a smile, treated us with utmost respect, and always went out of his way to help us when we performed at Za's.

Saturday, the 20th of May, was the day we all packed up our goods, fabric, glue, tweezers and rhinestones, and headed for the Lone Star state to battle it out with 62 queens for the title of Miss Gay USofA. Our representatives from the Dairy state are: the talented Kyllie West, and the beautiful Justine D'Zire (on the cover of this issue of Quest), Kyllie's first runner-up. Armed with 6 back-up dancers, 2 hairdressers and a few helpers, we were all ready for the weeklong battle. It was a smooth check-in at the airport, other than our flight being cancelled, and having our entire trip re-routed, and Miss West being searched at the metal detector with her sewing machine. She had a "little" last minute sewing to finish up. Something she couldn't do at home before we left, incurred by the hail storm, blowing the power source off her building the Thursday before. We just let the dogs sniff her over, and watched.

The first leg of our trip was uneventful, other than one of Kyllie's dancers almost missing a connecting flight. However, the flight from St. Louis proved to be utterly fabulous, due to the wonderous hospitality inflicted upon us by top notch stewardess Ruth, and her thrilling bartendress skills! She whipped us into a frenzy with her bloody marys and champagne chasers, and wouldn't even think of letting us leave without a simply worshipful care package for the week. RUTH ROCKS!! As we stumbled into the Dallas airport, hauled our luggage to the "retro" Dallas Grand Hotel, and checked in within minutes {1:00AM}, we were ready to set the town on fire...NOT!

After a lovely day off, Monday morning the girls met to find out they're placement.

After 3 long days of preliminary pageant nites, we were all more than ready for the final night of competition, when they announced the top 12. Unfortunately, only one girl from WI made the top 12, the fabulous Neely O'Hara, who would have probably burnt the place down if they would have placed her 13th again this year. She wowed the crowd with a production number from the Honeymooners TV show and had the "Drag Kings" from Minneapolis as her back-up dancers. Neely placed 8th overall, the highest ever placed by a girl from WI. Congratulations, Neely! The winner of the Miss USofA Pageant, was Chevelle Brooks, Miss Texas, a big girl with some big talent, "about 300 lbs. of it". First runner-up was Whitney Paige; second runner-up was the beautiful Michelle DuPree (you may have spotted her in the Robert DeNiro film, "Flawless"; third runner-up was Crystal Chambers, and fourth runner up went to Cherry Pie. All in all, a tremendously pleasant experience was had by all. Some more than others...I could tell you all the juicy bits right now about who found trade and who was kissing who on the sundeck at 4:00 in the morning, but I'm not at liberty to divulge that kind of information at this time...So Sorry.

Upon arriving back in Milwaukee, I was shocked and surprised to find that my friend, Big Mama herself, had finally won herself a crown. "Ladies and gentlemen, the newly crowned Miss Brew City America... Victoria Kelly!" Apparently, it also came as quite a shock to Tabitha Stevens, her first runner-up. Victoria was a shoe-in, after blowing everyone away with her interpretation of Sunset Boulevard, "you go girl!" Congratulations also to Tabby, and Jasmine Roberts first and second runners-up. That was the last preliminary pageant for the America sytem. Now look for all the girls at the Miss WI America Pageant, being held at Capers/Illusions, in Kenosha this July. "Get ready, girls, July is coming right around the corner!"

Sunday, at Club 219 was the big

Memorial Party, and the place was packed wall to wall with cute boys. I guess those great drink specials that they run now on Sundays was the trick on getting the place filled to the rafters! It has been so lovely playing to a packed house lately.

Well, PrideFest is this weekend, and as you all know, queens have been preparing for months, putting together all of thier best ideas and costumes into motion to let you have it once again! This year's PrideFest should be one to remember! Don't forget the Miss PrideFest Pageant, and, of course, my Review on the Main Stage on Saturday nite immediately following the fireworks. Hope to see everyone there! That's all for now, girls! Please feel free to e-mail me with any questions, comments, or a little bit of dish, at my website... www.misslilly-white.com. I'll be back in two weeks with all the grease...Stay fierce, girls!!

Thank You...

I'd like to take this time to thank everyone who helped me achieve my goal of placing Top Twelve at the Miss Gay USofA pageant. Many of you have been there from the start; others have travelled half way across the country to help me. All of you have become special friends that I treasure. My Eighth Place finish this year is because of you, your hard work and dedication. There is not room enough to mention everyone who has helped me

LEATHER/FETISH

by Papa Joe

Congratulations to International Mr. Leather 2000, Mike Taylor of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mike also competed in & won Tri-State Leather and Heartland Leather titles this past year.

I.M.L. 2000, again it was the same old stuff, hot men and boys in all kinds of kinky gear, being socialable and having a good time. Enough eye candy to see one thru the next decade. After going to this event year after year, it should get boring, but each year I find myself looking forward to it. Hot stuff -- Maynard!

Lee and I tend to go down on Saturday when the major push is on. Lots of fresh scenery; if you stand in one place, everyone will pass by. Have to admit, more than a few looked like they were ridden hard and put away wet. YES!!

Tony Mills sends his love and best wishes to all of those he met in Milwaukee a winter ago. Durk Dahner was hoping his fellow Great Lake Harley Riders would make a point to stop by his Tom of Finland booth to say "hi". Durk, president of TOF Foundation, is one hell of a hot man, and on Saturday he outdid himself in leather grubbs. WOOF!!

Speaking of GLHRiders, Tony, Mr. Paddock 2000 (Phoenix, AZ) and IML contestant is a double woof man.

AND would you believe, there, in all his splendor, Al K (Argonaut of WI) was being major daddy, protector, all around nice guy (aka piggie) to Woodie and Randie (Drummer Boy 2000 and American Leather 2000). All three were there to support Mr. Northwoods, Ric S.

The weather was OK in Chi, but on the way back it rained (again) as we hit the Wis. border -- and it stayed raining thru Sunday.

The weekend saw the S.S.B.L. Tournament rained out, first time in 20 plus years. I happened across the Minnesota Eagle Team at M&M on Sunday; nice bunch of guys who didn't get to play, ball that is. But, by the looks of things, they had fun. Hell, those cuties would have fun wherever they went.

Memorial Day was a very nice day here in Milwaukee - AT LASST. The sun was bright and the weather warm enough to go riding. A group of guys (sans Todd & David, who were still strung out - maybe up - due to IML), did a 3+ hour ride and then a cookout at the clubhouse.

From: Great Lakes Brotherhood of boys:

Thanks to you, we did it! We estimated around 125 boys, Daddies. Sirs showed up the three hours of Saturday's boy gathering 2000. I want to express my heartfelt thanks for blowing my mind with your presence there. I also owe a big thanks to Daddy Jim, who provided the pizza, much to my surprise, boy Allen for your kind words, boy mickie for us finally meeting, boy woodie and boy randie for your support and boy ray and kevin from the DC boys for coming and giving me your support. I wish I had the time to meet more of you and hope to do so soon! All you guys are truly wonderful and we showed a great boy presence at IML, so much so that we are getting a bigger room next year and are now an "Official" IML event!!!!

---boy jarret/GL Bpfb

Thank you, jarret, you're the one who did it and if I helped, I am grateful. I would not have missed stopping by to meet you and the other boys. You need to be patted on the back for taking the initiative for organizing the gathering. You have started what could become a great event; keep it up.

And, a brief note to you Daddys, Masters & Sirs -- make sure you check this party out.

PRIDEFEST - This weekend, 9th - 11th
The Castaways MC will be manning a beer pod on the festival grounds all weekend. They look forward to you stopping by to say 'howdy'. Then, Saturday evening, June 10, the 3 clubs - Atons of Minneapolis, Oberons of Milwaukee, and the Castaways MC are hosting a joint club night, 10 pm @ The 1100 Club. Play party to follow. This will be the place to 'hang out' 'til sunup Sunday AM. BNot to worry, you can sleep in.

FYI, recommended hotels are Hotel Wisconsin & the Downtown Best Western.

Castaways MC Announce a change for the raffle of a weekend package to the Joint Run (Castaways MC & Argonauts of WI) in Hilbert, WI, Aug. 18-20. Value of this package is $100. The last opportunity to pick a chance will Sunday, July 2, at their regular Sunday Afternoon Beer bust. The price of a ticket is $1.00 each.

---Cory/CastawaysM.C.

HISTORIC $100,000 GIFT GIVEN TO ARCW

ARCW has announced it's received an extraordinary $100,000 gift which will be used as a challenge grant to match each new or increased dollar given to ARCW's Giving for Life campaign.

The donor, Bill Reinicker of Madison, began his relationship with ARCW ten years ago when his partner, Tom Schlagenhaft, became seriously ill with AIDS.

"ARCW provided wonderful, caring services to Tom while supporting me as his caregiver, right until the end of Tom's life," Reinicker said. "I'm proud to support ARCW's work throughout the state and in my local community," he added.

"Thanks to Bill's compassionate generosity, any new or increased gifts will be matched dollar for dollar, essentially doubling new donations," said Jim Schleif, ARCW director of development. "Bill exemplifies all that is wonderful about giving: to sustain the memory of a loved one; to keep AIDS services strong; to motivate others to give from the heart."

Want to help?!!! FMI, call Jim Schleif (414) 225-1580.

DINE OUT FOR LIFE - Green Bay and Appleton Area Restaurants Help People with AIDS Thursday, June 29

Helping people living with HIV/AIDS couldn't be easier. That's what Green Bay and Appleton area residents will discover on Thursday, June 29, when the AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin and Camp Heartland present Dining Out for Life.

Determined to help make a difference in the lives of local area residents living with HIV/AIDS, thirteen Green Bay and Appleton restaurants will generously donate 25% of their June 29 lunch and dinner revenue to benefit ARCW and Camp Heartland.

"We are grateful to the steadfast support Northeast Wisconsin residents show for the HIV and AIDS cause, and we expect thousands to join the community event by 'Dining Out for Life' at one of their favorite participating restaurants," said Doug Nelson, ARCW executive director.

Participating restaurants, listed alphabetically, are as follows: Angelina, 229 N. Washington, GBay; Black Forest, 401 E. Green Bay St., Shawano; Coconut Grille, 123 S. Washington, GBay; Diamond Dave's Taco Co., 2162 Port Plaza Mall, GBay;

Personal profiles of the candidates will be published soon.

GAYS & LESBIANS FIND A PLACE AROUND THE CAMPFIRE

A gathering of men and women, strangers to one another just hours before, sits around a blazing campfire singing familiar songs---not "Michael Row the Boat" or "Kum ba yah," but "What I Did for Love" and "Cabaret." In the morning, after trying their skill on the low ropes, a group of female campers kicks back in the hot tub, discussing softball and politics. Later in the week, the camp talent show features drag acts and a reading of lesbian erotica. And when it finally comes time to say goodbye, a male camper confesses to a crush on his counselor--and gets a date!

Welcome to "Camp" Camp, a summer camp in Kezar Falls, Maine, for gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender adults. More than 100 campers from Canada and the U.S. are expected to participate in "Camp" Camp's fourth season, which runs from August 21-27.

Movie Review: A Luv Tale

A Luv Tale A Bizarre Production, released by Wolfe Video
Color 45 minutes

Looking to cozy up with someone and watch a movie that's sensual and entertaining? Want passion, not porn? Tired of all gay movies being guy gay movies? Try A Luv Tale, a short film about two women finding love with each other.

Our two main characters, magazine editor Candace (Michele Lamar Richards, whom you may remember as Whitney Houston's sister in The Bodyguard) and fashion photographer Taylor (Gina Rivera, the seamstress in Camp fave Showgirls) meet on a model shoot. To say sparks fly would discredit the scene--it was more of a smolder, a slow dance between a very grounded younger woman and a business exec awaking from a decade-old rut.

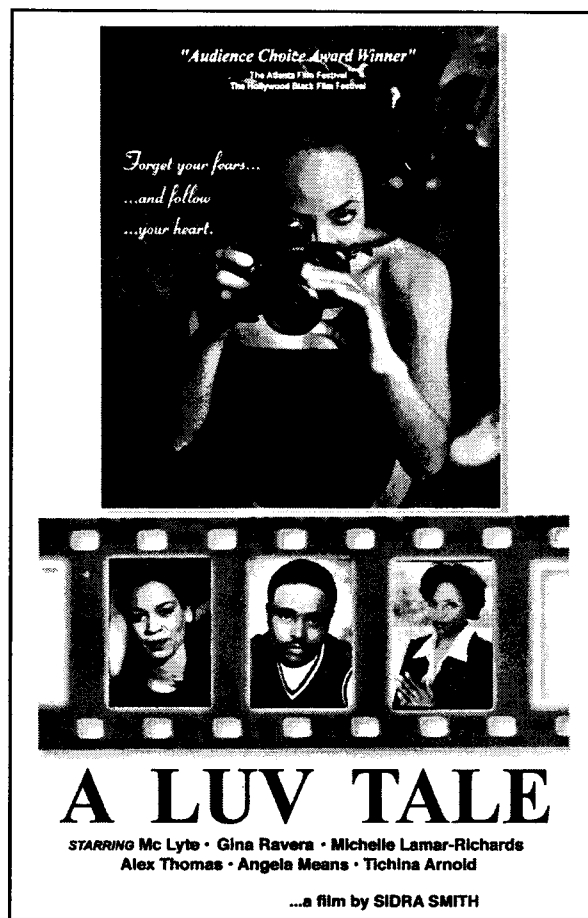

Candace and Taylor meet for some dining and wining, much to the chagrin of Taylor's on-her-way-out love interest, a super-model named Tammy (Angela Means). Candace, meanwhile, is finally pushed beyond her limit with longtime beau/boss George (Michael Koylar). His lack of interest in working both in the relationship and the workplace makes her realize she needs to look for something else.

The moment finally comes when our heroines expose their feelings for each other, another very tactile, very fluid, very erotic scene. It exposes a lot of depth without exposing a lot of skin. There are still some obstacles for our new couple, such as a two-year photo shoot, a midlife career change, and a number of friends who need a lot of convincing (look for a cameo by MC Lyte). But in the end, love prevails in A Luv Tale.

If you're looking for some late night semi-hard (pun intended) lesbo porn, pay your fucking cable bill and tune into Skinemax. This film is a silk shirt, not g-string and garters. The female leads' performances are at the same time passionate and subtle, with the actors letting the emotion color the scenes. On a personal level, I'd like to thank the casting director, because--Damn!--say what you want, but those women are fine!

A Luv Tale, like most film festival winners, have qualities different from major studio releases. It's only about forty five minutes (half as long as most features), uses a natural sound technique (notice how the voices fade in & out when the actor's heads turn), and has an editing style that might seem quirky or sparse. And please, do yourself a favor and ignore the last ten seconds before the credits roll. Other than that, pull out a bottle of your favorite red wine, light some candles, make a late night call to whomever is the sexiest on your speed dial, and watch A Luv Tale.

PAST/OUT

BY DAVID BIANCO

June 9, 1891 (109 years ago this week)
Composer Cole Porter is born in Peru,
Indiana.

Who is Cole Porter?

One of the most popular composers of the first half of the 20th century, Cole Porter wrote more than 800 songs, many of which are considered standards and have been recorded by dozens of artists. But many of Porter's fans still don't know that the composer was a closeted gay man who wrote romantic classics such as "You'd Be So Nice to Come Home to" and "In the Still of the Night" for his male lovers.

Porter was born in Peru, Ind., in 1891. His mother was from the wealthy Cole family; her father made his fortune in timber, coal, and agriculture. In contrast, Porter's father was an unassuming druggist who played guitar and piano. Young Porter showed his own musical talents at an early age. At the Marion Conservatory of Music, he gave violin recitals dressed in velvet and lace suits. But he actually preferred the piano and also occasionally played accompaniment to the silent films shown at the local theater.

Benefiting from his family fortune, Porter traveled east with his upright piano to boarding school and then to Yale, where he composed the university's football songs and concentrated on extracurricular dramatic and singing clubs rather than on academic studies.

Porter's wealthy grandfather disapproved of his interest in music and, at his urging, Porter entered Harvard Law School. But according to legend, the dean of the law school heard Porter play piano and told him, "Don't waste your time - get busy and study music." Porter left Harvard after a year and made his way to New York.

Theatrical producer Elisabeth Marbury (who was a lesbian and Oscar Wilde's agent) had seen an early Porter musical revue in New Haven and gave him his first chance on Broadway. But See America First, which opened in March 1916, closed after just 15 performances. A disillusioned Porter served briefly in France during World War I, then opted to stay on in Europe. An inheritance from his family allowed Porter to enjoy an elegant life hobnobbing with the rich and titled.

While living in Paris, Porter met Linda Lee Thomas, a divorced American socialite eight years his senior, who may have been a lesbian. Porter and Thomas wed in 1919, and their marriage, according to their intimates, was largely companionate. As one friend put it, it was "an arrangement of great coziness and deep friendship" that left Porter free to repeatedly fall in love with men.

Like his Broadway debut, Porter's other early musicals were short-lived and routinely panned by critics. He had almost given up when Irving Berlin pulled some strings and got Porter another shot at Broadway in 1928. Paris included the instantly popular "Let's Do It." The coyly provocative lyrics - "Birds do it, bees do it, Even educated fleas do it" - established Porter's signature style of writing with wit and playful naughtiness. The Porters left Europe for New York, where Porter created a string of hit Broadway shows, featuring songs such as "Night and Day" and "Easy to Love."

In 1935, Porter went to Hollywood to write music for the movies. His homosexuality had long been an "open secret," but in California he began leading a more flamboyantly gay life, to Thomas' dismay. One time she threatened to divorce him, but they reconciled and he "behaved" again. But throughout their marriage, Porter had both long-term lovers and short flings, and his all-male pool parties were rivaled only by the equally gay soirees of director George Cukor. Not surprisingly, many of Porter's songs had gender-neutral lyrics and could be sung by either women or men. "You'd Be So Nice to Come Home to," which became an anthem for servicemen during World War II, was actually written for Nelson Barclift, a choreographer.

Porter was so popular that in 1945 Hollywood made a movie about his life. Night and Day was a distortion that made Cole and Linda's "romance" its central theme. Porter happily approved the final script because, as he put it, "None of it's true."

Porter's musical popularity continued to grow. Even a painful riding accident in 1937, which crushed his leg and resulted in several operations, didn't keep him from writing his greatest Broadway musicals in the 1940s and 1950s: Kiss Me, Kate,

Can-Can, and Silk Stockings. The movies High Society (1956) - a musical version of The Philadelphia Story - and Les Girls (1957) were both written after Linda's death and were Porter's last major creative accomplishments.

In 1958, Porter's leg was amputated at the knee. Increasingly alcoholic, he spent his last years as a virtual recluse. He died on October 15, 1964, after surgery for a kidney stone. His doctor didn't realize he was alcoholic, and Porter succumbed to delirium tremens from the lack of alcohol in his blood. His remains were sent back to Indiana with a missive from an admiring mortician: "We congratulate you. You are receiving the body of Cole Porter."

Since Kelly works for Quest, (He helps do the printing and bindery every issue) I guess we'll have to run both pictures of him...

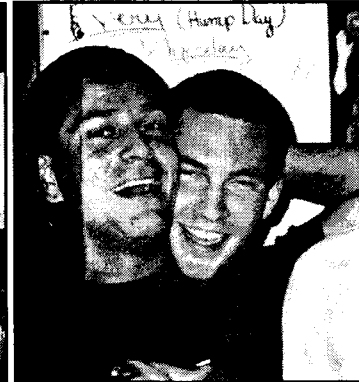

Each year Club Xpress has two hot parties, the "Black Party" (use your imagination) and the "White Party" (which I can't attend because I'm no longer a virgin like Bill Poppo, and therefore can't wear white!

Quest Photo Gallery

This issue we feature the White Party at Club Xpress in Escanaba, MI plus photos from the Hot Tub party, Cher Birthday Party & Anniversary at My Place, La Crosse. Wish we had your pictures in Quest? Sure you do! We can't be everywhere to get pictures but you can mail or e-mail them to Quest and we'll print as many as there's room for!

They weren't lying when they said they grow 'em cute out west...

Now I gotta go out and get me one of those hot tubs...

If I Could Turn Back Time...

OK, I think we figured out Cher isn't exactly a "real girl", but at least she's still younger than the famous singer we all love...
