DavidE's Dish... I have some great CD's to tell you about this week, but first I have a confession to make. Honey child I actually partied myself out. Yes, I broke down and took a "cleansing" weekend up in Door County. I tried to book my regular room at the Betty Ford, but that bitch Liza scooped up my suite before you could say New York, New York. She's so damn greedy. Anyway, since Betty Ford wasn't an option, I decided to head up north to that fabulous peninsula, Door County. I spent an entire weekend at the Chanticleer Guest House communing with nature. Darrin and Bryon, the owners, were fabulous hosts and damn cute if you ask me. Love those Northern boys! Plus the home made chocolate chip cookies were to die for. If you're in need of a relaxing get-a-way give those two chaps a call, you won't regret it. I did refrain from hopping into my party-mobile and cruising down to Za's Saturday night. It was tough but I stuck to my guns. Sorry Za but this party boy had to ground himself but now that I am fully refreshed - LET THE FESTIVITIES BEGIN. DJ DavidE is back and ready to go...

Enough about my Zen experience in Door County. Onto the music! "Global Groove" is a monthly dance compilation released by Centaur Music, which is turning the dance world on its ear. Each month a new Global Groove title is released showcasing a top DJ such as "Edge" mixed by Mark Anthony, "Thrill" mixed by Roland Belmares, and the brand new "Dignity" mixed by my fave, David Knapp. Anyway, these CDs are top notch and are a great way to expand your club music library. The new "Dignity" title has an unbelievable track listing and should be released in early July. We're talking Kim Tell Trinity!

Quote du Jour:
Face your fear and watch it disappear.

Ex French boyfriend

Hello Trinity,
I've been going to gay clubs for years. I feel very safe as a gay man there. But it seems like the smoke is worse than ever. Where else am I going to meet the man of my dreams. Any advise? Thanks,
Smoke Free Guy

Hello Smoke Free Guy,
Cigarette smoke does seem like "smoker's revenge" to those of us who like clubs but don't like the smoke. In California there are "Outside Smoking Only" gay club but not every gay man lives in California. As for meeting the man of your dreams, "ONLY" in a club. No, no, no, honey! You must RAISE your consciousness as to where we meet one another, especially where we meet the man of our dreams! Don't allow that old gay thought pattern to limit your modern gaydar (radar) ability. Lastly, try the internet or a dating service. It can prove to be an adventurous night in cyber-town! The more adventurous you are in finding a man, the more adventurous the man of your dreams will be as well. Go get 'em, Trinity

My dear Trinity,
Life is awful! My boyfriend unexpectedly died last month. I lost my job. And now my rent's going way up. I often think about checking out of life, altogether! Why would God or The Powers That Be make life so f#@ing awful. --Discouraged.

My dear Discouraged,
Life, the big banquet between birth and death often falls short for many of us. I myself, see life like a heartbeat monitor. When the beat is up everything looks like a, "Night at the Oscars" But when the beat is down life looks like a tour through a holocaust museum. The trick is riding the down beat KNOWING that the upbeat will, absolutely return. That's life! Life's about drowning and being saved, loosing, and then recreating ourselves. If we keep getting scared and burned then we've lived! If we try to live unscared & unburned then we've wasted an entire life on being careful, being right, being numb! And when we get to the gates of... wherever, there flashes a sign before us saying, "You're boring! Try again! We only accept people who truly challenged life!" But for now, you must rest assured that the heartbeat monitor will rise to the celebration of your life once again. For now, repeat five times a day, "I trust the process of life." Kisses, Trinity

Dear Trinity,
I'm not a gay man but I often get looked at and approached by gay men. What can I do to stop it?
Sincerely, Straight

Dear Straight,
We should all have such problems! I asked a few of my non-gay friends what they do. And this is what they said. "Why stop it. It's a compliment. "Anytime a gay guy flirts with me I flirt back for a while, then I tell him I'm straight. It's cool!" "I'm an attractive woman. It happens! I love it." Anyhow, if you absolutely feel the need to stop these culturally enlightened beings from wanting you to taste the apple from the garden of good and evil then.... stop putting so much moose in your hair, stop dressing so impeccably and stop being so polite, and if that doesn't work then wear a wedding ring, pooka beads or those tacky K-Mart flip flops. --Kisses, Trinity

Hello Trinity,
My partner and I have now had a third person enter our relationship. We are all new to the "threesome" way of life. Do you have any advise?

Hello Threesome,
I suppose the name Trinity does implies that I have some insight into things relating to threes. Unfortunately, MTV and VH1 specials are the only place where I've seen threesome relationships. You are one of many, but still in the minority thus you must create the rules as you go along. Look for books on the subject or even better be the one who writes, The First Book on Threesomes. But even better here are:

TRINITY'S TOP TEN TIPS FOR HAVING A THREESOME RELATIONSHIP

1. A king size bed & a spare room is a must.
2. Make friends (just friends) with other threesome couples.
3. Honor each other's secrets and/or privacy! Adults have secrets!
4. Always cook extra.
5. Accept that all of your family may not understand.
6. Every three months sit down and renegotiate the rules.
7. Take vacations as well as personal time alone.
8. Play Trinity's CD's while making love. Available on my web site.
9. Stay in the moment. The future is not here yet.
10. Take plenty of notes for our, I mean... your book.

Don't let your questions go unanswered!

Drag It Out Of Me!

By Miss Lilly White

Grrrrrrl, Here we are again, Miss Ann, and can I just tell you how thankful I am that PrideFest is over? I can now get a good night's sleep. I would like to thank everyone who supported me with my show - "Lily White's Pridefest Review" - for the 5th successful year in a row. Everyone deserves a lot of credit for donating their time and talents. I'd especially like to thank "my boys," David Warren, Brett Gordon, Thomas Dewing and David Witt for the long hard hours that they volunteer dancing, choreographing, mixing music, building web sites, doing hair and beading dresses for little or no compensation. You don't know how much it means to me. OK, let's dish!

Let's start with the exciting time had at Dixi Diamond's benefit show, held in Green Bay on Friday, the 2nd of June. Apparently a fabulous state titleholder, who shall remain nameless, did her best to thoroughly put Miss Diamond through as much drama as possible... drunk as a skunk, things falling out of her suitcase, and evening gown wigs being thrown into the back of the mini-van. Do I need to say any more? How rude! It's a good thing that Debby Fox was along for security. I'm sure she kept everyone on their best behavior after she gave the Emerald City a little taste of her flawless Stevie Nicks impersonation. Did you ever find that stolen purse, Miss Klein?"

The next day saw the exciting Miss Central USofA pageant in Wausau. Four wondrous contestants made for a real nail biter of a contest. Miss Dee Dee Winters did a little Karen Carpenter routine for her talent. Unfortunately, she was not "On top of the World" when it came time to pin on the crown. The winner of the Miss Central USofA pageant was Tiffany Monique, 2nd went to Dee Dee Winters, 3rd to Be Be Fox, and pulling up the rear was newcomer Monique Devine. "Is that Nova Devine's drag daughter?" A grand time was had by all, and the people in Wausau were as always, lovely hosts.

That brings us to the PrideFest weekend. Can I just say, "Where were all the drag shows this year?" Usually there are enough shows to choke a horse. This year, were there only 2? Well, the 2 that we did have were fabulous, and packed full of amazing entertainers and mobs of people spectating. The Miss PrideFest Pageant was a real treat, but, alas, only two contestants don't make for a real humdinger of a pageant. They may have been warned in advance of the dressing room situation, and that may be the reason for poor turnout. Honestly, 12 queens in a trailer the size of a pick-up truck is not cute! The winner of the contest was the hometown favorite Nova Devine, working her Cruella Deville number one more time. First runner-up went to the lovely Ellen Diamond of Manitowoc. I have heard her sing and, girl, she has got some pipes! I did see Miss Kenya pulling her own suitcase around the grounds that day. "Not very diva-like girl!" I guess there wasn't any police cars for her to hail at PrideFest.

My annual PrideFest Revue was a resounding success. I would love to thank you all for the wonderfully kind e-mails and phone messages that I have received. The performers that I chose this year are truly deserving of the credit. They all pulled it all out, and gave the audience a simply awesome show! Thank you to Justine D'Zire, Dee Dee Winters, Kylie West, Debby Fox, DuWanna Moore, Christina Chase, Desiree Triumph, Phaedra Free, Dixi Diamonds, Kandi Barr, Nova Devine and everyone else that I'm sure I'm forgetting. I would also like to thank Chris Klein for the wonderful offer of the same time slot for next year. Saturday night was a great time!

The following Thursday we all gathered at the Club 219 for the annual Miss Cosmopolitan Pageant, yet another USofA prelim contest. The turnout was excellent with 5 lovely girls grasping for the title. Miss Tina Renea was trashy mouthed, as always, but a great hostess for the evening's festivities. The audience was on edge wondering who would be crowned and completely shocked when Kandi Barr was called out as 2nd Runner-up. Miss Joey Black was placed 1st runner-up, "I guess they missed all that back hair during evening gown" and the newly crowned Miss Cosmopolitan is the towering goddess Ellen Diamond. Congratulations to all the girls!

Friday night, I had a most wonderful evening with the La Cage girls, as their special guest. Rudy "Betty Boo" Di Angelo and Christina Chase were gorgeous, as usual. It was a super audience and I have to say Miss Jackie's hairdo never looked better! Those girls can really party! I can't even remember how many shots I had, but before I knew it I was giving some "straight" guy a ride home from Timers, the bar across the street. Thanks again, girls, for a memorable occasion!

Miss Nova and her husband Mario threw a fabulous party at the Club 219, celebrating their 8 years of wedded bliss. The food was delicious, and the drag show that ensued was to go down in the record books. There haven't been that many queens crammed in a dressing room since Stonewall. The highlight of the evening was the oldest living drag queen, 82 year-old, Rosie Doolittle. After her rousing rendition of Marlena Dietrich's most memorable tune, she made it up to the top of the back staircase, only to utter "Nova! Nova!" and pass out, toppling head over heels down to the bottom of the steps. Whiskey Eudoxa was the first girl on the scene, to help untangle Miss Doolittle from all the phone wires that she got caught up in on her downward flight. She was trussed up like a Thanksgiving Day Butterball! We were all thankful that she recovered gracefully with all her wits about her, and no broken hip.

Congratulations to the new owner of the America Pageant System, Jim, from the Rainbow Room in Madison! I know that his great love of female impersonation will make him a wonderful promoter! Look for a new date and location for the upcoming State Pageant in the near future.

This week saw the return of Ida Slapser in Wisconsin. Unfortunately, she and her old man, only had time enough to pick up Ida's belongings. They apparently made it just in time before Allanah Powers and Phaedra Free had a tag sale with Ida's possessions. Too bad girls, that Jeff Stryker dildo would have brought in a pretty penny!

That's all for now, girls! Please feel free to e-mail me with any questions, comments, or a little bit of dish, at my web site, www.misslilywhite.com. I'll be back in two weeks with all the grease...Stay fierce, girls!!

On the Cover: BESTD Clinic's Kevin Lynch

Out of all of the interviews I've conducted over the past few years, no one has deserved the title "All this and looks, too!" more than Kevin Lynch. For starters, to say he is actively involved with the BESTD Clinic in Milwaukee would be like saying drag queens sometimes wear makeup onstage. Involved with the clinic since he was seventeen years old, Kevin currently volunteers his time as a member of the Board of Directors, a manager of the Outreach Services Program, and still finds time to do HIV counselling. Even working as a loan officer, he still finds time to attend MATC part-time. (Is this energy available in liquid caplet form? Hello!)

Kevin credits his involvement within the community to his longtime friend & roommate Ray. (Pull out your old issues, of Quest—he was a cover model a few years back!) "He gave me tons of support," Kevin said to me in a recent interview, his eyes lit with energy. "I would probably be a shallow club kid if it weren't for him."

We then talked about his involvement with BESTD. Working out of the Brady Street Location on the east side of Milwaukee, he mentioned some of the services his clinic offers to the public. Along with anonymous testing, BESTD Clinic also provides other HIV services, including support groups, an Early Intervention Program to keep those who have tested positive healthier longer, and social activities for HIV+ clients and their partners. The clinic also provides Hepatitis A & B testing & inoculation programs. They are specifically targeting the gay male population, a group who sometimes gets overlooked.

The clinic is probably best known for their outreach & onsite HIV testing at various locations in the metro area. Here's how it works: Volunteers like Kevin set up at local popular clubs in the area and provide anonymous testing to the whomever seeks it. They use the newer "mouthpiece" method by collecting a sample from under your tongue instead of by blood sample. The results are then turned around back to the client in one to two weeks. Although they prefer a client to receive the results at Brady Street, they bring the test results back to the outreach locations for up to a year.

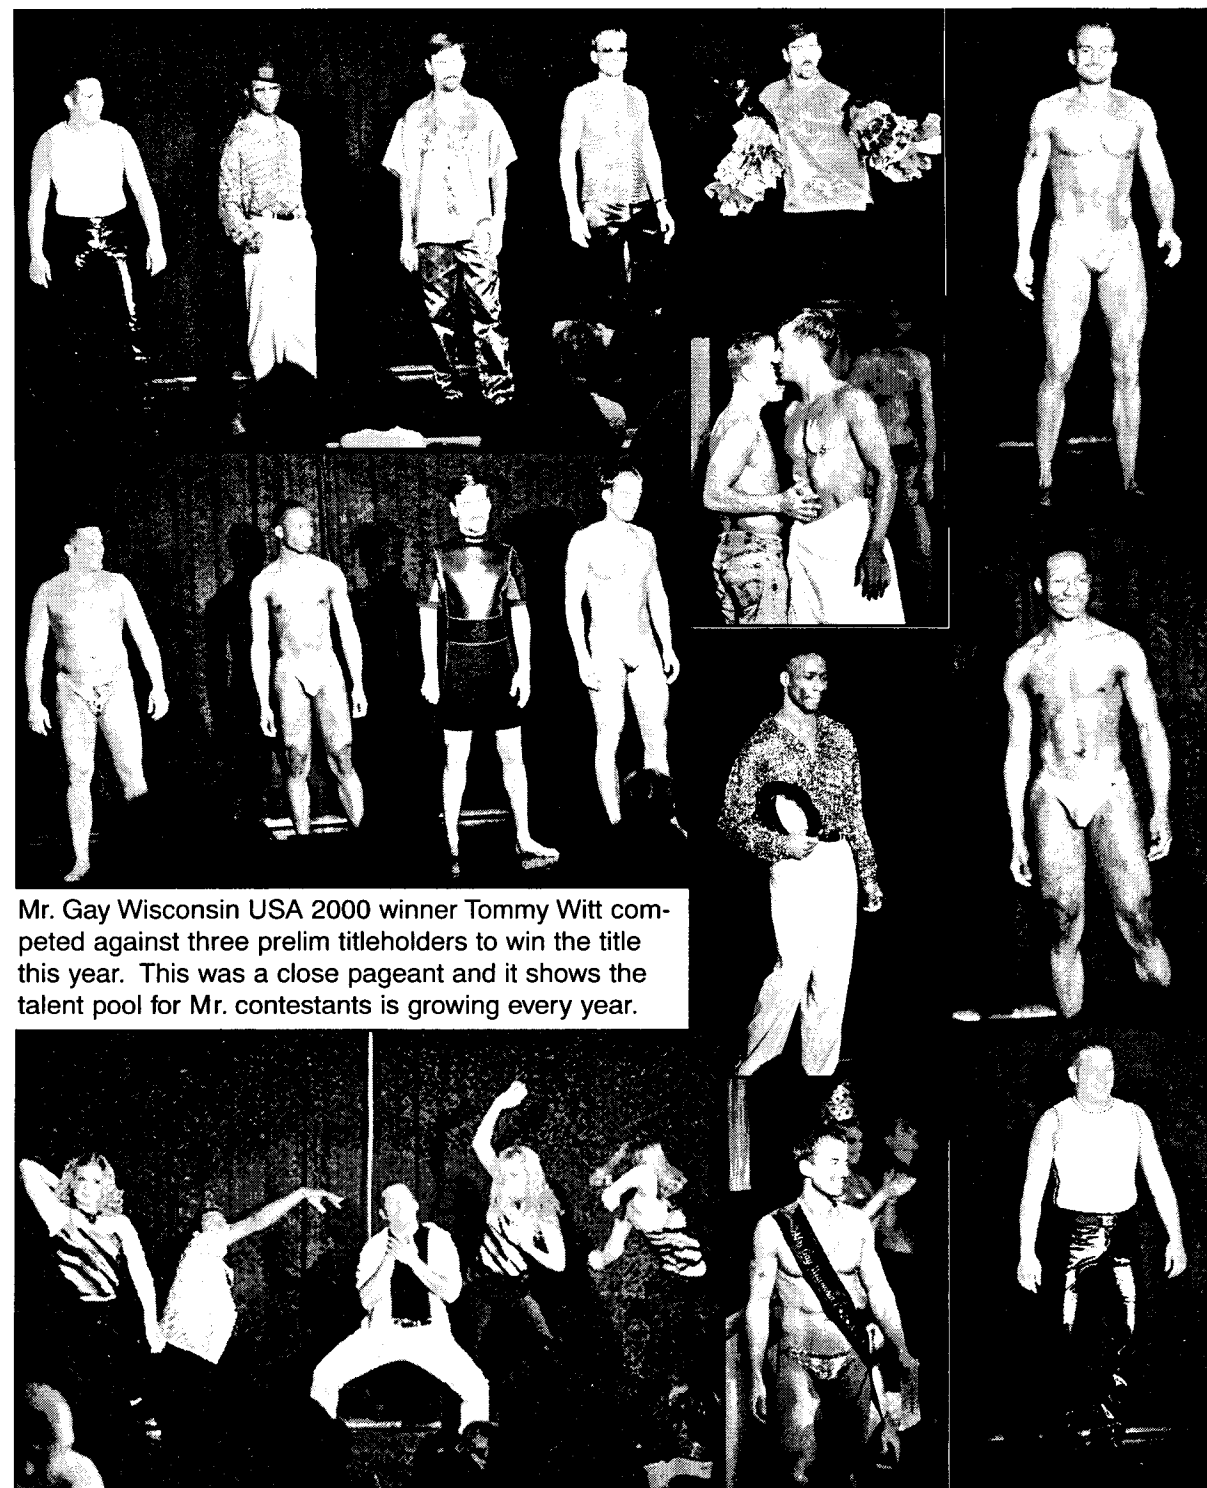

Mr. Lynch wanted to make sure the community at large knew they are always looking for volunteers at BESTD. "We just lost some of our counselors due to job commitments, and are about to lose a few more," Kevin said, "And [we could] surely use the help...! Call us at the clinic for more details." You can Call the 1240 E. Brady St. location at (414)272-2144 for that information, or to schedule an appointment. Information is also available via their website: <http://www.bestd.org>

PAST/OUT

By Wik Wikholm, gayhistory.com

Who was Michel Foucault?

In 1976, most Americans ignored a philosophy book published by Michel Foucault, a French philosopher they had never heard of. But when The History of Sexuality, Volume I appeared in English in 1978, it created a sensation in U.S. academic circles. The book slaughtered the sacred cows of the gay liberation movement, the sexual revolution, and Freudian psychoanalysis in just 159 pages.

The privately homosexual Foucault, 52 when the French edition of the book was published, had already established himself as a lion of French philosophy. His analyses of the idea of normality and abnormality in prisons and psychiatric hospitals were so well-received in France that many felt he was the rightful successor to Jean Paul Sartre, then the reigning icon of French philosophy. Americans finally noticed his work when he focused his attention on sex.

The 1978 book began with an assault on a belief widely held among progressives. From the early 1900s, sexual liberals, including most psychiatrists, gay liberationists, and proponents of the sexual revolution, believed that Western culture had a big sex problem: repression. Foucault would have none of it. If our culture is so repressed, he asked, why have we been talking so relentlessly about sex for the last 125 years? According to the historical sources he cited, a few medical texts in the mid-1800s started the longest, most public discussion about sex in history. Psychiatrists, in particular, seemed barely able to talk about anything else.

Yes, Foucault agreed, there was a problem, but no, it was not repression. The problem was the way in which Western Culture viewed some people as unnatural and perverted. Ever since doctors first started addressing sexuality, Foucault argued, they have created a veritable zoo of perversions with labels like zoerasts, auto-monosexualists (masturbators), and homosexuals. Once the categories were created, doctors got busy trying to determine the essence of each perversion. Some imagined that the cause lies in a biological mistake, while others were convinced they could find it in a person's personality, the unfortunate result of a flawed upbringing. This perpetual nature/nurture argument held no interest for Foucault. Instead, he claimed that the categories of sexuality doctors had created, the heterosexual, the homosexual, and all the others were just arbitrary inventions of modern medicine. Sexual pleasures can be taken in many ways, he wrote, but categorizing sexual desire is pointless.

Foucault went on to say that when doctors label people perverts, they create the very thing they claim to want to treat. In his most controversial arguments, Foucault asserted that homosexuality is not born of nature or nurture, but is socially constructed. When doctors created the profusion of perversions, they unwittingly produced the models that gave rise to gay, lesbian and other sexualities. In Foucault's opinion, these identities are themselves a form of oppression. Above all, the philosopher believed in freedom, and he argued that when a person accepts the label homosexual or heterosexual, possibilities of pleasure are foreclosed and sexual freedom is surrendered.

Though he was sympathetic with gay liberationists, Foucault thought they, too, were on the wrong track. When American activists encouraged gays to come out, called for gay pride, and demanded gay rights, Foucault dismissed their efforts. In his opinion, these actions simply confirmed the idea of sexual categories he found so oppressive. Instead of fighting for homosexual rights, Foucault recommended a battle against any power that tried to restrict or regulate sexual pleasure.

The book's attack on gay liberation left American gay libbers cold. Activists were fighting a pitched battle against the Moral Majority, and reversals of gay rights ordinances in Florida and elsewhere foretold the rise of the Christian Right. In the middle of some of the worst setbacks since the inception of the gay liberation movement in the late 1960s, many activists found the French philosopher's pronouncements ill-timed, unsupportive, and impractical.

Foucault was received more warmly on college campuses.

When Foucault visited the University of Buffalo in 1972, he could barely attract a hundred people to his talks, but at a 1980 lecture at the University of California at Berkely, his fans were so enthusiastic that police struggled to control the overflow crowd that gathered outside the lecture hall. Many feminists and gay and lesbian scholars endorsed Foucault's social constructionist philosophy in spite of activists' reservations. Feminists saw Foucault's philosophy as a promising approach to overcome stereotypes that attributed women's secondary position in society to genetic influences, and many gay and lesbian intellectuals have since embraced Queer Theory, a philosophical attack on homophobia based on Foucault's work.

Foucault died of AIDS in 1984, but the debates and tension he inspired between activist and academic communities lives on.

On a final note, do you believe those politicians? If The Donald doesn't run I don't know who I will vote for. I am just not ready for either of the "saints" now in the running. We need to draft The Donald. Heck, if he got a blowjob in the oval office, who would give a crap? His life is an open book. Look at all the money we could save if the other party in Congress wasn't trying to find fault, point fingers, blame and bickering about the president.

Madison Gay Bar Alliance Sponsors Community Picnic on Sat., August 12

The newly-formed Madison Gay Bar Alliance is sponsoring a picnic for the LGBT community and friends on Sat., Aug. 12, noon to 6 pm, at Reindahl Park on Madison's far east side. Tickets are $10 each, with all proceeds benefiting the AIDS Network of south central Wisconsin.

Organizers promise a fun-filled afternoon of games, food, beer and soda. Reindahl Park is one block north of the 4000 block of E. Washington Ave., behind the former Rocky Rococco's, soon to be an Arby's.

Sponsoring bars are the Rainbow Room, Club 5, Ray's and the Shamrock. FMI, call the AIDS Network (608) 252-6540, ext. 33.

An Update on the Milwaukee G/L Community Center & The Community Center Trust Fund

At its annual meeting June 18, the following were elected to two-year terms on its Board of Directors: Donald Schwamb, Rev. Lew Broyles, Richard Kruger and Darrel Specht.

Members also voted to contribute $5,000 in grants and gifts to nine different organizations from its 1999 social service program fund. Recipients include SAGE/Milwaukee, Gay Peoples Union Library/Archives & Phone Line, The Counseling Center of Milwaukee, The Youth Group of Milwaukee, The Queer TV Program, The Metropolitan Community Church, ARCW-Food Pantry and BESTD Clinic. More than half of the '99 funds came from one of the 1999 Possum Queen Campaign candidates.

Along with operating the Community Centers Endowment Fund, the Board of Trustees decided to expand its Building Fund program by offering a "Bay A Brick Campaign" program to start later this summer. Meanwhile, the Board is asking the community to keep them informed on any buildings which may be suitable for the purchase of a center. Other planned events include their annual fundraising dinner and auction this fall.

Info about the endowment fund, the building fund and the social services programs, or the G/L Center, can be obtained from the G/L Center, PO Box 1686, Milwaukee, WI 53201, or at GLCenterMil@aol.com, or (414) 643-1652.

Dining Out for Life Proved to Be Tasty Event

3,500 restaurant patrons in Green Bay and Appleton benefited the AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin and Camp Heartland by dining out for life on June 29.

"I was thrilled to see so many people believing in a cause and helping those with HIV/AIDS simply by having a delicious meal at a nearby restaurant," said Renee Kimberger, ARCW's associate director of development for special events. "Special thanks goes to those who dined out, the participating restaurants and our media sponsors."

The thirteen local restaurants that participated in the Dining Out for Life event generously donated 25% of their lunch and dinner revenue to help improve the quality of life of area residents living with HIV/AIDS.

LEATHER/FETISH

by Papa Joe

Hope you had a long and grand holiday weekend. Couple of the guys, my honey included, are doing Wisconsin on their Harleys. If it weren't for my leg limitations, I would be with. Rain or shine, it is just super to go using the back roads, following the rivers and stopping for the diversions along the way. Life don't get much better than that.

Ho Hum. - Except for a couple rumors, there ain't much happening here in Milwaukee. Things are sorta normal here - - my continual battle with the computer, AOHell and the like keeps the old heart pounding and my diastolic too high.

Much of the problem is directly related to my computer savvy or lack thereof. Someone told me that youngsters are so good with computers because they're not afraid to make mistakes - - NOT - - Got news for you kid, with all the mistakes I make, I should be a Bill Gates or very, very young - I am neither.

For those who send to my new Earthlink address, and there were some, I lost it. Seems I haven't found a place to put downloaded mail yet, let's assume there is one. Keep the AOL address for now.

Rumor one. New Leather bar. HELL, I don't know, why don't we wait and see. In answer to the next question, Yes, I believe another leather bar could make it in Milwaukee. All it takes is money, location, location, location for a start. After that comes good management, friendly & attentive bartenders with the right attitude and it is a given. It is my opinion that another leather bar could easily make it in this city.

Rumor two. Another leather club starting. To this I have to admit I am a bit confused. I firmly believe A (as in one) new club will announce itself in the near future. Do not expect all the scuttle-butt to be correct - - If they were, there would be two clubs coming on line. Reliable sources tell me, it will not be a traditional club, more like a S&M type play club. Expect bar nights rarely and for the purpose of letting you get to know them.. Parties are private will be invitational - -so get to know them if you want an invite. Regarding the scuttle-butt about the second club, I believe it to be a spinoff of the above- but, let's wait and see.

From Castaways MC/Milwaukee: Bus trip to Chicago, Saturday 29 July. Tickets available at The1100 Club. The bus will leave from at The 1100 Club at 7:30 PM and returning from Chicago @ 3:30 am. Stops include Cell Block and Touche'.

BobP/Castaways

This is always a fun trip, partying on the bus going down and sleeping on the way back. Tickets go fast, so make sure you get yours before it is too late.

On a related subject. The Castaways' July 2nd Sunday beer bust and raffle which will be over by the time this issue of Quest hits the streets, will announce the winner of the weekend at the Argonauts and Castaways joint run. I really would like to see the lucky person be a newcomer to our community. No matter who it is, he will have a good time along with everyone else.

Warning — this is a very popular event getting bigger each year. If you have plans to go, you had better get a move on. If you haven't made sleeping arrangements, DO NOT WAIT. You could be sorry - I know a couple who had to drive to Port Washington where they got the last room. Thank God, they had a bar, that night air on the two wheeler was murder.

Next weekend July 14 - 16th, will be The Oberons Anniversary Run, Acorn 13 AKA Hot Sweaty knights. If you don't got your reservations for it, give them a call or stop into The 1100 Club during their bar night, Saturday, 8 July, 10PM.

You can also register on line, web address is <http://www.oberons.com/home1.html> or PO Box 070423, Milw, WI, 53207-0423

One of the highlights of this years event will be a day at Bristol Renaissance Faire - talk about hot & sweaty knights - I'm moist.

FYI - - Brew City Bears/Milwaukee
The meeting date has been changed - - it is now on Saturday evening 8 PM at the Boot Camp. This is the same evening as the BCB Bar Nites @ 10 PM, ALSO at the Boot Camp. After hours parties are not scheduled after every club bar nite. So keep tuned in, web site @ <http://www.brewcitybears.org/> or call the hot line 414-299-0401 from Atons/ Minneapolis: July 8th— Saturday, ATONS Leather / Levi Night at Nora's outdoor patio, at 3118 W. Lake St. All welcome. Call 651-665-0319 to reserve.

21st-23rd-Fri - Sun, ATONS Gopher XIV. Minneapolis MN Pride Weekend and Parade The weekend started Saturday afternoon, June 24th at Loring Park, which was filled with vendor and organizations booths as well as a lot of people. The parade on Sunday started near the Gay Nineties down Hennipen Ave to Loring Park. The reviewing stand was in front of the Saloon bar.

Castaways MC President Bob P was the out of town judge for the parade. Carl G, aka Allison Brooks, former Milwaukeean, made a huge leather pride flag which was carried by the leather contingency. The parade was very popular with an estimated crowd of 200,000. It was well supported by politicians, churches & businesses including banks, like Wells Fargo & American Express.

Rodeo Riders Chicago Club Nights @ Touche/Chicago, IL on the fourth Friday of odd-numbered months, beginning at 11:00 pm July 28th - - Theme - - Christmas in July - Santa gives out Christmas presents to those who hold the lucky number. You also have the opportunity to sit on Santa's Lap.

The Great Lake Brotherhood of boys/Chicago will be doing S/M demos at the Cell Block Friday, July 14, 11pm. You daddy, sir and master types, might want to check this out. If you're a boy type, you would do well to make contact with this organization. It is a wide ranged network of boys not limited to the Chicago area. E Mail GLboys@hotmail.com is the only address I will print. If you don't have E mail capabilities, contact me thru Quest and I will pass the word along.

A week later, Friday, July 21st, 7pm, is their boys talking to boys at the home of boy Jarret. You will have to contact him for the address or phone #.

Sunday, July 30th, 10am boys @ Great America, Daddies/Sirs/Masters invited to join. Again, make contact if interested.

Another Leather Friendly business to report. Long time friends of our community, Richard and Michael have completed the restoration of their Layton Blv'd. home which is now open as a bed and breakfast. They had the foresight to pick up an old mansion which was in need of repair and really turn it around. It is tastefully elegant - - and I do mean elegant.
