Drag It Out Of Me!

By Miss Lilly White

Grrrrrr!

Let me first thank the stunning diva Kyllie West for pinch hitting for me and hosting Talent Night this past Thursday. I was unexpectedly detained at a family member's funeral quite a distance away and really appreciate her taking a step out of her drag retirement phase to fill my high heels for the evening. As usual she was a sheer delight and the evening was another complete success with a lovely crowd, record amount of special guests and contestants.

Friday, April 5th was an amazing week-end that I was very honored to be a part of. Joey Black, Kyllie West, Shawna Love, Nanette Medved, and myself had the pleasure to be the highlight of Gay Pride week in Houghton, Michigan at the Michigan Institute of Technology. I believe half of the town showed up for this annual celebration, and we were treated like royalty the whole weekend. The girls and I threw together a show like they had never seen before and will hopefully see again next year.

The Miss Continental Plus Pageant was held at the Park West on tax day, May 15th, and as usual I was thrilled to accompany 9 of my best gal pals and friends to the swanky occasion. There were 25 contestants this year from all around the nation, and representing the state of Wisconsin this year were the lovely Shannon DuPree and Loretta Lamour. A lot of big name girls were among the competing crossdressers including Whitney Paige from Texas, Amaya from North Carolina, and Desire Demornay from St. Louis just to name a few, and the race was destined to be a real nail-biter. All the girls were excellent, but I was completely shocked when neither Shannon nor Loretta got their names called out for the top twelve. I guess the people in Chicago just don't appreciate gospel music or midget humor. All the performers were exciting, and of course the gorgeous Candis Cayne turned the establishment out! When the results were finally tallied and read, the bodacious Chevelle Brooks was crowned the new Miss Continental Plus 2002.

Congratulations to Chevelle, and to Wisconsin Continental promoter Stella Johnson for winning the Best Preliminary of the year Award.

Unfortunately I have some rather sad news to announce. It looks like I will not be able to do a revue at Pridefest this year. I was once again getting my show organized, for what was going to be the 6th consecutive year, when after confirming with the Pridefest staff I was met with very unfortunate feedback. I have been informed that since I had not contacted them earlier than March they "assumed" that I was not interested in having a show. I was then told if I wanted to have a show I could, but it would be in an undesirable time slot, on a small stage, with inadequate dressing areas, and limit of only 15 tickets that would have to include myself, all my performers, all their dancers, and dressers. As anyone that has seen my extravaganza in the past years knows that I have a legion of girls with back-up dancers and helpers showcasing the best of all drag performers from not only Wisconsin but the entire Midwest. I unfortunately am unwilling to lower the standards of my revue for the Pridefest committee. I would like to thank all the fans for the e-mails and support that you have shown to me over the past years. Pridefest for letting me grace the main stage for the past years and recognizing all the hard work and dedication it takes to be a female illusionist. Last of all I would like to thank all the fabulous drag dollies from all the years past that donated their time and talents every year, to make my review a success, and without ever receiving one thin dime for payment.

I am glad to announce that Eileen Dover is doing quite a bit better than the last time I talked with her. She seems to be in very good spirits and is even scheduled to make an appearance at a benefit show being held for her in Minneapolis. I am sure that she would thank everyone for their love and prayers, especially Desperately Seeking Susan who has done several amazing tributes to Eileen in her most recent performances.

Good news comes from JoDee's International in Racine. An exclusive contract has been signed by the large and lovely Jarica Jordan to host the every Friday Night Karaoke show. This is a girl that has really come a long way in the short time she has been doing drag. She has excelled when others have stalled, and I am so glad that everyone in Racine has the opportunity to witness this beautiful creature every Friday night.

A few more awards to give out this month: Dixi Diamond gets the "T-Room Dick Biting" Award - Club 219 gets the "Burnt out Spotlight" Award - Roommates Allanah Powers and Phaedra Free get the "My new car is cuter than your new car" Award - Britney Morgan gets the "Breaking the handle off the Dryer" Award - Whiskey Eudoxa gets the "Bending Over to Pick up the Soap in the Prison Shower" Award - and apparently I myself have been given the "Fat, Old, Ugly, Circus Sideshow Attraction" Award by a certain devine show director.

If anybody has some dish that needs to be told please e-mail me @ my web site misslilywhite.com. That's all for now girls!

I'll be back in three weeks with all the grease. Stay fierce girls!

What Science, Religion & History Say About Sexuality

Hey Trinity,
I have often wondered what your answer would be when asked, "Why are some people gay and some not?"

Yours, In Question Orlando, FL

Hey In Question,
Science says, "It's the hypothalamus" Religion says, "It's Divine or Undivine choice" History says, "It's been this way since the beginning of time" and I say, "It's simply normal... and culturally healthy to have diversity." I have always said that gay people were divinely created to fill the gaps of non gay people and visa versa. I also think people are born bisexual with tendencies toward one or the other. Some find what that "one or the other" is and some stay bisexual. But no matter what, it's important to respect, rejoice and read as many books on sexuality as you can.

Love, Trinity

DATING DILEMMA #61

Dearest Trinity

I went on a dinner date where everything went wrong, the food, the service and the way I reacted. What should I do next time?

Yours, Dinning Disaster Albuquerque, NM

Dearest Disaster,

Just when you think you pick the perfect night and the perfect restaurant with the perfect menu a full moon takes over and disaster sets the stage. When going on a date with someone new, at least for the first few dates go to places with food and a waitperson that you know is excellent. Saving unfamiliar dinning adventures for friends and foe promises less chance of a dinning disaster!

Keep trying, Trinity

Hello Trinity,

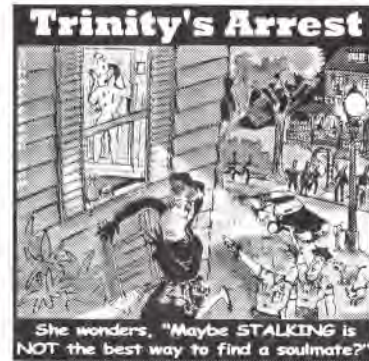

I have been trying for months to get the one I love to love me back. I know that I have found my soulmate. I sent flowers, visited their work, even offered to pay off some of their debts but still I get, "Not interested!" I'm out of things to do. Any suggestions?

Yours, Not Giving Up Fire Island, NY

Hello N. G. U.,

Now let me get this right. You've done everything you can and still you get, "Not interested!" Well guess what? They're not interested. Let me say that again, "THEY'RE NOT INTERESTED!" Which means, give it a rest! At least for a while!

Dear Trinity,
I recently moved to a new town and am trying to make some good friends. It is not easy. I've made a few great friends but I keep loosing them for one reason or another. Maybe I'm doing something wrong. What does it take to be keep a few good friends?

Yours, Friendless, Flint, MI

Dear Friendless,

It's really not easy knowing how to make a great friend. There's no books or classes to take so it's just trial in error. And before you end up on trial for any errors here are:

Trinity's Tips For How To Be A Great Friend

1. Never steal or mistreat each others girlfriends, boyfriends or MAC make-up!
2. Share and be kind to each others girlfriends, boyfriends or MAC make-up.
3. Take each other to parties, openings, events and family gatherings.
4. Lending each other money is great but paying back is even greater.
5. Drinking, drugging, clubbing and late night adventures are wonderful reasons to keep a good friend nearby unless they are the reason your doing it.
6. Helping each other through troubles, traumas and triumphs are fine but being too helpful to the point of caretaking can destroy a friendship as well.
7. Yes, when you do finally get hitched it's hard to stay in touch with your friends but you can make it work.
8. When your friend takes drugs and alcohol too far you must get them help before you say, "I can't deal with you anymore!"
9. Teaching each other to be eccentric, generous, adventurous and impractical are the main reason two people become friends.
10. Lastly, fighting, arguing, disagreeing and taking time away from each other is what makes strong, intense and long lasting friendships!

DavidE's Dish...

"If I for the love of Lord Jesus, will that bitch Mother Nature sprinkle a little Spring fairy-dust on Wisconsin and allow us a few sunshiny days? I don't know what's gotten up her crotch but it sure must be scratchin' the hell outta her. Sweetie darling, I just got back from Vegas and this WI weather is atrocious. For 4 glorious days I was soaking up the Las Vegas sun at Caesar's Palace where it was 90 degrees every day. It was not a joy to go from 90 degrees and sunny to 40 degrees and rainy. Thank God I just refilled my Zolof prescription because I can feel the depression moving in faster than a lesbian lover. Honey when life's gettin' ya down just mix up a DavidE secret salad - 1 Zolof, 1 Paxil, & 1 Prozac tossed lightly with a nice vodka dressing, all washed down with a shot of tequila. Now that's a dinner fit for a king. Or at least a QUEEN like me! Oh sug-arplums life is like a circus and I'm not against sucking on the helium balloons if it'll make me feel better. But I digress...

Enough of my prescription eats and psycho babble bullshit. As I was saying, I just got back from Las Vegas and blah, blah, blah. Sorry to say it folks but Vegas is not a top destination for this fabulously, freaky party boy. Now don't get me wrong. I had a good time and all - hell the 3 acre pool complex at Caesar's Palace is enough to warrant a return. But overall, Vegas was not my style. The whole city was like Disney World with slot machines and lots of cigarette smoke. And the white trash! Girl, I never saw so much white trash corralled into one city. Lord help me, I thought trailers were falling from the sky! It was a spectacle that you must experience to understand. Screaming children, photo-snapping foreigners, cigarette-smoking old women - yikes everything a gay man works so hard to escape came crashing right back into me when I hit the streets of Vegas.

And the gay nightlife! Hell what gay nightlife? You'd think a city that thrives on fags prancing around on stage in some over-the-top production that looks worse than a Ricky Martin concert on crack would have a gay nightlife. Well it doesn't! The Vegas bars were nasty, boring, and extremely small. Apparently if you're a gay man living in Vegas you go to the straight clubs inside the casinos. So I decided to check out Studio 54 at the MGM Grand. Now this was a decent club - great sound, fabulous lighting, sexy box dancers (all women though), and multiple floors to explore. The new Studio 54 is supposed to bring you back in time to the late 70s/early 80s when the original Studio 54 was open in NYC. Well honey, the new 54 doesn't do the original justice. I was especially pissed off when I didn't smell any poppers being leaked into the ventilating ducts. And I couldn't find a decent Andy Warhol, Bianca Jaeger, or Liza Minnelli look-a-like anywhere. I mean what kind of club was this? No drag queens, no beefy, shirtless bartenders, no celebrities snorting coke in the VIP room - this wasn't a tribute to the original 54, this was a sad misrepresentation of a once great ClubLand icon! Well once I realized that the new Studio 54 would never take me back to those glory days of New York nightlife, I kicked up my dancing heels and headed for the exit. Honey if you want to see what Studio 54 was really like, check out the film "54" it's about as real as you're gonna get.

Now I'm back here in Milwaukee just passing time until I head down to South Beach to visit some old Milwaukee fags. It's so nice when friends move to fabulous cities. All the more reason to hop on a plane and fly the gay-friendly skies. Vegas just didn't wet my gay whistle so Miami here I cum! Sweetie the beaches are hot and the men are even hotter. Don't worry, the husband is coming with me. I can't touch but I can still look! We've got ourselves a convertible waiting and Ocean Drive is our destination. Top down, music up, bring on the beautiful people, baby...

LEATHER LEATHER LEATHER LEATHER

Hello everyone! Time for another installment of MikeyBear's Madness. First off, a heads up, and a minor touch of house cleaning. For those of you have asked, I AM NOT either of the two people who were pictured below the text of my last column. Hopefully that clears up a bit of confusion, and answers your question if you hadn't thought to ask it. Secondly, because of deadlines, and a crazy schedule on my part, this is being written BEFORE the Daddy/Daddy's boy contest on the 20th and 21st. Updates about new title holders, and happenings will be posted in the next column. That will also give me more time to find out what all went on if you get my drift. I also need to express a huge THANK-YOU to the wonderful individuals over at AVANT-GARDE for donating a $25 gift certificate for the "Title My Column" Contest. AVANT-GARDE changes the face of the earth one needle at a time, and all piercings cost $15-$35. They are truly a fantastic shop with two of the best piercers in the region! As for who won the gift certificate? No one yet, I'm extending the deadline for submissions another two weeks. I have all the suggestions people have sent in so far, so you do not need to resend them. Okay, onto the real stuff.

It is with a sadness I must say the 1100 club has closed. I'm sure everyone is aware of this already, but just incase you were out of town, under a rock, in a cave, or a bit "tied up" the 1100 has closed its doors. Fear not wanderer! Many of your friendly 1100 club bartenders, and jolly crew can be found one block east at Fannies. Sharon has "graciously" taken in the stray crowd, and I've heard everyone has been having a good time so far. I have heard some rumblings a local well knowing community member is working on acquiring the space, and reopening it. I'll be waiting with anticipation to see how that pans out.

Seeing as by the time you read this, the Daddy-Daddy's boy contest will have passed, I can't brow beat you all into attending, so you better have been there, or there will be hell to pay. I hope everyone is booked for IML. Last I checked, the host hotel (Hyatt River Walk) is sold out of rooms blocked for the conference rate. They still have rooms available, as it is a huge hotel, but you will not get the IML discounted rate. Creative individuals will probably already know that Bear Pride has blocked rooms in the same hotel, and also has a discounted rate that is only $5 more per night than the IML rate. Yes Virginia, that was a hint. For anyone that hasn't attended, IML is truly a wonderful event, with all the money you will or won't spend on it. You will always find a friendly face, and if you don't see anyone you know immediately, I know Jim and Brent from AVANT-GARDE will be on hand, selling jewelry, and piercing. Stop by, say hi, and find something to buy.

This week, I've decided to talk a bit about piercings, seeing as the wonderful folks over at AVANT-GARDE were so generous to donate the gift certificate. The other day I was out shopping in one of the local malls, with a 4 inch spike through my septum (that's the area between your nostrils in your nose). Needless to say, I got many strange looks, but no one approached me to ask me about it. One woman had the courage to ask me with a look of disgust on her face "did it hurt?" All I could say was "Of Course it hurt! I had a needle rammed through my nose!" They she asked rather a rather exasperated and confused "why?" and I simply replied: "Because I could." Everyone who has any sort of body jewelry has some reason behind it. Either to prove they could, fulfill some rite of passage, because it looked cool, the list goes on and on. Just because someone might have a piercing or a tattoo that you don't understand, or can't fathom why they would have done that to themselves, you do not have a right to judge that person. Instead of silently saying "Freak" to yourself, and writing the person off, talk to them about it. Find out why they have it. Does it have significance? Does it mark a period of personal transition? As for me, when I got my septum pierced, it was on the one year marker of when I quit smoking, and it was also a way for me to conquer my fear of needles. I proved to myself I could. When you are ready to add another hole to your body, be sure to head over to AVANT-GARDE, and tell them I sent you. They will take good care of you. Want more information, or pictures of piercings you could experiment with? Hop online and check out www.bmezzine.com, it is considered to be the definitive resource for body modification. Remember you can also always ask your local piercing professional, like Jim or Brent at AVANT-GARDE. With that said.

Sometime in the next few weeks, I'll make sure to go bar hopping with my septum spike in and the first person who asks me something about it other than "did it hurt" will probably end up with a free drink. Until then, have a great few weeks, enjoy the warm weather, and EMAIL ME! LeatherBear@wi.rr.com MikeyBear

As I stated earlier, this is in no way a definitive discussion, just a few ideas for newbies and hopefully a primer for others. For more information, check out the World Wide Web. There are many spanking groups that would love to assist in teaching someone the ropes. Also check out some kink friendly books. "The Leather Mans Handbook" is always a good start, but I'm sure EVERYONE has read it cover to cover several times already so I don't have to even bring that up. Right? RIGHT?! I'll talk to you all when I see you out and about, and I will be back with more updates, info, and perversions in the next Issue. In the mean time, send in requests, comments to MikeyBear ;) at LeatherBear@wi.rr.com.

NOTE

The Milwaukee Knights are doing a Beer bust&raffle Sunday April 28th from 3-6pm at the Harbor room. We are currently looking for men&women to join Milwaukee's newest leather club. If anyone is interested in checking us out, stop by the Harbor room that afternoon to pick up an application.

Saturday, May 18 - Jewel Promotions Presents National recording artist, Anne Heaten

Memorial Day Weekend - Fri. Portfolio Studios on the Go Go Boxes, Sunday, Coco Channel's Show

ON OUR COVER...

Native New Yorker Jonathan Peters is well-known for his 15-hour DJ sets each weekend at NYC's legendary Sound Factory. Every Saturday night some 5000 clubgoers converge on the weekly party that has been happening with Peters at the helm the past six years.

His marathon sets meld a mix of trance, progressive house, techno and vocal house — a menagerie of electronic music for those who live for and love to dance!

"What has been created at Sound Factory after six years has become a family," says Peters. "There's something special about having a party every Saturday night and having thousands of familiar faces screaming, cheering and loving the music...just partying. It's become the biggest and best party on a Saturday night in NYC. It's also the longest-running."

Live With Jonathan Peters opens with "Let The Sunshine In," and Peters explains why. "Let The Sunshine In" is something that I did when we first opened. It's a very positive song. That was the one song in the six years in playing exclusively at Sound Factory that became an anthem for that night."

Peters also holds the Sound Factory in the highest regard and says his residency there is what he is "most proud of" in his DJ career. "There's nothing like it in the world because it's in New York city on a Saturday night. The space was designed to become a nightclub and there's a half-million dollar sound system. I have my own private booth and the party goes for 20 hours."

A permanent fixture on the NYC club scene for over a decade, Peters is also a well-known remixer and producer. He has topped the dance charts with remixes for Whitney Houston, Donna Summer, Chaka Khan, Amber and Bob Marley vs. Funkstar Deluxe. He was even asked by Ms. Diana Ross herself to remix a medley of Supreme's classics that was released in 2000. Peters recently opened a state-of-the-art studio in midtown Manhattan, with the focus on producing original material and nurturing his own artists.

Gay Pride Month to be Celebrated on Cable TV

STARZ! Cinema and Sundance Channel are celebrating Gay Pride Month in June with an incredible lineup of shorts, features and documentaries.

A glimpse at what's to come: Firstly, on the Sundance Channel, The Cockettes is on for June 21, 8 p.m., local time. It's a loving tribute to the spirit and unbridled creativity of its subjects, a gender-bending San Francisco musical troupe founded in 1969 by a charismatic drag queen named Hibiscus.

Expect By Hook or By Crook on June 28, 8 p.m. It's a feature film based in San Francisco, and follows the adventures of folks who ditched a dull life in Kansas and headed for Frisco.

Spotlight, to be viewed June 7, also 8 p.m., presents three films by 34-year-old writer/director Francois Ozon, revealing a potent vision of human intimacy, sexuality and conflict.

On June 22, 10 p.m., Out Loud shows a portrait of an adolescent that neither glosses over nor condescends in dealing with struggles of one's sexuality and to find himself.

Here's what STARZ! Cinema will offer:

Hedwig and the Angry Inch, a musical about an East German rock singer's emigration to America after a botched sex change operation.

Bent, in World War II Germany, is about a bisexual man who opts to be classified as a Jew rather than a homosexual and then falls in love with a fellow prisoner in a concentration camp.

Jeffrey is about a 30-ish gay New orker who swears off sex until he falls for an HIV positive guy he meets at a gym.

Aimee & Jaguar is a true story chronicling the lesbian wartime romance that blooms between a Jewish woman and a pretty mother of four.

Before Night Falls is a true story of Cuban poet and novelist Reinaldo Arenas and his imprisonment for being a dissident and homosexual.

TO THE "QUEST" STAFF & MANAGEMENT,

I just wanted to let you all know that the cover & article featuring Dana DiCello was an awesome success! We have had over a hundred calls following publication—six were radio stations requesting the album for on-air play—and the calls are still coming! (Perhaps you could put WAW Entertainment's e-mail address in a future issue?) I'm not sure if many people actually let you know how well-respected "Quest" is, but I'm here to tell you that nearly every caller mentioned that they are regular readers, that they (try to) patronize the businesses/events/products you promote/advertise, and remarked on the overall quality of this free magazine. You have an amazing impact on the gay community. Most people also commented on the impressive and unique cover design created for this issue. Two "thumbs up" to Jess Littleman, who did a superb job with both the article (the interview from recorded interviews) and the review of Dana's album, "Desired Effect": your review brought rave reviews from the readers. Our thanks also go out to Mark Mariucci: it was a pleasure working with you.

Again, I thank you for the opportunity to work with you, and for the outstanding job you did promoting Dana. Wishing you continued success,

--David C. Wiersum
