Former Green Bay Packer Esera Tuaolo to Speak at Coming Out Week Event

UW-Milwaukee's LGBT Resource Center presents Esera Tuaolo, former NFL pro and Green Bay Packer as key speaker for Coming Out Week.

Tuaolo will speak Wed., Oct. 8, 7 pm., in the Ballroom at the UWM Student Union and will be joined by a panel of UWM Athletics administrators and coaches. Their topic will be "Homophobia in Sports."

For nine years, Tuaolo excelled in the NFL as a defensive lineman. He played for five different teams and went to SuperBowl XXXIII with the Atlanta Falcons.

As a gay man in the hyper-masculine culture of professional football, Tuaolo was forced to hide his sexuality. He now brings his incredible story to the podium to inspire others to achieve their best by speaking to their individual truths without fear or intimidation.

For more info, (414) 229-4116 or e-mail yves@uwm.edu.
Tuaolo is represented by Greater Talent Network (www.gtntspeakers.com).

PFLAG is 30 Years Old...and Celebrating!

Parents, Families and Friends of Lesbians and Gays, the nation's foremost family-based organization committed to the civil rights of gays, lesbians, bisexuals and transgendered persons, has begun a year-long celebration for its thirty year anniversary.

The celebration began on the steps of City Hall in New York City on Sept. 19 with a mayoral proclamation recognizing the journey of PFLAG and its historic roots there.

There are nearly 500 chapters in all fifty states with membership and supporters numbering a quarter of a million.

Founded by Jeanne Manfred and her gay son, Morty, the Sept. 19 event included an announcement of its touring book art exhibition - Moved to Remember: Expressions to End Hate Violence. PFLAG executive secretary David Tseng says 'Moved to Remember' is a "powerful testament to those who have died and to those who survive. It was created by those who are still grieving, still struggling and still striving for a world free of hate."

A year-long schedule of activiteis will culminate next year with the annual convention in Salt Lake City, Utah.

FACING YOUR PARTNERS DIRTY DESIRES

Dear Trinity,
Everything, including sex with my lover couldn't be better with one exception, he wants me to defecate on him. Despite my refusals he persists. But I am afraid if I do not satisfy his "dirty pleasures" he will seek it from someone else and possibly other things too. Help? Dirty Pleasures Boston, MA

Dear Dirty Pleasures,
You can keep refusing, clearly and hope he gets over his shitty desires (Sorry, I just had to say the "S" word once). But if he still persists then why not let a professional fetish escort do "it" for him. If it's a professional then there is no chance of romance only cash advance. Maybe this way he'll get it out of his system or get tired or someone else getting it out of their system all over him. (Sorry again, I just had to say it!) Good luck, Trinity

Hello Trinity,
My partner never wants to fool around when we first wake up. He says, "I don't turn him on in the mornings." How do I get him into the morning mood?
Sincerely, Morning Desires Tucson, AZ

Hello Morning Desires,
I'm sure you would never get up early, get cleaned up, dressed up and prepare a little breakfast just to seduce him. Now would you? Get the hint!

DATING DILEMMA #114

Hey Trinity,
My boyfriend and I broke up five months ago. Now it's our second year anniversary and I think about him all the time. How do I get him out of my head? Plus what should I do with the pictures of us?
Love, Memory Troubles Utica, NY

Hey Memory Troubles,
Being depressed over a breakup is normal. Yet, did you know that depression helps develop one's appreciation for life. So don't avoid your sadness but rather use it as creative inspiration. Now as for getting him out of your head, try staying busy with things like dating, cleaning, volunteering, exercising and traveling. Don't give yourself time to get melancholy give yourself time to love life. And lastly, those pictures, hide them on the bottom, in the back of the most hard to reach place.
XOXO, Trinity

To Trinity,
You are such an advocate of dating. But don't you think that some people are just meant to be alone and not date?
Yours, Dating Excuses Oklahoma City, OK

To Dating Excuses,
Yes, some people are meant to be alone ONLY after they've dated everyone twice and read:

Trinity's Tough "Excuses For Not Dating"

1. "I'm WAITING for my dream lover!" (Very Hollywood but dating while you're waiting makes a much better documentary.)
2. "I'm NOT SETTling for less than perfect!" (Very virtuous but no one is perfect including you. So loosen up and start dating!)
3. "Dating is TOO MUCH WORK." (Very couch potato but living itself is work and what the hell else you gonna do, watch TV forever!)
4. "After my LAST RELATIONSHIP I'm done dating." (Very post-war but how boring to let your past relationships ruin your future ones.)
5. "No one could compare to my FIRST LOVE!" (Very cliché but let someone at least try... to snap you out of your fairy tale history.)
6. "I DON'T HAVE TIME to date!" (Very CEO but just think of how much time and money you'll save on loneliness therapy!)
7. "I'm STILL MOURNING the loss of my last lover." (Very Greek tragedy but when you're done wearing black can you start wearing life again!)
8. "When it's the RIGHT TIME it will happen!" (Very spiritual but taking steps towards meeting other people will prove even more enlightening!)
9. "I'm busy TAKING CARE of someone." (Very Mother Theresa but while you're doing something for someone try doing something for yourself.)
10. Lastly, "Dating is TOO DISSA-POINTING!" (Very Van Gogh but we must be the sum of our experience not be the sum of our fears or failures!)

HARBOR ROOM

OPEN 7:00 A.M. - 7 DAYS A WEEK

"Please Sir, May I Have Another!"

You hear a Harley before you see it. It's a rumbling that starts in your ears and works its way straight through your heart to your groin. It's a stirring sound, sexy and visceral. It brings you to a pinnacle of yearning for freedom and control. Freedom to hit the road and to thunder into the future of your own making.

That's the spirit of Harley-Davidson, and that's the spirit that thousands of Harley lovers celebrated in Milwaukee over Labor Day weekend. The Harbor Room was the place to be Saturday night for the "Hot Ash" cigar party. I hear the place has NEVER been so crowded. The alley was full of bikes and the bar was full of hot guys.

According to owner Gregg, "We're setting all kinds of new records here." According to GLHR member and former Mr. Northwoods Andy Schaidler, "Other than at the bars, we saw big crowds of leather and bikers each time we dined at the M & M Club, and the mix of straights and gays at the Walker's Point Block Party on Saturday afternoon was a credit to the neighborhood and the city in general." "Brian and I also had a blast at the museum and at various straightstreet parties throughout downtown Milwaukee, at the local Harley dealerships, and at the State Fair at the Reunion Bash," continued Andy.

I got to town on Sunday and stopped by Pulse, which was the weekend for the Great Lakes Harley Riders. Things were quiet there, but I had a chance to get an update on a lot of the weekend events. Bartender Jake has let his hair grow, and I'm simply amazed how much he looks like circa-1970's Mike Dziuba (Argonauts Alumnus). Check out the Dziuba photo in this issue and let me know if you agree (WOOF!).

Leaving Pulse, I headed to the Harbor Room, where the ashes were still smoldering from the night before. It was a rowdy Sunday night crowd even before the fireworks at the lakefront. The "top secret" star-headliner at the HD anniversary concert was Elton John. I wonder if she wore her high-heeled Wesco pumps for the occasion.

After Joint Run 2003, Great Lakes Leather Alliance weekend, and Harley-Davidson's 100th anniversary weekend, I was ready for a weekend off. But it was NOT to be.

On Sat., September 6, the Castaways M.C. of Milwaukee held a clubnight in Sheboygan. The Blue Lite is still one of my favorites - a great place for a party, and the local crowd always seems happy to sample fresh meat. It's a blast to party at Dean's place. I love the atmosphere, love the glassware, and love that shade of Pepto-Bismol pink.

Castaway cuties including Mike Petri, Jim Bird, Carl Street, Peter Dimond, Cory Sweet and several others were busy working a club-sponsored beer bust, while Castaways Vice-President Rich Humphries called out winning raffle ticket numbers - no microphone needed.

Rich's other half Kevin Stein was the designated driver for the return trip to Milwaukee, as most observers noted that he was too drunk to help out with the singing. This was fine, as it enabled Rich to join several locals (including bar owner Dean Dayton) and visiting Argonauts members in several quick rounds of "Alabama Slammer" shots. It was truly a great time!

The Argonauts of Wisconsin announce that John Weiler has assumed the title of Mr. Northwoods 2003-2004. Weiler was 1st runner up in the Northwoods contest, which was held Saturday, August 16, during the Argonauts/Castaways Joint Run 2003 at the Al Kamke farm in Hilbert, Wisconsin. Due to circumstances beyond his control, contest winner Jon Strojinc is unable to fulfill his obligations and has conceded the title. "Please tell John (Weiler) thanks for taking the sash," said Strojinc. I know the Argonauts are looking forward to working with John as the new Mr. Northwoods. His performance in the contest was very impressive, and I am sure he will make a fine ambassador for the club.

Za has asked me to limit the column to around 800 words, which is very cool. I know I can be a little gabby sometimes. It just means I'll have to be more concise in my writing, and maybe omit irrelevant words every now and then (smile).

I'll be picking up an additional writing and reporting position as Wisconsin state

2003 MILWAUKEE LGBT FILM/VIDEO FESTIVAL

The 2003 Milwaukee Lesbian Gay Bisexual Transgender Film/Video Festival is set to unfurl an unprecedented 50+ films and videos (okay, some of them are short) in our nevertheless largest outpouring of the finest in new work by, about, and around the LGBT community. Always and also one of Milwaukee's finest and longest-running international film festivals, the LGBT Film/Video Festival offers a richly packed selection of the best of recent features, documentaries, shorts, and experimental work.

This year's Festival will unspool from October 2-5 and October 8-12, with Opening Night once again at the fabulous Oriental Theatre. The rest of the events will illuminate the generous screen at UWM's Union Theatre. And we have a couple of pre-festival screenings, to boot!

While recent Supreme landmark and litigious events may have prompted some to suggest a necessary codification of heterosexual unions, the LGBT Festival strives to un-codify any fixed notion of LGBT -- heck, we lost the manual! -- with our diverse array of stories, celebrations, investigations, representations, and boundary-crossings.

Consider, for instance, that this Festival will feature: ...an Afro-Brazilian streetfighter/cabaret performer/inspirational hero...two knife-wielding lesbians who call themselves Lenin and Mao...Bulgarian boyfriends...cross-dressing women music hall performers in Victorian England...an over-the-top Charles Busch send-up of Hollywood soap operas...a beautiful, poetic tribute to slain two-spirited teen Fred Martinez...two girls in love, on the lam, and with a corpse in their trunk...Dangerous Living: Coming Out in the Developing World...a would-be ice skating champion and the video diary he keeps...a Tribe8 rockumentary... bug chasers and gift givers... kick-ass teens (courting, skating, sneezing, swimming, swooning, questioning, transitioning, and loving)...the return of the Cockettes...gay Muslims...Linda Goode Bryant and Laura Poitras in person to present their film Flag Wars...the goings-on in the interior of an adult theatre (and it's not just the projected movie)...The Trip...a gay man auditioning as the third member of Tatu...Nan Goldin...ARCW's Bag Boyz...The Politics of Fur...Men's Voices Milwaukee...the history of women's music...Jason Priestley...and four high-SAT-scoring girls that make up an elite, gun-toting, school-uniform wearing, queen-pin seducing, spy team...and more!

This year's Festival will open at the Oriental Theatre on Thursday, October 2, 7:30pm with Charles Busch's Die Mommie Die!, a delectable puree of Joan Crawford/Bette Davis potboilers, Jacqueline Susann, and all things soap. A combo of the outre and of the most elevated forms of camp, Die Mommie Die! stars Charles Busch, Jason Priestley, Frances Conroy, and Natasha Lyonne in our most entertaining, star-driven opener yet!

The series closes Sunday, October 12 at the Union Theatre with Suddenly, the celebrated new film from the Argentinian New Wave about two lesbians named Lenin and Mao who court a down-in-the-dumps lingerie salesgirl at knife point. Love is declared, a taxi is hijacked, and the three career southward, charting unexpected cartographies of desire, kinship, and community. Shot in gorgeous black-and-white (recalling the early films of Jim Jarmusch and Wim Wenders), Suddenly is your new coolest movie ever, amiably rock-and-roll, and surprisingly tender.

Titles prior and in-between include: I Exist: Voices from the Lesbian and Gay Middle Eastern Community • Pressure System: an evening with filmmaker Glen Fogel • Blue Gate Crossing • My Life on Ice • Transitions -- and a loss: A Gallery of Transgender Portraits • Hooked • Gasoline • The Trip • Rise Above: The Tribe Documentary • Tipping the Velvet • Porn Theatre • The Bitter Tears of Petra Van Kant • Dangerous Living: Coming Out in the Developing World • Flag Wars • Bulgarian Lovers • Come Out and Play: An Evening of Girls' Shorts • Madame Sata • Radical Harmonies • The Gift • The Politics of Fur • Some Pretty Neat Tricks: An Evening of Men's Shorts...and Shake it All About.

The Festival is presented by the Film Department in the Peck School of the Arts at University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and is co-presented with the UWM LGBT Resource Center and the Milwaukee LGBT Community Center.

than anyone else. Back in 1995, a won a contest in West Virginia, called Miss Classic. That system was short-lived and began talking with Jerry and Lou about starting a "Classic" division within their very successful USofA system. At that time, the timing was not right. However, this past year, they felt the time was, indeed right. The called me in and asked if I would be their Emeritus and I gladly accepted. Keep in mind that already in the USofA system are some of the country's most celebrated names in female impersonation, and I think they choose ME! I am totally honored and humbled.

Quest: Tell me a little bit about the USofA Classic System.

Tina Devore: Miss Gay USofA Classic is a contest for entertainers who have reached the age of 40. I have read comments that suggest that this pageant is for "mature" entertainers. When you think about it, however, the majority of the most successful and most "talked about" entertainers of the day have reached that age or are definitely knocking on the door. It is a title that I feel represents enduring excellence and longevity in this business. To maintain status, respect and honor in this "art" is not an easy task. So to be crowned Miss Gay USofA Classic will soon become the pinnacle of one's career.

Quest: Besides being Miss Gay USofA Classic, do you have any other past titles?

Tina Devore: I am a former Miss Gay Atlanta, Miss Gay World, Miss Black America, Miss Hotlanta International, Miss Gay Georgia USofA, Miss Originality, and Miss South.

Quest: What is the difference between the art of female impersonation when you started and today?

Tina Devore: When I started, there was more emphasis on talent. Today, I think there is more emphasis on looks and realness.

Quest: What advice could you give newcomers in the art of female impersonation?

Tina Devore: Follow your dreams and stay focused on what you hope to achieve. Remember, if you put God first in your life, there is nothing that you cannot do!

Quest: Well thank you Tina for granting Quest this interview. In closing, are there any interesting facts that you would like your fans to know, or to expect from you when you are in Green Bay?

Tina Devore: Well, let's see? I'm single! I am looking forward to performing, partying, and being in Wisconsin. The prelims so far for Classic have been fabulous, with representation from many states, I have no doubt that Wisconsin Classic will be the same. I love to perform "classic" artists such as Patti Labelle, Gladys Knight, Jennifer Holliday, Eartha Kitt, etc. Thank you to the fans for taking time out to read this. With Warmest Regards, Tina Devore, Miss Gay USofA Classic.

The Miss Wisconsin Classic Pageant is going to be a very entertaining evening, so don't miss it. For Pageant Information, please call SuperStar Productions at (920) 217-2199. To reserve table seating for this pageant, phone (920) 655-0611 or outside of Green Bay call 800-578-3785.

Miss Gay USofA Classic ~ Tina Devore

An interview with Miss Gay USofA Classic, Tina Devore. Recently, Quest had the opportunity to talk with national titleholder, Tina Devore, who will be appearing at Za's Historic West Theater in Green Bay, on Saturday October 25, for the Miss Gay Wisconsin Classic USofA Pageant. It was a delight to get to know Miss Devore and find out what all this Classic Pageant Talk is about.

Quest: Tell me about yourself and who is Tina Devore?

Tina Devore: Well, I am originally from Florida, but have lived in Atlanta, Georgia for more than 25 years. I work for Zoo Atlanta in Education, that's my day job, and as a performer, I work at The Armory and Burkharts Pub. I have had the great pleasure of working in the art of Female Impersonation for many years, having directed some of our city's most successful and longest running shows. I currently work with a show called Le Femme Royal, which appears every Friday and Saturday night at The Armory. I have a production company called Capital City Entertainment, and the proud recipient of 7 Lifetime Achievement Awards.

Quest: What inspired you to get involved in the art of female impersonation?

Tina Devore: I actually discovered "drag" when I was in college at Florida State University in Tallahassee, Florida. I was a theater major and found female impersonation a very interesting outlet. I moved to Atlanta in 1977 and have been involved in the "art" ever since.

Quest: How do you like to be referred to: drag queen, female impersonator, female illusionist, transvestite, or transie?

Tina Devore: I am very confident in the man that I am, so it doesn't really matter what I am called. Occasionally someone will say to me, "I thought you lived in drag 24/7". I reply, "No, I'm not a transy, I just play one on stage".

Quest: With so many pageants out there, what is your favorite pageant system to work with?

Tina Devore: I have had the wonderful opportunity to work with every major national pageantry system, with the exception of Miss Gay America. As you know, I was recently named Miss Gay USofA Classic Emeritus. I was chosen out of all the "over 40" entertainers from around this great country. Imagine how many there are! I am totally humbled and gracious.

Consequently, I am forever endeared to the USofA Pageantry System.

Quest: How were you appointed at Miss Gay USofA Classic Emeritus?

Tina Devore: I have had a long, wonderful relationship with the USofA Pageantry System. I have judged more Miss USofA finals
